CITY CORDIALS.

—Job work done on short notice at the HERALD office.

—The members of the Christian church are earnestly requested to be present this evening at the church as business of importance is to be transacted. Do not neglect it!

—Mrs. Will Boeck has not realized any marked change for the better since our last report of her illness, and during a good part of the time has not been rational.

—There will be a regular meeting of the "Y's" at the Presbyterian church Thursday evening at 8 p. m. A full attendance is requested as preparations must be made for Flower Mission Day.

—We are requested to give notice that the ladies of St. Luke's Sewing Society will meet at the residence of Mrs. R. Vivian, Vine street, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. All are requested to be present.

—The case which was brought up against the barber of the Riddle house for working on Sunday was not completed as the jury disagreed, which necessitates a new trial. The case will be brought up again on the 14th inst.

—Mr. J. W. Ball, who was recently working in connection with this office as reporter, and who left the city last Monday morning to seek a situation elsewhere has secured a lucrative position on the Ashland Gazette. We congratulate him on his success.

—There was rejoicing last evening at the residence of Mr. W. H. Miller upon the arrival of a son. We expect William feels highly elated and we extend to him our hearty congratulations, trusting he may assume the name of "Pa," and will bring his boy up in the way he should go.

—Mr. L. A. Newcomer, who has recently erected a fine residence for himself in South Park, will in the future take up his abode in that popular locality. He will move into the house today. South Park is of late attracting a large number of our best citizens in that direction, and at present is quite thickly populated.

—A committee of the Driving Park Association in charge of the new track met last evening at the office of Messrs. Skinner & Ritchie and received open bids for the grading of the new track. The following gentlemen put in bids: Messrs. H. C. McMacken, Walter White and T. L. Murphy. Mr. Murphy's bid being the lowest, 11 cents per cubic yard, subject to the direction of the committee. Work is to be commenced at once. The track will be full regulation half mile track.

—We were grieved to hear the report that the wife of Rev. M. A. Hampton, of the Christian church, who has for some time been confined to her room with a severe attack of typhoid fever, is at present lying at death's door. This morning there were slight hopes of her recovery, but the change for the better has been very tardy. Every effort possible has been made by her ever faithful husband to bring her through all right, and it is the sincere wish of many that he will succeed.

—We clip the following from the Arizona Citizen, which shows the contrast between Tucson and Plattsmouth weather today. It is so hot here they are unable to hold church and here we are occasionally obliged to keep fire in the stoves at this late season: "A change has been made in the Sunday services at the Congregational church on account of the warm weather. The morning service has been suspended, and the Sunday School will now meet at 6 o'clock p. m. instead of 12 m. There will be the usual preaching service in the evening."

—A number of dogs have recently been poisoned by some unknown parties who have thrown meat in their way. Yesterday afternoon a dog belonging to Mr. Neville, named "Sport," which he values at about $50, was added to the list of the poisoned, having picked up a piece of meat somewhere which had been richly seasoned, and which, had it not been for the valuable medical ability of Dr. W. D. Jones, of the "Bonner House," Plattsmouth, would surely have proved fatal to the poor, unfortunate animal. He made a preparation which brought the dog to his senses, and they succeeded in getting the dog to his feet in about fifteen minutes afterwards. At present writing the pulse is normal and there are signs of recovery which enlighten the blighted hopes of Mr. Neville and the successful physician, Mr. Jones. If information can be given as to who put the poison out, they threaten to make the punishment severe. Men who pay taxes on their dogs are the ones who generally lose them, and if any more is found thrown out to the canine fraternity, the matter will be looked into and the guilty parties brought to justice.

—The funeral of Mr. Frank Stevenson's child took place from the father's residence at 10:30 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. W. B. Alexander.

—Mr. Thos. Riddle, of the Riddle House, went to Omaha this morning to make purchases for his barber shop. He intends to fit it up in the finest style and be second to none in this vicinity.

—A very enjoyable evening was spent last night at the residence of Mr. Thomas Murphy, where a large number had been invited to spend a few hours and indulge in the usual amusements. All the luxuries of the season were served in abundance and everybody thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

—Our reporter had a pleasant interview with three members of the Woody family, who give one of their high-class concerts this evening at the M. E. church. They are on their return trip from California, and are on their way to Chicago, their home. They are all well cultivated singers, having had instructions from the best instructors in the east, and are all possessed of excellent voices. They have always been successful in the largest cities of the country, east and west, and have gained for themselves a wide reputation. We strongly urge the citizens to turn out in good numbers and give them a full house for you certainly cannot regret it.

—A team of mules belonging to Lenthoff & Soennichsen, while standing in their yard yesterday afternoon, scared because one dropped one of the extensive attachments from the top of its head far enough either to see it or the immense shadow it threw on the ground in front, and imagining a tree or some other weighty material was about to take a drop, started up the street for dear life until they came in contact with a hill, which did not necessitate a great distance in this city of ours, and realizing the fact that climbing a hill would cause a little extra exertion, stopped short. They were about to turn around and make a return trip when a boy appeared upon the scene and succeeded in stopping them in their frantic efforts to escape.

—We are pleased to be afforded an opportunity to chronicle the anticipated coming of the famous lecturer, Matilda Fletcher, who is dated for Plattsmouth, Tuesday evening, June 12, at Rockwood hall. The entertainment will be under the auspices of the G. A. R., and they are to be congratulated on having secured the services of so popular a speaker, and the citizens should not let such an opportunity of hearing so talented an elocutionist go by. Her subject selected for the evening is "The Way of the World." There are numberless press and professional commendations of which we give one: "The speaker has great elocutionary power. The audience took to her at once, listened attentively, interrupting her now and then with laughter and applause. It is only fair to say that Matilda Fletcher is one of the most attractive, graceful, and eloquent speakers in this country."—New York Times.

