-Janauschek will not appear tonight. -Mrs. Birdsall returns to Omaha this evening.

-"I would have peace and quietness."

-"All is peace and quietness."-["Cap." Pinneo, at B. & M. depot.]

-The Pinkerton policeman was acquited yesterday afternoon.

-Will Boeck and wife returned from their honeymoon trip this morning.

- The Cass County Agricultural Society are in session at the court house as we go to press.

-A dime museum will be opened on Main street Monday. Performance from 1 to 10 P. M. This is a grand opportunity for everybody to see Edison's Phonograph, which alone is worth the price of admission.

-- We thoroughly appreciate the kindness of those who favor us with items. Three or four are especially kind and thoughtful in that respect, and are a great aid in enabling us to get out a good local sheet.

-If any of our readers are pleased with very entertaining and delightful puzzles they should send for "The Puz zler," a monthly magazine, exclusively devoted to that subject, and published by N. D. C. Hodges, New York.

-The manner in which the telegraph and telephone wires are coated with ice, suggest the idea that some glassblower had found a "four-leaved shamrock" and "wove a fairy spell," we trust, for the prosperity of our beautiful city.

- "Hello! That looks bad!" said architect Voos, of Omaha, at 5:50 P. M. last Thursday, as he passed the Bank of Cass County, of this city. His remark had reference to a crack in the brick wall on Main street, just above one of the windows in Mr. Wise's office.

There are plenty of workingmen in this city with large families, who cannot afford to subscribe for a newspaper. We have hundreds of newspapers from all parts of the Union, and if you send your children, or come yourself, we will give you as many papers as you want, free of

-Last Wednesday night there was a debate at Mt. Joy School house, district 37, question: "Should women have the right to vote ?" Negative-Miss Wright, Vallery, and Messrs. Shepherd, Dutton. Affirmacive-Miss Shepherd. Hartigan, Messrs. Bushnell and C. H. Warner. De cided in favor of negative. Argument was forcible.

-The following two telegrams were received today by the manager of the opera house in this city: "Owing to the strike on C. B. & Q. road impossible to keep date. F. V. Hawley." "Very sorry but you will have to cancel my date, as the railroads will not guarantee me anything on account of strike. Will give you later date. Frank V. Hawely."

-"Angels visits are few and far between" so are compliments in the shape of a box of cigars that were thrown into our composing room by an unseen hand. A man capable of such unostenatious generotity is worthy of Medical and moral charge of a Ship load of living freight bearing the legend on her bows, "Heaven's Light Our Guide."

-A young scholar gave us the following puzzler yesterday: "What is the highest altitude of any inhabited city in America?" If our memory does not fail us, it is Quito, the capital of Ecuador (Ek-wa-dor) on the Andes, a mountainous region traversed by the river Orino co. Quito has 80,000, inhabitants, religabove sea level.

Passion is the Drunkenness o the Mind.

"Woman! Nature made thee to temper man we had been brutes without you." The ladies of the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union held a meeting last night for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. The meeting was well attended and the following elected: Miss Alice Wilson, pres.; Miss Olive Gass, sec.; Miss Carrie Holloway, treas., and Miss Anna Russell, organist. The following were also elected for the Band of Hope: Miss May Cranmer, supt.; Miss Ollie Jones, assis-supt.; Miss Minnie Waters, sec.; Miss Annie Russell, organist, and Ollie Matthews, chorister. The ladies gave an excellent program, which consisted of instrumental and and vocal selections, recitations and select readings. The excellent ability display ed of all who aided in the entertainment were highly appreciated. especially that of the infantile predigy, Hilt. Wescott, whose playing on the harmonica of "When I Saw Sweet Nellie Home," entitled him to an encore, when he gave "Home, Sweet Home." These meetings of the "Y's", as this society is usually known by, are open to the public without any entrance fee or collection.

The Y. W. C. T. U. meetings should be well attended by our citizens, as the members are working in a noble cause, while their entertainments are replete with amusement and instruction.

