CITY CORDIALS.

Tom Parmele and Will Stadlerman, two of our young sports, challenge any two boys in the city under 16 years to shoot twenty-five glass balls, eighteen yards rise. They are open for engagement any time. There will be a meeting of Encampment No. 3, I. O. O. F. tonight at their lodge room. The meeting will be held for the purpose of installation of officers. A full attendance is earnestly requested. By order of the chief patriarch. L. G. Larson, secretary.

The base ball club of the supply department of the B. & M. and champions of the store house clubs, will play the carpenters' club, the champions of the mechanical department, tomorrow afternoon on the ball ground on "Fitz's Forty" south of the city. The game will be called at 5 o'clock, sharp. It is expected that these two clubs will play a fine game.

Mr. J. C. Eikenbary returned from Camp Clark, Cheyenne county, last night, where he has been for the past few days. This morning he was called to Greenwood to secure a man by the name of Owens, from Broken Bow, an accomplice of McGee, who obtained money in this vicinity under false pretenses. Owens had his preliminary hearing at Greenwood this morning.

Mr. J. C. Eikenbary is nursing a sore hand which has caused him considerable trouble since it was injured. The sore originated from a scratch which he received from Mack Jones, the insane man whom he took to the asylum at Lincoln a short time ago. Jones in one of his fits scratched his hand severely between the thumb and first finger, and since then his arm has been swollen to his shoulder. The sore has been quite a source of annoyance.

An error occurred in a local yesterday which stated that a club from Weeping Water played a club of this city on the ball grounds. A club consisting of the young clerks played a club of boys known as the "Browns." The game ended in favor of the clerks by a score of 23 to 21. The young clerks have been crowing considerably over their success, as they say the boys of the Browns held themselves away up in professional estimation, and since the clerks defeated them they feel a little sore.

Dr. James L. Thayer, general agent for Sam MacFlinn's great shows, is in the city today negotiating for that company. If a desirable location can be secured the show will visit our city for three days, — the 13th, 14th and 15th. This is what is termed a ten cent show, but it is claimed they give a performance which is equal to many which people are taxed 50 cents to see. This company consists of thirty-five people, and among them are first class artists. Their tent covers 160x90 feet, and they have their own cars.

As the passenger train from the east was running into the Pacific Junction yard last evening at the rate of about fifteen miles an hour, two of the coaches on the rear of the train were thrown from the track and badly damaged while passing a switch. We could not learn for certain the cause of the accident, but it is supposed to be a defective switch on the Y which the train runs in on. The passengers were thrown around the cars very roughly and it is a wonder some did not receive severe injuries, but none have been reported as yet. One coach was turned crossways on the track, and tore loose from the train. The rest of the train ran about 100 feet off the track before it could be stopped. If the train had been going at any great rate of speed, some of the passengers would surely have been killed.

The forty young ladies who held a picnic yesterday afternoon were quite successful in their efforts to entertain themselves. The grounds known as "Fitz's forty" was the location selected for their picnic and on the whole, a very pleasant time was had by all. It is one of the finest quarters in the city to spend one of these scorching afternoons and it is a wonder that such a favorable resort is not taken advantage of more than it is. The ground is well shaded by large trees and the place has a fascinating appearance. What was most surprising was to learn that these young ladies did not request the company of their young gentlemen friends and recognize leap year which only comes once in four years and which is the only year such an opportunity is afforded them. They should be prohibited a leap year recognition in the future. No doubt the young men who have been slighted in this way will swear by all the leap years that are to come that the young ladies will sorely remember this cool event. Young ladies, be-

The Deep Water Convention. DENVER, July 28, 1888.—To His Excellency, the Governor of the State of Nebraska.—Dear Sir: I have the honor to invite your attention to the following resolutions adopted at a convention held at Fort Worth:

WHEREAS, All the states and territories west of the Mississippi river are interested in the pressing need of a deep water port on the coast of the State of Texas; and

WHEREAS, Denver, Colorado, being centrally located and very accessible to all the vast sections of country interested; therefore be it

Resolved, That the citizens of Denver be requested by their delegates to this convention to call an inter-state Deep Water convention to be held in that city, at such date as they may see fit, not later than August 28, 1888.

In accordance with the resolutions by the Deep Water convention held at Fort Worth, Texas, on July 10, and in compliance with the request made by the committee of the Denver chamber of commerce and board of trade, and the Colorado real estate exchange, I hereby call an inter-state Deep Water convention of the states and territories west of the Mississippi river, to be held at Denver, on the 28th day of August, 1888.

The basis of representation to that convention will be as follows:

Two delegates from each senatorial district, to be appointed by the governor of the state or territory; one delegate to be appointed from each county, to be appointed by the board of county commissioners, or by the chairman of said board; five delegates from each chamber of commerce, board of trade or commercial body in the various cities; one delegate from each town having a population of three thousand or less, to be appointed by the mayor or the president of the trustees of such town; in each city or town having a population of over three thousand inhabitants, one additional delegate for each 5,000 inhabitants or fraction thereof; five delegates from each editorial association in the states and territories interested.

In all cases when delegates are appointed an equal number of alternates shall be appointed by the same authority.

