The HERALD has just turned out one of the ablest briefs of the year for the firm of Covell, Polk & Beeson, in the case of the C. B. & Q. vs. Cass county.

The brief was prepared by county attorney Beeson and is a very thorough and complete resume of the case, with over fifty citations in defense of the county's theory of the case.

Eating three meals a day with only ten minutes to each meal would destroy the digestion of an ostrich and give a bronze image of Hygieia the dyspepsia, but such has really been our situation in the past two weeks.

Any of our readers who believe that there is no work attached to the newspaper business should by all means try the experiment of establishing one.—Auburn Herald.

The funeral services of Mrs. J. C. Petersen were held this afternoon at 2:30 from the Methodist church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. B. Alexander.

The Odd Fellows and the K. P.'s, with the uniform and subordinate ranks, were in attendance. A large number of sorrowing friends were present.

The pallbearers were Messrs. S. P. Vanatta, P. Bates, L. G. Larson, S. Osborn, S. D. Mayer and T. E. Williams.

Johnnie Doll, the delivery boy for Messrs. Egenberger & Troop, experienced a lively runaway yesterday afternoon.

While he was making his rounds on Wintersten hill the team became frightened and ran away, throwing Johnnie violently from the wagon and breaking one of his ribs and otherwise bruising him.

He was treated by Dr. Schildknecht and was resting easy this morning.

In the runaway the harness was badly broken and both axels of the wagon bent.

The young man who is known to be given to intoxicating drink is having a hard row to hoe in this world.

There is no encouraging place for him. The door to preferment, even the door to employment is closed against him.

The railroad manager has no use for him at all. The banker and the merchant are in league against him.

There is no room higher up for him in any of the professions.

And in journalism the first query now raised in the face of a young man seeking a footing is not so much whether he ever drinks to excess, as whether he ever touches the liquid fire.

If he does his application is not worth the paper it is written on.—Sioux City Journal.

AN ADDRESS.

To the Citizens of Plattsmouth and Cass County.

McConihie Post, G. A. R., of Plattsmouth, has undertaken to get up an entertainment in aid of Miss Etta Shattuck, and Miss Louise Royce, the teachers who, while in their endeavors to save the lives of the little ones in their charge, braved the dangers of the howling blizzard and almost met death in the attempt.

Miss Shattuck had both feet frozen and amputated below the knees, and Miss Royce has lost one foot and part if not all of the other, and will be maimed in one arm, thus rendering them both helpless for the future, as they were both poor girls, dependent on their labors as teachers for their support.

Miss Shattuck's father is an old and disabled soldier, and was dependent on his daughter for his support. Now all their bright hopes, so fondly cherished by them through their years of preparation to fit them for teaching, are shattered and gone, and they are both helplessly dependent on charity for their support.

They imperilled their lives and received disabilities in a brave effort to save others. They might have abandoned their scholars and saved themselves, but true to the heroism and devotion of their sex they chose rather to meet their fate than to prove untrue to their charge.

Their case appeals to the heart of every parent in the land. Such true devotion must not go unrewarded, such bravery must be recognized. Assistance is being offered from every village and hamlet in the state and we, as soldiers who know what it means to brave dangers, and as parents who love our children and their protectors, appeal to every citizen to come out and help us.

These brave girls ought to have enough to keep them comfortable the balance of their lives, we owe it to them and to society to see that they are fully provided for—not a beggary pension—but a comfortable competence—and we hope the citizens of Plattsmouth will not be behind other portions of the state in assisting to reward them.

We offer you an entertainment on Thursday evening next that will repay you for all you may give. No such grand treat has ever been offered you before and every cent of the proceeds over expenses shall be applied to the sufferers. We think we are not asking too much of you to come out and assist us all you can.

Come, for the sake of rewarding courage; come, for the love of your children; come, for the honor of Plattsmouth and come for the benefit you will receive. S. P. VANATTA, H. C. McMAKEN, C. W. SHAFER, Committee of arrangements.

Rock Bluff Notes.

Dr. Reynolds' youngest child, Jimmie, is very sick with remittent fever.

John Farthing, who has been sick for some time, has improved so much as to be able to be around the house.

Mr. Julius Bates died very suddenly last Sunday night about 9 o'clock. Mr. Bates had been in very poor health for a number of years from a lung trouble, which he contracted while serving Uncle Sam in the army during the rebellion, but was able to be around and attend to business up to the time of his death.

Dr. Alden, who lived here a short time a few years ago and then went to Oregon, has moved back again, and is occupying the brick house north of the school house.

Mark White's little girl, who is living with her grandfather, I. S. White, has been very sick with a beating in the head, but at this writing is some better.

Death of Miss Shattuck.

The news of the death of Miss Shattuck falls like a pall on all who honor heroism. She was honored for her noble deeds, remembered for her pure and womanly character and revered for her patience in her long suffering. After weeks of pain she passed peacefully away yesterday morning at her home in Seward. She leaves a father, who is an old and disabled veteran, a brother and two sisters to mourn her departure.

The cases of Ellis and Goodwin came up for hearing today before County Judge Russell, the former charged with being implicated in the Price trouble and the latter is the man who made his escape from Sheriff Eikenbary some time ago.

