CITY CORDIALS.

The family of Mr. E. R. Todd is convalescent after a sickness of several weeks.

The young ladies have again opened their reading room for the accommodation of the public.

A full attendance is expected at the opera house tonight to witness a great play "The World."

Mr. Warren Curtis, principal of the Rock Bluffs school, is in the city today. He made us a friendly call.

It is reported that over $1,000 changed hands yesterday during the Plattsmouth-Beatrice base ball game.

Messrs. George McNane and Joshua Lynn, two enterprising business men of Union, have laid the foundation and commenced building operations on a fine hotel at that place.

Owing to a delay in getting a new safe, the opening of the bank at Nehawka has been delayed. The building is ready for occupancy and the bank will be open for business next week, in charge of Chas. Parmele.

R. Metteer and little grand daughter, Miss Linda Eveland, of Eight Mile Grove, left yesterday for an extended visit through the east. They will stop at different points in Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania.

The young ladies of Nehawka will give an entertainment consisting of music and literary exercises at Union next Monday evening Sept. 10th. The proceeds go to the benefit of a public library to be established at that place.

Several of the members of the young men's republican club of this city have accepted the invitation from the club at Cedar Creek to attend their rally there tonight. Judge Vanatta, of this city, was selected as one of the speakers.

The Young Men's Christian Association are now organized and working under Mr. Bothwell, the general secretary, who will conduct a Gospel meeting for men only at the Presbyterian church on Main street, between 6th and 7th, tomorrow afternoon, at 4 p. m. All men will be welcome.

The ladies of the M. E. church will give a sociable at the church Tuesday evening, Sept. 11th. There will be a short program, after which refreshments will be served. Ten cents admission at the door. This is the last sociable of the year and everybody is invited to come and have a good time.

Mr. John Shanon, who has been confined to his house for about three weeks with typhoid fever, is reported by his physician today as being beyond all hope for recovery. He is one of the oldest settlers of Plattsmouth, and his many friends will be grieved to receive the sad intelligence.

The ever prominent and expressively jubilant uncontrollable "Cotton," made himself as prominent as his far reaching voice would allow until he talked it out of time yesterday during the ball game. He says he got $15 and expenses for his services. If so, we believe the money was well invested, as he could rattle a grand stand without an effort. One of the Beatrice club was making preparations to jump on him when he was interfered with for fear of blood shed.

The democrats are extending pressing invitations to their prominent orators in different parts of the state to attend their rally at this city on Thursday, Sept. 20. It is expected that if there is any chance for them to make a showing for their party they will do so this time. We wish them more success than they have had during any previous "blow out." This rally will strike one of the fair days and, it is also reported the republicans are making preparations for a revival during the fair week. If all things work together, as all parties anticipate, considerable enthusiasm will be the result, and a crowd such as was never before witnessed here will visit the city.

Beatrice vs. Plattsmouth.

The most interesting game of the season was played on the base ball grounds west of the city yesterday afternoon. As large a crowd as has been seen on the ground witnessed the game and manifested more enthusiasm than usual, every one present, raising from their seats when good plays were made and cheering the boys. A much more noticeable interest is being taken in base ball of late by the citizens and the crowd grows larger each game.

The Beatrice visitors came to the city yesterday morning with flying colors and determined on victory, thinking that they would have a walkaway with the home team, having won every game they have played this season.

They claimed the amateur championship of the state, and since its loss yesterday the Beatrice club manifested great dissatisfaction. Our boys did strong batting and opened up the game by seven runs in the first inning.

One remarkable feature of the game was the two double plays made by Mr. Tom Patterson, who played short stop.

The visiting team gradually gained on the home club until they over reached them by one score in the eighth. A fly, which was landed away beyond the lower fence, allowed Hull a home run, bringing the score to a tie in the ninth. At this moment when everything looked so favorable for the visitors and the tables were so completely turned by Hull's home run, hats in every direction were seen flying in their and the crowd, wild with enthusiasm, rushed from all sides to the home plate to welcome him as he came. Considerable kicking was done because the crowd rushed in the way of the players, as the ball had been found and thrown over the home plate. The catcher could not have reached the ball anyway and it would have been counted a home run as it was batted out of the field.

