CITY CORDIALS.

—Look out for an important item, for the interest of Plattsmouth in about five days from today.

—The city council met last night but there not being a quorum no business was transacted. Adjourned to meet tomorrow night.

—A marriage license was issued by Judge Russell this morning to John Hayes and Jeannette Mitchell, of Victoria, near Weeping Water.

—George, the son of John H. Becker, who has been at the verge of death with pneumonia, has so far recovered as to be up and about the house.

—John H. Becker, deposited with D. A. Campbell, county treasurer, his check for $349.56 to balance his real estate tax account for the year 1887.

—Ladies that love to see fine dresses rich and dazzling costumes should not fail to go and see the grand opera performance of "Zozo" next Thursday night at the opera house. Remember the date, April 12.

—The case of Barhydt vs. Coverdale et al. was up for hearing this morning in the district court and continued until next week. The case of James Grace vs. Riley & Dutton was commenced at one o'clock this afternoon.

—One year ago last Sunday snow fell in Cass county. That's a weather item. Last Sunday was the birthday of Miss Eva B. Critchfield. That's a pleasant item. The only difference between the two items is, that one is coldness and the other, sunshine.

—We have just placed on our exchange list "The Picket Guard," a paper devoted to the interests of the G. A. R. Terms, one dollar per year. It is an eight page weekly, very neatly printed, finely illustrated, and full of anecdotes and interesting reading. Address, Editor, "Picket Guard," St. Louis, Mo.

—It is often the case that newspapers have to exert their influence to arouse public sentiment in regard to some worthy object or public question. In the case of the evangelists, now in this city, it has not been necessary as all their meetings, so far, have been exceedingly well attended, without hardly a passing notice from the press.

—Quite a number of Plattsmouth people have been heard to complain that no good first class attractions come to our city. The local management wishes to inform such persons that if they go and see "Zozo" next Thursday night they will have no reason to complain. Besides the attractions secured for Plattsmouth the past year, have been better than this city deserved as the patronage they receive is poor encouragement to secure such attractions to come here. Go and see Zozo and you will never regret it.

—We omitted to mention, yesterday, a noble act of a Brotherhood man, Con Connors, who attended the auction of a widow's effects, last Saturday, that were seized for debt, and purchased a trunk containing a lot of wearing apparel and momentoes, in the form of letters, a lock of hair, photographs, a family bible, and other keepsakes. He made the widow happy by the return of her loved treasures, among them being a perforated card, on which was embroidered the words "Simply to Thy cross I cling."

—Zozo is a fairy tale, illustrated and embellished by a fanciful playwright who has departed from the usual channel and actually given to the public something new, fresh, airy, wholesome and palatable to all lovers of amusement. Necessarily a spectacular production, Zozo depends largely upon its gorgeous mountains and fine tableaux for the climaxes. This feature of last evening's entertainment was an innovation to our theatre-goers, the transformation scenes together with the full stage sets picturing in all its elegance, fairyland, were indeed a revelation.—Brooklyn Times.

—The late Eberhard Anheuser, the founder of the association that are now erecting the building on the corner of Fourth and Main, died May 2, 1880, at his home, near the brewery, full of years yet conscious of a well spent life. He was born in Kreuznach, Rhenish, Prussia, Sept 27, 1805, where his ancestors were among the prominent citizens for centuries. He emigrated to this country in 1842, and embarked in the brewery business in St. Louis, having purchased the Bavaria Brewery, which was founded in 1852. He immediately enlarged this brewery by building a new brew house and additional cellars. In 1865 he associated with himself his son-in-law, Mr. Adolphus Busch, who succeeded to the presidency of the association and general management of the business, bringing a large additional capital and vast energy into the management of affairs.

AROUND THE OLD CAMP-FIRE.

An Enthusiastic Meeting of the Old Vets Last Night.

The G. A. R. last night in Rockwood hall was attended by a large number of ladies and gentlemen accompanied by their families, for the purpose of celebrating the surrender of Gen. Lee at Appomattox. The G. A. R. hall in the same building contained a number of tables on which were spread every kind of eatables, which were very neatly and tastefully arranged in an appetizing manner. After a portion of the program was carried out in the other hall the greater part of those in attendance went in to supper and were waited on by the ladies of the "Woman's Relief Corps" and their daughters. Great credit is due to those ladies and to a number of our citizens who aided in the successful manner in which that part of the program was carried out.

The entertainment commenced with Mrs. McMaken and Dickson, and Mr. Sherman, Sr., singing, in a very creditable manner, "Marching Through Georgia." All the audience joined in the chorus in a jolly, enthusiastic manner.

Captain Henry, department commander, a fine-looking man, with a distinguished military appearance gave a lengthy, able and very eloquent discourse in regard to the war, the past history of the G. A. R. and its future prospects. His remarks were very interesting, shrewd, pathetic and humorous.

