

The Evening Herald. OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY. A. Salisbury, Dentist, Rockwood Building, Telephone No. 35. Dr. Stiglas, Office in Gering's Drug Store, Residence Cor. Sixth and Granite, Telephone No. 42. Dr. Withers, the Palace Dentist, Union Block, over Fricke's Drug Store, Plattsmouth.

CITY CORDIALS.

Judge Russell to-day issued a license to wed to John S. Bailor and Miss Anna Fairhurst of South Bend. Lost—A lady's gold breast pin, set with small diamond in centre. The finder will be rewarded on leaving it at this office. —The hard rain of last night settled the earth over several of the sewer ditches. One place in need of repair is at the corner of Fourth and Vine streets. —It pains the heart of the average enterprising citizen to see those 29 foot plank going down on Main street. It is time for improvement, and Main street is deserving of at least twelve blocks of good stone or brick walk. —Here's a chance for a corner lot investment. Admission to the concert at Rockwood hall to-night will be only 10 cents, while you will get in return 25 cents worth of good musical talent. The bright sunshine of to-day has dried the mud up so that none need stay away on that account.

Owing to the inclement weather last evening, the attendance at the entertainment given by St. Andrews' Brotherhood at Rockwood hall was very small and only part of the programme was performed. The complete programme will be rendered some evening next week (date to be published tomorrow) when all are invited to be present. —The soft, balmy, spring-like breezes which blew from the southwest all day yesterday, brought a valuable rain last evening. The lightning, which was as incessant as in mid-summer, purified our atmosphere, and the dashing rain gave us a fresh, bracing air today which it is delightful to breathe, and dampened our dry soil—all for our good. So why should we kick about the mud?

The K. C. Train last evening carried two passengers who wished to go out on the cut-off toward Ashland, a gentleman and his wife, whose names we were unable to learn. They were to get off at Oresopolis and wait for the Schuyler train. As told to us it seems the conductor there got off the front end of the train registered and signaled to go on, forgetting the two passengers here to change. The couple, however, attempted to get off while the train was moving and the lady received a sprain, from the pain of which she fainted when helped into the station. Agent Clement telegraphed here for T. P. Livingston, who went out and treated the injury.

A very small audience assembled last night to hear the entertainment given by St. Luke's Chapter of St. Andrews' Brotherhood, and a portion only of the programme was given. Two readings by Messrs. Taite and Barber, "Misadventure at Margabe," (Ingoldsbys Legends) by Mr. Barber, and "She Would be a Mason" by Mr. Taite. These were interesting and comic, the latter being rendered especially so in Mr. Taite's irresistible manner. Messrs. Kempster and Barwick sang respectively the "Owl" and "The Maid of the Mill." The two quartettes by Messrs. Barwick, Cawthor, Kempster and Wead were tastefully rendered, and appreciated by the audience. —Plattsmouth will soon have as beautiful and well graded streets as any city of hills could have; furnishing driveway and park avenues equal to those of any of her sister cities. The streets following along the street-car line have been raised or lowered to the established grade, at east Oak street the work is well under way and will be finished soon. On Third and Sixth streets the filling of the old creek bed and cutting of Sixth street hill, promises to leave them in first-class condition. Credit is due the citizens and authorities for what has been done and is being done, but to do the size of our city justice the work should not cease till Fourth and Fifth streets are made passable between Pearl and Granite streets, the creek bed along Pearl filled, and all the principal streets graded from end to end.

PERSONALS.

Capt. H. E. Palmer returned from Lincoln this morning. Rev. Ed. Sallbach, presiding elder of the Western German M. E. conference, passed through Plattsmouth this morning. Hon. John C. Watson, republican candidate for float representative, of this district, returned to Nebraska City this morning. Mrs. H. Calkins returned to day from her old home on the Hudson, in New York state, where she has visited during the last six weeks. Men's Heavy working boots worth $3, $3.50 and $4.00 selling at half price to close before our removal. S. & C. Mayer the Popular Clothier.

McSHANE'S MONKEY-WORK. He Adopts All Schemes Possible to Obtain Votes.

Look Out For Fraud. Any fair-minded voter who realizes the meanness and deceitfulness which is being bowled down to by McShane in this campaign, cannot but turn in disgust from the support of a man who seeks public office by such dishonorable means. One measure adopted, according to reports, will be the circulation, on election day, of tickets which are like the republican ticket in all particulars, with the exception of one name. Where the name of John M. Thayer should be, is printed, "Democratic candidate for Governor, John A. McShane."

