CITY CORDIALS.

—The city council will meet tomorrow night.

—Cleveland will require all his cleaving qualities to keep a hold on the White House this term.

—Mr. J. T. Lloyd wishes us to say to the man who has been helping himself to his wood pile for the past two weeks when he was in bed, had better stop if he has any respect for himself, for if he don't he will feel something drop.

—A small party assembled at the residence of Mr. Thos. Murphy last night, and it is needless to say that the most enjoyable time was had by all present at the home of as congenial a gentleman.
The usual different amusements were indulged in and some friends present entertained the party by singing.

—Messrs. Claus Breckenfeld and Chris.
Koehnke have purchased the large furniture store of Mr. Unruh and in a couple of days will take possession. These gentlemen are both well known in the city.
Mr. Koehnke has had considerable experience in the furniture business, and as they are both known to be good, straightforward business men, they should secure a good share of the patronage. We wish them every success in this adventure.

—Prominent "Bob," as the name appeared in last evening's issue, became quite infuriated over the item, and as he jumped on our reporter with severe threats unless we complied with his wishes, we are obliged to publish the following oration delivered by him: "George Weidman was happened to be gone home at half-past twelve. His fingers were quite sore and please Robert lift me up for I fell through a walk."

—Our attention has been attracted to the Anheuser-Busch building, which has recently been erected, by the progress which is now being made in finishing it.
The masons are nearly through with their work and in a very short time now it will be ready for occupation. Skinner & Ritchie were given the agency of the building, and any wishing to secure desirable rooms in the building should see those gentlemen immediately, as the building will find ready tenants.

—In the local columns can be seen an article clipped from the Omaha Herald which speaks in favorable terms of the Webster-Brady company which played "She" at Boyd's opera house last night.
This company will hold forth at the Waterman opera house tomorrow night.
The seats are now selling fairly well at J. P. Young's book store, and it is expected that a full house will greet them.
Everybody go and see the great play of which there has been so much talk of late. Notices in their favor appear in each of the Omaha papers this morning.

—Lieut. Col. "Mose" O'Byron and Capt.
Mumm, of Omaha, members of camp 1, S. V., were visitors of H. E. Palmer camp 50, of this place last night. They were well satisfied with the condition and progress of the camp here, and reflected great credit on Capt. S. C. Green for the able manner in which the camp has been conducted. The camp listened to some wholesome advice from both the visiting brothers and also from some of the G. A.
R. who were present. The Col. and Capt. were given a rousing vote of thanks by the camp which was neatly responded to by Capt. Mumm, and the camp unanimously decided to invite them again.

—We are of late realizing such gratification on account of our success in the publication of the DAILY HERALD, and the large number of names added to our subscription list, that we feel like expressing ourselves in thanking the people who are coming to our assistance. We are making strenuous efforts to bring THE HERALD out in such a newsy style that the people will feel that it is a necessity in their midst. These last few days we have averaged five and six new subscribers daily, without canvassing, and for some time past not less than two each day. We are striving to fill up the local page every day and are determined to catch every news item that is to be had in any way. We will give you all the news that it is possible for us to secure, and although the city is quiet at times and news is hard to find in a city of this size, yet, if as good support continues to come in, with that encouragement we are bound to be successful in every way.
Let the citizens assist us by subscribing, and if any item should come in their way, of any kind, concerning any, save it for the reporter or send it to the office and it will be thankfully received. If you have friends visiting you, let us know of their arrival, and by so doing you will not only assist us, but furnish news. We appreciate the kindness of those who have so far stood by us, and by their continuance of patronage we will do our part.

THE SCABS IN TROUBLE.

Rocks Thrown at Engineers Last Night, Which Would Have Killed Had They Taken Effect.

Privileged Characters in the Absence of the "Pinks".
It seems almost incredible that men who have had good advice from everybody—disinterested and directly interested people, that at this late hour the darkness should cover as much devilry and uncalculated display of misanthropy as reports this morning confirm. Men who should act in such a disgraceful manner, must certainly be possessed of exceedingly shortsightedness to come forward and work up such a reputation for themselves as will extend far and wide, and if they can see anything they surely see that no good can come from it, while the wrong they have done themselves can never be forgiven them and the brand of crime will be stamped on the guilty parties wherever they may go, while a man with such a mark is not capable of rivaling even his greatest enemies, the scabs. We speak as a disinterested party standing aside and only acting as observers, which is our business.

