CITY CORDIALS.

-Mr. Wm. Browne, a prominent lawer and abstractor, can now see a good portion of his body owing to the absence of a mustache. He took the advice of some one and shaved it off. He can now brace himself.

-Mr. O. P. Smith has employed a Mr-Milis, of Kansas City, to paint the panels of the vestibule of Mr. Ballou's new house. He is an artist highly recommended and does the finest kind of sign painting and decorating. Some of his work can be seen at the store of O. P. Smith & Co.

-Mr. Joe McCoy and family, who resided on 6th street hill, have moved to the room above Carruth's jewelry store, formerly occupied by Mr. H. J. Streight. Their intention is, as soon as arrangements can be made, to keep a number of boarders more than they were able to accomodate at their former residence.

-A crowd was noticed gathering around the switch grounds near the depot to be a new switch engine of the would-be extension front end, but on closer examination it proved to be C. Whopper Sherman with his Cleveland hat on and blue markers for a headlight.

-The Burlington Route will sell excursion tickets to Crete, Neb., for the Chatauqua Assembly at one fare for the round trip, with 25 cents added for admission to the Assembly grounds, on June 28th, the opening day; also on June 30th and the succeeding days Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, America's greatest preacher will lecture. The tickets will be good to return until July 12th. A large number have already made up their minds to go and it is expected there will be a general turnout from here.

-Mills county, Ia., will hold a rousing ratification meeting at Randolph Thursday evening, June 28. The bands and glee clubs of Sidney, Tabor and Malvern will be in attendance, and they have invited Col. S. P. Vanatta, of this city, for a speech. He has promised to go and will warm them up in good old-fashioned promise. However applicable this obserrepublican style. The camp-fires are being lit up in every city and village of the not apply in the least to the Websterland, and Harrison and Morton will Brady Dramatic Company, which began bring out as much enthusiasm in 1888 as did Harrison and Tyler in 1840.

-Mr. Milton Griffith, formerly of the Journal office here, but who has for the past few weeks resided in Council Bluffs, is in the city visiting his old chums. Since the Council Bluffs team proved themselves good players by defeating the Plattsmouth boys, his ambition could not be kept under control and it is supposed, since he wished to aspire to the position of player in that nine, that he has dislocation a finger, the injury of which will not permit of his working and he has now come back to see Platts

-A neatly dressed lady came to the city yesterday and make inquiries of several business men here concerning her husband whom she claims has been in the city. She gave a description of the man saying that he was an artist and is the man who did the sign and window painting in the city a few days ago. She said that she had come from New York City and had followed him around the coun try for some time. When asked why she was following him so closely said that she only wished to look after him and see that he kept straight.

-Mr. Cutler, our new photographer. who is located in Carruth's block, has a very fiine display of his excellent work in front of Carruth's jewelry store. Since he has come and settled in our midst, he has been very successful, not only in pleasing all his patrons, but in having a good business ever since. He has been rushed by work necessitating his working nights to keep up with the demand. The work in that line which recently went to Omaha, is retained in the city, so it is a benefit to the city indirectly to have a man here capable of pleasing all, even the most fastidious.

Last Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock a large procession of the different Catholic societies, headed by the B. & M. band marched to the depot to meet Bishop Bonacum who was expected to arrive at 4:20 on the fiver. As he was not made acquainted with the fact that arrangements had been made here by the societies to receive him, he did not come until 6:30 and disappointed the large crowd who were waiting at the depot to give him a rousing welcome. He had charge of the services here on Sunday last and spoke in favorable terms of the progress made by the church werkers at this point. At the morning service 80 children were confirmed. Bishop Bona-cum is bishop of the new diocese south of the Platte River.

The Old Roman may wave his bandana on high, And talk to crowds a l day, But he won't be elected when winter is nigh, For he isn't built that way.

The Barber Case. Cansiderable dissatisfaction on both sides has been the result of the late trouble between the barbers of this city. and since the last trial it has been more apparent than before.

The trouble came about by the manager of the Riddle House Barber shop keeping it open on Sunday for the public while all the others of the city have agreed to close up and do no work of any kind on that day. No dissatisfaction has been noticed on the part of any until the shop I speak of opened here in our midst. Such a move would certainly compel us to open up our shops or lose considerable business which we would otherwise have. A barber's life is not the pleasantest one-each night in the week we are obliged to work until a late hour and when Sunday comes we feel as though the day belongs to us as a day of rest as it does any other mechanic, and if one barber shop is running Sunday it will certainly draw our custom from us. People who have had the case misrepresented to them suppose the whole trouble was propted only by malice, which is showed in court that such work was a see that it is wrong.

his barber shop open to accommodate transient guests, and those only, who could not or would not require our serthis morning, to see what was supposed vices, we would not have had the slightest objections. But such was not the mogul pattern, with straight stack and case; citizens, finding the shop open and the men ready to do work for anyhody, if they needed any work done they would certainly take advantage of such an opportunity, throwing our custom in their

We do not nor naver have wished to interfere with the business as long as it does not come in contact with us in that or lose our business, or keep open Sundays, which we will not do as long as we can help it, but as soon as we find citizens or customers of ours getting work done there on Sunday, we must decidedly and will object. John P. Kunney, Barber.

