HARRISON'S SOUTHERN POLICY

A Communication to the Editor of a South Carolina Paper.

GREENVILLE, S. C., Nov. 27.—The Greenville Daily News yesterday printed a letter recently received by its editor from General Harrison, and published by his permission. It was written in reply to a letter urging that the southern commercial interests would be relieved from the obstruction caused by doubts and fears regarding the southern policy of the coming administration of General Harrison, and asked that he make some general assurances of his purpose to follow a conservative course towards the south. After stating that he was not ready to make any public utterances on a public question, General Harrison said:

"I understand that you have yourself been satisfied with the expressions made by me in my public utterances to visiting delegations during the campaign. When the surprise and disappointment which some of your people have felt over the result has passed away, and they give some calm thought to the situation, I think they will be as much surprised as I am that they should in thought or speech, impute to me an unfriendliness toward the south. The politics in legislation advised by the republican party, I believe, are wholesome for the whole country, and if those who, in their hearts, believe with us upon these questions, would act with us, some other questions that give you local concern would settle themselves."

Room for the Veterans of 1840.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The inauguration committee proposes to reserve a place in the line for veterans of the election campaign of 1840, and the committee is desirous of hearing from all such persons who would like to be in the parade.

What the Editor Has to Do.

We apologize for mistakes made in all former issues and say that they were inexcusable, and all an editor has to do is: To hunt news and clean the rollers and set type and sweep the floor and pen short items and fold the papers and write the wrappers and talk to visitors and distribute type and carry water and saw wood and read the proofs and correct the mistakes and hunt the shears to write editorials and dodge the bills and dun delinquents and take cussings from the whole force and tell our subscribers that we need money—we say that we've no business to make mistakes while attending to those little matters and getting our living on gopher tail soup flavored with imagination, and wearing old shoes and no collar, and a patch on our pants, obliged to turn a smiling countenance to the man who tells us our paper isn't worth $1.00 anyhow and that he could make a better one with his eyes shut.—Ex.

Minor Gets His Money.

An express package addressed to P. C. Minor, Omaha, containing $15,000, with $95 express charges, came in on a train from the south today. It was sent from New Orleans, and was one twentieth of the capital prize of $300,000. Mr. Minor has kept his good fortune a secret, and many conjectures have been made as to who the lucky party is. Ticket 56,621 drew the prize, and was held by some one in Plattsmouth, which the prize list confirmed. The ticket was held by P. C. Minor, of the Burlington & Missouri supply department, and was probably purchased by him for a young lady friend in Omaha.—Omaha Herald.

Thanksgiving Services.

The usual union Thanksgiving services will be held at the M. E. church tomorrow at 11 o'clock a. m. The sermon will be preached by Rev. J. T. Baird, of the Presbyterian church.

Don't go to Mike's blacksmith shop for arctics when you can get them for 85c at Sherwood's.

VERY ILL.

Name, oh, doctor! name your fee!
Ask—, I'll pay whate'er it be!
Skill like yours, I know comes high!
Only do not let me die;
Get me out of this, and I
Cash will ante, instantly!

CONVALESCENT.

Cut, oh, doctor; cut that fee;
Cut, or not a dime from me;
I am not a millionaire,
But I'll do whatever's square;
Only make a bill that's fair,
And I'll settle presently.

WELL!

Book, oh, doctor; book your fee!
Charge—, I'll pay it futurely,
When the crops all by are laid,
When every other bill is paid,
(Or when of death again afraid)
I'll pay it—grudgingly.

—Mr. C. E. Harris, of Nebraska City, was married to Miss Lizzie Leesley, at the home of Mr. J. E. Leesley, brother of the bride, yesterday afternoon. Mr. H. B. Burgess, pastor of the Episcopal church here, performed the ceremonies. The happy couple took their departure for Nebraska City this morning at which place they intend to make their future home. The Herald wishes them much happiness.

It is now reported that Senator John Sherman will be invited to enter the cabinet as chief of foreign affairs, and if he accepts, he will worry the democrats fully as much as Mr. Blaine would.

And You Will Wear Diamonds—A Farewell Closing and Clearance Sale

Of watches, clocks and jewelry. Sale will commence Dec. 1st, 1888 and will continue until March 4th, 1889. This is not a bankrupt stock. The goods are all new and of the latest designs, are all paid for in full, and first-class in every respect. Remember all goods purchased of me will be just as I represent them, will give a guarantee with each and every article sold, and will allow you the privilege of having the goods tested by any of our city jewelers. And if you find they are not as represented, will make you a present of the article purchased and your money refunded. Remember this is the great jewelry year. The year of 1888 was the one predicted to be the greatest year for the purchasing of jewelry, of the 19th century. Jewelers all over the world are preparing for and expecting a great harvest. In the eastern portion of the continent jewelry will be sold and presented as holiday gifts, and as the people living in the eastern states propose to make glad the hearts of their many jewelers by patronizing and giving them the harvest of their holiday trade; as well as making glad the hearts of their many friends by presenting them with such beautiful and magnificent presents of gold and silver; why can't you people of the western states participate in the good work and make glad the hearts of your many jewelers by giving them a harvest for the first time in nineteen hundred years? Remember citizens, I am a jeweler of the first water, and not expecting to remain with you longer than March the 4th, 1889, I will call your attention to the fact that I have made arrangements to supply all of Cass county with jewelry before I leave. So fear not. I can supply the wants of every person in the county, in the jewelry line, by calling at my place of business. Citizens, hoping you will pardon me for making such a brief speech, I have been out through the different sections of the country electioneering every night for the past three months for my friend Grover Cleveland, and I am so hoarse it is almost impossible for me to speak at all, however, I will favor you with another speech tomorrow evening telling you my reasons for leaving Plattsmouth. My invitation is extended to all to call and examine my stock of jewelry before purchasing elsewhere. Hoping to have a large attendance tomorrow evening. Tell your friends of your jeweler and let's have this hall filled. I would be pleased to meet every person in the county before I leave you. You can find me at my place of business in south side of Main st. in Wm. Boeck & Co.'s shoe store, opposite Bank of Cass Co. GEO. W. VASS, Jeweler.