The engineers and switchmen while at work last night about 11 o'clock, large rocks were thrown from the bank in the vicinity of Mr. Joseph Connor's residence with great force, which would, had they struck any of the men, killed them instantly. Rocks struck the locomotives and cabs, making dints wherever they happened to strike, large enough to hold a man's finger, and it is reported the parties who threw the rocks also fired revolvers twice or three times before the men working had a chance to defend themselves. The engineers and men employed in the yards soon answered by opening fire at the fellows on the bank, but without effect. Residents in that vicinity were in almost as much danger as anybody, as the men were firing in all directions. It is reported that when it was discovered that the scabs were armed and meant business, that the others skipped.

This morning a large pile of stones were discovered which had been piled up on the bank in readiness for operation. Such stones as were thrown and with as much force, were sent with the intention of killing anyone they should happen to strike.

Some time ago considerable talk was heard and very much dissatisfaction noticeable on the part of many during the presence of the Pinkerton men here, saying that their presence only caused provocation to the people here.

Several requests have been made that those men should be removed, and if they were less trouble would result.
They were removed last Tuesday and no sooner were they missed from the yards than the trouble commenced. If the men in this city, whoever they are, do not wish to be looked on by the "Pinks", should not provoke the company and oblige it to return those men to the city.

If the citizens here are obliged in being misrepresented to the world as a body of nocturnal highwaymen by a handful of ruffians, we had better close up shop and move out. We would ask the authorities, not being partial to any party, in behalf of respectable citizens to look into this matter, and deal law out to the guilty parties should they ascertain who they are. This thing has gone far enough, so let it stop right here.

We did not secure the names of any parties, and cannot guess who the guilty ones are, but should such an act of misconduct be repeated, we promise whomever it may be that we will put forth every effort to find out who they are, and if we are successful in our attempt, an exposure of the whole party will surely result.

People can not nor will not stand such abuse longer, and if any such acts are repeated, policemen will not be required to enforce the law.

PERSONALS.

Byron Drew left this morning for Crete.

J. H. Halderman, of Weeping Water, is in the city today.

Mrs. M. B. Murphy, Mrs. J. M. Patterson and Miss Sue Sampson, left for Crete this morning.

J. P. Antill went to Lincoln this morning to attend the republican ratification this tonight.

Miss M. C. McDonald and mother left this morning for Lincoln and Greenwood where they will visit a few days.

Miss Margaret Sampson and Mrs. Will Creahn left this morning for Colfax, Ia., and Miss Hattie Chapman accompanied them as far as Council Bluffs.

Mrs. John Waterman, Mrs. Wagner, Josie Toman and Frank Seving left this morning for Crete, Neb., to attend the Chataqua Assembly which is being held there.

Mr. Grant Luper, an old resident of this city, who has for some time past been residing at Moberly, Mo., left this city yesterday, where he has been visiting his relatives and friends and has gone to Horton, Kas. He accepted a situation there as machinist.

If it were not for Cleveland,
The Democrats would fly.
For he is all in the land That Democrats could try.

The "Judge" Was in Trouble.

A don't-care-go-as-you-please-irreversible-double-back-action kind of a man by the name of Newberry, but better known by all as "Judge," was attempting to work an invention or contrivance of his on the team of horses over which he offi-ciates, last evening. For several weeks he has tried in various ways to make the High School hill with his hungry team, but never was successful until last night when he tried his invention which worked like a charm. Before when he attempted to drive up, the horses would become discouraged when their collar bones would stick from their eyes. He certainly has been feeding them better of late or they never would have reached the top with such rapidity. The "judge" had a rope connected with the front driving wheels of one of his locomotives, and when ever the wheel would strike a dead center and stop, he would pull the bell-rope with which he had full control at the front where he sat. Several times the troubled animals stopped still and would not move unless it would be to let the "judge" and his wagon drop back a little.
For some time the monuments of bones, apparently were about to succumb to the heavy weight of the "judge" and the wagon, and if such had been the case the result would have been a bone-yard, a crippled "judge," and a dozen or so men employed by the health inspector in cleaning up the road this morning. After the judge had worked at his new scheme and was about to give it up in disgust, a bright idea struck his fertile brain.
The horses were starving as he knew, and the people knew from appearances, and knowing their anxiety to reach a pint of oats if they could be seen in the distance, the taste of which they had a faint recollection of, thought that if he should locate a pail at the top of the hill, let them see it and bring his new bell-rope scheme into action at the same time that they would soon make the hill. The oats were secured (not from his barn but from his partner's, Richard's,) and set out in full view of the wide-awake animals. The thought that a good feed was in store for them, brought into full control every nerve which could be utilized in one grand effort for the top of the hill. The "proch" moved slowly but with one grand effort to the top. A few minutes successful, several times the same trip was made, each time they made a more rapid trip. The judge thinks his new bell-rope scheme was what did such excellent work, but he has also come to the conclusion that a little more oats or hay would help it out wonderfully.

