OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

A. Salisbury, Dentist, Rockwood Building, Telephone No. 35. Dr. Higgins, Office in Gering's Drug Store, Residence Cor. Sixth and Granite, Telephone No. 42. Drs. Cave & Smith, the Painless Dentists, Union Block, over Citizens' Bank, Plattsburgh.

CITY CORDIALS.

He said "It is extremely warm is it not?" She said, "Well yes, 'tis sorry." Said he "Why not seek a shady spot." Said she, "S-s-s-matter with Filz' Forty?"

—Miss Lou Richey will entertain a few of her friends this evening at her home.

—The cows were a little more scarce on the streets last night, the city marshal only finding two wandering around.

—Sheriff Etkenbary returned from Lincoln this morning after taking Mack Jones, the insane man of whom we spoke yesterday, to the asylum at that city.

—M. M. Miller and wife left this morning for Weeping Water upon learning that their son-in-law was seriously injured there while working on the rail road.

—Miss Helen Cox entertained a number of her friends at the residence of Mrs. R. R. Livingston yesterday afternoon in honor of her fifth birthday by a lawn party.

—There is another case of insanity about four miles south of Ashland. The officer for Lincoln will arrive shortly and hold an examination. His name is McLellan.

—Miss Dora Fricke gave a party last evening in honor of Miss Wiggernohr, of Ashland, who is her guest. Those who were present speak in favorable terms of the way they were entertained.

—A party of young people will be entertained this evening at the residence of Capt. Palmer, by his son George. Great preparations are being made for an enjoyable event and if the weather permits we feel confident that success will attend his efforts.

—Jas. Mathews has moved his office into the Doyey block and now occupies the rooms formerly occupied by J. B. Strode. He is now prepared to wait on all customers. If you wish to buy or sell real estate go to him and he will give you satisfaction, or if you have any legal business, he will give it his prompt attention.

—The dual case yesterday in the police court, Cushing vs. Frohock and vice versa, resulted in both parties being fined $5 and costs, total amounting to $10.20. Both parties took an appeal to the district court, where both cases will in all probability be dropped from the calendar. These cases are to be regretted and have no place in court, and the parties interested should both curb their temper and expressions to avoid anything of the kind.

—George Poissall, the new chief of Police, has started out right. He has started to enforce the ordinance against the running at large of cattle and hogs. This is proper. If the ordinance is a bad one the enforcement of it will result in an appeal; but it seems to us that an ordinance the same in force in every city of our size in Nebraska has given satisfaction, and should be enforced to the full limit, especially during the present season. A man who can afford to keep a cow has a luxury, and should take care of her, so that she will not annoy her neighbors.

—The following ladies and gentlemen formed themselves into a party yesterday and employed the services of Mr. Ed. Fitzgerald, who drove them to a good fishing point on the Platte river, a short distance north of the city: Mrs. Lessie Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Houseworth, Misses Mia and Edith Gering, Minnie Houseworth, Birdie Houseworth, Mate Safford, May Cranmer, Messrs. R. Iden and Frank Cranmer. They left the city about one o'clock and did not return until the mosquitoes found a harvest in their presence. All report having spent the afternoon very pleasantly. After reaching the desired spot the party divided, some going a short distance further up the river to fish, and some going in different localities for their amusement. Three or four of the party, who had left the majority of the crowd, returned late in the afternoon apparently successful for their trip, as they carried several large fish. Their fishing poles looked scarcely large enough to pull minnows from the water, but still they carried fish that were a burden to them. When a comparison of the poles and fish was made, no one could understand how such poles could pull such fish from the water; but, however, when they were accused of having purchased them all denied it with extended faces. A small boy had accompanied them, who was informed that if he divulged any secrets, terrible results would follow. One of the young ladies asked the little fellow where they got the fish. He replied: "They won't let me tell." We did not learn how much they paid for them. During their trip one of the ladies, who could outweigh a pair of scales, narrowly escaped serious injuries from a fall into one of the cooking utensils. She will recover.

NINTH ANNUAL INSTITUTE.

Cass County's Institute Meets at Louisville, July 22, 1888.

FIRST DAY. All day long the teachers kept coming in from all parts of the county with an occasional visitor from adjoining counties. As per arrangements the opening exercises were held in the M. E. church, consisting of music by the Glee club, prayer, address of welcome by Rev. Parker and a response by A. L. Timblen, followed by a social hour, which was an enjoyable affair, affording the teachers an opportunity for renewing old acquaintances and becoming acquainted with the citizens of Louisville, who are deserving of great credit for the manner in which they received them and their anxiety for their welfare during their sojourn here, and especially Mr. J. A. Sutton deserving of credit for the efficient manner in which he is looking after the comforts of attending teachers.

