As a compliment to the male sex the equal rights party consented finally to put Alfred M. Loye for vice president on the ticket nominating Belya A. Lockwood for president of the United States.

It is announced that President Cleveland will attend the celebration of the battle of Gettysburg in July and will read the famous oration delivered by President Lincoln as an introduction to his own remarks.

SPEAKING of the political probabilities for the coming campaign it is given us as a solemn fact that Judge S. M. Chapman of this judicial district has a congressional bee buzzing about him.

CONGRESSMAN LONG'S decision to retire from public life will be regretted, not only in Massachusetts, but throughout the country.

NORTH AND SOUTH. We denounce the Mills bill as an attempt to force free trade upon the farms and manufacturing and workingmen of the North while giving protection to the sugar and cotton planter of the South.

No measure was ever introduced by any committee of congress more thoroughly sectional in its character than the Mills bill. While removing the last iota of protection from the products of northern farms, it leaves a burden of $45,000,000 upon the people of the whole country for the benefit of the sugar planters of Louisiana, and protects the only other staple of the south which comes into competition with the products of other lands, the rice crop.

Protection made the north rich while the south was kept poor by the institution of slavery. The south is now deliberately planning to stop the progress of the north until the south can overtake it. And not merely that, but it is proposed to make the north contribute from the store it has gained. The wages of our labor must be reduced, so that the south may buy such things as it does not produce cheaper while building up its own industries.

It does not seem possible that northern farmers and workingmen will give their sanction to such a sectional proposition. Certainly none will who analyze the bill and learn its purposes and certain effect.—Republican.

G. A. R. National Encampment.

This important annual event in Grand Army circles occurs at Columbus, O., in the second week of September next. The present indications are that it will be the largest Encampment ever held, it being estimated that at least 200,000 veterans will be in attendance.

The Ohio State Journal has been selected by the Executive Committee of Arrangements to publish the daily roster of the Encampment. A Committee on Registration will arrange to secure the most complete registration that has ever been made, and the State Journal has contracted to print the names as they are furnished. This will make a very important feature of the National Encampment, as nothing like a perfect roster has ever been published.

Subscriptions should be sent in now, as the paper is worth more than its cost to any family, and especially so to Grand Army men at this time who desire to keep posted on the preparations for the Encampment, which appear every week in the State Journal.

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown,—today it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is used with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc.

Utility of Lightning Rods. Noted Electrician—I see you still have that old notion that a lightning rod is a protection.

Nebraska Farmer—I have. "Well, of course, you don't keep up with the electrical progress of the age and can't be expected."

Work of the Nihilists. A correspondent of The London Standard says that the Russian Nihilists, having failed to make the desired impression upon the peasants, have for the past few years devoted their attention chiefly to the army and navy, and with startling success. It is suspected that if Russia becomes engaged in another war the revolutionists will not permit her triumph.

Killed by Competition. Friend to young poet—How is your book of poems going off, Charley? Young Poet (discouragingly)—Not very fast.

Familiarity Not Attempted. A Washingtonian, who enjoyed the friendship of the late Mr. Conkling, says that among all the friends and acquaintances that the ex-senator formed after he reached manhood not one ever addressed him as "Roscoe."

A Well Deserved Fate. Countryman to dentist—The tooth next to that "un-aches too, doc. Dentist—Yes; it aches in sympathy. Countryman—Yank it out; durst sech sympathy!—New York Sun.

Notes of queer expressions. A teacher of Mississippi colored folks has been taking notes of queer expressions that she has heard from her pupils and in meeting, and The American Missionary publishes them. Here are a few: "Go to the great physicianer." "I use consecrated lye."

Work for Women. A London jeweler recommends diamond cutting and polishing as an excellent employment for women, saying that he believes that any woman or girl with quick intelligence could learn to polish a diamond "very fairly in six months."

A young Madras Brahmin, married, in a communication to The Indian Magazine, speaks of his marriage as "the eternal knot of sorrow tied."

A SONG. Sing! Sing! What shall I sing! Sing of the rose— Sing of the snow— Sing of the wild wind that through the night blows.

A Very Useful Substance. The material known as woodite, devised by Mrs. Wood, a clever Englishwoman, promises to become a very useful substance. Its chief ingredient is caoutchouc. During the past few months it has given good results for a variety of purposes, and is now declared to be especially adapted to many other uses.

Causes of Nervous Irritability. A prominent physician is quoted as saying: "Were I to give the true reasons for the growing inferiority, nervous irritability and insanity, which are sapping the vigor of the time, they would be two things—the want of proper food by all classes and the sedentary training, or want of training, among young people."

A Good "Recommendation." A stranger from the interior entered a Detroit wholesale clothing house the other day and stated that he was looking around for a retail stock. After being welcomed he was asked concerning his financial standing and he promptly replied: "Maybe I don't haf some rating in der books, but I can recommend myself. I vvas insured for $2,000, and I burns out und got der money in my pocket."

Martha Washington's Complaint. Benson J. Lossing, LL. D., the distinguished historian, writes in a Washington newspaper of a conversation he had in 1838 with Alexander Hamilton's widow. One interesting remark made by Mrs. Hamilton was one in reference to Martha Washington's dislike for society.

Readers of Bad Books. My own conviction is that the objectionable books published in France are far more patronized by foreigners than by the French themselves, for I can never come across, among my French friends, a man who has read them. M. Zola's books are read, I admit, not, however, because they are objectionable, but because they are written by a transcendental artist.

The Rights of Inventors. It is an easy matter to prove that there is nothing new in the world, and it has come to be the fashion to belittle about every invention made, by showing that something in some respects like the thing invented has been known or dreamed of before.

To Keep Away Drummers. A business man of South Florida adopts this novel plan to keep drummers out of his place, and he says it works admirably. Every morning he places a plug hat and sachel on his counter. As soon as a drummer comes to the door and looks in he sees the plug hat and sachel, and he goes off, believing that another one of the craft has that ground already covered.

On the Installment Plan. "You say he committed suicide on the installment plan—how's that?" "He moved from Chicago to New York, then to Cincinnati, then to St. Louis, where he took to drinking beer, then whisky, went to a five cent eating house for his meals, and finally became a cigarette smoker. What else could you call it?"—Chicago Tribune.

Work for Women. A London jeweler recommends diamond cutting and polishing as an excellent employment for women, saying that he believes that any woman or girl with quick intelligence could learn to polish a diamond "very fairly in six months."

A young Madras Brahmin, married, in a communication to The Indian Magazine, speaks of his marriage as "the eternal knot of sorrow tied."

Ada—I had ten offers of marriage last week. Emma—How monotonous and persistent of Jack.—Tid Bits.

A bad marriage is like an electric machine—it makes you dance, but you can't let go.