Charley Bates a boy, five years of age, showed great skill in the handling of a miniature rifle.

Judge Chapman spoke at length in a very earnest, emotional manner of army reminiscences.

Geo. Smith of Omaha, gave a short speech, in a happy vein, intelligently expressed.

He was followed by Senator Teft of Weeping Water, who said: "A politician said to me the other day, 'we have a surplus in the treasury,' then, I say, for heaven's sake give some of it to the men who put it there."

We are sorry that we are not able to give a fuller account of the speeches which were full of patriotic sentiment and inspired by past actual experience, but we will try and publish some of Captain Henry's stories tomorrow.

Printing Office Secrets.

A properly conducted printing office is as much a secret as a Masonic lodge. The printers are not under oath of secrecy, but always feel themselves as truly in honor bound to keep office secrets, as though triple-oathed. Any employe in a printing office who willingly disregards this fact, in relation to printing office secrets, would not only be scorned by his brethren of the craft, but would lose his position at once. We make this statement because it sometimes happens that a communication appears in a newspaper under an assumed signature, which excites comment, and various parties try to find out who is the author. Let all be saved the trouble of questioning the employes of the printing office. They are know-nothings on such points as these. On such matters they have eyes and ears, but no mouth, and if they fail to observe this rule, let them be put down as dishonorable members of the craft. It is the same in job printing. If anything is to be printed and kept secret, let proper notice be given of the desire for secrecy, and you might as well question the Sphinx, as one of the printers, so that even the secret books of lodges are printed without fear.

Perpetual Persecution.

Yesterday afternoon Jack Hogan was arrested by Marshal Malick for an assault on engineer C. A. Green. He was taken before Justice Mathews and charged with "fighting on the streets and creating a disturbance." He pleaded guilty, and was fined ten dollars and costs, and the case dismissed. "That ends the case on that charge," says a legal authority. So it does so far as committing an offense adjustable by the city authorities, but the county attorney steps in and prefers a charge in the county court before Judge Russell against Hogan for "assault and battery."

The man is again immediately arrested on a warrant by Sheriff Eikenberry and after a preliminary hearing is let out in $100 bail, pending the hearing of the case next Thursday, 12th inst.

Judge Cooley, who was for thirty years Chief Justice of the State of Michigan, says it is law. Public opinion and common sense says it is injustice.

Marshal Malick.

An article appeared in these columns yesterday afternoon headed a "Cowardly assault," which was followed by "the entire affair was witnessed by the city marshal, yet no arrests were made." The facts of the case were these: Marshal Malick was standing near the spot where the altercation was going on and did make the arrest as soon as there was sufficient cause. The writer of that article, now that he has found out the truth of the matter, makes this statement cheerfully, with the object of doing justice to an efficient police officer.

—The regular meeting of the U. O. T. B. will take place tonight.

Bellevue.

Miss Adie Buck, Murray, Cass county, was visiting her sister, Mrs. Klepser, the past ten days.

College opened last Wednesday for the spring session with the usual number of students in attendance.

The Rev. Dr. Harsh, the college president, spent last week visiting Chicago, where he was formerly pastor of a church.

One change in the school board was made at the election, Mr. F. A. Langheine was elected moderator vice Mr. B. R. Stouffer.

There is talk of contesting the village election. It is alleged that one man voted who is not a citizen of the republic. With his vote out it would leave most officers a tie on the count.

There were two wrecks on the railway in the yard here last week, both in the same place. Three cars of freight were derailed not much damaged, and no one hurt in the last one. Bellevue averages a wreck per month for several months past.

At the recent school meeting it was decided that one lady teacher could teach all the young ideas how to shoot during the spring term of two months. Miss Altha Rhaney was engaged and began school on the 9th inst. She pleases everyone with her manner and method.

Prof. M. F. Laughlin, the late principal, was here the other day. He is engaged by the Western White Bronze Monument company of Des Moines, Ia., as agent. His headquarters will be Plattsmouth, and he will canvass Cass and Otoe counties and vicinity. May he meet with the success he deserves.

Geo. Trent brought suit in Justice Skelten's court for damage against John Polan; the damage was done by defendant's cattle. C. L. Hoover, Papillion, was attorney for plaintiff and J. L. Goss of this place for defendant. Decision for plaintiff $7.50 and costs.

CONTEMPORARY.

Revival Meetings.

The Evangelistic meeting last evening at the M. E. church, was largely attended and a good deal of interest was manifested. These meetings held by the Evangelists, will continue every afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and 7:30 in the evening, at the Methodist church. Come, if you wish to hear a good talk and interesting singing, and try and bring a friend.

—Captain Henry left this morning for Ashland. From there he goes to Waverly. Before leaving this city he appointed the HERALD the official paper of Cass county for the G. A. R. We will now publish regularly all general orders and communications regarding the "Boys" in this county, although nothing much will be heard until the captain returns to his home at Fairmont, Neb.

