OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

A. Salsbury, Dentist, Rockwood Building, Telephone No. 35.

Dr. Siggins, Office in Gering's Drug Store, Residence Cor. 15th and Granite, Telephone No. 12.
 Drs. Cave & Smith, the Painless Dentists, Union Block, over Citizens' Bank, Plattsmouth.

CITY CORDIALS.

It is generally surmised that when a journal asks for donations to help it out of the mud that it is struggling on its last pins.

Dr. Cook was called to his home, at Salem, Ia., rather suddenly by a dispatch he received yesterday. He took the flyer yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Latham, the B & M ticket agent here, has been furnished with a new ticket case which will afford a great advantage and convenience in handling tickets.

Master Louie and Miss Callie Ballenger, two children of Mr. John Ballenger, are entertaining a number of their young friends at their home this afternoon.

Mr. Joe Tubbs who was badly injured yesterday morning by a fall from a bridge, was reported by his physician Dr. Livingston, sr., to have rested quite well last night.

If bricks and cedar blocks prove to be failures, it may be a good plan to pave the streets with English jokes. They wouldn't float, if that is a merit.—Lincoln Journal.

The friends of Grandma Todd, mother of A. B. Todd, who has been quite ill for the last few days, will be pleased to learn that she has improved enough to allow her the privilege of moving around again.

Miss Mand Etter, a girl about 12 years of age, and a daughter of Mrs. Daniel Etter, who has been dangerously ill for the past few days, is reported by her physician, Dr. Livingston, sr., to be on the road to recovery at present.

Mrs. Jesse I. Root, who has been confined to her room for several months with typhoid fever, was able to be out driving yesterday for a short time. Her trial was a severe one as she was not expected to survive for some time during her long sickness.

The democrats of this city had a meeting last night at their room in the Dovey block. A proposal was made for the appointment of five of their members as an executive committee, to consolidate with five members of the executive committee of the young men's club, and form a general committee of ten.

The young ladies of St. Lukes Guild who are getting up the advertising social which is to be given at the Waterman opera house on Thursday, Aug. 23rd, are requested to meet Miss Mary Hawksworth at her home tomorrow (Friday) evening, as there is business of importance to transact in connection with that event.

The ladies of St. Lukes Guild will give a social tonight at the residence of Mr. Lenhoff, Granite street. It is expected that a large crowd will crown the efforts of the ladies of that society, as the place selected for the social has the reputation of being one of the most suitable in the city for such a gathering.

The county officers of this city assisted an invalid who claimed to be from Illinois on his road to Grand Island, by securing a ticket for him as far as Lincoln. He asked them for a ticket for the whole distance and was not apparently satisfied at only securing one which called for Lincoln. He was a consumptive and in a bad condition.

Holdrege is soon to be the scene of a G. A. R. reunion, and the B. & M. will sell tickets over their line from all points, at one fare for the round trip, August 13th to 15th inclusive, and for trains arriving at Holdrege on the morning of the 16th. The return limited to August 18th. There will also be a reunion of the G. A. R. at Norfolk, and for this occasion tickets will be sold to Columbus only, at one fare for the round trip, August 27th to 29th inclusive, limited to return September 3rd.

The wife of a certain striking engineer in this city who befriends a little pug, which is often seen on the street with a chain attached to it and neatly dressed by a blanket which is strapped around it in some way, is often heard talking to the little cur in a way that would lead an unobserving person to believe she was in company with some person whom she admired to her heart's content. The little fellow is called "Laddie" and whenever he acts contrary she will make such a threat as "Laddie, dear, you must mind me or I shall whip you," or "Laddie, dear, you must be a nice little fellow today, or I will not take you out for a walk." It is the greatest wonder in the world that "Laddie dear" don't die with concussion of the brain from such remarks. The lady we have reference to and her "Lady dear" passed this office the other evening when "Laddie dear" dropped in and called on us. She called him to her side saying: "Laddie, dear, you must not go in there, that is a scrub office." "Laddie dear," was dead.

A Sensation.