"She" at Boyd's Last Night.
The announcement of the presentation of a first class dramatization of Haggard's weird novel "She" was sufficient to attract a fairly good house to Boyd's last night. There are many companies on the road producing alleged dramatic versions of this work, but few meet the requirements which the anticipations of readers of the book demand. It is in fact very nearly an impossibility to present anything at all meritorious in a dramatic sense and adhere to the plot of the book. In a greater measure than any other company thus far brought forward, however, the Webster-Brady combination overcomes this fact. Last night's presentation was attended with a degree of smoothness hardly to be expected in a play where the abnormal in nature and fact are the sole recommendations. The scenic effects, to be sure, were the main, if not the only features of the show. At the same time the people in the cast availed themselves of every opportunity to do good work and were rewarded by liberal applause. The hotpot tableau received two encores, while Misses Tittal and Biggar and Mr. McConnell were called before the curtain after the judgment scene. Mr. Webster made the best of a commonplace part as Holly, while Mr. West did some very good low comedy work as Job. The play will be repeated tonight.—Omaha Herald.

Chataqua Assembly.
Reports from Crete, Neb., say that large crowds from towns and cities all over the state are arriving there daily and also people from a greater distance have put in an appearance. The Assembly grounds are in excellent condition and electric lights are distributed numerously upon the grounds. Distinguished men from abroad will be present and participate in the proceedings each day. A large number of Plattsmouth people left here this morning with the intention of spending a few days at that place and it is expected that a large number will leave here tomorrow. Today is the day of the opening, and it is not expected that all who have made up their minds to visit the place will start today, but it is expected that the excursion train the morning of the 30th will be crowded. Rev.
T. DeWitt Talmage, America's most famous preacher, will lecture that day.
The C. B. & Q. will sell tickets at all points along the line at one fare for the round trip, good to return until July 12th. Crete is a favorite summer resort, and if for no other reason than to take a pleasure trip and remain a few days, a person would be well paid should they go.

Louisville.

W. B. Shryock visited Omaha Monday.
Dr. A. V. Robinson of Ashland, was in town Thursday.

Hurrah for Ben Harrison the next president of the United States.

The committee on music have secured the services of the Plattsmouth band for the Fourth.

J. W. Berger of Greenwood, passed through town last Saturday enroute for Weeping Water.

Louisville has a new brass band, Rev.
C. H. Gilmore has been instructing them.
They are doing nicely.

A. L. Timblin of South Bend, was in town Saturday having some posters printed for the picnic to be held at that place June 30.

Rev. C. H. Gilmore and family, left town Tuesday for their summer vacation.
They will visit his father and relatives in Iowa during their stay.

Let every body who wishes to have a good time on the 4th come to Louisville.
Grand preparations are being made to have a good old fashioned time.

Burglars entered the Exchange hotel the other night and relieved Mr. Spence of a watch and chain, together with what cash they could find in the kitchen.

Louisville has a doctor, Mr. J. A.
Schuelke, of Iowa, formerly from Germany, where he graduated in the school of his profession. We wish him success.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Kagy, of Rock Creek, Ohio, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sutton, the latter part of last week. They started for their home Monday via M. & P. R. R.

Quite an excitement prevailed for a short time Saturday morning caused by a fire in the building owned by Truman Hall. Mr. Joseph Pettit who was occupying the back part for a dwelling had some tar on the stove to melt and left the house, when it began to boil over, and caught fire, setting the whole back portion of the building in flames. The fire, however, was soon extinguished and no serious harm was done, except Mr. P.'s luxuriant mane was badly scorched and his stock of dishes broken.

Fire Department.

To the members of the Fire Department—Saturday June 30, at 8 p. m., there will be a meeting of the Fire Department, at the council chambers. It is desired that all members of the department will be present, and if the members will refer to the constitution and by-laws they will find that Sec. 23 of the same reads as follows: "Any active member who shall absent himself from three successive meetings (unless prevented by causes named in section 21) and who having been notified thereof, and shall be liable to expulsion." And I wish to say right here that Saturday night the Department will commence to weed out the members who do not take interest enough in the work to attend the meetings.
L. E. SKINNER, President.

The citizens of Cedar Creek are working hard to give a grand 4th of July celebration. They are distributing their bills all over the county, and if earnest work will be recompensed by success, their will be one of the grandest. Our popular young orator, Mr. John A. Davies, has engaged himself as principal speaker there that day, and we wish him as much success as has fallen to his lot in that line of late. Plattsmouth is getting a move on itself since all the baby towns in this vicinity have scared her into a sense of duty.

The tariff is the issue. Which shall it be? That is the question, and sooner or later decisive action must come and the politicians of both parties must favor either the war tariff or a reduction. In the meantime, keep cool by wearing a summer flannel shirt, and select from Donnelly's stock. 1wk.
