The Plattsmouth Daily Heraid.

KNOTTS BRCS. Publishers & Proprietors.

THE PLATTSMOUTH HERALD Is published every evening except Sunday and Weekly every Thursday morning. Registered at the postolice. Platesmouth. Nebr., a second-class matter. Office corner of Vine and Fifth streets. Telephone No. 38.

TREMS FOR DAILY.

One copy one year, in advance. $1 50 the copy atx months, in advance. 75

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT, BENJAMIN HARRISON, of Indiana. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, LEVI P. MORTON, of New York.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR, JOHN M. THAYER. FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR, GEORGE D. MEIKLEJOHN. FOR SECRETARY OF STATE, GILBERT L. LAWS. FOR TREASURER,

J. E. HILL. FOR AUDITOR OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS, THOMAS H. BENTON. FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL, WILLIAM LEESE.

FOR COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC LANDS AND BUILDINGS, JOHN STEEN.

FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC IN-STRUCTION, GEORGE B. LANE.

CONCRESTIONAL TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS. (First Congressional District.) -- W. J. CONNELL.

COUNTY TICKET.

FOR STATE SENATOR, MILTON D. POLK. FOR FLOAT HEPRESENTATIVE, JOHN C. WATSOM. FOR REPRESENTATIVES, N. M. SATCHEL, EDWIN JEARY. FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY. ALLEN BEESON. FOR COMMISSIONER, 1ST. DIST. AMMI B. TODD. FOR SURVEYOR,

Ir will be a solid north against a broken south in November. We will add to the American column West Virginia, North Carolina, Florida and Missouri,

HERMAN SCHMIDT.

THE DRIFT in Tennessee seems to be a anti-democratic as that of the northers states. Here comes Chatanooga with a republican gain of 1,300 and a republican democratic reform and everybody wants | match. to hear the old veteran lay open the democratic, reform hide.

The Flambeau club from Lincoln will be here this evening and help to make the air lurid for everybody whose name appears on the republican ballot. Paint the skies a glorious tint, boys!

W. J. CONNELL will talk to the voters this evening. He is our next congressman and his advent here will be the young blood of Nebraska contrasted with it is a light thing. But it may run into the coagulated molluscous fluid from Arbor Lodge which dragged its slugged course in the opera house the other evening to the insipid rhyme of free trade.

GROVER CLEVELAND is the first presi dent of these United States that has brazenly showed up the boodle to secure his re-election. Such is democratic pretense to reform. It takes just such trickery to catch the honest (?) mugwump. For instance the dough boy of the Oma ha World is for McShane! and Cleve-

THE still bunt for the legislature in Nebraska by Messrs. McShane & Co. wont win. Republicans are not going to turn Nebraska over to the man who has done more in one short congressional campaign to corrupt the voters of Nebraska tion all the politicians of the sinte since itadmission to the Union. For a reform movement McShane makes a pretty fig-

Boston Traveler: "There is room for no third party, probibition or woman suffrage. The question of temperance For sale by all druggists. Beware of reform is not to be ignored, though no counterfeits and imitations. The genone will claim that it is the supreme issue | gine manufactured only by John O. We before the American people. The Dem- & Co., 862 W. Madison St. Chicago, and ocratic party is the undisquised ally of Sold by W. J. Warrick. the saloon, and friends of that institution recognized it. They do not organize a third party for its defence. They have one already at hand. The Republican party has been and is just as clearly and night and it can be secured again Friday emphatically the friend of practical temperance reform, thus bringing on itself all the latest improved machinery, and the persistent attack of the saloon, their work cannot be surpassed. The There is no need of any third for the promotion of temperance. There have been times when third parties have had an ex-cuse for their existence, but this yet it disappoint you 30 pills 26c. At War-

MR. BLAINE's Gorhen speech on demoratic trusts was equal to his Detroit desertation on Grover and his vetoes. There is a dull thud heard in the region of the democr tic liver as it flopps on NEWARK, N. J., only shows a gain of 700 for the repuplican cause and this is the New Jersey town in whose vote the democracy has discovered a ray of hope for Grovor Cleveland. The democratic party finds consolation in the fact that mous for the republican cause.