Quite a startling sensation occurred on Chicago avenue on Tuesday night the 7th inst. at the residence of our county clerk. It will be remembered that Messrs. Foltz and Dickson, the county commissioners, board and room with Mr. Critchfield while in session as a county board, and, also does a young lady that we will here designate as Miss X. It so happened on the night mentioned that there was a social given in the neighborhood and Miss X was invited. Through the grave curiosity of the commissioners they thought to arrange an alarm in some way so as to awaken them on the return of the lady designated and lead them into the intelligence as to the time of return and as to who accompanied the said lady. Upon inquiry of Mrs. Critchfield as to what she could produce to make a noise, she brought forward an old dish-pan with only one ear gone and said that it was an article of tinware she had no use for and that she wished to donate it to the lady above mentioned anyway and offered her willingness to let them (com.) place it at the young lady's disposal.

Thereupon the commissioners attached a string to the door knob and to the lonely ear of the dish-pan, at the same time putting the pan at the head of the stairs that ascend immediately inside of the door. They filled the pan with some clothespins which Mrs. C. had also donated to the young couple. After all was arranged in proper shape the occupants retired to await developments.

At precisely 12 o'clock footsteps were heard at the front gate and after the preliminaries which are common in such cases, Mr. Buz—departed, only to be recalled by the screams of his partner on entering the door and at a noise that Gabriel's horn will be no comparison.

The dishpan will never forget the jumps from one step to the other as it descended those stairs (if it has any thinking faculty). Mr. Buz—re-entered the gate as fast as possible and asked: A-r-e-u-u-u-hur-hurt-d-d-dear? The answer was n-n-o-o-o, d-d-dear. Then there was a silence broken by beating hearts that was easily heard up stairs where the commissioners were in bed stuffing the bedding in their mouths to keep them from laughing out. The silence was then mingled with whispers, threats, consoling words, etc.—whereupon the young couple concluded they had not done so bad after all, and so saying, the young Buz took the dishpan and started home ejaculating that he was in possession of one of the main articles of furniture for house keeping. The parties, we understand, are now planning to make a boat out of the dishpan and descend the Missouri river so that they may not be here when Foltz and Dickson return.

Christian Science.

Miss Ella Benford, an estimable young lady from Beatrice and a Christian scientist, is in the city for the purpose of healing any who may be afflicted, and also awakening an interest in the science among the people. Miss Benford has studied under the best instructors, having gone through a class under a Mrs. Finn, of Omaha, and also under Mrs. Eddy, of Boston, who is the founder of Christian science in this age.

Miss Benford intends making it a lifetime work, and is studying constantly. She would be willing to talk with any one who is at all interested in the science, and anyone wishing to consult her with regard to treatment will find her at the Stadelmann House.

JOHN A. DAVIES.

Mr. James Woodson, proprietor of the Cottage House, informs us that he is a loser of $21.50, owing to the disappearance of one of his boarders,—a man by the name of Wm. Karnes. He has been a steady boarder with Mr. Woodson for some time and was intrusted to that amount. He was a helper in the B. & M. blacksmith shop under Mr. Shaver. He claims to be an oddfellow. He drew his pay from the company Monday and was dead.

A prominent G. A. R. man of this city informed us today that Mr. E. P. Gardner, of whom we made mention in the last two issues, has proved to be a fraud of the worst kind. He said it was a scheme he has been playing for some time trying to get money from all the old vets along the line wherever he would stop. He claimed to be deaf and dumb, it is supposed, for the purpose of evading all questions which might be put to him. He carried with him a roster, and when asked what regiment he had been a member of he would open it and point to the name of E. P. Gardner of the 20th Connecticut. The members of the G. A. R. have assisted him in various ways and secured a ticket for him as far as some Illinois city where he desired to go. He claimed to have been injured by a boiler explosion at Ravenna a short time ago.

Miss Delia Steimke entertained about twenty-five of her young friends last night at her home, yesterday being her fifteenth birthday. All who were honored by invitations speak very favorably of the event. She was made the recipient of a very fine gold pen and holder from her young lady friends and also several nice presents from some of her other friends present. An excellent repast was partaken of.

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown,—today it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is used with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Merges. Do cure no more.