Successful Preduction of "She"

at The New Park, Portland, It has almost become the rule in Portland, that, when a dramatic company has been heralded by the most fulsome advance notices and flaming four-sheet lithographs posted all about town, the advent of the company itself, and its performances, have fallen short of their vation may have been to other organizations, it is a piersure to eav that it does its engagement at the New Park Theatre last night in Mr. Wm. A. Brady's dramatization of H. Rider Haggard's highly sensational romance, "She."

The house was filled above and below, and the applause which greeted the several finely-managed scenic effects was unstinted. To speak of Mr. Brady's work in the arrangement of the scenes he has selected, he has used excellent judgment. He has grasped the salient and most dramatic portions of the story, and confining himself to the author's exact language, has constructed a play which, as well to those who have, as to those who have not, read the original story, maintains the interest to the end.

The company, several of which are familiar faces to Portland, is a well-balanced one and fully equal to the demands of the play .- Portland Oregonian.

Mr. Young, manager of the opera house had some difficulty in securing this company for Plattsmouth, and the citizens should not go back on him in his efforts to secure good companies. Numbers of other strong commendations can be given if necessary. Nearly all have read the book and should not fail to see the play. Remember the date, next bridgy night. Seats can be secured at J. P. Young's book store.

Council Meeting.

Last night the city council met in reg-Dr. Shipman sent in his resignation as a member of the Board of Health, which was accepted by the council. The hospital committee was instructed to board up the windows of the pest house at the northwestern extremity of the city. The board of public works was in structed to rent a room at the back of the Citizens Bank for the use of the engineers who have charge of the sewer work now going on in the city. A committee of three, Weckbach, Jones and Murphy, was appoidted to secure the right of way for the sewer in adjourned till Friday evening, June 29.

-A new glee club has been organized consisting of the following gentlemen: Messrs. Mutz, leader; John Moore, Geo. Vass, H. Chapin, R. L. Keister, Lou Pennington, W. Streight and E. J. Witte.

"RALLY ROUND THE FLAG."

Republican Ratification Meeting at

Rockwood Hall Tonight. At a largely attended meeting of the Young Men's Republican Club last night it was unanimously decided to hold a ratification tonight, June 26th at Rockwood hall. Different committees were appointed of live men to take the matter in band and make it a success.

Prominent speakers from Omaha and other points will be present and address the meeting. Although at this writing their names cannot be given there will be music and cannonading all along the line.

Six new names were handed in last evening and all young republican members of the club are invited to hand in their names to the sccretary, Bird Critchfield, at once. Let all republicans turn out and have a glorious good meeting.

-The Journal frequently comes to the rescue of the downtrodden and oppressed, and one of these days it will branch out for a season as the champion of the boarding house landlady. She is always misrepresented and maligned, befar from being true. The case clearly ing referred to as an agress who delights in dishing up weak coffee and furnishing violation of the law, and every one can butter which speaks louder than words. She has to please everybody, from the If Mr. Riddle was compelled to keep large man with hair on his whiskers to the sallow youth who has ruined his health by absorbing the poisonous juices of the head of a cane. One of these has an abnormal appetite and the other no appetite at all. The men who can't get along without a finger bowl sits opposite the one who wipes his fingers on his vest, and the whole mob of them find fault. The landlady is obliged to listen to all their grunts, although some of them are badly in debt and liable to leave in the dark of the moon without pausing to pay up. It is a wonder that she doesn't arm herself with a spiked club when the way and then we are obliged to object grumbling commences and decorate the walls and ceilings of the dining room with brains and clotted blood. No jury of boarding house keepers would convict her .-- Lincoln Journal.

e turious Watch Dist.

A watch dim now being made in the Waltham works contains, instead of the isual numera's, twelve small but dis inct silhouette figures representing a voman with a very young child in her arms. At 1 o'clock the lady and her ittle baby are clearly depicted, the infant being in long clothes. At 2 o'clock he same figures appear, but the child is little larger. At 3 o'clock mamma is still there, but the infant is in short lothes. At 4 o'clock and so on up to 8 'clock, when he goes to school for the first time. At 9 o'clock he may be seen with his coilege gown and mortar board. and the happy smile of the now elderly but happy mother. At 10 o'clock the death bed scene, where he parts with his beloved mother, $111 o'clock he is a middle aged man, over whom the snows of many winters have passed. At 12 o'clock, an old and decrepit specimen of humanity praying for a better land .-New York Mail and Express.

Genuine Arabs, After All.

"Now, Allah be praised, here are old friends," said Representative S. S. Cox as he caught sight of P. T. Barnum's Arabs on Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, one morning. Representative Amos Cummings, who was with him, was skeptical, and said the Orientals were Georgetown darkies and that he had seen them fishing off a wharf last Sunday, Mr. Cox thereupon put Barnum's attractions to the test. "Salaam Aleikoum!" he shouted, with a how d'ye do inflection in his voice. The dusky Arabs started in surprise, and with one accord cried out:
"Aleikoum Balaam," The cynical Cummings was overwhelmed with remorse, New York World.