SECOND DAY.

JULY 23.—The institute proper began at the High School building at 9 o'clock a. m. with Supt. Spink and instructors W. W. Drummond, of Plattsburgh, Will T. Cline, of Weeping Water, and J. A. Sutton, of Louisville, present and forty-one teachers from all parts of the county. After listening to a few well timed remarks from Supt. Spink, W. W. Drummond, and others, the institute proceeded to perfect an organization. On motion, J. A. Sutton was elected Sec. with T. E. Williams as assistant. It was decided by a vote of the teachers present that all canvassing agents for periodicals, school journals, and text books, be excluded from the institute during all the regular sessions, which consists of one each day, beginning at 8 o'clock a. m., and continuing until 12:30 o'clock p. m.

Institute Notes.

J. A. Sutton teaches penmanship and reading. The subject of the lecture last evening was "Satan."

Why are not some of the Plattsburgh teachers attending the Institute.

W. W. Drummond as usual takes the game breaking up as it did. The printers nine was all printers as we agreed to play, but it was not so with the barbers, as they imported two or three men to fill the nine to which the printers had no objections. The barbers went to bat first making four runs and in the following two innings they were whitewashed. In the same number of innings twenty-one runs were made by the printers. In one inning the barbers' catcher was changed and an outsider brought into the field. No objections were raised by the printers, and shortly afterwards they wished to change the position of their men and this was where the trouble commenced. The change was made but the man could not fill the position and was batted freely, the barbers making several runs. Pitchers were then imported on both sides, the barbers securing the services of a pitcher who threw a curve ball. At the end of the fifth inning the game was stopped and the following is the score by innings:

PERSONALS.

Mr. O. M. Staeght returned from Lincoln this morning. Rev. T. J. Baird was a passenger to Omaha this morning.

Miss Emma Adams left for Lincoln where she will visit relatives for a few days. Dr. McGavern, an old college chum of Dr. R. R. Livingston, Jr., was in the city yesterday paying him a short visit.

Mrs. W. A. Boeck and Mrs. Pease left for Fairbury this morning. Mrs. Boeck will remain there for about two weeks visiting relatives.

Mr. M. D. Polk and wife who have been paying an extended visit to friends at Newcastel, Ind., and other eastern cities, returned this morning.

W. H. Bostwick and wife left for Nebraska City this morning. Mr. B. has been in the city for the past two weeks working up a city directory for the HERALD.

"Dan," said the President, uneasily, "the republicans appear to be arranging a tremendous reception for Blaine on his return from Europe. Do you think he will take an active part in the campaign?"

"There can be no doubt of it, replied Dan, 'it would be exactly like him.'"

"Dan," said the President again, after a pause, we have no—er—ah—Blaines, have we?"

"Lord! no," ejaculated Dan, sighing heavily. Another pause.

"Dan," resumed the President, eying him closely, "have we no—is there no Democrat that could make as big a sensation on coming home from Europe as Blaine will make?"

"None," answered Dan, positively.—Chicago Tribune.

Barbers vs. Printers. The printers and barbers of this city met on the diamond yesterday but on account of several disputes a complete game was not arrived at. It is scarcely necessary to give the various causes for the disputes, but we, the printers, hold ourselves aside from the cause of the game breaking up as it did. The printers nine was all printers as we agreed to play, but it was not so with the barbers, as they imported two or three men to fill the nine to which the printers had no objections. The barbers went to bat first making four runs and in the following two innings they were whitewashed. In the same number of innings twenty-one runs were made by the printers. In one inning the barbers' catcher was changed and an outsider brought into the field. No objections were raised by the printers, and shortly afterwards they wished to change the position of their men and this was where the trouble commenced. The change was made but the man could not fill the position and was batted freely, the barbers making several runs. Pitchers were then imported on both sides, the barbers securing the services of a pitcher who threw a curve ball. At the end of the fifth inning the game was stopped and the following is the score by innings:

Printers..... 1 2 3 4 5
Barbers..... 8 2 11 4 1—26

—A lively time is expected to take place at Cedar Creek tomorrow night at the republican rally which is to take place there. Judge A. N. Sullivan and John A. Davies of this city will act as orators.

—The printers think they have some advantage over the barbers, but there are some of us who get shaved once in awhile and we don't all think so.

An Epidemic. The present base ball fever has reached its maglephant arms out and has in its relentless grasp every class of our citizens and up to the present time there seems to be no cure but that of the diamond itself and this seems to make them all the more sore.

There's the barbers and printers, The leans and the fats, The bankers and the doctors And sellers of hats, The lawyers and salesmen And makers of boots, The real estate bummers And other galsoots. The first nine of Plattsburgh And clippers are fine, And there we are ready To now draw the line.
