OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

CITY CORDIALS.

Judge Russell issued a marriage license last evening to Mr. B. J. Adams and Miss Orilla Thrapp.

Elder J. T. Smith, State evangelist, will preach at the Christian church Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, and also hold services in the church both morning and evening Sunday. The public cordially invited to attend.

It is reported that Messrs M. D. Polk, O. M. Streight and F. E. White are about to erect a handsome brick building, 66x80 on the vacant lot in the vicinity of Keefe's harness shop, Main Street. Mr. White has agreed to push the work forward if the other gentlemen so desire. Such a building would add vastly to the appearance of Main Street and we hope that no dispute will arise between the three gentlemen until the building is erected. Let us see another building.

All parties wishing to accompany the base ball team to Lake Manawa next Sunday are requested to hand their names to Mr. Jas. Patterson, jr., the object being to secure enough names to afford them a special rate to Council Bluffs. The train leaves here Sunday morning at 8:30 and goes via Pacific Junction. All who wish to go will please remember this request and hand their names in as soon as possible so that arrangements can be made immediately.

THE GREAT GLENWOOD RALLY.

Plattsmouth Republicans at the Front--No Halfway Business With Us.

There Were No Flies on Our Delegation.

At seven o'clock last evening the Young Men's Republican Club met at the County Judge's office and formed a procession with the B. & M. band and the G. A. R. drum corps. The procession moved up Main street to Sixth and countermarched to the depot, making a fine display. The 7:15 train came in promptly on time and the boys all rushed aboard. At the Junction the Council Bluffs club joined the delegation from Plattsmouth. They were about one hundred and fifty strong and had Dalby's celebrated Fifth Regiment band and a drum corps with them. Then we were off for Glenwood. At the depot we were met by thousands of people with torches, transparencies and all manner of things. The procession then formed, and with the Plattsmouth delegation two hundred strong, headed by the B. & M. Band, followed by red lanterns, then came the torches, then the blue lanterns, and the drum band bringing up the rear, our delegation done itself proud, and was the largest single delegation present from any one point. The procession was immense. There were at least 2000 voters in line marching to Harrison and Morton music. As far as the eye could reach, could be seen torches, illuminations, rockets and men marching; in fact, the thing was almost too big for Glenwood. The immense throng was too great for the good people of that burg to handle, but we must say that they did all that could be done under the circumstances.

At Glenwood, it was county convention day and was in the day inaugurated with a large procession, interspersed with log cabins, canoes, and other signs of enthusiasm. In the afternoon speeches were made by John Y. Stone and others. But the crowning glory of the day was the torch-light procession in the evening. After the long column had marched through the principal streets, both of the business and the residence portion of the town along the line of march nearly every house was illuminated. They countermarched at the public square and were addressed from the speakers' stand by Col. J. J. Steadman, an old Ohio soldier, but now of Council Bluffs, John A. Davies, of Plattsmouth and W. L. Williams of the Bluffs. We have not time nor space to give a synopsis of the speeches suffice it to say that they were all full of enthusiasm and so received by the immense audience, and, as usual, our president, John A. Davies, done himself and the club honor.

The clubs present in uniform were from Emmerson, Hastings, Malvern, Hillsdale, Plattville Tp., Silver City, Tabor and Council Bluffs, Iowa, and Plattsmouth, Neb.

There were ten bands in the procession interspersed with Glee clubs. During the meeting some good music was furnished by the Glenwood Campaign club, composed of ladies. In the line of march were numerous handsome arches and the house decorations were simply grand. Every one seemed to vie with his neighbor.

Our club returned home at one o'clock and all were in a happy mood, well contented, and perfectly satisfied with the first rally of the campaign. The general expression at Glenwood was, "Aint Plattsmouth a daisy, and we will return the compliment during the campaign." Shirley Gilleland was President and S. C. Osborne marshal of the day.

Notes.

Not too tired to climb telegraph poles. The cane duel on the train resulted in a draw.

Who was it blowed out the gas last night?

Some of our boys will never wear anything else now but a plug hat.

It keeps the old vets busy keeping step with the boys of '88. Brace up old boys.

St John is a dandy to work a lunch counter; he boards three men cheap--six sandwiches and four eggs for 5 cents.

One house was handsomely decorated and in front on the porch was an old lady waving the stars and stripes. She looked like Barbara Fritchie of Stonewall Jackson renown--full of enthusiasm.

The invincible fats and irresistible leans play another game of ball this afternoon on the ball grounds. The previous game proved to be as amusing as anyone ever dared to expect, and the one today called for still greater anticipations, as the expense of a supper now rests on the shoulders of the losing club. Both nines are as ambitious as ever, and it is thought a better game will be the result. If space will permit, we will give the number of good plays and errors made, with the score.

It is expected that twenty new engines will arrive at the B. & M. shops here soon, where they will be set up and put in readiness for use. They will be used on the B. & M. division.

The Concert.

