CITY CORDIALS.

Hail stones rained supreme last night. The elements were on a strike last night, judging by the force stones were thrown at us. The "Illustrious Five" celebrated last night and did not go home until (m—) after the hail storm. Mr. C. G. Fitzgerald and Miss Hattie H. Hall, were united in marriage last evening by Judge Russell. The carpenters and tinner of the B. M. shops will play a game next Saturday on the Fitz Forty ball ground. WANTED.—Several scholars on instrumental music. Call on Mrs. Ida C. Wagner, residence of John Waterman, if The blacksmiths and carpenters, of the B. & M. shops, are in hot contest this afternoon on the ball grounds on "Fitz's Forty." The purity of our many pereodicals consists principally of the pure water sprinkled upon them before going to press.—Deck To Printers: The fat and lean nines are not contented to accept a fat take and be leanly with themselves. They want to play another game. The hail stones which fell last night were as large as the largest walnuts. It is thought the storm must have done considerable damage to the corn crop. The switchmen working in the yards last night thought they were in for it again when the hail stones started to drop. It is reported they pulled their guns. The iceman's trade will be limited today as one or two of the hail stones picked up last night can be made to last as long as the chunks of ice generally broken off for the customers. The curbing stone which is to be used here for paving purposes is not looked upon nor spoken of by experienced men as the most durable for its purpose. We think if it was run through a stone crusher it could be utilized for mortar and used to better advantage. Flo and Jennie Taite entertained a party of little friends on the afternoon of the 9th, the occasion of their birthday. They received some very handsome presents. There were thirty of their little friends present and a good time was had by all. An illustration showing up the ball game which was played last Saturday between the storehouse employees and carpenters, can be seen in the up-stairs paint-shop of the B. & M. It shows nothing but facts and is well worth seeing. Mr. George Boeck, who was injured about a week ago by a fall from a windmill, was seen in the city today driving his team of mules. He surprised the citizens of this place who had heard of the accident. His physicians thought he would not be able to leave his house for months, but he has surprised everybody and even himself by his speedy recovery. A couple of blind people were in the city yesterday and last night making assessments. A small boy lead them and some men complained of being approached no less than a dozen times during the day. After their days' work was completed they apparently were as happy and contented as anybody for they sat at the depot and smoked their pipes awaiting the arrival of their train, talking happily to each other. The machinists of the B. & M. shops here have organized a nine among themselves and are now open for challenges. They have several good players in the nine and it is thought they will make a strong team. The following are the names and positions: McCoy, catcher; Miller, pitcher; Speck, 1st base; Jas. O'Neal, 2nd base; D. Pitcher, 3rd base; Lewis O'Neal, center field; G. Applegate, short stop; Ben Hemple, right field; J. Richey, left field; Frank Cranmer, business manager; George Copeland, secretary. Messers George Shrove, Mike Shott and porter Foster, the three switchmen who were tried yesterday before Judge Russell on a charge of taking goods from a sleeping car which had been in a wreck and was standing in the yards waiting for repairs, were acquitted as sufficient evidence could not be brought against any of them to hold them. The evidence showed that the whole trouble had originated from a joke, and none of the above parties had stolen an article. After the above case was dismissed, George Shrove and Bert Lake were summoned to appear next

The Coming Fair.

The 22nd annual fair of the Cass County Agricultural society will be held on the new grounds, 1 1/2 miles south of the city. The grounds are splendidly located at the junction of Chicago and Lincoln avenues and comprise 36 acres; a new half mile track has been laid out and is in fair condition for racing; speed stalls large and roomy have been erected close to the track and to all persons desiring to drive or train horses, the grounds are open at all times. Stalls have also been built for the benefit of stock and cattle, also pens for hogs. There is good water on the grounds. The buildings erected are the amphitheater, with a fine quarter stretch in front, good booths underneath; the judges stand, and the agricultural hall. The building of a new floral and art hall is now in the hands of our citizens; and is being forwarded by R. B. Windham, Esq., and our citizens ought to push the matter of the new building as it would add much to the beauty of the grounds and redound to the benefit of Plattsmouth. There is also a special premium offered by the society of $100 for the best and largest display of stock and farm products made by any one precinct in Cass county. This ought to invite competition in the different precincts, and give us a good show in that department. We will from time to time show up other matters of interest to the public. Any information will be cheerfully furnished upon inquiry, by the secretary, H. C. Ritchie, Plattsmouth, Neb.

