If the delegation from the State of New York enters the great convention hall with Governor David B. Hill at its head, bearing the Cleveland banner, there will not be room in St. Louis for the enthusiasm that would at once be aroused .- (The Buffalo Times.

Ah, yes, Hill, the great apostle of temperance reform, carrying the banner of Cleyeland, the great apostle of Civil Globe-Democrat. Service Reform, would doubtless create a sensation in St. Louis, especially if he was attended by Garland, the great apostle of "public office is public trust." But it is a mistake to suppose that there would not be room in St. Louis for the "enthusiasm" that would be aroused. It is said that most of the St. Louis saloons are furnished with ample cellars, and they ought to be equal to any demand for enthusiasm which the delegates will make upon them .- N. Y. Tribune.

3-He is a man of unimpeachable integrity, too great to be a tool, too fair to be a narrow politician.

4-He represents no clique, no feuds, no dead weight, but is a man the masses could rally around as a friend, a true representative of the higher principles and genius of our republican institutions.

5-He is from a pivotal state. Not another of the candidates named possess such an array of popular qualities such a passport to the hearts of the peo-

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown,-today it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is used with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the President Cleveland should be making ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. Following the disappearance of the upper limb of the sun's disk at sunset, there has been observed the phenomenon of a beautiful green ray, its flash being as rapid as that of lightning, and only visible under rare conditions of clearness of the sky. The explanation offered for its appearance is that of the simultaneous contrast of colors, the theory propounded originally by M. Chevreul .-

This solitary confinement is a relic of a barbarous age. The history of the middle ages is full of eases where men have passed years, in some instances almost a lifetime, walking back and forth in a lonely cell which, perhaps, may have been for a portion of the time a dungeon. All are familiar with the story of the prisoner confined in the Castle of Chillon, in Switzerland, who chained to a pillar walked to and fro as far as his chain would permit, and wore a deep furrow in the stone under his feet. The prisoner is gone, but the tourist may today visit the old prison by the side of the placid Lake Leman and see this furrow, and ponder on the story of human suffering that it tells.

"Imprisoned at hard inbor" may seem to imply a melancholy lot, but compared with solitary confinement, with nothing to occupy the prisoner's atten-tion, or his muscles, hard labor means an existence far preferable. This is fore-shadowed by the number of storms we have already hadthe most destructive one so far this year having occurred at Mt.