As time and space pressed us yesterday, a mention of the concert was omitted, but if this late hour comes soon enough, we trust the report may be satisfactory and we have pleasure in making mention of an successful event as has ever been known in the city in an amateur concert. The entertainment, which was under the auspices of Mr. Isaac Kalisky, leader of the new orchestra, exhibited good taste on the part of the director by the first-class style in which each number on the programme was rendered. The orchestra has only recently been organized, and under the leadership of Mr. Kalisky, is being pushed forward with success.

Home talent, as a rule, has never attracted a full house, but Tuesday night as good an attendance as is seldom seen in the opera house was on hand. When the Plattsmouth people are once awakened to the fact that their city still possesses talent which it can well be proud of, the concerts in which such talent could be shown in, and are seldom ever encouraged, will be more frequent and the participants better encouraged.

The orchestra, in the short time of its existence, has accomplished much, and is now capable of rendering any first-class music.

It was organized for the benefit of the Plattsmouth citizens and will be prepared during the winter to answer all calls.

It is difficult to particularize the different numbers, as no deviation from the first-class rule can be made in any one. The instrumental solos, (if special mention must be made) by Messrs. Merges and Burgess, were excellently rendered, and although the young ladies were heartily applauded, they did not receive their deserved appreciation. The music, and the style in which it was rendered, placed it favorably among the most classical.

The first selection on the programme--a duet, "Hear me Norma," as rendered by Miss Cagney and Mrs. Campbell, was loudly applauded, and well appreciated.

Mrs. Leist in her solo, "O, Restless Sea" attained the appreciation of the audience and was loudly encored. In response she sang, "The cows are in the corn," in a pleasing style.

Messrs. Kalisky and Sherwood pleased the audience by the violin duet, Mr. Sherwood proving himself an efficient player for a student.

Miss Cagney rendered the solo "Ave Marie," and was strongly encored. Her singing has been very favorably spoken of by many since the concert.

The quartette "Sweet and Low," rendered by Mrs. Kempster, Miss Paul, Messrs. W. A. Derrick and G. B. Kempster was much appreciated.

The solo by little Miss Leist was rendered in the most pleasing style and she deserves considerable credit for the manner in which she acted as well as sang.

Mrs. G. B. Kempster selected the beautiful solo "Waiting," and rendered it in the most pleasing style. This lady has a powerful and melodious contralto voice and we are glad to welcome her into our musical circle.

The concert in every particular was a success, and the managers are to be congratulated on their good work. Several requests were made yesterday that the concert be repeated.

A Democratic Rally.

CEAR CREEK, Aug. 16, 1888. EDITOR HERALD:--We had the pleasure of attending what they call a democratic rally at Louisville last night. We left Cedar Creek about half past eight o'clock and arrived at Louisville at 9 o'clock and proceeded up to town to find the rally. After walking five or six blocks along what they call Main St., we found a man and asked him where the speaking was to be held. He told us to go up to the next corner, cross the street and go around the corner of the house and we would find a pair of stairs to go up until we saw a lantern hanging up and go into the next hay loft and we would find it. We proceeded to follow his directions and finally found our way in and what a pitiful sight met our eyes. There was seated on a rudely constructed platform of boards and beer kegs, W. B. Shryock, Hon. Joe Gilmore and Hon. F. E. White. A man, I think they called him Ritchie, from Omaha, was pleading with about a dozen men, who were seated around on most anything they could find, not to desert the democratic party, but to stand steadfast and they would receive their reward in heaven. A man standing next to me asked me if they had moved the capital there and wanted to know what state it was in. We were very much surprised at him, but on enquiry we found that he was a democrat from Weeping Water and that was the first time he was ever away from home, which of course explains it. The meeting then gave three cheers for some body and then adjourned and we adjourned with them.

Don't go to Omaha when you want to get your beautiful parlor and bed room sets but go to Henry Boeck's furniture emporium where you can get everything in the furniture line that will go to make your home beautiful and comfortable; and above all you can get it cheap. Remember that he who sells most can sell cheapest.

A CARD.

Having this day sold my stock of Hardware, Stoves, Tinware, etc., to Messrs. Breckenfeld & Weidman, I would respectfully and earnestly ask that all those in my debt come forward promptly and settle their accounts; as it will be necessary for me to close up my business as speedily as possible before engaging in other pursuits. I also take this occasion to thank the public, both in the city and county, for the very liberal patronage given me during the time I have been engaged in business here, and hope the same will be extended to my successors. A lady who resides in a house facing on Main street, upon hearing the sounds of jubilation which were sent up from the lines of the republican club as they marched down street last evening, rushed to the front window and apparently enjoyed the sight as she gazed upon the moving mass until a rousing "Hurrah for Harrison, broke from the lips of the crowd and their attention was turned in that direction. As much attention under the circumstances accompanied by such a rouser eclipsed the lady's nervous system and she faintly receded to a quarter where the curious eyes of the many could not peer nor the rousing hurrahs disturb.