A Ship That Will Not Sink.

One condition laid down in the contract by the company was that the new liner should be unsinkable." This is a brave guarantee on the part of the builders of a great ocean steamer, even in this extremely scientific age. The ship thus warranted is the City of New York, a new ocean boat of the huge capacity of 10,500 tons, built by Messrs. Thomson, Clydehank, Glasgow, to the order of the Inman company.—London Telegraph.

Poisonous Kinds of Fish. The exhibition of fish, recently opened at Havre, France, includes many poisonous varieties, some of which are poisonous when eaten, others merely venomous. In the Japan sea is found one of the former class, which is sometimes used as a means of suicide. It brings on sensations like those produced by morphine, and then death .- San Francisco Chron-

A Vermont minister has preached 121 funeral sermons, with net returns of two barrels of apples and a silver dollar.

Dogs Having Their Day. Dogs are certainly having their day now. There was never more care taken in their breeding, or more fondness shown for them individually. A fine dog is now a necessary part of every well regulated household, and no young lady considers that she makes a proper appearance on Fifth avenue without a setter, a St. Bernard or a brace of bull dogs trott ng by her side. -Harper's Basar.

WAYFARERS.

THE DAILY HERALD: PLATISMOUIS, MERKARKA, TUESDAY, JUNE 98, 18

Twas but a brief, delicious hour—
The future his—the past forgot—
As if some kind, enchanting power
Had lavished kisses on the spot—
Had spread a baicyon calm around,
A calm infelt by sense and soul—
Had link'd sweet thought to sweetest a
As wavelets murmur as they roll.

Like carrier doves in Orient skies, That meet upon their homeward track— With soul outvolumed in their eyes, Yet onward flit nor turn them back— So I can never thee forget;

As dews return to mou As stars arise, as once they set, So thou dost mingle with my dreams. In louely hours thy face I see-

Thy voice is in the twilight tone
Of singing bird—in thought of thee
I cease to be alone— And shapes of beauty, forms of love Are mingled with the shadows soft Of home returning carrier dove
With unforgetting wing aloft.

—Elizabeth Oakes Smith in Home Journal.

The Girl of the Period. It is deplorable to think that our boys, who have so much desperate hard work before them, will have no better belpmeets than the "girl of the period," who can only strum the "Boulanger March" on the piano, whose idea of bliss is to sing some trumpery music shop ballad without expression or taste, and whose idea of a gentleman is one who does not work for his own living. I heard a conversation between one of these sweet creatures and her father one evening recently. It was a decent middle class bousehold, and the parents had been giving a small carpet dance to please the youngsters. For planist they hired a young lady from a neighboring music shop, who had gladly come to play valses and quadrilles for the modest remuneration of half a sovereign. Before the end of the evening the father, very courteously, as I considered, wishing to place the young lady on an equality with his guests, asked his wife to play a valse while he offered himself as a partner to the relieved musician. I can conceive nothing more graceful. But it did not appear so to his daughters, who soundly rated him for dancing with a dependent. "Why, she is nobody!" screamed one ill bred young girl; "she is not a lady. Why, she comes to this house for ten shillings and her supper. The idea of your dancing with her, papa!"-London Cor. America.

Gen. B. F. Butler's Famous Order. While the Ancient and Honorable artillery visitors from London and Boston were in Washington a party of them made a call one evening on Gen. Butler, who happened to be in town. The general was in one of his most gracious moods, and as full of his peculiar humor as an egg is full of meat. He was glad to see his callers, and made them feel that they were welcome. The Englishmen showed a great interest in him, and came away delighted with their reception. Their uriosity was quite equal to their interest, and they plied the general with questions which were characterized by a sort of mix ure of Yankee inquisitiveness and British duntness. Maj. Becker "wanted to know, ou know," about that famous order at New Orleans for the summary and degrading pun shmert of any woman who should insult a oldier, the major stating frankly that it had aused a good deal of indignation among nevalier Englishmen.

Bargains.

"Well, gentlemen." said the general, with twinkle in his eye, "I am very glad to ell you how that happened. One of my officers, a modest, Christian gentleman, went to church one Sunday. Just as he was about o enter the door a woman stepped up to him und spit in his face. On his return he reorted the occurrence to me. 'What did you tof I asked, 'Do, general,' said he, 'what ould I do! I just took out my bandkerchief, viped my face and went into the church.' I aid: 'That's all right, but I can't stand this ort of thing, and I'm going to do something about it.' I looked over a whole lot of city ordinances and municipal regulations and papers of that sort, and at last, gentlemen, 1 found just what I wanted in a regulation of the city of London, which I copied and made the basis of the famous order which caused so much indignation among the good people across the water and elsewhere. I want to tell you furthermore," pursued the general, "that it was a perfectly effective order. There was not a single case of punishment under it. The ladies of New Orleans wouldn't violate it because they did not wish to be taken for women of the town, and the women of the town wouldn't violate it because they wished to by taken for indies."-Chicago Berald.