A Sadly Overworked Word.

The word "funny" is sadly overworked. Just listen to the innumerable multitude of men and women who use it on all possible occasions. Relate to them the last minstrel joke, the particulars of a great flood in China or some pathetic story of destitution and death, and their only remark is: "Well, isn't that funny?" The other day a gentleman walking down Broadway caught up with an acquaintance, to whom he related the tragic death of a mother and daughter in two different railroad accidents on the same day and at nearly the same hour. And all the reply that the human parrot could make was: "You don't say; wasn't that funny?"—New York Tribune.

The World's Great Refractors.

Of the world's refracting telescopes nine have apertures exceeding twenty inches, viz: Lick observatory, California, 36 inches; Pulkova, Russia, 30; Yale college, 28; Littrow, Vienna, 27; University of Virginia, 26; Washington Naval observatory, 26; Gateshead, England, 25; Princeton, N. J., 23, and Buckingham, London, England, 21. Six of these instruments are the work of the American firm of Alvan Clark & Sons.—Arkansas Traveler.

Domestic Anxieties.

"I feel so tired every night, John," said a farmer's wife, as she took up her darning after the day's work was done. "My bones ache, and I have fits of dizziness and no appetite; and I'm worried, too, about the heifer, John. When I was feeding the stock to-night she acted very strangely and refused to eat. I'm afraid she's going to die." "Yes," said John, "I'm worried about that heifer myself."—New York Sun.

A Highly Prized Relic.

One of Liszt's feminine pupils preserves as a highly prized relic a handkerchief which the great master wrapped about his finger one day when it was bleeding. A few dim bloodstains still remain on the handkerchief, and a correspondent who saw it recently was told by the fair pianist with a sigh that "it has never been and never will be laundered."—New York Evening World.

Rolling Out Rifle Barrels.

By means of recent improvements made in the manufacture of rifles, as many as 120 barrels can now be rolled in an hour by one machine. They are straightened cold and bored with corresponding speed, and even the rifling is done automatically, so that one man tending six machines can turn out sixty or seventy barrels a day. With the old rifling machine twenty barrels was about the limit of a day's work; but the improved machines attend to everything after being once started, and when the rifling is completed, ring a bell to call the attention of the workman.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Ethics of Kinship.

It is a queer thing that in the ethics of kinship a man usually rushes for his uncle after bidding good-by to his aunt.—Tid Bits.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Carl C. Wright, of Glenwood, Iowa, is attending court today.

Hon. T. N. Bobbitt and Mr. Arnold, of Eagle, are attending court as jurors.

T. J. Hayes, of Maquoketa, Iowa, is in the city visiting his brother, Wm. Hayes. It is their first meeting for ten years, so Mr. Hayes took a day off.

Rev. Hampton and wife, left this morning for a two week's visit to relatives at Red Oak, Ia. The congregation of the Christian church will miss their pastor and wish for his speedy return.

The Welsh Prize Singers.

Speaking of the Welsh singers, who will give an entertainment at Waterman's opera house April 16, the Leader, of Wilkesbarre, Penn., says: A very large and enthusiastic audience greeted the Welsh Prize Singers at Music hall last evening. The singing was grand, and each selection was encored in a manner that bespoke no refusal. The perfect life of song is embodied in these people, who have wrested the honors of the world by their wonderful genius. The singing last evening was an illustration of the grand power of song. The audience was held entranced, and at the close of some of the choruses the almost breathless silence would be broken by a thundering of applause that would make the building fairly tremble.

It would be impossible for us to quote an error of the singer, or criticise any one of the songs, for such singers and such songs are away above the path of the average critic.

If it is real estate you want, see Windham & Davies' column on second page.

F. HERRMANN & CO.,

CORSET DEPARTMENT.

LADIES FAVORITE WAIST

This waist is designed to meet the requirements of ladies who cannot, comfortably, wear a stiff and rigid corset, while it can be worn with as much comfort as an ordinary dress waist. It will give the same elegance of contour as the heaviest boned corset in the market, while the stays are so arranged that they will give support to the back and spine and in no wise interfere with the freedom and comfort of the wearer. The weight of the clothing is transferred from the hips to the shoulders by means of the shoulder-straps, which are adjustable to suit any form or length of waist.

We have these waists in White, Grey and Gold and the price to introduce them will be $1.00. Sizes 18 to 28.

We also Carry a Full Line of the following Corsets:

Bortrees Duplex, Bortrees Skirt Supporting, Misses Corsets, Loomers Elasting Comfort Hip, Satin Corsets, F. C. Corsets, I. C. Corsets, C. P. Corsets. Our Cleopatra is the best $1.00 corset ever thrown over any counter; our Blanche Extra Long Corset at $1.50 is a bargain; Childrens Corset Waists at 45 and 65 cents.
