CITY CORDIALS.

—The following salute was heard from a couple of sewer overseers as they separated on the streets yesterday: "Over the sewer."

—Judge Russell joined in holy bonds of matrimony yesterday Mr. Henry S. Tucker and Miss Ella Dunston, at the home of the bride's parents in this city.

—Mr. Joe Klein, the one price clothier, returned from Chicago last Saturday night. He has purchased another stock to add to his already well selected stock of clothing and gents furnishings.

—Will J. Wardick, our wide-awake druggist, received Saturday a car load of holiday goods, he is looking for more this week and when they arrive will have the largest and finest stock of holiday goods ever brought to the city.

—The coach which was smashed up in the bridge wreck between Malvern and Greenwood last Saturday, was received at the shops today. About one half of the coach is torn open and badly smashed. It had the appearance of a load of kindling wood more than a passenger coach.

—Since election is over and protection has won, every one should patronize home industries, and buy the flour that is made at Heisel's mills. These mills make corn meal, buckwheat flour, graham flour and a good quality of wheat flour. Buy your flour at home and thus keep your money at home.

—Mr. Joe Martin, a farmer living a few miles west of the city, sold about the largest hog ever brought to the city to Mr. Higgins, butcher, last Saturday. The porker weighed over six hundred pounds when dressed, and reached the whole length of the farmer's wagon box. Wonder if he has any more like that?

—We were furnished a sack of buckwheat flour from Heisel's mills this morning as a sample of their first-class work. The mill has only recently been opened up here and the proprietor has so far met with good success and their future prospects are very promising. Any first-class grades of flour, feed, graham and meal can be purchased at their mill.

—Mr. Philip Kraus, the enterprising fruit dealer who has a shop on lower Main received two hundred and twenty-two barrels of the finest varieties of apples from Youngstown, N. Y. The following varieties were received: Wagner, Roxbury, Russett, Baldwin, Rhode Island Greening, Northern Spy, Spitzenburg and Seckonofurber. They are the finest lot of apples we have yet seen in the city.

—Wm. D. Murray, who died in the county jail here last Thursday night, was buried yesterday afternoon in the Oak Hill cemetery. A short service was held at the Episcopal church by the Rev. H. B. Burgess, before the remains were conveyed to the cemetery. The obsequies were under the direction of the Knights of Labor of this city, of which he was a member. There was a good attendance and the orders well represented.

—Mr. Charles Eads and wife, who have been spending their honeymoon in Burlington for the past week, returned to this city last evening. The bride was made the recipient of some very handsome presents upon their arrival at Burlington, and upon their return here they were surprised to find several very nice presents which had been received from friends at a distance after they had taken their departure. We are pleased to welcome them among us as citizens.

—A number of strikers started out to Platte Bottom this morning in a wagon in search of decorations for the purpose of decorating the opera house for their coming ball on the evening of Wednesday, Nov. 28th, Thanksgiving eve. They expect the coming event to be one of their grandest, and they are looking forward to it with strong expectations. They have spared no pains to furnish all conveniences for the dancers, and as a large number of tickets have already been disposed of there will certainly be a large attendance.

—As there are men here who are always on the alert for the almighty dollar, we can propose a scheme which will probably be a paying one for some person who would take a hold. The toboggan slide has become very popular as an amusement for young people over the entire country, and as the young people of this city are no less ambitious than in any other in supporting a good healthful exercise, why cannot a first-class toboggan slide be erected and well supported here during the dull winter months? Some enterprising business man should build a toboggan slide as soon as the first snow falls and the young laddies and their lassies will surely patronize. The investment would be a paying one if the right man would take hold.

LAST NIGHT'S OPERA.

A Strong Presentation of Ermine, or Birds of a Feather.

From Saturday's Nebraska City Press:

The Andrews company appeared at the opera house last night in "Ermine, or Birds of a Feather," before a very large and cultured audience. The opera itself is not the equal to "La Mascotte," "Olivette," or other light, bright productions of that kind, though sparkling and very funny at times. The company is a very strong one and every part was well sustained. As Teddy and the Baron Fig Mon Tig, Ed. Andrews is as estimable and excellent as in the part of Koko. Fred Clayton as the other "bird of a feather" did some fine work. Others deserving special mention are Arthur Percy, as the governor; J. E. Reynard, as Lord Rumwell; Miss Clayton, as Minnie; Laura Rhodes, as Celia; and Nan Wilkinson, as Princess Granpont.

This afternoon "La Mascotte" will be presented at popular prices, and tonight, Mikado.

Man Killed at Pacific Junction.

Early this morning a man was found in the east end of the C. B. & Q. yards near what is known as the Chinese puzzle at Pacific Junction. He had been run over, the wheels passing over his chest, and he was badly mangled having been dragged along the track for some distance. His face was badly smashed and filled with cinders. He is supposed to belong to a company of bear trainers now at the junction. Four dollars and fifty cents was found in his pockets, but no papers can be found to identify him, and his name is unknown.

—The boys all say, "we have a horse on Omaha." Yesterday a man living in this city went to the telephone office here and told the central at Omaha that he wanted to talk to a certain man there, whose name is withheld out of respect for him. A messenger boy was sent to him with a check informing him that he was wanted at the central office, as a man in Plattsmouth wished to talk with him. He secured his traveling apparel and started out in great haste for the B. & M. depot. He arrived in this city by the flyer, and went directly to the telephone office here and inquired for the man who wanted to talk with him. The man was sent for and a conversation was held with no wire to intervene. That man believes the telephone is a great convenience, but we believe he wants to do the whole thing himself. Wonder if they have any more like him in Omaha?