Another scheme, which is now being carried on, is sending letters signed by McShane, to voters over the state. Inclosed with the letter is his (McShane's) letter of acceptance, which is mentioned, and five pasters, bearing the written name "John A. McShane," which are not mentioned. The pasters are already glued and prepared to be "licked" and pasted over John M. Thayer's name on republican tickets. Beware of bogus tickets, and see that the one you vote is not mutilated.

Here is a copy of the letter being sent out, one of which was received in this city today by a voter, and handed to the HERALD: JOHN A. McSHANE, OMAHA, NEB.

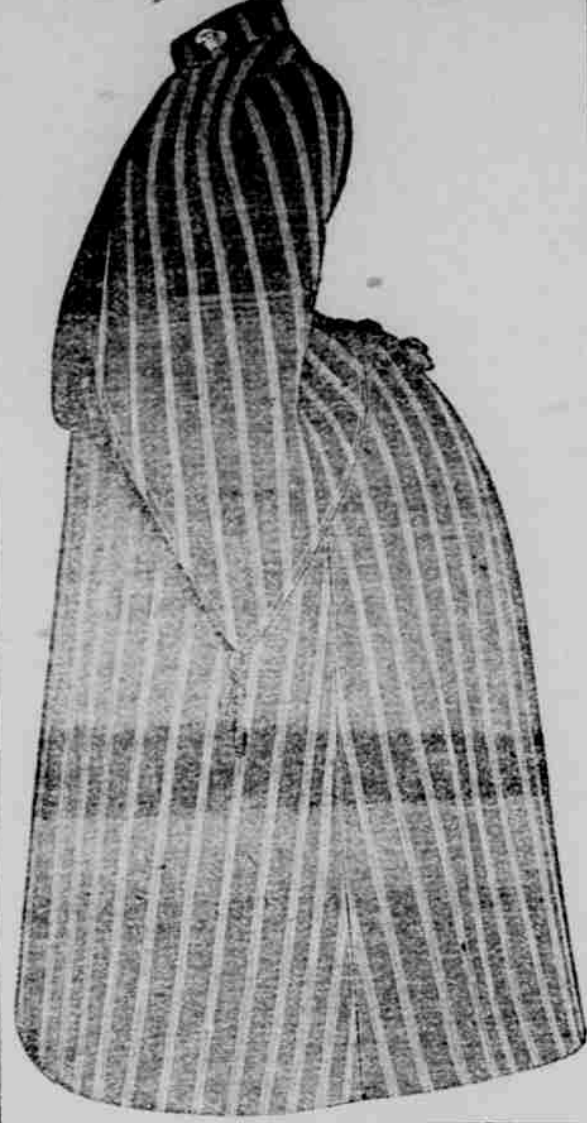

OCTOBER 29, 1888. My Dear Sir:—I enclose herewith my letter accepting the nomination for governor of our state. This letter expresses my views regarding matters of vital importance to you, and if elected, I shall use every effort in my power to carry them into effect. I would be pleased to have you read the same, and, if you can consistently do so, give me your support. Yours very truly, JOHN A. McSHANE.

Political Pointers. Last night, with all the rain and mud, quite an audience of men gathered at the opera house at the call of the band, where they received the blessing of good republican truth. Judge Pound, who was to have spoken, failed to reach Plattsmouth, but his presence was hardly missed because of the sound arguments and rich truth from the tongues of the other orators of the evening. Hon. J. C. Watson, our candidate for float representative, spoke for about thirty minutes. Though short, his speech was complete and interesting. Mr. Watson confined the attention of his hearers largely to the politics of this district, touching the tariff question and national politics tightly. He spoke smoothly and earnestly, proving his points and commanding the close attention of his hearers. Many favorable remarks for Mr. Watson on account of his address, testify for him, and he will receive support from the republicans of this county next Tuesday, which will accord him a nice plurality, and be an honor to republicans of Cass.