"THE ox knoweth his owner and the ass its master's coif," is a proverb from the Holy writ which the average college professor has a hard time to understand. The truth of this adage is again verified by Professor Caldwell, of the Nebraska State University, who imagines no one but a college-bred man knows the history o' Ireland or understands the science (?) of free trade and who has taken it u on himself to educate Patrick Eagan on a question of Irish history. Unfortunately for the professor, Bro. Gere, of the State Journal, becomes disgusted with his ignorance and unpardonable stupidity and winds him up in Thursday's issue of the Journal in a way that the political economist of our State University will not soon forget. Mr. Gere kindly reminds the professor of the evident fact that he does not understand his subject to begin with, and then proceeds to enlighten him in one of the clearest and best tariff productions of the cam-

HALLOWEEN.

The amusement of this eve greatly vary n different localities and among different people. In some sections, parties, where all the ladies are dressed in calico or a kindred material, and their male attendants are arrayed in vests, coats and neckties of the same material, are the vogue. Frequently the young ladies send sufficient material, like their gowns, for the gentlemen's outfit, to the house of the person who gives the party. Then, on an evening, a week previous to said party, all the gentlemen invited, meet and select materials. This they have made into coats, vests and neckties, without knowing to whom they are indebted.

On Halloween, as each gent walks into the reception room, he selects, for his partner, the young lady wearing the gown that matches his coat. Thus, accor ling to tradition, he learns his fate in the lottery of matrimony. An ther way is for each lady, to make a necktie from material like the gown she is to wear. All these neck ies are put in a box, in the gentlemen's dressing room, and each

The menu of this feast embraces nuts, apples, doughnuts and eider, and sometimes a simple domestic cake. The gentlemen of the party should, to carry out the "idea," crack all the nuts, and then act as waiters, passing the refreshments to the ladies. No servants should appear on the scene.-Mrs. Rorer, in October let that cold of yours run on. You think cutarrh. Or into pneumonia. Or con-

Don't

Catarrh is disgusting. Pneumonia is dangerous. Consumption is death itself. The breathing apparatus must be kept healthy and clear of all obstructions and offensive matter. Otherwise there is

All the diseases of these parts, head, nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, can be delightfully and entirely cured by the use of Boschee's German Syrup. If you don't know this already, thousands and thousands of people can tell you They have been cured by it and know how it is, themselves. Bottle only 75 cents. Ask any druggist.

$500 Reward.

We will pay the above reward for any case of liver complaint, dyspepsia, sick headache, indigestion, constipation or costiveness we cannot cure with West's Vegetable Liver Pills, when the directions are strictly complied with. They are purely yegetable, and never fail to give satisfaction. Large boxes containing 30 sugar coated pills, 25c.

Neat Laundry Work,

All parties desirous of having the neatest and cheapest laundry work done, should leave it at this office Tuesday evening. The Council Bluffs steam laundry, where the work is done, has put in finest polish. W. A. DERRICK, Ag't.

of the democr tic liver as it flopps on such oceasons—A very bad man is that Mr. Blaine! Newark, N. J., only shows a gain of the elections are not completely unani- ON'T you know it? Of course you do and you will want warm Underwear, Blankets, etc.

> OUR Line is Unsurpassed by any other line in the city. A handsome > \[\ \ ARIETY of Seasonable Dress Goods, Broadcloths, Henrietta, Cloths, Trecots, etc.

VERYTHING in Blankets, Flannels, Bed Comforts, Hosiery, Battings, that you will want.

VOU will not regret looking our different De- superstitions, but they do like to have partments over before purchasing. It will pay you.

MYRNA RUGS and a Handsome Line of Carpets, Matts, Floor Oil Cloths, and Linoleum at Low Prices.

E. C. DOVEY & SON.

PEARLMAN,

JUDGE MASON will have a few innocent remarks to make, this evening, about partner, the young lady with gown to

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

-LATEST STYLES OF-

window curtains

KEPT CONSTANTLY ON HAND.

PICTURE FRAMES MADE TO OFDER

SIXTH STREET, BET. MAIN AND VINE.

A Word to Republicans.