Mr. Tom Patterson took the box for the first time when the visitors went to bat in the tenth, but they could not hit him and three men dropped the bat.

The home team took the bat and Reese settled the trouble by making a run. Following is the score:

Table with columns AB, R, BH, PO, A, E for BEATRICE and PLATTSMOUTH. Rows include Pool, Dallas, Abbey, Pearson, Doud, Grear, Weaver, Lenhart, Fulton, and Total.

Table with columns AB, R, BH, PO, A, E for PLATTSMOUTH. Rows include Patterson, McKelvy, Smith, Huff, Patterson, Lawson, Miller, Patterson, Reese, and Total.

Score by innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9. Beatrice 0 0 1 1 3 2 0 0 2 0-9. Plattsmouth 7 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 1-10.

Base Ball Notes.

Hull's home run came in just in time. The visitors had "lots of money,"—at one time.

There were no flies roosting on Reese yesterday.

Tom Patterson's two double plays did great service.

The champion amateur club of the state got left yesterday.

The Beatrice club kicked on a home run, but all of no avail.

Plattsmouth is gaining a "rep" for playing two games the same afternoon.

The Beatrice club could not swallow the pill without a little molasses, yesterday.

Yesterday's game was the first one Beatrice lost this season and it was not easily lost, either.

The visiting club would willingly have raised Cotton's salary yesterday to have him shut his mouth.

They are anxious to play the Plattsmouth team on the up hill ground at Lincoln for blood or money.

The Beatrice pitcher has a slippery arm. The boys were glad they were not obliged to take many bases.

Boodlers. SEPT. 8, 1888.

EDITOR HERALD.—You speak in your yesterday's issue of Mr. McShane's withdrawal from the congressional contest in this district as being "bad" for the "boodlers." Are you sure of that? It is street gossip that the boodler is already at work in this county, both in congressional and float representative matters and that his impudence and effrontery in the deal are only equalled by his indiscretion. This gossip is founded on the word of an old citizen of Cass and a regular delegate to the congressional convention who was requested to take stock in the sale of the Cass county delegation. Is it not about time that the republican conventions of Cass county would set down on these political prostitutes. Of course no fine work in congressional affairs in this district is expected to put this shoe on unless it fits him in some way.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Chas. O'Connor, of Omaha, is in the city today.

Mr. H. D. Smith is in Omaha today attending the fair.

Mrs. Baxter Smith was a passenger to Omaha this morning.

Mr. J. C. Eikenbary and daughter left for Lincoln this morning.

Mr. Chas. Collins and wife are in Omaha today attending the fair.

Mr. C. E. Wescott and son Clifford are expected to return from Chicago tonight.

Mrs. W. H. Malick left for Waverly this morning where she goes on a visit to her parents.

Mr. T. S. Clark, representing the Canfield Manufacturing Co., of Omaha, is in the city today on business.

Miss Hattie Latham left this morning for Hastings where she will spend two weeks visiting with friends.

Mr. Sherman Knee, manager of the telephone exchange at Columbus, is in the city today visiting friends.

Misses Sallie B. Reynolds of Graham, Va., sister of Mr. Thos. Reynolds, of C. E. Wescott's store, arrived in the city this morning.

Mr. Geo. Palmer leaves for Lincoln Monday, to attend the state university. We wish him success and trust he may come out in flying colors.

Misses Olive Overton and Blanche Hastings of Marshalltown, Iowa, arrived in the city this morning and are guests of Mr. J. L. Unruh and family.

Prof. Manley, who was at one time connected with the state university at Lincoln, and who now resides in Illinois, has been in the city for the past two days visiting friends here.

Capt. Palmer returned from Hartington, Neb., last night where he was called on insurance business. He admitted six losses there. He leaves this evening on a special which passes through this city for Columbus, Ohio.

Siege of Sebastopol.

