LOUIS FOLTZ, Attest : Bird Critchfield, Co. Clerk. THE BLOSSOM AND THE BIRD.

Nodded and sighed one sunny day, Ere June had yet usurped the May.

> There came a bird and perched below And sang the sweetest he did know, To tell the flower he loved her so Vain was his song; she blushed, she sighed, But to his singing ne'er replied, Whatever strain the songeter tried.

Twas autumn, and a robin saw Hung in the hedge a scarlet baw; 'Twas dainty to his hungry maw.

The scarlet fruit was she that heard, Unmoved, the plaint of love preferred; The red breast was the tuneful bird.

And often thus, as years succeed The idols of young dreams shall feed Life's common wants and meanest need. -Charles Noble Gregory.

Inventor of the "Dummy." Henry Waterman, of Hudson, N. Y., who died in 1884, at the age of 80, it is asserted, invented the double driving wheels of locomotives. The first trip with this invention was made from Fishkill to New York, the engine making sixty miles an hour, the old single driving wheel in use up to that time averaging a much lower rate of speed. When a boy young Waterman spent most of his time 'whittling." With his jackknife he made various models of various concephe made various models of various conceptions to the usual, in such cases, neglect of his lessons. His father on one occasion, out of all patience with him, said: "That boy is a good for nothing dummy." Henry instantly replied: "Father, some day I will make an engine, and call it 'The Dummy.' " When he grew up he accomplished the purpose he then formed. He was the inventor of the locomotive called "The Dummy," now in use every-where.—New York Press "Every Day Talk."

Not Successful as a Flatterer, A friend of the firm who declares that he has no humor in his make up, and who, were he a writer for the press, would probably be a dead failure at the making of bright bare graphs and "goaks," has neverthess an occasional inspired which is apt to be good in proportion as it is unluckily said.

Talking recently to a mother and her daughter, he foolishly said; "Really, Miss ..., your mother looks younger than you do."

Then realizing from the young lady's flashing glance that he had terribly missed the compliment he sought to give the mother, he hastened to add: "Because, you see, the older a woman is the more time she has had for mastering the art of looking younger."

And now mother and daughter "cut him dead,"-Buffalo Express.

Back District Mail Carriers. In many of the back districts of Kentucky DRUGS. the mails are often carried as far as thirty-W H Malick guarding MacJones 12 00 tance once a day. A local paper thus deliving along the line (he ought to be). He will carry a saddle, beehive, pup, or even a dog, if he is not too big, and he is offered enough. He will ride a horse through for any one for a quarter, and carry the mail pouches on his shoulder."-New York Tri-

Mamma Was Not Forgotten.

"Ethel," asked a Lewiston mother of her daughter as the fair young girl sat down at a late breakfast in her morning gown, "did George leave any package for me last even-ing?" Ethel blushed and said, falteringly, "Why, no, mamma! What made you ask?" "Oh, nothing, I only heard him say at the door as he said good-by, 'Now, here is one more for your mother,' and I didn't know but it was that pattern for lace lambrequing that his mother has promised me." Ethel said nothing.-Lewiston Journal,

The English Saller's Grog.

English law carefully regulates the subject of the sailor's grog. Every ship must carry a quantity of lime or lemon juice as an anti-scorbutic, containing 15 per cent, of palatable fruit spirits, that is, sound rum of a specific gravity fixed by the statute, or sound brandy of a quality similarly fixed. The board of trade tells how the grog shall be mixed. One ounce of the lime juice is to be mixed with one ounce of sugar and at least half a pint of water, and must be served out in time for dinner .- New York Sun.

Baby Swallowed a Cent. Little Isabella's baby brother had swallowed a cent, and his sister was full of consternation. She had for some time been practicing economy with the assistance of a sional penny. Running to her mother she said. breathlessly: "Oh, mamma, come quick. Baby swallowed a cent, and won't you please come and help hold him upside down and shake him?"—Merchant Traveler.

To Make Our Flag. Those who are making American flags at home will remember that the rule of the navy in regard to the flag's proportions is this: "The flag is thirteen stripes wide and twenty-one stripes long. The union (blue) is seven stripes square. There is one star for each state in the Union."—Chicago Hereld.

A Dearth of Witnesses.

Magistrate (to prisoner)-Are those people your witnesses, Uncle Rastus, who will vouch for your good character?

Prisoner-No, sah; I hain't got no witnesse to vouch fo' my good character. Dem gen'-mens is only fr'en's ob mine, sah, come to luk on. - New York Sun.

The Fortunate Three, There are three American ladies who are not obliged to skip over to the postoffice for stamps every time they write a letter. Mrs. Polk, Mrs. Garfield and Mrs. Grant are the fortunate three, the government having given them the franking privilege.—New