The importance of the results of the present political campaign can not be overestimated by those who desire the success of the Republican party. The Democrats, besides the "Solid South," are, in the North intrenched behind breastworks of public patronage. It will take steady, earnest, and united work to disloge them. No hing will so surely bring about that steady, earnest, and united work as the circulation of sound political literature, and OF THIS CLASS NO OTHER IS AS EFFICIENT AS THE DAILY AND WEEK-LY NEWSPAPER. Speeches and documents are read by the few, and when read are laid aside; the newspaper is the fireside friend, the trusted family companion. Its influence is continuous, constant. The Republicans can not aid their party better than by circulating

-> The Daily Inter Decan

It is a live Republican Newspaper, and has been faithful among the faithless in Chicago. No man has ever questioned its soundness on the platform, because the principles of the pla form have been advocated by THE INTER OCEAN many years. PROTECTION TO AMERICAN INDUSTRIES AND AMERICAN MARKETS FOR AMERICAN PRODUCERS have been its battle cries from the beginning. It did not take it six weeks to ascertain whether it could stand on the platform or not.

Republicans have done much to aid in the inculcation of false political doctrines by patronizing papers that advocate them. Why should they do so when they can avoid it by subscribing for THE INTER OCEAN, which is

The Best and Most Reliable Newspaper Published in Chicago? In enterprise, news, editorial ability, and everything that goes to make A COMPLETE NEWSPAPER it is unexcelled by any of Every Republican ought to subscribe for it. Every workingman ought to subscribe for it.

It is the paper for all classes of patriotic people who believe in protecting the homes of America. You can subscribe through your newsdealer or postmaster. If you are unable to do that send direct to the office of publication. Sample copies are always sent on application.

THE INTER OCEAN,

B. & M. Time Table. GoING EAS*. No. 2.—4:33 p. m. No. 4.—10:30 a. m. No. 6.—7:13 p. m. No. 10.—9:45 a. m.

J. C. BOONE,

BARBER AND HAIR DRESSER. All work first-class; west Fifth Street. North Robert Sherwood's Store.

-THE DAILY HERALD delivered for

THE TRAVELER'S LUCK.

SUPERSTITIONS CONCERNING THOSE WHO START ON A JOURNEY.

Good Luck" at the Parting-People Whom It Is Lucky to Meet-A Negro Superstition-A Chinese Notion-The Hump-

There is an old superstition which says, 'You must never watch a traveler out of sight," and still another, "You maun bid him godspeed thrice and good luck ance, and no turn your back to the bow of the boat while speaking the words." Only a few weeks ago, while making one of a throng of people who were bidding adieu to friends bound across the Atlantic, I noticed that the words "good luck" were oftener used in one form or another than any other expression of farewell; it was "Good luck go with you," "Good luck to you," "Luck to you," "Good by and good luck"; and one old hish grandmother, after devoutly crossing herself, called out to her daughter, "The blessed Virgin bring you and good luck back to me," while I among the rest found myself say ing, "A lucky trip to you, captain," as that monarch of all he surveyed stepped on board his kingdom, a big ocean steamer, although I am afraid I was tempted to say it not so much in my belief of the good it would bring him as in a foreknowledge that he was not only honestly superstitious, but firmly believed in such a wish bringing the safe, quick voyage he hoped for, and I am glad to say that in his case the omen proved good.

With some sailing masters, however, such an expression would foretell anything but good luck, and in fact many people dislike to have luck given them in this way, believing that it is ill luck to speak of luck at all; and there are others who, whether they believe in it or not, like to have pleasant things prophesied to them, or, in other words, "they are not the signs on the right side.

STARTING ON A JOURNEY. There are plenty of wise men and women who will on no account turn back after starting on a journey; if compelled to, they must sit down or change some garment before going out again; others who think it the luckiest thing in the world to have left something that they really need, for then they say, "We are sure to go back," especially a pair of slippers or an undergarment. Scotch people are very superstitious about the first person they meet in the morning on going out for the day or starting on a journey. If it is a woman, and she is well dressed and pleasant looking, then it is good; a beautiful child is rare good luck, especially if you can get the little one to notice you; a business man with a quick, brisk walk, or a workman with his tools and filled lunch pail, is also lucky to meet; while the postman, policeman, doctor and priest are all forerunners of anxiety, and you "need be unco canny and unco wary, for there's muckle depends on your prudence

