CITY CORDIALS.

Children's Shirt Waists 20 cents at S. & C. Mayer's.

Mr. Joe Lloyd's little girl who has been ill for some time with typhoid fever, is convalescent.

Dr. Schildknecht is now the oldest physician in this city, having resided here for more than twenty-seven years.

Four children in the family of Ennis Barger, living near Mt. Pleasant, are seriously afflicted with typho-malarial fever.

Silk Campaign Handkerchiefs for 35 cents, worth 75c at S. & C. Mayer's.

The work has been commenced in the Carruth building, which is being fitted up to receive the large clothing stock of S. & C. Mayer. The partitions are already torn out and the foundation for the addition is being laid.

Mr. S. M. Briggs, a knight of the scissors and razor, has removed from his shop on Sixth street, to one of the cozy rooms in the Anheuser-Busch building. The location is the most favorable and we trust he may smile from success in his new quarters.

Mrs. J. E. Johnson leaves today for St. Louis to select and purchase the latest designs in Hats, Bonnets, and Millinery goods. Wait for her return before purchasing elsewhere. Oct. 3-11

The wife of Mr. Jacob Falter, who moved from this city to Creighton, Neb. last March, died last Tuesday and was buried on Sunday. They resided about eight miles west of here previous to their departure, but the family is well known in the city. Mrs. Falter is a sister of the Hertz brothers, of this city.

Mr. L. C. Mercer resigned his position as superintendent of the street railway here, at a meeting held by that company last Thursday. Mr. Frank Carruth, president of the company, who sent in his resignation a short time ago, has withdrawn it, and he will still continue to fill that office.

Previous to removal to Carruth's building November 1st, and in order to reduce our stock we will sell everything in our line at a low figure. Satin Scarfs 15c, formerly 25c; Satin Scarfs 25c, formerly 35c; Satin Scarfs 50c, formerly 75c at S. & C. Mayer's.

The creek which takes an underground course along 5th street and empties into a ditch immediately below Main, is being filled up with the soil dug up from the street. The authorities have come to the conclusion that such an advantage as an irrigating ditch of that kind is not required here.

The "He, She, Him and Her" company arrived in the city this morning and they will hold forth at the Waterman opera house tonight. Tickets are selling rapidly and we expect to see a bumper house tonight which they deserve. Geo. H. Adams is known in this city, and all who know him will not miss this rare opportunity of hearing a first-class comedy.

A dispatch was received here yesterday morning from Pa. Eble, Col., stating that Staart Livingston had been killed near that place in a wreck which occurred on the D. T. and Fort Worth rail road, about 8 o'clock yesterday morning. His body was then at Triadand, and the authorities were awaiting orders. He was a nephew of the late Dr. R. R. Livingston, and was well known in this city having resided here several years.

The work of grading Main street has commenced and everything presents a deplorable condition. Paying will be commenced as soon as the grading is advanced sufficiently to allow it, and about the 13th, when thousands of people will visit our city, and all will be desirous of seeing the city present an attractive appearance, just then it will remind one of the visit of an earthquake a few hours previous. Although the rough appearance may not leave a favorable impression upon the visitors, yet the authorities being made and many may be contented to stumble over the rough road this time and come again when the paved streets will be a credit to the city and afford a pleasant walk.

Resolutions of Respect. The following resolutions were adopted at the sanctuary of L. A. 8532 K, of L. WHEREAS, One of our esteemed fellow citizens, Dr. R. B. Livingston, has been touched by the hand of death, and

WHEREAS, We realize the loss sustained by his family and the citizens generally. Be it

Resolved, That we tender to the bereaved family our sincere sympathy in this time of their bereavement.

An Aged Saint Laid to Rest. HARRIET WESCOTT—Born May 14th, 1805 at Chester, Massachusetts, died September 28th, 1888 at the home of her son, C. E. Wescott, Plattsmouth, Nebraska.

