CITY CORDIALS.

—The base ball boys will probably play the best Lincoln amateur team on the Fourth, and the C. E. Mayne club, of Omaha, next Thursday.

—Bishop Bonaccue, of the Catholic Churches, will arrive in the city this afternoon on the flyer. A large procession of the different Catholic societies will greet him.

—Reserved seat tickets for "She" are now on sale at Phil Young's for only 75 cents. The management will make it pleasant for the patrons by passing ice water during the performance in case it should be a warm night.

—Two young gentlemen of this city who are experts on the tandem, made a trip to Eight Mile Grove last night after 10 o'clock. It is not reported when the return trip was made or what was the occasion of such a night-hawk expedition.

—Three street exhibition men possessed of a harp, violin and flute, rendered some excellent music for the benefit of the public last night. They, with the crowd they entertained, occupied a good portion of the street, and played for a couple of hours.

—Mr. and Mrs. Vim, of the Vim company, who remained in the city for the past few days trying to persuade people to attend their entertainments and were unsuccessful, took their departure from our city this morning for another place which will probably appreciate their talents better.

—Nebraska City is somewhat disfigured but still in the ring. Henry Huckins, the editor of the Times, has been horsewhipped by a woman. He is congratulated upon the fact that he has received the award he so richly deserved. True merit always draws a prize of some kind. —Lincoln Journal.

—The case which had been brought against the barbers of the Riddle House some time ago for keeping their barber shop open and working on Sunday, and which had been continued on account of the disagreement of the jury, was brought up again yesterday. Judge Sullivan was for the prosecution and Mr. Geo. Smith, of Omaha, for the defense. It did not last as long as the first, and after it was submitted to the jury they returned in about five minutes, rendering a verdict of guilty. They were fined $1 and costs, the costs amounting to about $75.

—The strikers, who had an eye to business last night, secured the services of the three men who were serenading the business places, and propose giving a ball tonight at Fitzgerald's hall. A committee of the brotherhood men was appointed for the purpose of selling tickets, who have been working last night and today with good success. The music is good, a large crowd expected and a good time is sure to be the result. All lovers of the dance are certain of a good time by participating and a large crowd of their sympathizers should contribute to their assistance.

—The cantata of Queen Esther is being talked of considerable of late in this city by the musical people. The cantata of Esther, the beautiful queen, has been produced in most every city and town of any note in the country and wherever witnessed, when rendered by good singers, invariably receives the highest applause and praise. Let some one start, who would be an efficient teacher, and push it forward to a successful issue. We feel confident that the musicians of this city would be willing to participate in such a move and help it out. The piece is not a difficult one and with a little practice and very little expense could be put on the stage in good style. If no individual will take hold of it let some ambitious society secure a teacher, put the teacher to work, which would be a good scheme and which would be a source of deriving a good benefit. We hope to see a move in this direction, and the Herald will bespeak for its success.

—Mr. W. M. Ryan, who is to be superintendent of the sewer work to be commenced soon, is making forms and templates and getting every thing in readiness for the work which will be commenced immediately. He went to Cedar Creek today to make arrangements with a company there for some material which is to be used.

—The esteemed local editor of the Journal, Mr. John King, while witnessing a practical game of base ball yesterday afternoon, and not wishing to allow the boys to have everything their own way, secured a ball and attempted to give them a cricket exhibition. He made some good points, but being out of practice missed a ball which was thrown to him and let it pass through his hands and strike him in the face, changing the color of his eye.

—All men are most heartily invited to attend the informal song and gospel meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Presbyterian church. Mr. O. T. Wood will conduct the meeting. Topic: "Something about the heart." The association has organized a double quartet under the direction of Mr. Mutz. It is to be hoped that this association may prove to be a great success hereafter, especially in regard to the welfare of the young men in our town. Every man, stranger or friend, is heartily welcomed.

—Two of our Plattsmouth statesmen, Messrs. Sherman and Gering, not Sherman and Hiscock, as has been reported, are engaged in a mission of love, trying to reform the country. They appear in their new role at Louisville on the evening of the 25th. From the bills, we see every body in favor of a reduction of tariff, or Cleveland, are invited to be present. We bespeak for them a good house, as in our opinion, a great many citizens in Louisville are in favor of reducing Cleveland to private ranks, and we don't know of two better apostles for that purpose than the above statesmen.

—Mr. Daniel Burris has been quite successful in soliciting for Jedd Vance. The contributors have been very liberal, and he has succeeded in securing subscriptions to the amount of about $100; $44 cash, which has been paid over to the boy's mother, Mrs. Dickson. Some opposition has been met in some places on account of a report which has been circulated, that his parents had considerable money in the bank before he was injured, but this has been denied and was proved to be false. Mr. Burris wishes to collect $100 in cash before he stops. The boy is rational enough at present to thoroughly appreciate the kindness of his friends and occasionally is heard to remark that some one else may need the money as badly as he, and wishes to know the names of all the friends who so kindly assisted him in this way. Wherever the boy was well known, liberal contributions were invariably received, and his chum, John E. Thomson, gave him $2.