A Runaway Team-Serious Injuries

"Nick" Holmes, one of the wealthiest farmers in Cass was standing aside his team and wagon, reins in hand, in the alley alongside of Kohrell's saleon, at 10:30 this morning. The horses took fright at something and started off toward Main street. Mr. Holmes jumped into the wagon to stop them. They turned the corner of the alley, galleped madly west on Main street, and when opposite Frank Carruth's store, the wagon struck the curb of the sidewalk, throwing out the old gentleman, who alighted very heavily on his head and shoulders. He was picked up and taken into Smith & Black's drug store and a message sent for a stretcher to the B. & M. depot. He was then conveyed to Mr. Bach's grocery store, where is now resting. He has several scalp wounds and is supposed to have received internal injuries, but as yet, nothing definite is known. Dr. Shipman is in attendance.

-A very pleasant time was spent last evening at the home of Miss Lou Richey, where she entertained a number of her friends. Progressive euchre was the chief feature of amusement, after which refreshments were served in abundance. Mr. Davies and Mr. Drew were a tie in se curing the largest number of silver stars, but after these two gentlemen had finished their game, Mr. Davies was successful, as he Drew the card that gave him the prize. Those present were Messrs. Richey. Smith, Chatburn, Davies, Streight, Hartigan, Drew, Murphy and Der rick; and Misses Safford, Murphy, Streight, Lykes, Sheffer, Irish, Patterson, Thomas. Faxon and Newell.

-There is a driver of a coal wagon in this city, who don't know how to manage his team, and puts the blame on the horses, which he emphasizes, by beating them unmercifully with his coal shovel. A man who has no regard for the feelings of a dumb animal would just as leave "get full" and go home and kick his own flesh and blood about like a foot-ball. Such a man should suffer the agony of "a goblin damn'd, doomed to walk the earth" like "The Wandering Jew," till he could seek a rest in that place where the mineral he now hauls, is continually burning.

-First act. -- "The inter-state commerce law says that there can be no difference made between a long and a short haul." "I'm aware of that, but the interstate law also says that railroads shall not issue passes, but I'll bet a dollar that you nad one the last time you went to Chica-Second act. - A lawyer trying to borrow "Vol. 1, Redfield's Railways" for reference. He cannot procure them the day of the trial; time of trial arrives; Judge suddenly taken sick; next day book procured, trial goes on, prisoner ac quitted. This illustrates the old adage, There are wheels within wheels."

-- "Where are you going my pretty naid? "I've been a milking, sir! she said," as she put her pretty milk pail on the counter of a certain drug store yesterday afternoon. "You've been , rushing the growler you mean" said a person present. A polite, but emphatic denial was made to this base insinuation, and a medical gentlemen, thereupon, took a drink from the pail, and proved, by the manner in which it clotted his muscache, that the fluid was simply buttermilk. -The beautiful bead-like appearance of the branches of the trees around the city for the last two days, caused by the rain that fell having froze upon them, would be a bonanza to an artificial flower-maker if they would always retain their brilliancy. But they are like pleasure, which has been compared to the 'snow-drop on the river, seen for a moment, then gone forever," or "like the poppy spread, you grasp the flower,—the

Think Over It Twice. We are such impressionable beings that neither young men nor adults should as a rule do anything before thinking it

