NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT, BENJAMIN HARRISON, of Indiana.

GEO. WILLIAM CURTIS, standing where Lincoln stood, on the famous heights at Gettysburg, delivered an oration the other day in the presence of the survivors of the eventful conflict which occurred between the Union and Confederate forces July 1863.

Akin to this is the problem of the suffrage. Subject to the constitutional guarantee of a republican form of government, and of no discrimination against race or color, the regulation of the suffrage is wisely left to the states.

Now the question: Why did Mr. Curtis think it proper on that occasion, to dwell upon and urge an observance and reverence, for the "constitutional guarantee" of a republican form of government?

For all these reasons "dead reckoning" is untrustworthy. The captain of a valuable ship, carrying not only an important cargo but valuable lives, will not trust if he can help it to compass and log.

Now the question: Why did Mr. Curtis think it proper on that occasion, to dwell upon and urge an observance and reverence, for the "constitutional guarantee" of a republican form of government?

It is recommended that no proxies be admitted to the convention except such as are held by persons residing in the counties from which the proxies are given.