Rev. M. A. Hampton, pastor of the Christian church, of this city, will preach his farewell sermon tomorrow morning. A large audience should greet him. We have not yet learned where he intends to take up his abode after leaving Plattsmouth, but wherever he may go, our best wishes will go with him and we think we can safely make a similar statement in behalf of a large number of citizens. Since he has been stationed here as pastor of that church, we have never heard any complaint from his congregation and we have learned that he has given entire satisfaction during his work. He is the second youngest preacher in the state, the youngest being Rev. Frank Russell, of Wahoo. Every member of the choir of that church is requested to be present and a cordial invitation is extended to all singers to participate. Let a large number come out tomorrow and attend the service.

Mr. Geo. S. Smith and wife and son, Guy, of Omaha, arrived in the city last night and were guests at the party given in honor of Dr. Livingston's birthday, at his residence last evening. Guy celebrated his seventeenth birthday yesterday.

The authorities received a pauper from Greenwood this morning and conveyed him to the poor house west of the Miss Surber and VanCruiff, of Glenwood, will visit Miss Nannie Sampson, of this city, tomorrow. Mr. John Young, who has been on a visit to his parents at Queen City, Mo., returned home last evening. Mr. Hicks, proprietor of the Pacific House, has been confined to his room for the past few days with a severe sickness. Miss Riddle and Miss Peoples leave this evening for Wahoo, where they go to attend the institute held at that city. Mrs. Frohawk and Mrs. Callicott left for California on the flyer this morning. Messrs W. and T. Callicott accompanied them as far as Omaha.

The personal list is run low to-day owing to the non appearance of the 9:30 train from the east going to Omaha. It did not pass through the city until 1:13. Mr. S. D. Mayer, who has been east on a trip to Chicago, New York and other cities, combining business with pleasure, returned home last evening.

Messrs. J. C. Fisher, Frank Zeibach and John Vallery, three old Plattsmouth boys who are now residing in Omaha, are expected to arrive in the city this evening and remain over Sunday. Miss Ida B. Thompson, one of Cullom's esteemed young ladies, has gone on a visit to her old home at Soto Furnace, Ohio. She will remain in Cincinnati a short time and attend the exposition.

Mr. Thos. Wilkinson, who was at one time in the employ of the B. & M. at this point, but who is now living at McCook, left for Pacific Junction this morning. He was accompanied by his wife.

Invitation. A cordial invitation is extended to all men in the city to attend the informal song and gospel meeting tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Presbyterian church, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. J. H. Waterman will have charge of the meeting. The subject is "Steadfast." Come, you will be heartily welcomed.

Two specimens of degraded humanity were found last night seated on a cross piece just above the coupling between two box cars. When found they were both apparently enjoying a good sleep. The policeman of the yard, who was notified of their dangerous location, had considerable trouble arousing them. They were both so badly intoxicated that they were almost in a helpless condition, and it was fortunate for them that the cars had not been pulled out of the yard, and no doubt they were a short time afterwards. If they had not been noticed, both would have been killed.

Rev Hampton's subject for his farewell sermon tomorrow morning will be "Christianity." First, what it is not; second what it is.

It is reported that Mr. Sherman of the Journal, will be editor, proprietor and carrier of that paper soon.

Mr. W. Callicott has put up his house and lot to raffle. Chances are sold for $2.

We do not feel much like hailing such a storm as we had last night again.

An Ode to the Painter. There's a man, a painter by profession. Who to his employe made this confession. I am an artist of no small degree, And by my works, I will prove to thee That what I have said about my art, Is the truth, and no bragging on my part. There are two nines, who have engaged to play. A match game of ball, on next Saturday. And you and I together will go. And I will sketch them and make a great show. Of the carpenters, who with out a doubt Will by the supply department be put to rout.

I a great picture will make And it to the carpenters we will take And show them, if we can not play ball That we can sketch them in their fall. For fall they surely will. Before the supply department's skill. And we will exultant be. For they beat us twenty-six to three. We blamed the umpire, but found when to late, The trouble was, we could not reach the home plate. We played them again, supposing we could run. They surprised and beat us twenty-seven to one. The painter was excited as could be, And to Fitz's forty went the game to see. Imagine his rage, and chagrin, To find the carpenters, were bound to win. He for spite took his sketch book in hand, And showed his skill by sketching, the

A CARD.

Having this day sold my stock of Hardware, Stoves, Tinware, etc., to Messrs. Brekenstedt & Weidman, I would respectfully and earnestly ask that all those in my debt come forward promptly and settle their accounts; as it will be necessary for me to close up my business as speedily as possible before engaging in other pursuits. I also take this occasion to thank the public, both in the city and county, for the very liberal patronage given me during the time I have been engaged in business here, and hope the same will be extended to my successors.