Persons into which adolescense glides as natural as ducks take to water, needs this sort of carefulness much more than anything else. It is easy to take a situation, to change the place of residence, to build up a scheme, or to do a dezen other serious matters. If failure comes, failure can be borne, but te quit a job is generally irrevocable to careless thinking, and all these petty thoughts glide on to destruction. Once afoat on the Niagara of temper, people rush down the current, which is irresistible, and then the rude awakening comes. Little tempers and little faults creep in through the cracks in an ill-determined choice. Careless spoken words prevents the employe from being as tidy as he once was, and and business frets and chafs the foreman the wrong way. Nobody is perfect, but forbearance and love do much to soften the irrietable, hard edge of exertion. If people, whose every taste and hope is dissimilar, have chosen each other blindly for the co-partnership which is only for a time, then during the rest of his stay he never can see a glimpse of the former castles that has been built. and frequently his calculating ends in disaster. Think over it twice, a look leads to a word, and a word to a chide, and a chide to a discontent, and the trouble commences, and all this time the worst enemy to the employer and also to the employe, has been at work with his poisoned shaft, shooting in both directions, points stinging employer and then employed, and then the employer, and so on until there is a chasm made so deep and wide that it is impossible by eitner to remedy this error. And yet this wonderous individual is not benefitted one whit by the defusion of all of his know!edge. But, on the other hand, when the employer and the employed are face to face and the truth is at all times visible. no eruption takes place, nor is there cause to fear. But, again, let the destroyer of peace and the evader of truth of which is sometimes termed, the - steps in between the dissatisfaction on the part of both beginners, nor does it diminish during the reign of the millenium, and the once fresh-complexion workman gets pale and wan with the strain of the duties imposed upon hi.n, and he no longer is the cheerful, never-tiring man that he was in the presence of truth and justice.

When all is settled it is too late to attempt to begin once again at the start. But all is not finished. Had all that are affected with the present difficulty taken this view of the matter before this, it is posible that the present crisis would have never arrived; but, as it is now, upon us, would it not be well for the employer to think it eyer twice, for "two wrongs never made one right." I see that the present affair is called a strike, but let us look at it. as is. Those men have become satisfied that their employers are not willing to pay them a fair price for their merchandise and they have concluded not to sell any more of their goods at that price having, tried it for a long time, and find that they cannot keep up their stock at such ruinous rates, and they have suspended business, or in other words, they have closed their place of business, which is no more wrong than it is for a merchant to do the same thing: but one says that their goods is of a different nature than the merchants, or grocers, or any other thing there is in the market. I grant it, but it is their stock in trade that is worthy a price. Now think twice and do not jump at conclusions too quick. Again, if their ware is not marketable, you do not want it, therefore do not say that they went ou a strike; but state it as it is, and say rather, they wanted more money for their goods than you felt disposed to pay. Now let ! us see how it looks on the other side. Our coal dealers make a corner on coal and we have no alternative, our grocers Dry Goods. Notions Boots and Shoes make a corner on sugar, we cannot help ourselves, and so on through the whole chapter; but if we make a corner on the only thing we have to sell there is a hue and cry, and there has got to be an excited lot of police sworn in, and for what, please tell. Surely, it cannot be because they intend to rob us of the only piece of property we have by birth-right . It is not to late to think twice. GUM.

CARRUTH BLOCK. SOUTH SIDE MAIN.

Reasons for Purchasing Lots in South Park.

1. As a whole they are the finest lying lots in the city.

2. They are shaded with beautiful forest trees.

3. They are located between Chicago and Lincoln Avenues, the two finest drives about the city. 4. They are only a ten-minutes walk from the business portion of the town. 5. By reason of their location between the two main theroughfares into the city, they are more accessible than lots in other additions.

6. The only addition to the city reached by two established 7. The only new addition to the city reached by water mains and with a prospect of being supplied in the near future with complete water privileges.

8. New sidewalks recently constructed to within a tew feet of the addition and will shortly be extended. 9. Will certainly have street car privileges at no distant date. 10. If you wish a fine view of the river, locate on a lot in South

11. If you wish a sightly and picturesque view of Plattsmoth, it can be had from a South Park lot.

12. To persons in the railroad employ, the eastern portion of South Park is the most desirable residence locality in the city. 13. To persons desiring a residence on Chicago avenue, the western portion of South Park is available for that purpose. 14. The B. & M. railroad track runs near the east line of the addition, furnishing good facilities for manufacturing industries.

15. It you locate in South Park you will have good neighbors : Mayor Simpson, John R. Cox, John A. Davies, John L. Minor, J. V. Weckbach, Chas. Harris, John H. Young, Henry Waterman, W. C.
