CITY CORDIALS.

—The travel to Crete would be hard to beat. —Where was "She" last night when the lights went out? —Girls who are sent out in the evenings on errands should return right straight home before dark. —There will be religious service at the Swede church next Sabbath evening. Preaching by Rev. N. P. Grass. —There was no council meeting last night, owing to the non-appearance of a sufficient number of the members. —Mr. M. D. Polk left this morning for Cedar Creek where he went to organize a Harrison and Morton club at that place. —Judge Russell issued a marriage license today to Mr. John L. Badgley and Miss Cora G. Davis, both of Weeping Water. —There will be no service, morning or evening, at the Christian church tomorrow on account of the absence of the pastor, Rev. Hampton. —Plattsmouth is about the only city of its size in the United States directory which has no market square within its corporate limits. —As can be seen by the list of personals today, people are flocking to Crete to hear Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, who will preach there tomorrow. —A grand stand is in the course of erection on the base ball grounds which will be a great accommodation to the spectators who attend base ball games. —The gentleman from Kansas City, who is employed by Mr. O. P. Smith to do the fine decorating work in Mr. Ballou's house, has some very fine work on exhibition in the store of O. P. Smith & Co. —Miss Flora Chester, of Fairfield, Ia., who is en route for Denver and other western cities where she intends to spend her summer vacation, is in the city today and will spend Sunday with her friend, Miss Ollie Jones. —The muddy Nile is about to overflow its banks. The river is higher at present than we have seen it for some time. It has raised to 13 1/2 feet by the measuring pole which is located near the bank at the depot. —Old "Cal" a colored citizen, is quite worked up over the column article which appeared in the Journal of Thursday, and we would advise the local reporter of that paper to steer clear, for if he ever drops one of these hands on a man he is liable to leave him the same color. —Mr. S. Waugh, of the First National Bank, received news a few days ago which proved to be the most severe to him. He received a dispatch from Wellsburg, West Virginia, stating that his sister, Miss Eliza, was dead. This news was a second blow to him of late, as only a few weeks ago his mother died very suddenly. —The Liederkranz of this city are the possessors of a fine lot on the hill at the end of 5th street, which, when the drain at the bottom of the hill is covered up and the new sewer completed, will present a very striking and favorite pleasure resort. They are talking of improving it in some way and use it as a beer garden for the society, exclusively, where they will hold Sunday picnics. —On Thursday a Swede couple were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony, and, in modern times, a more exciting time over such an event is seldom read of. That night a regular army gathered around their house armed with all the old tin pans, kettles and other musical instruments to be found in the neighborhood. Their war-whoops could be heard for about a mile and lasted for about two hours, until, it is supposed, they were scared away. Such a sendoff as that by a newly married couple is not often met with in our country.

Too Fresh.

Considerable has been said of late concerning the boldness of some people called strikers who are incessantly throwing slurs at parties who are going about their business interfering with no one and no one's business. Some of the fraternity of strikers have acted as gentlemen since the trouble has commenced and they have said nothing to anyone who did not insult them. Of these I have nothing to say, but a half dozen or so, who apparently think of nothing but slugging people, are seen at all hours sitting in prominence upon corners of the streets looking for some one whom they think has dared to form an opinion of his own and who does not coincide with them in their belief. I am not condemning the brotherhood for this, and am only speaking of a half a dozen or so who are in the habit of insulting some one continually. Should the brotherhood desire the sympathy of the citizens of Plattsmouth, such members of their organization should be strongly requested to use what ever good qualities of decency they are possessed of, for if their actions are sanctioned by it longer, no sympathy can possibly be shown any of them by right thinking people. It was not thought so much of until lady friends of parties who just did not happen to believe as they did were insulted on their account. Such conduct will not or can not be tolerated in a civilized community, and if those noisy members of that organization will persist in making themselves such a source of annoyance, steps will certainly be taken immediately to put them where their noise will resound in their own ears. Such actions have been looked upon with contempt for some time, but when it reaches the stage that a man is obliged to be slugged or "believe the same as we do or we will make you" it is about time something was done to put a stop to it. It would be well for the brotherhood to order such men off of the street or put muzzles on some of them, for they are prowling around at all hours, interfering with peaceable citizens and throwing out indecent slurs, slugging people because they would dare to think different from them. My advice to such fellows would be to go to work. Let the straightforward brotherhood men take a little advice and keep these men under their control or expel them from the order.

