SMALLPOX TROUBLE IN CANADA

Three More Cases This Week at Sarnia, Ontario.

SARNIA, Nov. 22.—Matters had been going on well in town in the smallpox trouble as far as any new cases were concerned and it was hoped that there would not be any more new ones; but on Wednesday the news spread that there were three new cases—one little daughter of the late Charles Foster and living in the back part of the Second Ward on Colina street and two cases in the Fourth Ward, two parties named Lacroix. Dr. Morrison had been attending the little Foster girl and The Star interviewed him. He said that she had a bad case of smallpox and that he had reported it to the Medical Health officer and the president of the Board of Health.

The Foster house was quarantined on Wednesday after the dinner hour and steps were at once to be taken in the Lacroix cases.

The Lacroix cases were Henry Lacroix and his son living on Brook street. Henry had been working until Wednesday morning. Mrs. Lacroix had lately worked in a room up-stairs in the Owey block, the door of which leads into the same hallway as the up-stairs rooms over Higgins store. Mrs. Albert Paquet lived in the room and Mrs. Lacroix worked with her. Mrs. Paquet lived at Lacroix after giving up the room and she left for Saginaw the other day. The Board of Health telegraphed to the authorities up there that she had left a house where there was smallpox.

The Foster girl is said to have visited the Gray girl when the latter first got sick and before the case was pronounced smallpox. She was moved Wednesday night to the hospital. The Board of Health had a meeting Thursday at 4 p. m., and a committee was appointed to take steps towards making a further addition to the hospital if other cases occurred. Dr. Oliver reported that it would be dangerous to remove the Lacroix boy now, the house was quarantined and the public was safe from infection from it.

Higgins was very anxious to know when the quarantine on his place will be removed. It is a matter of judgment with the Medical Health officer, and probably some day next week the quarantine will be raised.

On Friday the Board of Health quarantined a couple of houses in the Lacroix district, the inhabitants of which have been exposed to infection by the Lacroix cases. This was considered advisable by the Board in consideration of the fact that it is doing everything possible to stamp out the disease.

Shot Dead in Court.

MACON, Ga., Nov. 22.—The Brunswick & Western railroad company has been missing oranges from its cars at Riverdale and on Tuesday morning a white man by the name of Weaver was arrested, charged with stealing the fruit, and carried to Tifton, in Worth county, for a commitment trial. A colored train man by the name of Luke Brown was summoned as a state witness in the case, but was warned by Arch Golden that if he appeared as a witness against Weaver he would shoot him. Brown went on the stand, and as he began to tell what he knew Golden shot him through the bowels with a Winchester rifle. The man is expected to live but a few hours.

The Alleged Election Frauds.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 22.—Chairman Cowden, of the republican state committee, will print a card in the morning in answer to the democratic charges of fraud on the part of the republicans, in which he says that in all counties in which frauds are charged by the democrats the election machinery and returning boards are in the hands of the democrats. He adds that he is prepared to prove, and will prove at the proper time and place, that all sorts of violation of law were committed in the interest of the democratic party. He claims Goff's election as governor.

Official Vote of Kansas.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 21.—The official vote of the state is as follows: Harrison 181,502; Cleveland, 102,541; Streeter, 36,286; Fisk, 6,452. The plurality for Harrison is 79,961, a gain of 1,400 over 1886. Humphrey, for governor, 178,986; Martin, 106,939; Humphrey's plurality, 72,009. The plurality given for Harrison is the largest given by any state, even exceeding Pennsylvania, which cast a vote nearly three times as great as Kansas.

Connecticut's Official Vote.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 22.—The official canvass of the vote of Connecticut shows Cleveland's plurality to be 336.

Harrison's Secretary.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 22.—The president-elect this evening tendered Elijah W. Halford, managing editor of the Indianapolis Journal, the position of private secretary.

Mr. Halford is forty-three years of age and came from England with his parents when a child, who settled in Cincinnati. He began his newspaper career as reporter on the Indianapolis Journal twenty-five years ago, and rose in a few years to the managing editorship. He was for a time managing editor of the Chicago Inter-Ocean in its first years. Returning to Indianapolis, he resumed the managing editorship of the Journal. He was for a few years private secretary to the late Senator Morton.

He has taken an active and prominent part in Indiana politics, and was a delegate to the late Chicago convention, representing Indiana on the committee on platform, and shares with Hon. Wm. McKinley, of Ohio, the distinction of having contributed no inconsiderable share in the construction of the national platform, upon which the late campaign was fought and won.

As an editorial writer he is widely known for his able and incisive political articles, the pungency of his style giving his writings a distinctiveness leaving no doubt on the reader's mind as to their authorship. For several years past Halford has been on intimate and confidential terms with Gen. Harrison, and his selection for this important position now tendered him occasions no surprise here. The new private secretary is married and has one child, a daughter of seventeen. He is the elder brother of J. Halford, of the Washington bureau of the Associated press.

Sued For Two Millions.

SIoux CITY, Ia., Nov. 22.—Suits were filed today in the district court by the heirs of Horace Bacon to set aside a sale for taxes of lands which are now comprised in four important additions to Sioux City. The property is part of the business portion of the city, and is worth $2,000,000. The land was sold for taxes twenty years ago, and the purchasers under the tax title have been endeavoring to buy out the heirs. The latter prefer to go into litigation.

