NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,

BENJAMIN HARRISON,
of Indiana.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

LEVI P. MORTON,
of New York.MR. EDMUNDS' OPINION OF CLEVELAND AND HARRISON.

Vermont ratified all along the line the other day and Senator Edmunds opened the ball by giving his neighbors his opinion of the mis-fit in the White House, as follows:

"My belief is that Vermont will lead the column with a greater majority this fall than she ever has before. Instead of 25,000 or 30,000 majority, we have the strength and ability to carry it to 40,000, and I believe we will do it. There is a moral influence behind the republican party which will make it invincible. I must say before you go, however, how happy I am in the choice of our standard-bearer. I sat within reach of my hand of General Harrison in the senate of the United States six years and know him well, and knew him intimately during the six years that I was with him in the senate; and there does not breathe a more honest, conscientious and truthful man. There is not a bad spot nor streak in him anywhere and when he goes to the White House, as I honestly believe he surely will, you will have an American president instead of what you have now, really a British president and nothing else. I mean what I say. I mean no disrespect to the democratic party or to Mr. Cleveland himself; but if he had been Lord Salisbury himself, he could not of acted more to the satisfaction of the British people and more in the interest of the British manufacturers, and in fact, in favor of British people in every way. (Cries of 'How about Minister Phelps?') He is a bad chip like the rest. However, the business before you now is work for Harrison and the republican party. Thereal business is the home business. If you are democrats, any of you (as I hope some of you are here, for we want to call sinners to repentance,) we want you to come in. What is our welfare is your welfare. What is our loss is your loss."

CLAUSE FROM THE CONFEDERATE CONSTITUTION.

The English and democratic press seem to be furnishing the best arguments the republicans could possibly wish for. In another column will be found most valuable extracts from the English press, but of even greater in the following clause from the confederate constitution, and the accompanying comments as published in the New York Sun. The clause from the confederate constitution is as follows:

The congress shall have power—
To lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises for revenue necessary to pay the debts, provide for the common defense, and carry on the government of the confederate states, but no bounties shall be granted from the treasury; nor shall any duties or taxes on importations from foreign relations be laid to promote or foster any branch of industry, and all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the confederate states.

And this is what the Sun says:
"This is free trade pure and simple, and many of the gentlemen who framed and supported the confederate constitution having become influential in the house of representatives, they have naturally endeavored in the Mills tariff bill to apply as far as they found practicable under the different circumstances in which they are now placed, the same idea which animated them in drawing up the constitutional clause which we have just quoted."

Further comment is hardly necessary. If the leaders now were only as manly and bold as were those who framed and fought for the constitution from which the clause above quoted is taken, the battle of ballots in 1888 would result in as decisive a result as did the battle of bullets in 1865.—Tariff Bulletin.

Some high toned tailor in Omaha has asserted that he keeps only English goods on his tables for his tony customers which fact the democratic branch of the Omaha World at once announces as a brilliant argument in favor of free trade. Another tailor in the same city promptly announces that he keeps the same English goods on his counter, and charges just half as much for the same suit of clothes as the first tailor does. What all this has to do with free trade the tailors aforesaid do not pretend to inform the public and democratic branch of "The World" has left it in darkness. English goods are "English you know" and if the young gentlemen of Omaha desire to pay $65 for a $35 suit of clothes simply for the "brand," no free trader ought to object surely! They pay for the luxury and the "poor working man" is not concerned one way or the other. It shows the boys get good wages or they couldn't patronize such high toned shop keepers, and that is about all there is in it. Yet, we don't object to such free trade or "revenue reform" arguments and we are pretty sure that sensible people are not disturbed by it.

Birds' Skin for Grafting.

Dr. Redard has communicated to the Paris Academy of Medicine some observations regarding the advantages of the skin of birds for grafts on wounds of human beings. He takes the skin from beneath the wing of a chicken, carefully securing the subjacent cellular tissue, but avoiding the adipose tissue. The transplanted tissues varied from a sixth to a third of an inch in size, and they were maintained in position by means of a little cotton wool and iodoform gauze. The skin of birds and fowls has the advantage of being supple, delicate and vascular, and is readily adapted to the surface of a wound, where it adheres without undergoing absorption. In a case of severe burn of the scalp of eight months' standing in a child, two years old he obtained rapid cicatrization by means of grafts from a fowl. The wound measured 3 inches by 2 1/2, and completely healed in two months.—Boston Budget.

A Way to Keep Flowers.

At a recent horticultural meeting flowers were exhibited in a glass filled with water and fitted with a wide and flat stopper. To the stopper the flowers were attached and then carefully introduced into the water in the globe, the stopper completely filling the mouth of the globe and being wide enough to stand safely. By turning the whole arrangement so that it stood on the stopper, the flowers were left completely surrounded by water. The water magnified the flowers and a pleasing optical illusion is the result. Flowers thus immersed will keep twice as long as those in the air.—Detroit Free Press.

