A Fiendish Deed. Late Saturday afternoon the remains of Thomas Sullivan, a brakeman on the C. B. & Q., were found horribly mangled on the track between the Platteriver and La Platte station. From subsequent developements it seems probable that he was pushed from a moving train, on which he was breaking, by one Robert Show ped. W. Probst 2nd mare 2yr 8 75 Smith, at one time an employe of the 1st best stallion 3 75 road. Smith boarded the train at Pacific Junction. VARIOUS MAGICAL ILLUSIONS

Amazing Effects Produced by Chemi Aid-Pretty Tricks.

Some pleasing illusions can be produced by the aid of chemicals. By wetting a piece of fine loaf sugar with phosphorized ether, and throwing it into a basin of water, the surface of the water will become luminous in the dark, and by gently blowing upon it phosphorescent undulations will be formed which illuminate the air above the fluid to considerable distance. In winter the water must be rendered blood warm. If the phos-phorized ether be applied to the kand or other warm objects, it renders them luminous in

Fix three pins in the table and lay a piece of money upon them; they place a heap of the flour of sulphur below the piece of money, add another above it and set fire to them. When the flame is extinct, you will find that a thin plate of metal has become detached from the coin, thus making two out of one.

Dissolve camphor in spirits of wine, and deposit the vessel containing the solution in a close closet where the spirits of wine will evaporate. If any one enters the room with a candle the air will inflame, making an effect as bright and sudden as lightning, but there is no danger whatever from this sparkling effect.

To melt lead in a piece of paper wrap up a smooth ball of lead in paper, taking care that there be no wrinkles in it, and that it be everywhere in contact with the ball; if it be held in this state over the flames of a taper the lead will be melted without the paper being burned. The lead, indeed, being once fused, will not fail, in a short time, to pierce the paper and run through.

A pretty trick is performed in this manner: Take a pin and dip into glycerine and mark on your arm any number whatever-say 1,630-and let the marks remain. You must have a confederate, and on joining a company suggest that some one write some num-ber down. Your confederate will quickly respond, writing the figures already on your arm on a piece of paper. Let him exhibit throughout the crowd and burn it on a plate. After telling the company that you propose to make the identical figures appear on your arm, rub the ashes of the paper on the spot where you had previously put the glycerine, and you will have the numbers your confederate marked down on your arm in very bold

Take a glass bottle; put into it some vola-tile alkali, in which has been dissolved copper filings, which will produce a blue color, looking like liquid of some kind. Ask some one to cork it while indulging in some pleasantry, and then call the attention of the company to the liquid, when, to their astonishment, they will find that the supposed liquid has disappeared as soon as it was corked. You can cause it to reappear by simply tak-ing out the stopper, and this change will appear equally astonishing.

A very funny trick is done in this way at very little expense. Put into a crucible four ounces of bismuth, and, when in a state of fusion, throw in two ounces and a half of lead and one ounce and a half of tin. These metals will combine, forming an alloy, fusi-ble in boiling water. Mold the alloy into bars and take them to a silversmith to be made into teaspoons. Give one to a stranger to stir his tea. As soon as the spoon touches the hot tea it will melt in his fingers, causing a great deal of merriment,-Pitcsburg

Ruising Bananas in Jamaica.

Besides the regular and sometimes extensive banana plantations, thousands of bunches of bananas are raised in Jamaica by the colored people, a few here and a few there. Nearly every colored man living in the rural parts has his few banana trees scattered here and there about his "patch," and gathers in a few half dollars annually by carrying his bunches to market. Often he carries a bunch for miles on his head, but oftener yet he sends his wife with it. Everywhere about the island bananas are growing, and the plants do more than anything else (possibly excepting the darkies and the cocoanuts) to give Jamaica its tropical appearance. The banana is one of the most graceful of plants, with its leaves often six feet long and six inches broad drooping, bright, green and fresh. But a heavy wind slits the leaves into shreds and turns them brown, and then their beauty is

A series of pictures representing the life and travels of the bahana would make a schoolboy wonder as he invests his penny and fills himself with the ripe fruit. If would see a rough field on a mountain side in a tropical land, and on a winter's mornin; (not enough there) a dozen men and women boys and girls, all colored and all very lightl ciad, working among the long leaves and th hier, rough stalks. He would see a b larky come along with a cutlass and, wit one heavy blow, cut his banana from thereo. He would see it afterward going over steep and rocky path down the hill to ti coast, riding uneasily upon the back of haggy, bungry, but patient and contents little clonkey. He would see it carried about the steamer, after being inspected at passed, and packed away in the dark ho and carefully watched till it reached IV York, and taken in a hurry to a warehon and hung up in a warm room to ripen (im.
