CITY CORDIALS.

—Read J. V. Wockbach's new ad. on another page.

WANTED:—A 15 or 16 year old boy. Good Wages. Enquire at this office.

—The first day of November will be an eventful day. Mark it down and notice what transpires.

—The F. E. White hose house, which has been located on Seventh Street, is being moved back on the lot adjoining the rear.

—The tickets will go on sale for the entertainment next Tuesday evening Saturday morning at J. P. Young's. Prices 35 and 25 cents.

—If Ashland has a rally, they will surely secure the young republicans of Plattsmouth, as the admiration which was created in their breasts by the Ashland belles has not yet died out.

—Go to the grand recital given by Miss Paul and Miss Maud Barnes, next Tuesday evening, at the Waterman opera house. Tickets will be on sale at J. P. Young's Saturday. Prices 35c, 25c.

—The sewer work is at present progressing rapidly and the contractors expect to complete their work within three weeks. The paving is also being pushed, over one block and a half already having been completed.

—Mrs. Peterson, mother of the Peterson Bros. of this city, who fell down a cellar stairs some time ago and dislocated her hip and also received other severe injuries, is rapidly overcoming her misfortune, and will soon be able to be around again.

—Mr. C. F. Smith, a prominent tailor of this city, carried a box of cigars under his arm for a good portion of the day. If a friend approached him with a smile he only opened up the box, and after requesting him to help himself, informed him that "It's a boy."

—Mary Newman, a colored woman who is popular in the city as "Mary," was arraigned before Judge Stiles this morning charged with stealing a couple of ladies' fur cloaks, for which she was arrested last Saturday night. No witness appearing against her, the case was discharged.

—The leap year ball which will be given by several of our belles, in honor of visiting young ladies, is expected to be a grand success. As this will only be the second stage of excitement yet this season, it is expected that the attendance will be overwhelming. They will sing "one more river to cross."

—Miss Clara Paul, who is now working up a program for a musical concert to be given at the opera house next Tuesday, intends giving an entertainment at York, Neb. Miss Maud Barnes, who recently returned from the Oberlin, O., conservatory, will assist her at her concerts. She has secured the best talent in the city, and the entertainment will eclipse any ever given here before of an amateur nature.

—One of the noted public feasters more commonly known as a tramp, infested a wrong house the other day in this city with the intention of working it for a meal. After the man covered a meal which could find room in nothing smaller than a bushel basket outside of his vest, he was in the act of returning thanks to his entertainer for the goodness shown him and making way for the door to take his departure when he was abruptly halted. The gentleman who fed the tramp, realized that he had been sorely imposed upon by the public spirited people, and had sworn vengeance on the last tramp who had promised to do enough work for his dinner and skipped and he had made up his mind to even up on the next one who should try to impose upon him for the sins of the many. The sudden halt which his honor was obliged to make at the door surprised him. The landlord had a whole-bone horse whip laid conveniently away for the occasion, and quickly securing it he requested the tramp to accept of a saw which he offered him and make his way to the wood pile, the sight of which unnerved the unfortunate man. The poor canvasser marched to the wood pile with a dropped head and apparently suffering from as much timidity as he would had a death sentence passed upon him. His employer did not value his own time just then, for it was vengeance he wanted, as he stood at a distance from the man with his horse whip in his hand while the unfortunate tramp sawed enough wood to pay for a week's meals some where where people would be more generous. The landlord informs us that he is under the impression that when this intruder spreads the news to his chums that he will ever more be free from traps.

—Mr. Kalisky, the fine violinist of our city, has kindly consented to assist in the entertainment next Tuesday.

—The funeral of "Buddie" Drummond took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock. All the schools were closed for the afternoon.

—Charles Ellis and Harvey Westlake, who were tried before Judge Stiles yesterday afternoon for waylaying and robbing Jas. Keough of his money and watch last Saturday night, were bound over to the district court by the sum of $200 each. Keough was also held by the sum of $100 as a witness.

—Miss Maud Barnes, of York, Neb., who is well known in our city, having resided here for several years, will assist Miss Paul in her concerts. Many words of praise were heard after she had acquitted herself remarkably well at a concert given by Miss Paul last fall. Since then she has been a student at the Oberlin, Ohio conservatory, where she has improved her rare talent remarkably well. She deserves special mention, and we feel confident that all will appreciate her three selections which are on the programme.

—Judge Haynes, whose return to the city was mentioned in this paper several weeks ago, has again taken his departure for the east. His former wife still resides in this city, and many think she has only a short time longer to live. As many thought who were acquainted with the reprobate judge, he returned to her for no good, but only for the purpose of robbing the old lady of what property she still has remaining in her name. He persuaded her to make a will, willing him all the property. He had interviewed a prominent lawyer of this city and asked for information as to which would be the easiest way to secure the property. As the attorney was in sympathy with the old lady, he understood the situation immediately. He informed the old judge that the best way for him to do would be to persuade the old lady to will her property to him, and he made out the papers for him. We learn that when Mrs. Haynes again makes a will that the first one will not be valued at the the cost of the paper it is written on. After she had made her will, he informed her that he had been married nearly ever since they had been separated. The news almost broke the old lady's heart. He now resides at Jackson, Mich., with his second wife and five children. He left this city for there last Friday.

