CITY CORDIALS.

—All Sunday schools will be opened tomorrow at the usual hour. —The Sunday school will be open tomorrow morning at the usual hour, at the Presbyterian church. —Jones & Fitzgerald, who are now running a hack each morning to Oregopolis, carried four passengers this morning. —Judge Russell issued licenses to wed yesterday to Mr. Andrew T. Broback and Miss Mary Mangunson also to Mr. Wm. H. Murdock and Miss Delia O. Calvin. —Mr. Thos. Riddle has presented to Secretary Bothwell, of the Y. M. C. A., an easy office chair, which will add to the secretary's comfort while engaged in desk work. —The funeral of Charley Hubble, the boy who was killed near the B. & M. depot yesterday morning, will occur tomorrow afternoon about one o'clock. The railroad company has agreed to pay all funeral expenses. —Mr. F. B. Manley, yardmaster at Grand Island, who was yardmaster in the B. & M. Yards here at the time Richard Leford was killed, is one of the witnesses in the case of Oliver vs. the C. B. & Q. now on trial before the district court. —In the shooting contest which was held on the new fair grounds yesterday afternoon, for the turkeys, the birds fell into the hands of the experts as follows: W. D. Jones secured 6; F. G. Fricke, 6; D. McEntee, 4; W. Cook, 1; Jas. Antill, 4; W. Agnew, 4. —Mr. R. W. Hyers, ex-warden of the state penitentiary arrived by the flyer yesterday afternoon. We were pleased to greet him and to learn that Plattsburgh still retained an attraction for him and that he and his family may reside here permanently. —The Y. M. C. A. rooms are open Sunday afternoons from 3 o'clock to 6. The gospel meeting is called at 4 o'clock, preceded by a fifteen-minute song service, and continues for one hour. For tomorrow afternoon's meeting special efforts have been made to have good music, and the association has gained quite a reputation for musical talent, also a full orchestra is promised. These meetings are conducted in a lively manner and are attended by a large number of men, young and old, and hereafter ushers will be on hand to seat those in attendance. —Mr. J. W. Clark, son of Timothy Clark and brother of City Attorney Clark is at present lying at death's door at the home of his father, afflicted with Bright's disease. Last night it was thought for a time that he was about to succumb, but he has rallied until today, and his death is momentarily looked for. He has consulted the most eminent physicians in the east, visited the hot springs, and procured every available means as a remedy for his dread affliction, and it was thought for a time that he had about recovered. Mr. Clark had made his home at Weeping Water, but is also well known in Plattsburgh. —The necessity of bell ringing as trains are moving in the yards is made quite evident by such accidents as the one which occurred yesterday morning. A train of cars can be backed upon a person who is not continually on the watch. When a train of flat cars are moving slowly, it is impossible to hear them unless noticed, and nearly every day some person comes near taking a fatal step while crossing the tracks on their way to the depot. If the company would erect a depot on the west side of the yard, where it belongs, all such accidents would seldom occur, but as it is, anyone is liable to be caught sooner or later. The least attention which could be shown the safety of the public would be to station a watchman there.

PERSONALS.

Mr. N. P. Eckles of St. Joe, is in the city. Mr. G. M. Clark, of Plattsburgh, N. Y., is in the city. Miss Laura Reinbackel is visiting friends at Chicago. Palmer, who has been attending the state university at Lincoln, arrived in the city by the flyer yesterday afternoon. He will visit his parents during the holidays. Mr. Chas. Dawson, formerly superintendent of the supply department for the B. & M. here, but who is now acting in a similar capacity at Pullman, Ill., is in the city today calling on his numerous friends. Hear 'em howl, our South Park lot drawing makes them tired. Some one will draw that lot (and we guarantee we will not hold the prize number). You stand just the same chance as anyone. Com: now and buy $2.00 worth of goods and get a chance. Don't allow any so-called discount sale to mislead you, we will not be undersold. Get our prices before buying. WILL J. WARRICK.

Extremely Good.

In this age of adulterated groceries, shoddy cloth, imitation jewelry, paste diamonds, impure drugs and even snide mercantile shows it is a relief to read such words as the appended concerning an entertainment and it gives us a reasonable assurance that we will get our money's worth this time anyhow. "Muggs' Landing began a week's engagement at the opera house last evening before a well filled house. The performance was neat in every way, and in every respect extremely good. The piece was designed to create laughter, and in this it succeeded admirably. With an incompetent company it would hardly pass current, but with such capable people as Manager Wetter has cast it, it is an entertainment of merit. Miss Laura Joyce is a host in herself. She sings nicely and fairly talks with her feet. She dresses most bewitchingly and is graceful as well as beautiful. Jay Simms was in his usual good spirits, and made his usual hit in his neat specialties. The rest of the company contrive to do their share of the work in a thoroughly agreeable manner."—The Dispatch, Providence, Sep. 25, 1888. This laughing success will be with us for one night only, Wednesday evening Dec. 26, at the Waterman opera house. The reserved seat sale will open 10 a. m. Dec. 24 at Young's Bookstore. Warrick will discount any advertised discount sales, don't pay two prices when you can get your money's worth and a large stock to select from at Warrick's. Xmas Slippers at Merges. "Why freeze or starve?" is the pointed question asked by the manufacturers of "Garland Stoves;" and we would add: Why buy a poor imitation when for the same price you can get the genuine "Garland?" Sold exclusively by J. J. Johnson Brothers.

FRED HERRMANN, ONE DOOR EAST FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

'Twas Ever Thus. Last week a man stepped up to us and said he would pay us every cent he owed us if he lived until Saturday. We presume the man is dead. Another said he would pay us in a day or two as sure as he was born. That man either lied or never was born. Another called and said he hoped to go to the devil if he did not square up his back subscription account in three days. He has not showed up yet; no doubt he has gone. One man stopped us three months ago as we were hurrying to a dog fight and said he would pay us as soon as he got the money. That man would not lie, so of course he has not had a cent since.—Pawnee Republican. The finest line of Albums, Dolls, Christmas Cards, Odor Cases, Dressing Cases, Toys, in fact most anything you want suitable for a holiday gift you will find at Will J. Warrick's. Prices down to lowest notch. d6t —Mr. Chas. Spencer, the young man who was so seriously injured several weeks ago at Omaha while attending to his duties as freight clerk in the B. & M. freight department, has recovered sufficiently to be able to move about by the aid of crutches. He arrived by the flyer yesterday afternoon, and received many a hearty shake of the hand by his numerous friends here as he stepped from the train. He has also recovered sufficiently to partake of a hearty Christmas dinner at his home once more. Warrick will sell Albums, Dolls, Xmas Cards &c. cheaper than any one. Get his prices. —Prof. Gaymore, of Omaha, who recently opened a dancing school in the city, gave his first grand ball at Fitzgerald hall last night. There was a large attendance, and every convenience was furnished for a pleasant time which all who participated, enjoyed. Have you been in to see Warrick's stock of Holiday Goods? He is going to give away a beautiful lot in South Park, every person buying $2.00 worth of goods from now until January 1st will receive a chance. d6t —The meat markets* of the city are decorating today and seem to be in advance of other lines in elegance. Oliver & Ramage's market attracted a large crowd today. Everything in the line of birds, fish and all styles of meat is displayed in splendid style. The colored man's favorite dish—a possum with a sweet potato attached, presents a very amusing spectacle.
