TOLD WITH TELEGRAPH.

An Italian Vessel Sunk. MADRID, Sept. 14.—Advises received here state that the steamer Laurance, when entering Port Luz, in the Canary islands, last evening, ran into the Italian steamer Lud, America from Montevideo. The latter vessel sunk in a few minutes, drowning thirty-six passengers and four of the crew.

Floods Destroy Much Property. AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 14.—The damage to the canal, streets, bridges, warehouses, residences, stores and merchandise by the floods will reach $1,000,000. No estimate can be made of the damage to farms and crops from Augusta to Savannah, while the country along the river is submerged. $200,000 will be required to repair the canal, streets and bridges. The railroads have been injured and the cotton mills have been shut down. Eleven persons were drowned.

Harrison is Honored by the Vets. INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 14.—Shortly after General Harrison reached home he was called upon by General Daniel Dustin, of Sycamore, Ill., accompanied by a dozen comrades, en route home from Columbus. General Dustin said that he called for the purpose of notifying General Harrison that at a recent meeting at Columbus of the survivors of the First brigade of the Third division, Twentieth army corps, General Harrison was elected president of the association. Beginning today General Harrison will resume public receptions of visiting delegations. G. A. R. posts of Chicago will be received tomorrow.

Experienced Nurses and Physicians Expected at Jacksonville. NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14.—A special from Jacksonville, Fla., says that D. O. Baker, editor-in-chief of the Cincinnati Post, who left there Saturday, is stricken with fever, but it is not yet determined whether it is yellow fever. Tomorrow eighty nurses are expected here. Several physicians who were present during the Memphis epidemic have already arrived. New cases of fever reported today, 44; deaths, 3; total cases to date, 787; deaths 104. The Auxilliary Sanitary association has sent an address of thanks to the country for the generous aid extended. The Knights Templar have also issued an appeal for aid.

Fatal Termination of a Quarrel. HARTVILLE, Wyo. Ter., Sept. 14.—At noon yesterday, Sam Brown, a notorious desperado, was in Clark's saloon. Frank Williams, a cowboy, went into the saloon and asked Brown to step outside. Both went out, and Williams shot Brown twice, once in the arm and once through the body. Brown died in about an hour. Williams mounted his horse and left town. A warrant for his arrest was issued but as he was well mounted, acquainted with the country and has numerous friends among the cowboys, his capture is not probable. Brown boasted of having killed four men. Trouble between he and Williams had been brewing for some time.

A Collision on the Burlington. PAWNEE CITY, Neb., Sept. 14.—The No. 49 east-bound passenger train on the B. & M. from Denver to Kansas City, ran into a freight train standing on the track yesterday morning about 4:15, completely wrecking both engines. The mail car of the passenger was broken. The engine and a car were derailed. The freight train had come to meet the passenger at Violet, and was standing on the track waiting for the passenger to switch. The passenger simply gave a whistle for down brakes and came on at the rate of forty miles an hour. The engineer and brakeman of the passenger were slightly injured, as was the mail agent. There was no other damage. The wrecked train was taken to Wymore.

Otoe County Politics. NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Sept. 14.—The democratic float convention for Cass and Otoe counties is called to be held in Nebraska City, on Thursday, September 27, the day upon which also meets the First Congressional district convention in this city. The only candidates for the democratic nomination for the float senatorship are Mr. W. T. Canada, of this city, and Dr. R. B. Wallace, of Cass county, with present chances favoring the former. The republican convention has not yet been called, but the nomination of the Hon. John C. Watson is assured. It is conceded that he is the only candidate that could carry Otoe county against a strong democratic nominee, he having had a majority of 600 in the county two years ago.

A Preacher Attempts Abduction.

DENVER, Sept. 14.—A man giving his name as Rev. Edward W. Henderson, of Kansas City, was arrested here yesterday on the charge of attempting to abduct Ellen Baird, an unusually handsome child of eleven years. The child states that Henderson offered her $5 if she would accompany him to California, saying that if she did so he would give her everything that she wanted as soon as they arrived.

A Murderous Assault. NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Sept. 14.—Jack and Tom Holihan, two of a family of tough characters, attempted to kill a man named Frank Harkins, a cook at the Grand Pacific, last night. They attacked him with stones, beating him into unconsciousness and then tried to drag him off, but his cries brought citizens to his assistance and prevented a deliberate murder. The affair grew out of an old grudge. Jack was arrested today on charge of attempted murder, but Tom escaped.

NEW RATES DESIRED. Western Managers Attempt to Establish a Basis of Grain Rates. CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—The managers of the lines west of St. Paul were in session here today trying to agree on a basis of grain rates to govern under the new agreement. The Burlington & Northern refuses to advance its rates on merchandise, while the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul adheres to its milling in transit rates, which are now on a basis of 7 1/2 cents. As the conference did not promise to lead to a satisfactory conclusion, a committee of four was appointed to devise a plan for an adjustment of the difficulty and to report this afternoon.