Strychnine vs. Alcohol.

According to recent experiments strychnine undoubtedly neutralizes the intoxicating and narcotic effects of alcohol. It enables large quantities of alcohol to be taken for a considerable stretch of time without causing the usual organic lesions which follow the use of alcohol alone. Therapeutically, strychnine should be used in all forms of alcoholism; it may be regarded as a powerful prophylactic against alcoholism.—Frank Leslie's.

Talking to a Severed Head.

The experiment of talking to the severed head of a victim of the guillotine immediately after the knife has fallen has been tried over again at Bône, France. The doctor seized the head as it fell from the guillotine and spoke a few words to it. He alleges that from the movements of the man's eyes and mouth he is certain that the head understood and tried to reply.—Chicago Herald.

Quick Fencing for Railways.

Railway companies in Australia, after experimenting with various kinds of "quick fencing for railways, especially with a view to keeping out snow drifts," have settled upon hedges of the "cross of Providence." It is said that a fence 1/2 foot high and 2 1/2 feet wide will check snow drifts. The hedges are readily made, and so the fence is profitable.—New York Sun.

Did It in Self Defense.

Wife—This is a pretty hour for you to be coming home! It has just struck 12. (The husband begins beating the clock with his cane.) Now, what are you beating the clock for?
Husband—The clock (he), confound it, the clock struck first.—Flagpole Blatant.

Hard Wood from Soft.

A patent method said to have all the properties of "hard wood" is prepared in Leipzig, by M. Storchbarat, from ordinary soft wood. The wood is first impregnated with oil, then subjected to great pressure, causing a considerable increase in density.—Arkansas Traveler.

In the trial of the Jockey, Wood, Sir Charles Russell made the statement that only two jockeys on the English turf have unblemished reputations.

"Paradise," by Tintoretto, is the largest painting in the world. It is 84 feet wide, 23 1/2 feet high, and is now in the Doge's palace, Venice.

The whitest, worst looking hair, resumes its youthful beauty and softness by using Hall's Vegetable Sulfur Hair Renewer.

What makes everybody sick but those who swallow it? Flattery.

The tonic and alterative properties of Ayer's Sarsaparilla are too well known to require the specious aid of any exaggerated or fictitious certificate. Witnesses of the marvelous cures effected by this preparation are today living in every city and hamlet of the land.

In what month do ladies talk least? February, because it is the shortest.

Ayer's Agree Cure never fails to neutralize the poisons of malaria, and eradicate them from the system. This preparation is purely vegetable, contains no harmful ingredients, and, if taken according to directions, is warranted to cure fever and ague. Try it.

Which are the two hottest letters in the alphabet? K N (Cayenne).

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from disease of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption and to the head, causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to continue will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your throat, lungs or nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boehringer's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

The republicans of the United States, assembled by their delegates in national convention, pause on the threshold of their proceedings to invoke the aid of their first great leader and immortal champion of liberty and the rights of the people, Abraham Lincoln, and to remember and gratefully acknowledge the names of our later leaders who have been more recently called away from our councils. Grant, Garfield, Arthur, Logan and Conkling. May their memories be faithfully cherished. We also recall with our thoughts and prayer for recovery the name of one of our living heroes whose memory will be treasured in the history both of the nation and of the republic. That is that of the noble soldier and favorite child of victory, Philip H. Sheridan.

In the spirit of those great leaders and of our devotion to human liberty, and with that hostility to all forms of despotism and oppression which is the fundamental idea of the republican party, we solemnly and earnestly appeal to our fellow Americans of Brazil upon their recent act of emancipation which completed the abolition of slavery throughout the two American continents. We earnestly hope we may soon congratulate our fellow citizens of Irish birth upon the peaceful recovery of home rule for Ireland.

WE AFFIRM OUR UNSWERVING DEVOTION to the national constitution and the indivisible union of states. We are determined to reserve to the states under the constitution, to the personal rights and liberties of citizens in all states and territories, the union and especially to the supreme and sovereign right of every citizen, rich or poor, native or foreign born, white or black, to cast one free ballot in the public elections and to have that ballot duly counted. We hold a free and honest popular ballot and equal representation of all people to be the foundation of our republican government and demand effective legislation to secure the integrity and purity of elections which are the foundations of all public authority. We charge that the present administration and the democratic majority in congress have their existence to the suppression of the ballot by the criminal nullification of the constitution and laws of the United States.

We are uncompromisingly in favor of the American system of protection. We protest against the destruction proposed by the present administration and its party. They have the interests of Europe.

WE WILL SUPPORT INTERESTS OF AMERICA. We accept the cause, and confidence in the people for their judgment. The protective system must be maintained. Its abandonment would be followed by general disaster to all interests except those of the unscrupulous and selfish.

