THE NOMINATION.

Grover Cleveland Goes Through With the Greatest of Ease.

ST. LOUIS, June 6.—The roll call having been completed the chair said: The question is upon the motion made by the gentleman from Kentucky that the rules be suspended and that Grover Cleveland of New York be nominated by acclamation.

Mr. Waterbury of New York—I rise to a point of order.
Mr. Rowell P. Flower of New York glided over to Waterbury and forcibly pulled him and his point of order down into a seat, and explained with great vigor that he was interrupting the proceedings and must keep quiet.

In the midst of the noise and confusion Mr. Collins said: The chair declares that Grover Cleveland of New York, having received the unanimous vote is our candidate for president of the United States.
Mr. Flower presented the following resolution:

Resolved that when this convention adjourn it be until 8 p. m. tonight.
The vote was passed and the negative followed and was declared by the chairman.

D. W. Voorhees of Indiana—Mr. Chairman, I hope this convention will adjourn until morning at 10 o'clock. I therefore call for the roll of states on the question of adjournment until tomorrow morning at 10 a. m. It is well known that the committee on resolutions will not report this afternoon.

Colonel R. L. Victor Baughman of Maryland—Mr. Chairman, I ask the gentlemen before they vote to consider the fact whether it would be acting courteously to the delegates who are now in session drafting a platform on which the nominees of this convention may stand to proceed with the nominations now without their presence. It would be well for us to postpone the other nominations.

Mr. Hensel—Mr. Chairman, the committee on resolutions is a delegated committee from this party and it is competent and entirely right that this party should give its directions to that subordinate body. I propose to move in connection with this matter that this committee on resolutions be instructed to report to this body at a given time. I am entirely willing that if the business of the nominating speeches be proceeded with and finished at this time, that the convention will take a recess until 8 o'clock this evening.

The Chairman—The motion to adjourn is not debatable, and the discussion thus far has proceeded only by tolerance from the convention. The question is upon the motion made by Senator Voorhees, that the convention adjourn to 10 o'clock tomorrow as a substitute for the resolution offered by Mr. Flower, that when we adjourn we adjourn to meet at 8 o'clock tonight. Mr. Voorhees, I understand desires the call of the roll of states upon his motion.

Mr. Voorhees—I withdraw the motion for a call of the roll.

The Chairman—Those in favor of adjourning until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning will say "aye." The motion was put and great confusion and cries of "Call the roll." Upon a standing vote the chair declared the motion lost.

The Chair—Now those in favor of Mr. Flower's resolution to adjourn until 8 o'clock tonight will say "aye."

Mr. Flower—I call for the reading of that resolution again. It is that when we adjourn, we adjourn until that hour.

The Chairman—The gentleman in favor of that motion will say "aye." [Cries of "aye."]

The Chairman—Those opposed will say "no." [Equally loud cries of "no."]

The Chairman—The "ayes" appear to have in. [Cries of "Call the roll."]

Mr. Patterson of Delaware—I understand the committee on resolutions cannot report until 8 o'clock and it is right that we adjourn to that hour.
The chairman then ordered a roll call which resulted—Ayes 387, noes 340.

Voorhees then moved an adjournment until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and asked that the roll be called on the motion.

White of California—Mr. Chairman: I second the motion of Mr. Voorhees because we should have a platform carefully and deliberately adopted. When you nominate your vice president you cannot hold this convention. We have violated the ordinary rules of proceedings in the interest of sentiment. Let us go no farther. Let us adjourn until tomorrow morning and settle the platform calmly, deliberately and in accordance with Grover Cleveland's views.

Mr. Throckmorton of Texas—If Grover Cleveland can be nominated without a platform, Allen G. Thurman can be nominated without a platform.

The clerk proceeded with the roll call amid confusion, and Mr. English of California made a motion to dispense with the roll call.

Mr. Tarpy of California moved that the roll call be dispensed with and that the chair declare the body adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow.
The chair put the motion and declared the convention adjourned.

MEXICO.

The Yaqui Indian Rebellion.

NOGALES, A. T., June 7.—Gov. Corral, of Sonora, Mex., who, with his staff, has been making an extensive trip through the Yaqui country, has returned to Hermosillo. The object of the trip was to consult closely with the military leaders now in the field, and devise, if possible, some plan by which the present troublesome Yaqui Indian war may be ended. The troops have been fighting these Indians nearly four years, and the trouble seems no near ended than it was three years ago. If anything, the Indians seem better prepared than they have been for three years, and the manner in which Cajeme, their chief, was disposed of, seems to have added to their courage and fierce determination.

The fact that the Indians are in a great measure in the right not only gives them courage, but makes them friends among many Mexicans. The Yaqui are not a nomadic, indolent, murderous tribe, but instead, are an industrious peaceable people, who have held their homes along the Rio Yaqui, which they are now fighting for, for generations past, and feel that they are entitled to them. It is understood, however, that the federal forces against the Indians will be increased, and that a determined effort to bring them into subjection will be made. Even though the troops do succeed in putting down the rebellion, the government, in the interest of peace will be compelled to be very liberal in concessions, otherwise a desultory war will be carried on indefinitely.

Paganini's Favorite Instrument.

Paganini purchased many other violins, particularly several Stradavari, and was continually buying and selling fine instruments, but nothing could induce him to part with his "Joseph del Jesu." He kept it constantly with him, and watched it as a father might watch a delicate child. Once it was sick, appearing suddenly to lose all its quality, and he took it to Vuillaume, known as the most famous repairer of fiddles in Europe. The expert said that it must be taken apart. Paganini insisted that it must not go out of his sight, and compelled the work to be done in his own apartments. Vuillaume told afterward that Paganini watched him as he put in the knife and pried the delicate wood apart, and started at every fresh thrust as though the knife were going into his own body. Afterward Vuillaume had to take it to his shop to put it together. When the work was done Paganini gave him a gold box set with precious stones, which Paganini said was exactly the same as one he had to give to his physician, and that the doctor of his body and the doctor of his violin were entitled to equal consideration. The box was worth several hundred dollars, probably ten times as much as the original maker received for the violin when it was new.

While the violin was in his shop Vuillaume made measurements of its exact dimensions down to the very unevenness of the varnish, and from these measurements he made another violin that was the exact duplicate of Paganini's, but when the latter heard of it he insisted that it should be sold to him, and so no one ever had a violin like that of Paganini until, dying, Paganini bequeathed the copy to Camillo Sivori, who has ever since played upon it. The original violin Paganini left to his native city, Genoa, to be kept forever in remembrance of him. It is kept with scrupulous care, and only the most famous artists are or have ever been allowed to touch it. Once before this time has been accorded to Sivori.