The purpose of this convention is to secure the united and harmonious action of the middle and western states in a movement looking to the establishment of a deep water harbor somewhere upon the Gulf of Mexico.

So important will be the influence of such a harbor upon the prosperity of every farmer, artisan, miner and citizen of the great west that it should impel every official to whom this call is directed to take prompt and effective action that will result in a great and influential convention.

Yours Truly, ALVA ADAMS, Governor of Colorado.

—What pleases the eye and tickles the fancy more than the appearance on the streets of our country cousins who have a few moments previous joined themselves in the holy bonds? They are generally so wholly wrapped up in their affection for each other that the many spectators who are always on the streets are unnoticed, and their cooing is about as loud and their affection as apparent as though they were all by themselves in some secluded spot where no intruder might annoy them. Yesterday afternoon the reporter was afforded the sight and his whole attention was drawn thither for some time. The young couple he was allowed the pleasure of feasting his eyes on were as apparently wrapped up in each other's thoughts as is generally the case in such a case. Their eyes would meet and a smile would creep over the visage of each and it would seem to wring from each heart an inextinguishable extension of love contained there. The fellow had a grip on the young lady's arm that assured the spectators or the young fellows who looked and admired that their chances for securing any more than a look were mighty small. If the jewelers had been on the alert and charged a moderate fee for a look into their windows, their pockets, we are sure, would not have been so light. The jewelry windows were looked into and the many sparkling jewels which they contained, admired. Every fancy business house of every description which contained anything that might answer their purpose, was examined, and not until the hour hand was about to drop onto six did the happy young couple wend their way to the hotel apparently satisfied with the first few hours' experience of married life.

Weather Report for July 1888. Monthly mean temperature 77.3; the next to the highest since the record was kept. The highest was 78.2 in July 1878. The hottest day of the year so far, was on the 30th, being 85.2 for all day and 103 at 2 p. m. Over 100 three times, 102 the 6th, and 103 the 30th and 31st also 103. Over 90 sixteen times. The lowest temperature 57 on the 19th, rainfall 1 1/2. Twenty fair days, four clear, four cloudy. Five thunder storms. The highest temperature ever attained at this station since the record has been kept was 104 on Aug. 23rd, 1881. The government thermometers scarcely ever indicate so high a temperature.

Mr. Richard Rivett, a former resident of this city and a member of the Plattsburgh glee club, who has resided in Lincoln for the past few months, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and pleased many of his friends with an interview.

—Mr. R. Smith who pulled No. 3 from here to Lincoln last Wednesday night, narrowly escaped what might have been for him a severe thumping from five of the Lincoln striking engineers. It is reported that as he ran his engine into the round house there that the five men mentioned turned out the gas light and waited for him to leave the engine and pass their way. Fortunately for him a heavy hack man who would just as leave fight five such men as one, was tackled by the crowd who made strenuous efforts to lay him out, thinking they had Smith in just the right place to even up and get satisfaction. They were surprised to think Smith should make such a fine exhibition of pugilism and thought he surely laid in a store of knowledge in that line while resting during the strike. The five would-be slingers were knocked in every direction in less time than it takes to write it by the supposed Smith, and it was not until they had all been badly broken up that they realized the fact that they had tackled the wrong man—a tough hackman—instead of Mr. Smith on whom they swore vengeance.

—Mr. Geo. Boeck, father of Mr. W. A. Boeck, shoe dealer of this city, who lives near Murray, met with a very serious and probably fatal accident yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. He was in the act of tearing down an old windmill which was located near his house, and when near the top of it, the whole thing gave away, letting him fall a distance of thirty feet, on a shed which was attached to it, and from there he rolled off and fell to the ground. The windmill is an old one and its support had rotted away so that when it gave away and let him down the whole thing followed. If it had not been for the shed which protected him from the fall of the windmill, he would have been killed instantly without a doubt, and he was very fortunate, although badly injured, not being killed by such a fall. Two of his ribs were broken and he received other injuries which caused him to remain unconscious until this morning. At present his physician entertains slight hopes for his recovery.

—Yesterday afternoon a prominent young clerk while passing a boarding house on his way to inspect the sewer work was covered by slop which accidentally struck him when thrown from an upstairs platform.

If you want a fine Glass of Ice Cream Soda Water, you can get it at J. P. Young's, beginning tomorrow morning, where you can also get the best glass of Milk Shake.

Tomorrow's Ball Game.

The game which is to be played tomorrow afternoon between the Jetter & Young club, of Omaha, and the home team, is looked forward to with great anticipations. The Omaha club is one of the best nines in the city league and it is expected our boys will be obliged to play ball as hard as they ever did if they hold their own. The game will be called at 3:15 sharp, a little earlier than usual, so those desiring seats on the grand stand will be obliged to go early as there will surely be a large attendance. Appended we give the names of the Plattsburgh nine and their positions as they come in batting order: J. Patterson, c.; O'Rourke, 3b; T. Patterson, p.; Miller 2b; S. Patterson, 1b; Oliver, ss.; Jones, lf.; Schmidt cf.; Pollock or Coolidge, rf.