—The funeral of the late Mrs. Cole took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of her husband, Mr. W. W. Cole. The service was conducted by Rev. W. B. Alexander, of the M. E. church, and his sympathetic speaking, combined with the music, which was so effectively rendered by a number of the members of the M. E. church and others, brought tears to the eyes of many of those present. Every person who has had the pleasure of an acquaintance with the family, deeply sympathize with the bereaved husband and the motherless children. The extremely short illness and sudden death seems to call forth a more severe shock, and draws from the hearts of all, the most sincere regret, and we are sure no one could have been present at the service yesterday without realizing the most unutterable feelings of grief. The remains were taken to the B. & M. depot where they awaited the arrival of the flyer. They were taken to her old home at Lyons, N. Y., for interment, where Mr. Cole will remain for a couple of weeks. Appended we give a brief history of her life: "Luanna L., wife of W. W. Cole, was a native of Lyons, N. Y., and was about thirty-eight years old. She was united in marriage to Mr. Cole in November, 1871. She leaves behind her husband and two children, aged fourteen and seven, respectively, whose sorrows are shared by many friends. Mrs. Cole was a true Christian woman, a loving companion, an affectionate mother, and a good and kind neighbor. Her home has been in Plattsmouth for the last four years, during which time she endeared herself to all with whom she came into intimate acquaintance. The most of her life she was a member of the Presbyterian church, but lately she had been attending the services of the M. E. church and we are informed it was her purpose to have united there had she been spared. Her sickness, though brief, was severe. Most of the time, during the last five days, she was not rational. Her husband thinks she had premonition of the approach of death for some time, and from the beginning of her sickness she said that she would not recover.

ELECTION OF TEACHERS.

More School Houses Needed in the City.

At the last meeting of the Board of Education a communication was read from Miss Edna Bell, assistant-principal elect, stating that she would not accept the position, also a letter from Miss Lou Miller declining the position in the first ward. No answer has yet been received from Miss Twomey or Miss Kerr.

A number of bills were passed by the finance committee.

The board ask a levy of ten mills for school purposes.

The board discussed the question of ward school houses and considered the advisability of having them altered into four-roomed buildings instead of two rooms, as at present, on account of increased attendance, but nothing definite was decided upon, as it was a question of money and there is not enough school-funds for that purpose.

A discussion then arose as to whether the citizens are willing to vote bonds to the amount of $10,000 for the purpose of increasing the number of school houses and enlarging those already built. The board would like to know the sentiments of the citizens in regard to the voting of bonds for that purpose. More school houses must be built or additions to those already erected so as to accommodate all the scholars.

No teachers were elected.

The accurate manner in which the records of the business conducted by the board is kept, is due to Mr. Wm. Mayes, their efficient secretary.

The board adjourned to meet again next Thursday evening.

Our own make, unexcelled, unlaundried shirts, sold for 50c, worth 75c, at Mayer's Opera House Clothing Store.

—Last evening about 7 o'clock, Kittie Grace, a child about three years old, and Ralph Palmer, a boy about five or six, were playing in the yard at the rear of Mr. Jas. Grace's residence on Pearl street, and were making preparations to partake of a supper which the little girl had prepared for them on her little table. The boy, thinking her table was not complete and imagining he could improve on it by making an addition in the way of drinks, left for his home to procure some coffee. He soon returned with what he supposed to be coffee, but which proved to be lie, and divided up with his little hostess. It is supposed he got the lie from a can which had been left around carelessly at his home. They each took a mouthful of the lie but were conscious of their mistake before swallowing any great quantity of it, it being so strong. They soon reported their trouble by screaming which attracted the attention of several of the neighbors who soon went to their assistance. A doctor was soon summoned and they were treated, after which their severe burns were eased. As neither of them swallowed any of the lie they will probably come out all right, but their tongues are blistered terribly making them white. The boy seems to be an unfortunate lad, as he has just recovered after being hooked in the neck by a cow some time ago.

A Card of Thanks.

Mr. Cole wishes to tender a card of thanks to all who so kindly and voluntarily rendered their much appreciated assistance during the sickness of his wife. A large number of friends were ever ready and willing to lend a helping hand, for which assistance he wishes to extend his sincere thanks.

Street Pictures in Venice.

Among the crowds which gather on St. Mark's piazza in the lovely spring afternoons are women quite as beautiful as those which smile on you from the canvas of the old painters. They are fond of strange tints, odd shades of red, green and blue; they wear, some of them, odd fashioned, three cornered shawls of fine patterns and bold colors, presenting a very picturesque appearance. Many of the children are remarkably pretty. They look out with their large eyes from under their tangled, curly locks, like so many cherubs fitted with half naked bodies. They are very thievish, too, and one has to be very watchful of them. That most of them are beggars will be no news to your readers. If you go in the evening to get an ice or take a cup of coffee at Florian's, in St. Mark's square, these soft voiced, ragged little thieves come creeping up to you with their bright faces, pointing to their red ripe mouths to tell you they are hungry, offering matches for sale or asking you for the end of your cigar, your coffee, your cake. But they must be watched all the time, for they will steal whatever they lay their hands on.—Venice Cor. Providence Journal.