Y. M. C. A. Meetings.

The Young Men's Christian Association extend a cordial invitation to every man, young or old, to attend the song and gospel meeting, tomorrow afternoon at 4 p. m. in the Presbyterian church. G. H. Thompson will have charge of the meeting. The topic is "Experience." There will be good singing and interesting talks. Come and bring your friend with you.

Quong Lee, the Chinaman who officiates at the laundry near the depot on Main street received an article the other day from the land of his birth which is quite a curiosity. He called it a fish, but it represents a piece of rock more than anything in reach of our imagination at present. He made the cook of the Riddle house a present of it, saying that if he would soak it in water for a while that it would soon show signs of life. He also gave him some herbs which he told him to cook with it and he would have the finest soap he ever tasted. The reporter left them without the privilege of tasting of the strange looking piece of nourishment. The Chinaman said the fish were sold at $4.00 per pound. Quite a difference in the price of that and rice —rats.

Talmage will not speak at Crete, tomorrow.

The tariff is the issue. Which shall it be? That is the question, and sooner or later decisive action must come and the politicians of both parties must favor either the war tariff or a reduction. In the meantime, keep cool by wearing a summer flannel shirt, and select from Donnelly's stock. lwk.

"She" Played Well.

This great play of which so much has been said, was put upon the boards at the Waterman Opera House last night. A much larger audience than we had expected to see was present, which, with its applause, lent much enthusiasm to the actors which they apparently appreciated. The play fully reached our expectations, although some were a little disappointed because everything did not appear quite as complete as one would imagine, having read the book.

It is a very difficult piece to dramatize and the company deserves great credit for as complete a play as they succeeded in making it. The participants in the drama were all artists in their line. Just when preparations were being made to raise the drop curtain for the last act, considerable excitement, both on the stage and in the auditorium, followed when the lights suddenly were extinguished, leaving the audience in total darkness, the gas manager having failed to do his duty. Both actresses looked very charming in their costumes, and pleased the audience very much.

The bishop of Carlisle declared in a recent speech that men were kept from a region by the character of modern sermons. He added that a sermon was very often a text floating about in a quantity of weak soup.

A writer in a recent book about traveling in the east, telling of the slow pace and multitude of animals required in caravan traveling, makes the calculation that the Israelites, when they went from Egypt under Moses, must have had a caravan at least 200 leagues long and must have employed 6,000,000 camels.

A clerk in the Patent office at Washington now has in his possession a memento that money could not buy. It is an instand, large, heavy and plain, and any one who ever visited the law office of Roscoe Conkling would recognize it as the one which he used and which was so conspicuous on his desk.

English silversmiths are manufacturing old plate bowls by taking old platters and covers and converting them into bowls, which they impose upon unsophisticated collectors. Experts discover the trick by the hall mark, which the remodeling of the platters brings up on to the side of the bowl, where it would never have been put by the assay officers.

Not long ago the carp were taken out of the famous basin at Fontainebleau, in France, in order that the basin might be cleaned. A great number were taken out to celebrate the return of the fish. Silver rings are to be put in their noses and music and other ceremonies enough to frighten the fish to death are to accompany the putting of the fish back into the basin. It is intimated that enterprising men from Paris are already speculating on the chances of fishing in the basin—for rings, however, and not for the carp.

England's Latest War Scare.

A discovery has been made in Great Britain which brings comparative peace of mind to those who were lately thrown into a state of perturbation by the announcement that an invading force of 100,000 men, suddenly landed, could take possession of England. The discovery is that the landing of an army of that size with the necessary paraphernalia would involve so much preparation in the way of transports that England could not help finding it out in time to make ready to repel four times that force either by land or water. Transporting 100,000 soldiers by sea at the same time is a tremendous work. It is something that never has been accomplished over a body of water as wide as the English channel, certainly. The discovery in question is not a new one. It was made a number of years ago and forgotten, until fortunately recalled by Lord George Hamilton, who has communicated it to the public through the house of lords.—New York World.

Look Him in the Eye.

Look your minister in the eye when he is preaching. He is talking to you, and has a right to your strict attention. His discourse has relation to your spiritual welfare, and should arouse your deepest interest. Before you allow yourself to grumble at the dullness of a sermon, consider if the dullness is not in your own brain. When inclined to complain of the preacher's monotony see if the real monotony is not in the organ, the pulpit furniture, the rows of pews, the wall decorations—all of which you have gazed at with a restless vision to the neglect of the preacher's face, which really is aglow with enthusiasm and aptly expressive of the sentiments his lips are uttering. Further, remember that the minister is delivering a message from your Lord and Master. You are bound by every holy obligation to receive the message with reverent regard, and to give the messenger a respectful hearing.—The Interior.
