OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

A. Salisbury, Dentist, Rockwood Building, Telephone No. 55. Dr. Higgins, Office in Gering's Drug Store, Residence Cor. Sixth and Granite, Telephone No. 12. Dr. Withers, the Painless Dentist, Union Block, over Fricks' Drug Store, Plattsmouth.

CITY CORDIALS.

Regular meeting of the Band of Hope tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock at G. A. R. hall.

The ladies sewing circle of St Lukes Guild will meet at the residence of Mrs. A. W. White tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Wonder why the young people of this neighborhood do not agitate surprise parties a little more? Ask the authorities on leap year.

John Johnson and Miss Mary Hensen, both of Louisville, were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony this morning by Judge Russell.

Miss Lizzie Steinke entertained about twenty-five of her young lady and gentlemen friends at her home on Seventh street last evening. The usual amusements were indulged in.

Miss Lelia Thomas was admirably surprised last evening by the appearance of a party of about fifteen of her friends at her home on Chicago avenue. A very enjoyable evening was spent and the party did not break up their amusements until after midnight.

Mr. Joe Klein, who has recently opened up a clothing store here, has witnessed so much more of an increase in his business than he at first expected, that he was obliged to make a second trip to Chicago to purchase goods, where he left for last night. He will return in a few days to replenish his stock.

The Nebraska Telephone Company have located an exchange office at Union, a small village a few miles south of here. The instruments were put in there on Monday last. The business men are about to take hold of the improvement. Union, though only a small place at present, gives every promise of a thriving town in the near future. The paper of that place should lead.

When a young man and his lady friend, are invited out to a private dance, sociable, or other amusements too numerous to mention, they are heard to sing when starting out "We won't go home till morning" and on the return, when the morning is soon to dawn upon them, and the horrors of the coming day appear before them in the shape of hard work without rest, they then begin to sing: "Home, sweet home, there's no place like home."

The remains of Jerry Daniher, who accidentally shot himself while out hunting near Carlin, Nevada, one day last week, are expected to arrive tomorrow evening or Friday morning. If they arrive here in the evening, the funeral will not be held until the following morning, if not until morning, they will be conveyed directly to the Catholic church where a short service will be held after which, the procession will proceed to the Oak Hill cemetery, where interment will take place. All members of the A. O. H. of which he was a former member, here, are requested to meet at Fitzgerald's hall tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock to make preparations for the burial of their late brother.

We are in receipt of "Fremont Illustrated," an attractive illustrated pamphlet issued under the auspices of the "Trade Bureau," Fremont, Nebraska. This is a publication of more than ordinary excellence and interest, and is in reality a well-written essay, without personal advertisement of any kind, on the inexhaustible resources of corn, hay and live-stock of the whole state of Nebraska being devoted entirely to live-stock subjects. Fremont has come to be one of the great general live-stock centres of the West, and its great establishments which the book illustrates, and an immense showing of beef cattle, thorough-breds, native and imported horses, sheep-feeding and hog interests are splendidly indicative of the resources of the state generally.

A certain boarding house that we know of in the city can boast of good protection, and when necessity demands it, can represent a good number of the professions. If any one of the boarders meets with any serious accident, there is a doctor in the house to stitch him up or set broken bones; if he receives the injuries from a scrapper, there is a lawyer on hand to prosecute him and a reporter near by to catch on and write him up. If any of the number wishes to purchase land, there is a capitalist there to buy from and a professor to figure for them, and a man to purchase the papers from and make them out. If any one of the party is financially embarrassed and wants to move to another town, and there would be no chance to get there, unless on a tie pass, there are three railroad men present to help him out, and a telegraph operator to forward the word to that town so that he can be given a royal

Monte Cristo. Boston Daily Globe: The talented melodramatic star, Aiden Benedict, opened a week's engagement yesterday at the Windsor theatre in that powerful piece, "Monte Cristo." The star had quite an idea when he placed $5,000 in bright, new bills, in the store of Stephenson, the grocer, directly opposite the main entrance to the Windsor. The sum was placed there as a guarantee that the entire production of "Monte Cristo" is as perfect a production of that piece as has ever been given in America. If the public verdict at the end of the week is against the star, piece, support and scenic setting, the money is to be donated to some local charity hereafter to be designated. Judging from the people turned away from both performances yesterday, and the enthusiastic plaudits from those who were fortunate enough to get into the theatre, there is very little doubt of the popular verdict. The play was cast, staged and given with a perfection that carried out all the promises of the star and management. Mr. Benedict, as Edmund Dantes, gave a masterly assumption of this great character, and carried the house by storm. He played the part with rare good judgment, rising to the powerful scene with a most brilliant reading of the character. His support was in the main good. They evidenced careful and systematic drill, and in consequence played together like well-oiled machinery. The scenery was elaborate, artistically correct, and all that could be asked. The entire production was thoroughly satisfactory from the rise to the fall of the curtain.

Aiden Benedict in "Monte Cristo," will appear at the Waterman opera house tomorrow (Thursday) night. Seats are now on sale at the usual place. The company makes a deposit of $1,000 to insure the satisfaction of the theatre-goers, and if all who attend are not well paid for their money by the entertainment, the amount will be refunded to them at the ticket office.

Greenwood Creatings. ED HERALD—Dear Sir:—Please allow space in your columns for a few items from Greenwood. It is the only way now we can be heard, as the Journal (our last paper) has flown. It has gone to Eagle to keep Alf Cooly cool.

W. L. Holland, of South Omaha, is in town visiting friends this week. Church festivals, oyster suppers, lectures, dances, and protracted meetings will soon be in order.

The M. E. church directors are talking of buying the late residence of Edwin Leary for a parsonage, and we think it is a nice place, cheap, and offered on easy terms.

Atty's C. A. Woosley and G. W. Clark are attending district court at Plattsmouth this week.

Church festivals, oyster suppers, lectures, dances, and protracted meetings will soon be in order.

If reports are true, some of our democratic friends here need attention. A gentleman was telling me today that some of the most prominent ones have been off of feed for fully fifteen days and are getting very poor and weak. And we have been very creditably informed that some of the boys have needed a night watch since November 6, to prevent indigestion, caused from an over dose of row.

On Wednesday evening last we had one of the rippingest ratifications ever held in this "neck o' the woods." Fully two thousand citizens were out to see the "elephant" and to see who could make the most noise. Tin horns, brass bands, whistles, horse fire, bon fires, and little boys' lungs were the order of the night till the wee sma' hours of the morning.

Mr. Henry Cutler and Miss Lillie Walker, of this place were united in marriage last week and are now sight-seeing in Denver. More anon, SELAII.

The W. R. C. Concert. The following programme, which will be rendered under the auspices of the W. R. Corps, is being prepared at present. The concert will be held in the Waterman opera house on Tuesday evening next, November 27:

A Mighty Mean Man. I consider anyone who will steel a man's daily paper from the front of his home, a mighty mean man, and that he would stoop to steel the coppers from a land man's eyes. Once or twice, I have not complained of, but when a man will keep it up for the sake of saving fifteen cents per week, he is about as small as they make them. It's time to stop. The party is known, and it would be a wise plan for him to abandon such a meanly