A South American Crim. RENOVA AYLES, Sept. 14.—A sensational murder trial is progress at La Plata in which Padre Pedro Castro Rodriguez is charged with murdering his wife and daughter. Rodriguez in early life became a priest, but in 1870 forsook the church and four years later married Senorita Rufina Padin, daughter of a colonel in the Argentine army. He soon suspected his wife of unfaithfulness, and deserting her, re-entered the church. In May last his wife and daughter, Hedrona Maria Castro, joined him against his wishes at the ecclesiastical residence. Determining to rid himself of them he gave them poison but as this did not act quickly enough, he crushed their skulls with a hammer. He then put them both in a large coffin, and having said mass over their bodies, had them buried. Blood stains around the house and the sudden absence of the two ladies aroused the suspicions of a chore boy, who reported the matter to the police, with the result that Rodriguez was arrested. He at first denied all knowledge of the whereabouts of his wife and child, but finally broke down and confessed. Rodriguez is forty four years old, finely educated, and has always stood high in the favor of the church authorities.

The finest bedroom sets can be found at H. Boeck's.

Important Business. "Oh, papa," she said, with a blush, "young Mr. Chestnut, who owns so many coal mines in Pennsylvania, is coming again this evening, and he says he wants to see you on some important business." "A right, my dear," responded the old man, chucking her playfully under the chin. "I guess I know what the young man wants." That evening Mr. Chestnut came to the point at once; "Mr. Hendricks," he said boldly, "I want to ask you if you have laid in your winter's stock of coal." "New York Sun." A few sent us samples. "All the men are not fools, anyhow," snapped Mrs. Curtley to her husband, during a little domestic discussion. "No, my dear," replied Mr. C., with true manly politeness. "No, there are a few bachelors left as samples."—Washington

MUST BE IDENTIFIED.

HOW STRANGERS ARE ANNOYED WHEN TRYING TO CASH A DRAFT. A Man May Have Millions in His Pocket and Yet Be Unable to Buy a Meal. How Checks Are Made Payable in England. A rich man compelled to pawn his watch for a square meal and a night's lodging. That was the strange situation in which a young Englishman who had just landed in New York found himself the other day. He had arrived from the West Indies, where he invested nearly all the money on his person in a draft for £200 on a New York bank. Anxious to get a train for St. Louis the same day he hurried to the bank for his money. The teller refused to pay the draft until he was identified. And the young man was an absolute stranger in New York!

"Your people in the West Indies took my good money for that draft and I want it back again. Am I to infer that this is a bankrupt institution?" He got no satisfaction, lost his train and had to pawn his watch for a meal and a bed. A fellow passenger identified him the next day. I was discussing the matter the other day with a very liberal American who has had much banking and mercantile experience here and abroad. "Americans," said he, "are the worst bankers in the world. They don't know the first thing about banking. Even to the smallest details foreigners can give us points. The methods pursued in the mere paying and receiving of money in New York suggests the idea that every man who enters a bank is a possible thief. This," he continued, "judging by the numerous defalcations, might apply to the officers of the bank but it is most unjust to the public. A person who goes into a store where he is surrounded on all sides by valuable goods is not supposed to be there for purposes of robbery—and why should it be different in a bank? Indeed, New York in this respect never seems to have gotten beyond its village days. Nothing looks more ridiculous to a London mercantile man than to see a long string of persons with books in their hands waiting to make a deposit through a cubby hole with a solitary receiving teller—and it is the same with the payment of money. A bank with a large business ought to have half a dozen receiving and as many paying tellers at large, wide, open counters. Why all these cages and railings and bars and peep holes through which you are occasionally permitted to catch a glimpse of the teller's nose who suddenly and unwillingly hands you your money? They don't have these things in England, and robbery in banks there are rare. Here, despite all these precautions, they are frequent, and a large proportion are committed by those inside of the railing and not outside of it. NOT A PLEASANT MATTER. "I don't like to be looked upon when I enter a New York bank a stranger as if I had a natural predilection for pecuniary and forcery, for the teller is not satisfied if you tell him your right name and even sign—if you must be identified. In England checks are usually made payable to bearer. 'Send I press if you ask the drawer, which means that by drawing two lines across the check and inserting the words 'Bank' and 'Co.' between the lines he money can only be collected through a bank or banking firm. Otherwise any person can get the cash at the bank, without any questions being asked, except 'How will you have it?' I may send anybody with my check payable to bearer for £500 to a bank and he will get the money without any trouble. In a New York bank such an amount would create the utmost suspicion. All the detectives in New York would be immediately sent out to get the owners of the bank from their seats down to watching the cash drawers. Here a check or draft is usually made payable to order, but a stranger may endorse it in the presence of the teller and he'll never get the money without identification, no matter what ordinary proof in the way of letters or cards the holder of the check may have about his person. Of course, if a paying teller has good reason to suspect the check or draft has been stolen or forged he would be justified in refusing payment and holding the party who presented it; but in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred there are no grounds for suspicion. Foreigners are always grousing at our stupid rules, and if it were once known abroad that there was a banking house in New York that would pay drafts to people without identification, such a concern would soon have the cream of the 'traveler's draft business'."

This attack on the system pursued here, which is certainly unworthy of a great metropolis, recalls an experience of my own. A friend of mine some years ago gave me a check for $1,200, payable to me or bearer, on the Sixth National bank of New York. I presented it. "Don't know you," said the teller. "Neither have I the pleasure of your acquaintance," was the answer, "but my name is on the check, and I am also the bearer." "Can't help it; it's too large an amount to give to a stranger, and you must be identified." "My friends are out of town," said I, "and President Arthur is in Washington. I can't very well send for him." "Well, I won't give you the money." "Then write your reasons on the check." "No, I won't do that." "Then," said I, "I am a newspaper man. I shall protest this check and proclaim it in Wall street this afternoon that the Sixth National bank refuse to honor the checks drawn on it." I got the money.—New York Cor. Globe-Democrat.