A universal negro superstition—and I ites of New York city-is to ask a question of any stranger who strikes their fancy, and if answered satisfactorily, they be lieve they have taken that person's luck. I once asked an old colored aunty who had been eying me for some time, and who I saw was about to make some inquiry, why she wanted my luck. She looked at me a moment, and seeing I was in earnest, said, "Well, honey, I don't want all your luck, but you's young and kin get more, and I's gwine to see my daughter, who am expecting a little baby girl, and I wants her to look just like girl, and I wants her to look just like you." The compliment was appreciated, and so when she left the cars I carefully dropped a silver dollar where she would see it. Picking it up and holding it out for me to see, she exclaimed, "I knowed you'd bring me luck."

A German superstition, and one said to alter your luck if it does not please you, is to change or remove some article of clothing, such as the right cuff to the left arm, or your earrings or finger rings, or take off your hat, being careful to put it on straight.

A CHINESE NOTION. The Chinese believe that when starting on a journey it is great good luck to have an insect or reptile go out before you, or, better still, to cross your path coming from the left side. If you are not thinking of taking a journey and find a key, you may expect very shortly to have to pack your trunk. To start on a journey with the new moon is by far the lucklest thing one can do.

A white mark on the nail of the little finger of cither hand is said to foretell a journey, the old saying, "A gift, a friend, a foe, a lover to come, and a journey to go," being firmly believed in by morthan one wise woman. Cut your nails on Saturday if you wish to travel, for to cut them on Monday is to cut them for health on Tuesday for wealth, on Wednesday for a letter, on Thursday for better, on Friday for woe, on Saturday a journey to go.

It is considered very lucky by some to meet a humpbacked person when starting on a journey, and if you would have rare good luck be sure to touch his hump. When starting on a journey remember to put your right stocking on first and your right foot out of the house first, and do not look back at the house after the front door is closed.—Harper's Bazar.

Raw Material of Man.

"The human boy," says The London Evening News, "is a potentially important member of society, in that he is the raw material of man; but only a prejudiced taste can put him on a par with the flowers of the field as a thing of beauty and a joy forever." Here we have the English article pictured.

But the wild, unkempt American specimen-we mean the composite product-is a study of more than passing interest. What he lacks in fine qualities is made up by his robustious, full orbed love of mischief. In him you have the miniature of a vivacious, restless, resourceful manhood, always eager and ready to vent his superfluous spirits, sometimes at his own cost, but chiefly to the disadvantage of others. But there is the making of a man in him every time under our free and unfettered institutions, and that benefit inheres in American life as contrasted with the crowded condition in which these less favored sons are born who live and die on British soil, with scarcely a hope, in the vast majority of cases, of rising above the dead level of their early career. - Boston Transcript.

Egyptian Tax Receipts.

The tax collectors' receipts of the ancient Egyptians were inscribed on pieces of broken creckery. Some of them, from the British museum collection, have been translated, and show the tax in Egypt un Stories of Confederate Money.

Congressman Grimes, who represents the Fourth Georgia district, told a couple of stories very pertinent to the subject and which greatly amused his auditors: "In the latter part of 1863," said Mr. Grimes, "a young man who lived in La Grange, Ga., became possessed of the sum of $500 in Confederate money. He was of a thrifty turn and wanted to add to it. With that purpose in view he invested his money in a bar'l of whisky. This he sold by the drink, and at the end of the week had disposed of the whole barrel and had $1,200 in hand, a net profit of $700. The young man was highly elated. He saw his way clear to a fortune in a short time. "Of course he decided to buy more whisky at wholesale and sell it by the small measure, but he had not taken into account the wear and tear which the credit of the Confederacy had suffered during the week which it had taken him to sell out his barrel. When he went to invest in another supply he found that he could not make a purchase similar to his first one for less than $1,500. The financial fluctuations involved in the transaction knocked him so completely out that he retired permanently from commercial life and hired himself out as an agriculturist." -When his hearers had finished laughing at this story, Mr. Grimes gave them the other one. "It was in the same town-La Grange—and in the latter part of 1864," he said. "One old gentleman there who had persistently predicted the failure of the Confederacy was one day deriding the currency that was then so plentiful and of such little value. He said that it was so worthless that nobody would even steal it or pick it up if found on the street. He pulled out a $1,000 bill-Confederate money, of course—and declared that he could tack it with a pin to the fence around the court house, leave it there five hours, and that nobody would think enough of it to put it in his pocket. His offer was accepted. The note was pinned to the fence and at the end of five hours he and the man to whom he had been talking went out to see what there was to be seen." Mr. Grimes here paused.