She was the daughter of Joshua and Amy Mason; at the age of 18 was married to Stephen Wescott; was the mother of ten children, three of whom survive her, namely: Mrs. Francis M. Bennett, Chester, Mass.; Lloyd M. Wescott, Brush Creek, Iowa, and her youngest son, our fellow-townsmen, C. E. Wescott, with whom she has lived since coming to Plattsmouth about five years ago with her husband, the latter having died May 24, 1884, soon after their arrival.

Mrs. Wescott has lived a consistent christian life for over sixty years, having been converted and united with the Baptist church at Chester, Mass., under the ministrations of Elder Jno. Leland. Her love and faith in the church of her choice was pronounced, yet she was to broad in her denominational views to be a narrow sectarian, and her soul was so expanded by the melting love of Jesus as to free her every child of sovereign grace; a kindred spirit, and her breadth of intellect, and warmth of soul kept her in lively sympathy with all the advance movements of the day for the uplifting of humanity, and notwithstanding she had passed her four score milestones, even cheering childhood and youthful enthusiasm found in her presence joy and delight, and during her late protracted illness they kept her chamber fragrant with the perfume of flowers.

She was a woman of rarest graces, finished by highest Christian culture, which made even the sick room a very Babel, with mental facilities unimpaired up to the last moment she gave blessed assurance at the final victory that was soon to be hers. With her latest breath she exclaimed: "I am About Home," I have tried to make my life a labor of love, "But there is nothing like the Love of God." Then with the dying prayer, "O Jesus Give Me Rest," she entered into the eternal rest of Heaven. "Blessed are they that die in the Lord."

The funeral obsequies were conducted by Rev. Baird. The beautiful casket was covered with floral offerings of beautiful designs, the cross, scepter and shield were contributed by the W. C. T. U. The pall bearers were Messrs. Pollock, Gault, Spurlock, S. A. Davis, W. Smith and Robt. Donnelly. Among the many friends that gave timely aid were Mrs. Ryan, of Nebraska City, and Dr. Mansfield, cousin of Mr. Wescott, from Chillicothe, Mo. We will all miss this "True Israelite, indeed in whom there was no guile." But the stroke falls heavily upon the faithful son and daughter, Mr and Mrs. Wescott, and their three dutiful boys—sons of promise—who were always ready to contribute in every way to her comfort and happiness.

In their home "Grandma," was the "Favored One." Her room must be the sunniest and her heartstone the brightest. She was the one never to be forgotten, and her unselfishness made all this service a pleasure. But this beautiful life is ended, and the last tribute of love has been paid to all that was mortal, with folded hands and speechless lips, she rests beneath the silent clouds—dust to dust; ashes to ashes. But the beloved influences of such a life will live forever, and its illumination will brighten our pathway to the golden gate. "Where we with her may testify that the wideness of God's love, is as the wideness of the sea, and the justice of His Mercy more than liberty."

PERSONALS. Mr. C. O. Wells, of Omaha, is in the city today on business.

Mrs. C. H. Parmole left for Bellevue where she will visit for a few days.

B. D. H. Baker, who has been a guest at the home of C. H. Parmole, was a passenger to Omaha last night.

Mr. Chas. Thornburg, formerly of this city, but who is now agent for a wholesale house in Omaha, was in the city yesterday on business.

Mr. Jesse L. Root, formerly of the office of Covell, Peck & Bacon, but who is now cashier of a bank at Columbia, returned to the city last night for a few days visit with his wife who has recently returned from Denver where she has been on an extended visit after a severe illness of several months. She looks much improved in health and no trace of the sickness is noticeable. Mr. Root will return to Columbia within a few days, but his wife intends to remain at her home during the winter.

"I have taken, within the past year, several bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and find it admirably adapted to the needs of an impoverished system. I am convinced that this preparation, as a blood purifier, is unequalled."—C. C. Dame, Pastor Congregational church, Andover, Me.