We denounce the Mills' bill as destructive to general business, labor, and the farming interests of the country, and we heartily endorse the consistent and patriotic action of the republican representatives in congress in opposing its passage. We condemn the proposition of the democratic party to place wool on the free list, and to exempt the duties thereon. We are uncompromisingly in favor of the American system of protection. We protest against the destruction proposed by the present administration and its party. They have the interests of Europe.

the shipping interests of the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific states as well as for the payment of the maturing public debt. This policy will give employment to our labor, activity to our various industries, increased security to our country, promote trade, open new and direct markets for our products and lighten the cost of transportation. We affirm this to be far better for our country than the democratic policy of loaning the government's money without interest to "pet banks."

FOREIGN RELATIONS.
The conduct of foreign affairs by the present administration has been distinguished by inefficiency and cowardice. Having withdrawn from the senate all pending treaties effected by republican administrations for the removal of foreign burdens and restrictions upon our commerce and for its extension into a better market, it has neither affected nor proposed any others in their stead. Professing adherence to the Monroe doctrine, it has seen with idle complacency the extension of foreign influence in Central America and of foreign trade everywhere among our neighbors. It has refused to charter sanction of enclosing a American organization for constructing the Nicaragua canal, a work of vital importance to the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine and of our national influence in Central and South America, and necessary for the development of trade with our Pacific territory, with South America and with the further coasts of the Pacific Ocean.

FISHERIES QUESTION.
We arraign the present democratic administration for its weak and impatience treatment of the fisheries question, and its pusillanimous surrender of all privileges to which our fishery vessels are entitled in Canadian ports under the treaty of 1818, the reciprocity and marine legislation of 1820 and comity of nations, and which Canadian fishing vessels receive in the ports of the United States. We condemn the policy of the present administration and the democratic majority in congress towards our fisheries as unfriendly and conspicuous in its inactivity and its failure to destroy a valuable national industry and an indispensable resource of defense against foreign enemies.

The name of American applied alike to all citizens of the republic, and imposes upon men alike the same obligation of obedience to the laws. At the same time citizenship is and should be the panoply and safeguard of him who wears it, should shield and protect him whether high or low, rich or poor, in all his civil rights, and should and must afford him protection at home and follow and protect him abroad in whatever land he may be on a lawful errand.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.
The men who abandoned the republican party in 1884 and continue to adhere to the democratic party have deserted not only the cause of honest government, but of sound finance, of freedom and purity of the ballot, but especially have deserted the cause of reform in the civil service. We will not fail to keep our pledges because they have broken theirs, or because their candidate has broken his. We therefore repeat our demand that the civil service reform of civil service auspiciously begun under republican administration should be completed by further extension of the reform system already established by law to all grades of the service to which it is applied. The spirit and purpose of reform should be observed in all executive appointments, and all laws at variance with the object of existing reform legislation should be repealed, and that the dangers to free institutions which lurk in the power of official patronage may be wisely and effectively avoided.

The cause of the nation to the defenders of the union cannot be assured except by laws. The legislation of congress should conform to the principles of justice, equity, and good will, and be enlarged and extended as to provide against the possibility that any man who honorably wears the federal uniform shall become an inmate of a sinhouse or dependent on private charity. In the presence of an overflowing treasury it would be a public scandal to do for foreign-born soldiers and sailors, who have served the government, what we do for the pauper and the beggar. We denounce the hostile spirit shown by the present administration in its numerous vetoes, inquiries for pension relief, and the action of the democratic house of representatives in refusing even consideration of general pension legislation.

In support of the principles herewith enunciated, we invite the co-operation of patriotic men of all parties, especially of all workmen whose property is seriously threatened by the free trade policy of the present administration.

Republican State Convention.
The republican electors of the state of Nebraska are requested to send delegates from their several counties to meet in convention at the city of Lincoln Thursday, August 23, 1888, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following state offices:

Governor.
Lieutenant Governor.
Secretary of State.
State Treasurer.
Auditor of Public Accounts.
Attorney General.
Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings.

And the transaction of such other business as may come before the convention.

THE APPOINTMENT.
The several counties are entitled to representation as follows, being based upon the vote cast for Hon. Samuel Maxwell, judge, in 1887, giving one delegate at large to each county, and for each 150 votes, and major fraction thereof:

To Chairmen County Central Committees.
WHEREAS, At the republican state convention held at Lincoln October 5, 1887, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the state central committee be instructed to embrace in its call for the next state convention the submission of the prohibition question to the republican voters at the republican primaries.

Therefore, in accordance with the above resolution, the several county central committees are hereby instructed to include in their call for their next county convention the submission of the prohibition question to the REPUBLICAN voters at the republican primaries.
