NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET. FOR PRESIDENT, BENJAMIN HARRISON, of Indiana.

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND IRISHMEN WILL LEAVE CLEVELAND FOR HARRISON.

The following press dispatch from New York shows the drift of the Irish vote in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Numbers of democratic workmen here are threatening to vote for Harrison because of Cleveland's tariff policy.

The richest peer in England is the duke of Westminster, who owns vast estates in Cheshire and in Wales.

A prominent addition to the legal profession has just been made at Cleveland, O., by Messrs. Harry A. Garfield and James R. Garfield.

It is said that ex-Secretary Robeson, of the navy, is financially exhausted, and has bravely started in life again by swinging his shingle out as a lawyer.

Lord Albemarle, the Waterloo veteran, is a small, spare man with bright eyes. He wears a black velvet skull cap.

Dr. Allanson, of London, is distinguishing himself by raising a fund to establish a vegetarian hospital in that city.

Their homes were cold and cheerless in the extreme, but they had powers of resisting it that seemed phenomenal and far beyond human endurance.

Gen. Lew Wallace, the author of "Ben Hur," is passionately fond of baseball, and has never been known to miss a game if he could possibly be present.

Mr. August Manns, the famous musical conductor of London, is a gray featured, kindly looking man, of middle height, with a broad forehead, long wavy hair touched with white.

In 1810 Henry Mogel, father of County Treasurer Mogel, of Reading, Pa., caught a turtle on his farm and cut into its back the initials "H. M., 1810."

Dr. Sivartha, of Chicago, has just left that city for Palestine, via England. His idea is to rebuild Jerusalem, and he expects to take out a large number of people from Chicago and other American cities as well as from England.

We gravely fear that the editor of the Journal returned Saturday evening from Weeping Water thoroughly frantic with the idea that he has been the victim of "robber tax" protection for years.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Newspaper Note and Comment Concerning Men More or Less Famous.

William Weightman, who is worth $20,000,000, started life as a drug clerk. Cyrus W. Field got his first start as clerk in a commission house at 22 the oldest man in the house of representatives.

Frank Cushing has returned to the Zuni land to get at some more of the secrets of those ancient New Mexicans. Dr. Aveling, the Socialist, who lately visited this country, has dramatized Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter."

Roswell P. Flower began his money making operations as a day laborer in a brickyard at High Falls, N. Y. Emperor William II is the first Russian speaking king of Prussia.

Sidney Dillon earned his first money by carrying water to the laborers on the railroad between Albany and Schenectady. Before he discovered the cholera microbe, Robert Koch was known simply as Dr. Koch.

The youthful emperor of China rises at 3 o'clock in the morning, breakfasts at 6, dines at noon, sups at 2 o'clock and goes to bed by 6. Ex-Governor Berry, of New Hampshire, is "going on" 93 years of age and still skips about from house to house visiting among his friends.

Mr. Burne Jones' studio presents a striking contrast to those of other eminent English painters. It is simply a workroom, with bare floor and whitewashed walls. The richest peer in England is the duke of Westminster, who owns vast estates in Cheshire and in Wales.

James Payn, at nearly 60 years of age, is square headed, broad browed and spectacled, looking like a prosperous doctor rather than an author. He has eleven daughters. A prominent addition to the legal profession has just been made at Cleveland, O., by Messrs. Harry A. Garfield and James R. Garfield.

Bishop Perry, of Iowa, has received the degree of D. D. from the University of Oxford, England. The only other living American who has received a like distinction is Rev. Phillips Brooks, of Boston. It is said that ex-Secretary Robeson, of the navy, is financially exhausted, and has bravely started in life again by swinging his shingle out as a lawyer.

Alfonso Celso, of Rio de Janeiro, has offered a large monthly subsidy to the theatre of the capital which shall produce national dramas, and a premium of $3,000 to the Brazilian author who shall produce the best national drama. The czar of Russia is a great fisherman, and he has just bought in Finland a tract of land with a river swarming with salmon.