The Virginia Returns.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 22.—The following are the official returns of the vote of Virginia: Cleveland; 151,977; Harrison, 150,442; Cleveland's majority, 1,535. The vote in 1884 was: Cleveland, 145,497; Blaine, 139,359; total, 284,856. Democratic loss, 4,606.

Arkansas Democrats Cry Fraud.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21.—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Little Rock, Ark., says warrants have been sworn out against nearly fifty persons, principally negroes, for illegal voting in the recent election in Jefferson county. Democrats are complainants.

Appointed by the Governor.

DES MOINES, Nov. 22.—The governor has appointed Miss Lucy Curtis, of State Center, a member of the state board of school examiners. She is at present county superintendent of Marshall county.

SHOES IN CHICAGO.

Chat with a Dealer—Getting a Fit—Shoes of Today.

I walked into one of the principal shoe stores on Madison street where shoes are sold on something like scientific ideas, and where the proprietor talked with a sort of philosophy on feet and shoes far above the ordinary merchant.

"Americans," he said, "pay more attention to their feet than they used to. This being the case, the man who caters to the comfort of the feet must make a study of the same. When you and I were boys we bought shoes in which our toes came out to the end of the shoe—right across the end. We also bought, or our fathers did, according to the price, or our father's dealer in shoes today will ever sell a customer a pair of shoes against the end of which the toes will be forced. The shoe of today—that is, the common sense shoe—is always longer than the foot. The stylish shoe is long and narrow. No lady who has any regard for her comfort, to say nothing about her pride, will ever wear anything else than a long and narrow shoe. We are now making a cheap shoe on the same principle. I suppose you know that in England an American is generally known by the kind of shoe he wears. The English wear wide shoes—men and women alike. Some folks think this is done because the English do so much more walking than we Americans. That is not it. It is habit. They don't take the same pains with their feet in the old country that we do over here. I do not know of any nation that does.

"Somebody asked me the other day what sizes were mostly worn in Chicago. My answer rather surprised him. I said 3's and 4's, and more 4's than 3's. He got off the idiotic talk about Chicago women's feet that you find in newspapers of rival cities. The same thing is true of every American city in this age of the world. In some sections of the country children used to run in their bare feet more than they do now. I should say that with ladies a No. 4 is the most generally worn—I won't say called for—shoe in the market. No. 2's, ladies' sizes, you understand, are not worn now, although called for frequently. That is another thing you hear a great deal about in a funny way. I never deceive a customer about his or her number if the question is asked. But when a lady comes in and says to one of the young men, that she wants a No. 2, he looks at her foot, if he can do so without giving offense, and proceeds to fit her.

"I must say for the intelligence of the average woman that this sort of nonsense is not indulged in so much now as formerly. The intelligent woman comes in and says she wants to be fitted, at the same time putting up one of the numbers as we did twenty years ago. We fit the shoe to the foot, and when we have done that it makes precious little difference to the wearer what the number is or whether the last is 'double A' or 'double E.' You know, of course, that 'double A' is a narrow last and 'double E' a very wide last. The widths become wider as the letters run down. The French heel is not worn as much as it was. It is a good thing that is not. No woman's foot ever looked so well in a shoe with a French heel. The half French heel is a popular one.

"The shoe of today," he continued, "are smaller than they were twenty years ago. That is saying that the feet are smaller, of course. That is so, especially with Americans. I don't mean by that that feet are becoming actually smaller. But they are becoming educated, so to speak. Better care is given them in every way. An intelligent dealer fits the foot to the shoe.

"I told you that the tendency is to long shoes. This does not apply to shoes worn on the stage, which are always short. There is more taste displayed in the shoe for the parlor now than there used to be. The lady of taste, if she can afford it, of course, has a pair of shoes to match each dress. One of the prettiest shoes for evening is the undressed kid, orange shade, especially if the dress is of black silk or satin. One of the most stylish things we know of in this line is a lavender. It is exceedingly rich and costs $30."—Chicago Times.

The Termit's Singular Work.

There are several species of the termite, some of which make those great tent shaped mounds of which travelers tell so much, and others building high up in trees. The sort which is so destructive to wood and looks makes its home underground, and approaches the object it intends to convert into mud by tunneling to it. By this means it renders any attempt to watch for its coming. Usually it follows the grain of the wood in its progress, but it is not always the case, the direction being determined by expediency. A chest which has not been totally destroyed will show that the insect has gone back and forth up and down, just as the gutters of the wood or its thickness renders the most expedient.

Frequently the termite will perform a most singular work in the effort to make the best use of any wooden structure to which it has found its way. If, for example, it has bored through the length of a pillar supporting a house, and finds at the top that there is wood which it would like for food, it first uses up the wood of the pillar and then fills the hollow shell thus created with mud, packed until it has hard as granite. The pillars of cast iron, which are used for rebuilding in cities, are found to be more shells of wood, compactly filled, except for a tunnel through the length with a pillar of hard granite at the top.

COUGH! and COUGH! and COUGH!

What in the world is the reason you will cough and keep coughing and still keep trying inferior medicines when BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP will positively relieve your cough at once? This is no advertising scheme, but an actual fact, and we guarantee it. Sold by G. P. Smith & Co., druggists.