N. A. S. E.

I do not wish the readers of my last article to jump at conclusions too rapidly and imagine that there is nothing to do but to grasp the reigns of a fiery steed that is carefully harnessed and in good training, and ride with ease to influence and position, for there is danger in the action unless there has been some preparation beforehand, for there are many bodies that possess the curious property of taking a spheroidal form under certain circumstances, and in this state they possess very different properties from what they do in any other.

Water in a red-hot boiler becomes spheroidal and evaporation, strange as it may seem, is fifteen times slower than in its ordinary state, and what seems very singular, the water is only 205°, while the boiling point is 212°. But if the boiler is allowed to cool a little the whole suddenly passes off in steam. When an engineer in charge of a boiler, unacquainted with this law, finds that the water is too low, and that the plates are red hot, would then let in a little water. This, in contact with the red hot plates, would assume a spheroidal state but when he would let in a little more to cool the plates to a required temperature, the whole would suddenly pass off in steam, and an explosion would be the result.

It is a curious property in water that it generates steam at 212° of heat, and will give only a certain amount of steam according to the amount of heat continually imparted to it in a given time. Were not this the case, but that water at 212° was suddenly to assume the steam state, it would be as unmanageable as gunpowder as a machine propeller. As it is no other substance (either fluid or gas) can equal it for safety and economy as a labor-saving agent to driving machinery.

The great difficulty that science has to contend with and against in its safe application and use is in preventing heart-rending and terrific accidents, is carelessness and ignorance on the part of those entrusted to guide and control it. When the steam boiler becomes the master of the engineer, instead of the engineer being master of the boiler, then in a divine interposition alone, out of the common course of events of nature, is an accident prevented. It would be a good plan for every State to appoint a faculty of competent engineers to examine all engineers and to grant them a diploma of competency, without which no one should be allowed to take charge of a steamboat, locomotive or any other engine.

We do not wish to advocate anything that may appear aristocratic or arbitrary, but we are sure that this is not. All engineers and persons having charge of boilers under pressure should possess certain qualifications to be entrusted with the management of what concerns public life and property. The qualifications should be known by the public. The knowledge of the ability of those who have charge of the lives of those that are near and dear to them, is what the public ought to know, whether their friends be at school, on a trip on a steamboat, or a trip on the railroad, or at the theatre, or at any other place that steam is used.

Reasons for Purchasing Lots in South Park.

- 1. As a whole they are the finest lying lots in the city. 2. They are shaded with beautiful forest trees. 3. They are located between Chicago and Lincoln Avenues, the two finest drives about the city. 4. They are only a ten-minute walk from the business portion of the town. 5. By reason of their location between the two main thoroughfares into the city, they are more accessible than lots in other additions. 6. The only addition to the city reached by two established avenues. 7. The only new addition to the city reached by water mains and with a prospect of being supplied in the near future with complete water privileges. 8. New sidewalks recently constructed to within a few feet of the addition and will shortly be extended. 9. Will certainly have street car privileges at no distant date. 10. If you wish a fine view of the river, locate on a lot in South Park. 11. If you wish a slightly and picturesque view of Plattsmouth, it can be had from a South Park lot. 12. To persons in the railroad employ, the eastern portion of South Park is the most desirable residence locality in the city. 13. To persons desiring a residence on Chicago avenue, the western portion of South Park is available for that purpose. 14. The B. & M. railroad track runs near the east line of the addition, furnishing good facilities for manufacturing industries. 15. If you locate in South Park you will have good neighbors: Mayor Simpson, John R. Cox, John A. Davies, John L. Minor, J. V. Weckbach, Chas. Harris, John H. Young, Henry Waterman, W. C. Inghram, B. Sparlock, Jerry Furling, Thos. E. Reynolds, S. A. Davis, L. A. Miner, C. M. Wend, Frank Nish, J. N. Glenn, C. L. Coleman, S. A. Speakman, Frank Beeson, Chas. A. Rankin, Sarah E. Alexander, John Moore, M. A. Shipman, Lillie Kalisky, T. W. Fought, Clayton Barber, W. J. Hesser, Harry Kneiler, J. E. Darwick, J. G. Royal, W. N. McLennan, P. O. Minor, F. McCourt, J. C. Fought and other rare owners of South Park property. 16. Over $12,000 worth of this desirable property has been disposed of within a short period and no part has been sold to outside speculators which is solid proof of the substantial growth of this part of the city. 17. More substantial houses were built in South Park in the fall of 1887 than in any one locality in the city and the prospects for spring building are much greater. 18. Lots will be sold until the 1st of April, next, at $150 each; after said date the price on the most desirable lots will be advanced. 19. Terms 1/4 cash, balance in one and two years, or lots may be purchased on monthly payments. 20. Any number of persons, not less than five, purchasing ten lots in one transaction will be given a lot free to dispose of as they may deem proper. 21. Any person or persons purchasing 20 or more lots and paying 1/4 cash, may have one and two years on balance without interest. 22. If any other reasons for purchasing lots in South Park are desired they will be given by calling at the office of