Mr. Guy Livingston was in Omaha yesterday to make arrangements for an excursion to see the "Siege of Sebastopol" on next Friday night, Sept. 14th, and return after the performance. Friday night having been selected as it will be a special performance, giving the aerial and aquatic display of $1,000 worth of fireworks. The railroad fair for round trip including admission to the "Siege" is $1.25, and 25c extra for reserved seats. This is a rare chance for Plattsmouth people to see one of the grandest performances west of Chicago, and persons wishing to go will please sign their names on the list at J. P. Young's store.

Dr. Smith, an enthusiastic base ball sport of Malvern, Iowa, manifested considerable interest in the game yesterday between Plattsmouth and Beatrice. His interest was aroused so much that when he could not leave his city until after the train had left there, the disappointment worked on his feelings until he secured a "tie pass" and arrived at Pacific Junction in time to catch a train. He admired the Plattsmouth boys.

An invitation has been received from Malvern, by the young men's republican club, to attend the rally which will be held there on the 14th. The club of that place has agreed to furnish a special train for the return trip after the rally and secure the sale of tickets here for single fare for the round trip provided there are one hundred or more sold. It is expected that a large crowd will go from here.

The Period of Pictures.

The present is most certainly the age of pictures, a period when the pencil vies in potency with the pen, and when illustrative art enters every realm of thought, until it occupies a field so wide that no one can know its limits. The pencil in its race with the pen shows its work in unwonted places. It conveys ideas to minds that would be slow in awakening to mere words. It has recently become a part of the daily newspaper reader's enjoyment to find a clever little cut making more enjoyable the bon mot, and adding a zest to the funny paragraph. In the story, the song, the advertisement and the poem, the illustration now plays an important part in the daily paper's contents. It is a poor newspaper, indeed, that cannot, in every issue, show its readers some illustrations, so placed as to enhance the interest and the readability of its contents. In the realm of advertising, the illustration has evidently "come to stay." It attracts and retains the eye, and so serves a double purpose. A high degree of artistic ability finds employment in producing the advertisements seen in the better magazines of today. These pictures, in fact, compare favorably with any in the body of the magazine itself. It evidently pays to spend time and money in the employment of this illustrative art.

Outside of the current literature of the day, the advent of the pictorial age is equally evident in the liberal use made of pictures as a stimulant for business of all kinds. There are more pictures and better pictures used in advertising schemes than has ever been the case before. If the public taste for pictorial art was not a growing one, this could hardly be the case. The cleverly illustrated daily paper is the one that will be taken and enjoyed by its readers when the old foggy journal, that holds aloof from pictures, will be neglected. The people take kindly to "cuts," but as the majority of these are. But their crudity and inartistic qualities are fast giving way to better work by the pencil, by the quick process and the fast press, until today finds the offensively ugly picture in the daily papers among the minority.—Pittsburg Bulletin.

DAYS.

Ah, there are days when all my dreams of youth seem as a death, like flowers of early spring Nipped by an icy frost in blossoming; When grace and beauty seem deformed, uncouth, And love unlovely as a night of rath; When the faint songs that I have lived to sing Sound hollow as the cold and cheerless ring Of mockery on the golden shrine of truth.

Yet such days pass, these leaden hearted days, And others follow that are like sweet strains Heard in the joyous, fragrant summer air. Then life is precious, and its devious ways Flow like green meadows after tender rains, And the soul leaps to find the world so fair. —George Edgar Montgomery.

Piano and Organ Tuning, Etc.

NOTICE TO THE MUSICAL PUBLIC.—G. B. Kempster begs to remind the residents of Plattsmouth and vicinity that having made his home here, he is here to stay, and is confident that, having proved himself a trained and competent tuner, the residents will support a fellow citizen, and they can rely upon the lowest charges consistent with good workmanship, and being resident can always be held responsible for same. References can be made to most of the leading residents and musicians by those who are not already my clients. Orders can be left either at my office at Mr. Boeck's, or with Mr. J. P. Young, who receives orders for me alone, having no connections with any other tuner.