—A young man of this city popularly known by the name of "Cotton" has made himself more than prominent during the strike on account of his striking ability. Before that time everybody knew him to be or supposed him to be possessed of a rather quiet and reserved disposition, but for some reason we know not, since the said strike has been in session, the brotherhood have been obliged to watch him day and night. He apparently believes in not only being a possessor of such a name but in having the game as well. He was about to tackle a man the other evening who had been on the police force for some time during the trouble, but did not, however, and only abused him vocally. He was brought up before Police Judge Clifford yesterday afternoon. "Cotton" apparently was not satisfied in taking a seat with the lawyers and the people of the court room, but climbed to the front and occupied a chair beside the judge's with the anticipation of assuming the name of "Judge Cotton" and being lenient with himself. He sat on the bench eyeing his opponent and the crowd before him, looking as though he might be in a deep study on a speech, which he would soon present to a jury and thinking up some points which could only come from a well cultured intellect. We do not know who continued the case, but nothing was done with it yesterday afternoon and it was set for trial next Tuesday. We think probably "Cotton" would make an efficient judge, judging from his composed nature and coolness, but we object to him taking such a position upon himself without the vote of the people. We would inform him that the best way to aspire to that position would be to hand in his name at next election in the same style other men anxious to secure such positions do. We do not condemn him for the act, and believe when his mistake is made known to him, that he will be perfectly willing to wait until then at least. He is popular among the striking fraternity for his ability as a rapid speaker and several speak in his favor as a good man to argue a case and were surprised that he should secure the services of an attorney. He is a man of deep penetration, as he sat down on a drygoods box last night after the fatigue of his office work yesterday afternoon, striking the ground immediately.

—The social which was held at the residence of Mr. W. S. Wise last night by the Y. L. R. R. A. was a success financially and socially. A large number of young people were present, and as the evening was beautiful, the lawn in good condition and well lighted by Chinese lanterns, refreshments in abundance and everybody in cheerful spirits, a good time was reported by all.

—We are obliged, since so much complaint has been heard, to draw the attention of the street commissioners to a bad spot on Sixth street which should be immediately looked after and repaired. The place is about Thomas' meat market where scales were located a short time ago. They have been removed only a short time, and the road at that place has never been in a good condition since. It should be repaired at once, unless the blacksmiths buy up the commissioners to let it alone.

—It is again reported that Richard, of the "Sreight House" is in trouble. This apparently is more serious than the first, but he was caught in the same way as before—asleep. Had it not been for the watchfulness of his ever faithful cur, he probably would have been relieved of some of his earthly possessions. Between the hours of eleven and twelve last night, while Richard was respiring away the time in the arms of Morpheus, yelps from his ever faithful friend awoke him. Fortunately for him he awoke at the first sound for he discovered on waking that burglars were attempting to make a way through the screen doors of the front of the house. The burglars had broken the screen making a hole large enough for the dog to occupy with his nose. As soon as the dog took that advantage of the situation and pushed nose through the door, one of the men seized it in order to keep him quiet. They soon discovered their danger when Richard was seen approaching, and fled. No clue has yet been obtained to convict the guilty parties, but it is thought they are residents of the city and men well acquainted with the surroundings. Mr. Streight is at present a grass widower, and our advice to him would be to send for his wife to keep him out of trouble. When she learns of his misfortunes of late, she may probably return. We are glad no serious harm was done him by the bold night prowlers, but such work is certainly an annoyance to a peaceful man.

—The boycotting principle is being carried to such an extent as to appear ridiculous, by some of the strikers and their friends. We understand that a demand was made by them that certain persons should retire from the social given by the ladies of the Christian church the other evening at Rockwood hall, the matter being carried so far as to send a note to the objectionable parties over the names of some of the ladies in charge. This spirit showed itself again last night where the same persons, and perhaps others with them, announced in unbecoming language their refusal to patronize the sociable given by the ladies of the reading room association, because some of those persons whom they derisively call seals were present. It should be distinctly understood that these social entertainments are of a public character, and the citizens in general are invited to attend them, and that any person who is willing to conduct himself in harmony with the laws of good society is welcome to all their privileges. They are not given for the benefit of any particular persons, but for the good of the cause, or organization represented. Under these conditions no respectable person is excluded from attending and participating, while on the other hand, no one is bound by stronger obligations than their own wishes, to attend. Now for any person, or class of persons to make either a public, or private demand for any class to be excluded is carrying matters too far and asking for what they have no right to claim, and what the good sense of an American organization will ever give. What can be more disgusting to candid people than such acts, what more clearly exhibit the spirit by which those are actuated who make such demands, and what prove more a dead weight to the cause in which they are asking for public sympathy and public favor. Can it be that these individuals represent the spirit of the brotherhood with which they are connected? If so the sooner the whole thing is frowned upon and relegated to the shades of oblivion, the better for every body concerned.

The Love For Notoriety.

Condemned Criminal: "Is the scaffold in good order?" Sheriff: "I believe it is." "And is the rope going to work all right?" "Certainly." "There won't be a hitch of any kind then?" "Not a hitch." "That's just my luck. The newspapers won't give me more than half a column unless I die in horrible agony."—Lincoln Journal.

The Persimmon Tree.

The persimmon tree does not deprive the soil of a large amount of fertilizing elements, and for that reason makes the best of shade trees for stock. In the south, even on abandoned fields, the persimmon is allowed to grow. Its growth is slow, however, but its fruit is highly valued by some.—Chicago Times.

The Prince's Watch.

The case of the watch formerly belonging to Louis Napoleon, prince imperial, who was killed in South Africa, has been sent to London. It is slightly battered. It bears the young prince's monogram and crest. The watch was given to him by his mother, ex-Empress Eugenie. An Englishman recently purchased it of a Zulu.—New York World.

One Cause of Headache.

A physician of Philadelphia analyzed a black janned hat band worn by a patient suffering from headache and found it contained three grains of one of the lead salts. From this case he concludes that many headaches are often due to the absorption of the lead in the hat band.—Detroit Free Press.

Cure for a Corn.