An Irish Sentiment. EDITOR HERALD:—I have seen in an issue of the Journal that its editor and proprietor accuses Patrick Ford, editor of the Irish World of being a renegade and a deserter from the Union army during the rebellion. Now, as there is no chance of Patrick Ford ever seeing that obscure sheet or of getting an opportunity to refute its bare assertions, I take it upon myself, with good and reliable authorities, to brand the Journal as a bare fabricator, whose only object is to turn the Irish vote in this locality from Harrison and Protection to Cleveland and Free-trade. The Journal sees that the Irish World is a power in the field for Harrison and Protection, and that if the Irish adhere to its teaching (which I have no doubt they will) that democracy and free-trade are doomed to be buried forever in utter oblivion. English free-trade banished us from the Irish shore and the same malignant enemy wants to pursue us with free-trade to this glorious free republic. Sherman, your lies won't work. M. O'DONAHUE. WM. DONNELLY.

In Memoriam. The Irish citizens of Plattsmouth desire to express their heartfelt sorrow, that each and all feel over the loss of their dear friend and neighbor, Dr. Robert R. Livingston and in meeting, assembled Oct. 1, 1888, unanimously passed the following resolutions of respect:

WHEREAS, The death of our beloved friend Dr. Robert R. Livingston, is felt and deplored by every lover of liberty and justice in our midst; that all Irish American citizens in Nebraska, fully knew his views in regard to the trouble between England and Ireland and knew that he was in sympathy with Gladstone and Parnell in their efforts for the freedom of Ireland and on any and all occasions was found to be the steadfast friend of the Irish people, and his sympathies were always with the oppressed of dear old Ireland. Therefore be it

Resolved, That in his loss, Ireland and the Irish people, have lost one of their best friends; have lost one who can never be replaced in their hearts and affections and that the family of the lamented deceased in this hour of sorrow have our undivided sympathy.

Grand Island vs. Plattsmouth. A game has been arranged between the Plattsmouth and Grand Island clubs for Saturday afternoon next. This will undoubtedly be the last game of the season and the best one yet played here.

The Grand Island club is considered the best lot of amateur players in the state, and they have not attained as wide a reputation as a host of kickers, as some visitors who have played here this summer. The men who have been secured for the occasion will do more effective work than any team Plattsmouth has yet put on the ground, and there will certainly be a creditable game played.

The Fremont battery—Messrs. Pond and Heller—will assist the Plattsmouth club, and all who witnessed the Wahoo—Plattsmouth game during the fair, remember the effective work done by them then for the visitors. Home run Huff, of Omaha, will also assist Plattsmouth in Saturday's game.

Resolutions of Respect. The Plattsmouth Fire Department in meeting assembled this Oct. 1, 1888, unanimously passed the following resolutions of respect on the death of Dr. R. R. Livingston. WHEREAS,

The deceased Dr. Robert R. Livingston was the first chief of the Plattsmouth Fire Department, that he always took an interest in the work ever since—was always ready with head, heart and money to help the boys in all their undertakings and was always their friend; therefore be it

Resolved, That in his death the Department has lost a true member and friend—one who was always ready to lend a helping hand in time of need, and that the Department sympathizes with his family and the entire public in the great loss sustained by all.

H. C. Ritchie, Secretary.

'He, She, Him and Her' at the Funke. The name of this entertainment is a good index to its character. It is a unique collection of individualities. But it is the people of the world, especially the unusual and absurd people, who are the most interesting. 'He, She, Him and Her' is an ingeniously arranged assortment of eccentricities and absurdities of the kind people seem most to enjoy. The characters were large in the hands of those who made the most of them. In the leading parts Mr. George H. Adams as "Toby Perriwinkle," and Miss Tomahlan as "Tootsie Brant," brought many a hearty laugh and enthusiastic cheer from their auditors. A commendable piece of work was also performed by Miss Alida Perreault as "Mrs. Murray Hill." Miss Marie Francoise also did some clever comedy work in the first act, but her part for some reason disappeared afterwards, the occasion not being apparent. The entertainment was witnessed by a good audience, who gave good