"Well?" inquired Mr. Allen, of Missis-The $1,000 note was there," replied Mr. Grimes, "and pinned beside it was another Confederate bill, the denomination of which was $2,000."-Atlanta Constitu-

Visit to a Repairing Factory. The place looked like a ghastly caricature of a butcher shop in the land of the cannibals, but it was only the inner sanctum of a manufacturer of artificial limbs. Arms, legs, hands, feet—what you will-hung on walls, screened in glass cases or laid about in heaps, greeted the eye wherever it rested. There were audacious pictures of gentlemen in various active employments, who, having "tried your valuable leg would have no other." of those graceful men was pictured in the act of riding a bicycle. Another bore his whole weight on an artificial leg while plying a miner's pick at a mass of rock over his head. Still another stood on his sound leg and with the artificial leg drove a spade deep into the soil of a garden plot. Three were farmers following the pedestrian without a nose-all with at least one artificial leg. "Do they really do all that?" inquired

the reporter. "Perhaps not quite as well as you'd suppose from the cut, but it, is true that there are a good many thousand men with artificial legs doing work that one would think, likely to require the aid of sound

"Then you come pretty nearly supplying any natural loss?"

"Pretty nearly. The war gave a great impetus to the manufacture of artificial limbs, and we are still making limbs for the veterans.'

"How long does an artificial limb last?" "That depends upon whether it is an arm or a leg and upon various other considerations. I've known an artificial leg to be in use twenty-five years. The more elaborate attempts to counterfeit nature, the more liable the member to get out of order and require renewal. We make arms and hands with which the wearer writes, uses knife and fork at table and performs many operations that one might think impossible."—New York Telegram.

Lower the Meat Bills.

Everybody has his or her way of living, and, if they would tell, the whole race might be benefited by it. But whatever the theories may be, whether one reader believes in a meat diet and another does not, it would be interesting to know how each succeeded. The writer has often heard the remark: "I wonder how a man on $10 manages to live?" Yes, it may be a wonder, but hundreds of men do it, and the writer knows, within the range of his own experience at least, half a dozen men who do it, and do it seemingly very nicely. Their wives wear inexpensive but neat and attractive looking clothes, the children who go to school look as clean and as well dressed as the children of some other men who earn more, and the presumption is that each of these families get enough to eat. At all events they certainly look as if they did.

Now, with a little study, the writer does not hesitate to say many families could save money.

"Where?" Right in the house; right on top of the table. If a man can afford certain dishes and doesn't care whether he will later be troubled with dyspepsia, all right; but if he has not the very necessary 'where-with' he ought to knock off on some of his meat bills. By this means he would have more money to expend for clothing and for a few of the things he cannot now enjoy and which he is forced to consider as luxuries. - Boston Clobe.

Leader of a Monkey Tribe.

When they get ready to start on their expedition an old monkey, the leader of the tribe, with a staff in his hand, so as to stand upright more easily, marches ahead on two legs, thus being more elevated than the others, so as to see signs of danger more readily. The rest follow him on all fours. The leader advances slowly and cautiously, carefully reconneitering in all directions, till the party arrives at the corn field. He then assigns the sentinels to their respective posts. All being now In readiness, the rest of the tribe ravage and eat to their heart's content. When they retire each one carries two or three ears of corn along, and from this provision the sentinels are regaled on their arrival at their lair.

Here we see ability to rule and a will-ingness to submit to rule; a thoughtful preparation of means to the end in view and a recognition of the rights of the sentinels to be suitably rewarded at the close of the expedition. Wherein does all this differ from a similar foray of a tribe of savage men? The only difference is in degree; otherwise it is much that