Lord Albemarle, the Waterloo veteran, is a small, spare man with bright eyes. He wears a black velvet skull cap. He is now 89 years old, and is the sole survivor of the eighty-four officers who sat down to the duke of Wellington's last Waterloo dinner. He gives a reception every year on the anniversary of that "world's earthquake."

Dr. Allanson, of London, is distinguishing himself by raising a fund to establish a vegetarian hospital in that city. Animal food in no form will be allowed in this hospital. Something of the earnestness of the English vegetarians is shown in the fact that several thousand dollars have been promptly subscribed toward making the project a success.

Gen. Lew Wallace, the author of "Ben Hur," is passionately fond of baseball, and has never been known to miss a game if he could possibly be present. It is said that at his home, Crawfordville, Ind., he is the principal patron of an amateur club which ranks as one of the best in the State league.

Mr. August Manns, the famous musical conductor of London, is a gray featured, kindly looking man, of middle height, with a broad forehead, long wavy hair touched with white, and brushed smoothly back, mustache and imperial, and large, bright eyes covered with gold rimmed glasses. He is 63 years old.

In 1810 Henry Mogel, father of County Treasurer Mogel, of Reading, Pa., caught a turtle on his farm and cut into its back the initials "H. M., 1810." It was not seen again until a few days ago, when the county treasurer discovered it alive and well, not more than forty feet from where his father had found it seventy-eight years before.

Dr. Sivartha, of Chicago, has just left that city for Palestine, via England. His idea is to rebuild Jerusalem, and he expects to take out a large number of people from Chicago and other American cities as well as from England.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM. The republicans of the United States, assembled in convention at Lincoln, Nebraska, on the 23rd of August, 1888, in honor of the memory of their first great leader and martyr, Abraham Lincoln, and in the name of the people, Abraham Lincoln, and to cover also with wreaths of imperishable remembrance the names of those noble patriots who later leaders who have been more recently called away from our councils.

FOREIGN RELATIONS. The conduct of foreign affairs by the present administration has been distinguished by inefficiency and cowardice. Having withdrawn from the senate all pending treaties effected by republican administration for the removal of foreign burdens and restrictions upon our commerce and for its extension into a better market.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM. The men who abandoned the republican party in 1884 and continue to adhere to the democratic party have deserted not only the cause of honest government, but of sound finance, of freedom of trade, and of the public interest.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION. The republican electors of the state of Nebraska are requested to send delegates from their several counties to meet in convention at the city of Lincoln, Thursday, August 23, 1888, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following state offices.

ADMISSION OF TERRITORIES. The government by congress of the territories is based upon necessity only to the end that they may become states in the union; therefore, whenever the condition of population, material resources, public interest, and morality are such as to insure stable local government, the people of such territories should be permitted to elect their own representatives to congress, and to form for themselves constitutions and state governments, and be admitted into the union as states on an equal footing with the original states.

THE MORON QUESTION. The political policy of the Mormon church in the territories is a serious and dangerous menace to free institutions and to the progress of the west. Therefore we pledge the republican party to appropriate legislation, asserting the sovereignty of the federal government over the territories where the same is questioned, and in furtherance of that end to place under the control of the federal government enough to divorce political from ecclesiastical power, and thus stamp out the attendant wickedness of polygamy.

OUR MERCHANT MARINE. We earnestly recommend that prompt action be taken in congress in the enactment of such legislation as will best secure the rehabilitation of our American merchant marine, and we protest against the enactment of any law which is calculated to work injustice to labor by lessening the wages of those engaged in preparing materials as well as those directly employed in our shipyards. We demand appropriations for the early rebuilding of our navy, for the construction of coast fortifications and modern ordnance and other approved modern means of defense for the protection of our defenceless harbors and cities, for the payment of the interest on our national debt, for necessary works of national importance in the improvement of the harbors and channels of international and foreign commerce, for the support of our the shipping interests of the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific states as well as for the payment of the maturing public debt. This policy will give energy to our labor, activity to our various industries, increased security to our country, promote trade, open new and direct markets for our products and cheapen the cost of transportation. We affirm this to be far better for our country than the democratic policy of loading the government's money without interest to "pet banks."