John L. Webster, of Omaha spoke for about an hour. Commencing with the national ticket he swept things clean, clear down to the bottom of the ticket—just as the republicans of Cass county will do next Tuesday. Mr. Webster is a powerful speaker, and held the attention of all, carrying their thoughts with his arguments and drawing many rounds of applause and approval from those present. A strong point of the speech was to show voters the necessity of casting their vote straight, the folly of scratching, and assuring them of the victory which is so easily theirs, by so doing. Monday Will be a Cold Day. Pittsburg Commercial Gazette:—The patrons of the ever-popular Academy have a rare treat of fun this week. "It's a Cold Day, or the Laplanders," is the title of the humorous and interesting burlesque there. The Academy won't be left this week, as the clever and jolly company there is sure to fill it nightly. They are well worth seeing. Pittsburg Times:—"A Cold Day, or the Laplanders," at the Academy of Music, delighted a large audience last evening. It is replete with funny situations, capital hits, pleasing music and good songs, and produces roars of laughter. Pittsburg Post:—"A Cold Day" was played to a packed house at the Academy last evening. The company is excellent. A number of the latest songs are introduced, and every situation is side-splitting. Phil Young is pleased to announce to the theatre going public that "A Cold Day" will please everyone that likes fun and fine singing, and should like to see a big house next Monday. Why Was I? Mr. Editor:—As a citizen and taxpayer of this city I should like to know why the gas lamp on the corner of 6th and Marble streets, is placed on the side of the street directly opposite the crossings, in which location it is little or no use to persons passing that point on such a dark and muddy night as last evening. A CRITIC. [The lamp was probably placed where it is because one or more interested citizens requested that it be placed there, as that is the way street lamps are located.]

The Study of Diamonds. Strange as it may seem to the uninitiated, no two diamonds are exactly alike, but each has a virtue and a value peculiarly its own. It is just as rare to see two individuals exactly alike in face, form and feature as it is to see two diamonds. The idea, also, that a dealer in diamonds can tell by looking at a gem its exact value is all nonsense. A diamond has to be studied. While the aid of a glass will help to discover the slightest flaw or imperfection, it does not bring out its true value, by a long way. Men who handle money constantly can detect a light coin by simply handling and examining casually, but a fine diamond has got to be studied from all points before a safe estimate can be put upon its value. Shape, size, perfection of cutting and such matters cut an important figure in a diamond's value.—Diamond Dealer in Globe-Democrat.

Sport for the Sportsmen.

A few days every fall are set apart by a number of Plattsmouth's sporting citizens as a time for hunting and sporting, which affords a short rest from the cares of business. They are known as the Plattsmouth Sporting Club. The season is now at hand for the next annual fall hunt, and the club met at the office of W. S. Wise last night and elected officers for the coming year, as follows: A. W. White, Pres.; J. G. Richey, Vice-Pres.; W. S. Wise, Sec.; Capt. L. D. Bennett, Treas. The number of points allowed for each kind of game remains the same as last year, and one addition, the pheasant, was added to the prize list. Any bird of that type is to count 19 points. Next Thursday and Friday are to be devoted to hunting. The hunting grounds have not yet been decided on. The grand game supper will be held on the following Monday night, Nov. 12, at the Riddle house. Thos. Hiddle and W. H. Baker were elected captains for the occasion, and sides chosen as follows:

- THOS. RIDDLE: J. P. Antill, W. P. Cook, S. M. Chapman, W. S. White, A. W. White, Wm. Weber, L. D. Bennett, J. M. Johns, U. V. Mathews, P. Seidenstricker, S. H. Atwood, W. H. Schildknecht, C. C. Parmele, C. W. Sherman. W. H. BAKER: M. E. O'Brien, W. D. Jones, W. Turner, J. G. Richey, F. E. White, O. Teft, W. Holmes, A. B. Todd, F. G. Fricke, W. B. Shryock, W. Neville, W. W. Drummond, Ed. Read the Truth.

It has been reported over the county by certain parties that Allen Beeson held the Grand Jury, at the April term of court 1887, two weeks. So we publish the following affidavit from the clerk of the courts and ask our readers to govern themselves accordingly. The State of Nebraska } ss. I, W. C. Showalter, Clerk District Court in and for said county, do hereby certify that the Grand Jury duly called, impaneled and sworn at the April term of District Court, A. D. 1887 was in session for four days and drew pay for four days and their mileage as shown by the records in my office. C. W. SHOWALTER, Clerk Dist. Court, Cass county, Neb. Mr. Beeson is too well known for any other reports to injure him, for all such reports are false if you just ask about them.