This is no Jo-Jo-Jo-Joke but a first-class Chinichilla Overcoat, flannel lined, beaver collars and cuffs, can be bought of S. & C. Mayer for $16.

The recital. The recital which is to be given by Miss Clara Paul and Miss Maud Barnes, on Tuesday evening of next week, at the Waterman opera house, will far surpass any amateur previous event. These ladies have spared no pains to make the entertainment first class in every particular, and we are under the impression, judging by what we know of the singers selected, that they will satisfy the most fastidious. The following ladies and gentlemen will assist: Mrs. Frank Carpenter, Miss Lillian Pollock, Mrs. D. A. Campbell, Messrs. C. M. Wead, W. A. Derrick, Geo. Vass, John Moore, and Miss Emma Johnson, as accompanist, and Mr. Kalisky, violinist.

Donnelly, the popular Gents Furnisher and Hatter, has the most complete line of Underwear, Hosiery and Gloves for Fall and Winter wear, in the city. Bear this in mind.

N. P. Lundeen, special examiner for the Equitable Trust Co., is in the city on business for the company.

Miss Maggie Hogue, of Shreve, O., arrived in the city last night. She will visit her sister, Miss Maud Hogue.

Mrs. Sigler, of Corning, Ia., who has been the guest of Mrs. M. McElwain for a few days, will return home this evening.

Silk Hankerchiefs, 25, 50, and 75c. each; Men's Underwear, 15, 25, and 50c. each; Fur Caps, 75c. and $1.00 each at Mayers', the Leading Clothiers.

Sent Back to His Grace. New York, Oct. 18.—Among immigrant arrivals on the steamship Spain, of the National line, today, was a party of destitute men and women who have been sent over by the Duke of Buchingham of England. Work was slack on the other side, and the duke was appealed to with the above result. Some were sick and none had money, so the whole party will be returned to his grace on Saturday next, with collector Magone's compliments.

Unlaundried Shirts, 40c.; Neck Ties, 15c.; Linen Collars, 5c., at Mayers' the Leading Clothiers.

New Nebraska Postmasters. WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—F. G. Endelman was today appointed postmaster at Ellis, Gage county, Neb., vice Joseph C. Sanaman, resigned, and Emma A. Herton at Hollman, Holt county, vice Irene M. Lehman, resigned.

EXTENDED SYMPATHY,

TO THE FRIENDS OF "BUDDIE" DRUMMOND.

For THE HERALD by O. T. Wood.

Extended sympathy and tears Are all of so avail; Yet friends have tendered sympathies 'Tis friends of "Buddie," pale.

Thought tears of friends availeth not, The lifeless form to raise; True sympathy from friends' hearts, May lighten cloudy days.

How vividly this brings to mind, While gay, "we are in death;" In spring, how many buds are chilled by sleet's cold, icy breath?

Though some remain till fall winds blow; Withstood the drought and sun; By silver frost, which comes at night We know they're almost done.

How much like buds and leaves are we? Some blight in spring winds chill; Seems age, like frost, at night to come, Then all fall leaves are still.

Unlike the leaf, in a has a soul, To live longer more; Fall soon, or late, he can have hope To meet those gone before.

The Event of the Season. Every lover of good music should not fail to attend the entertainment next Tuesday evening. Miss Paul has been some weeks making preparations for this entertainment, which will prove to be far superior to anything given in this city. The program consists of solos, double quartettes, mixed quartettes, ladies' quartets, vocal duets, piano duets and piano solos.

Coal Mines in Japan. The principal coal mines in Japan are situated on the island of Takashima, outside of the harbor of Nagasaki. They form one of the principal centers of coal supply in the east, and have now been worked by a process of the government, with all the more recent and improved appliances, for about sixteen years past.

According to a recent official report 2,500 miners are engaged, the total population of the island being 10,000. The remainder is composed of fishermen, officers, mechanics, surface laborers, and a floating population of hangers on to the miners. The latter have daily earnings sold at fixed prices. These consist of rice, vegetables, pickles, tea, fish, beef soup, and occasionally beef, the total daily cost being under five pence.

Married and unmarried men live apart. The latter live in buildings containing living rooms, dormitories and eating rooms. The kitchens and offices are all apart from the dwellings, with special drainage into main conduits. The rooms are warmed by large fire places, and ventilated and lighted by windows fitted with sliding Venetian shutters. The area allotted to each man in the living rooms is about 500 cubic feet of air space.

The married people live in separate apartments, giving about 2,000 feet of air space.—London Times.

An Electric Fire Alarm. A new form of electric fire alarm consists of a closed vessel made of very thin metal and filled with naphtha or other volatile liquid. This is so arranged that when the naphtha vaporizes, as a consequence of a rise in the temperature of the surrounding air, the thin sides of the metallic chamber bulge out, and in so doing come in contact with electric pieces, through which an electric circuit is completed and an alarm bell rung.—San Francisco Chronicle.

The Wonders of Memory. In the course of a recent conversation with a friend I observed that my story about the remarkable memory of a member of Dr. Crosby's congregation had been received rather skeptically in some quarters, and in at least one case its truth flatly denied. "The lady has a wonderful memory," said my friend, "but she does not stand alone. There is Joseph Jefferson, for instance. He told me not long ago that he could remember almost every play he had ever acted in and could repeat his part all the time of the performance. Not long ago he tried the experiment with a part he hadn't played for twenty years and found himself perfect in it."—The Critic.
