THE DAILY HERALD : PLATTSMOUTH, NEBRASKA, MONDAY, JANUARY 7. 18

Plattsmouth Daily Heraid.

KNOTTS BRCS.

Publishers & Proprietors.

THE PLATTSMOUTH HERALD

Is published every evening except Sunday and Weekly every Thursday morning. Regis-tered at the postofice, Plattsmonth, Nebr., as second-class matter. Office corner of Vine and Fifth streets. Telephone No. 38.

TREMS FOR DAILY. One copy one year in advance, by mall	50 50 15
TREMS FOR WREELV. One copy one year, in advance,	1 50

		Our C	lut	bing List.
w	EEKLY	HERALD	and	N. Y. World
		44.		Omaha Rep 2 35
		44		N. Y. Press 225
6		64	44	N. Y. Post 2 30
		14.		Harpers Magazine 4 60
				Weekly, 4 75
	4-	84	- 144	* Bazar 4 75
		144	28.8	" Young People 3 30
		8.6	1++	Neb, Farmer., 2 00
		¥.C		Demorest's Month- ly Magazire 3 10
	44	340	- 199	American Ma'zine 3 50
		24.	- 24	The Forum 5 00
				the second se

NEBRASKA has sixty-five presidential postoffices and a hundred and fifty applicauts.

about $3,500 per day. It is high but we must have it.

The patrons of the postoflice are not clamoring so much for a reduction in postage as they are for a more efficient administration and better service in carrying and delivering the mails .-Beatrice Express.

PRESIDENT HARRISON'S Postmaste-general will have a big job on his hands of restoring the postal service to a condition of efficiency; but at the same time, he will have the pleasure of removing a great many ignorant and corrupt democratic officials.

THE face value of the bonds purchased for the sinking fund, according to law, last fiscal year, was $51,464,300. The premium paid was over $8,000,000, a agility or powers of endurance. A revtangible sign of the improved borrowing | erent study of Mozart's piano works is, power of the United States since the loan was negotiated.

THE ladies will be pleased to know that Mrs. Harrison is not unmindful of that part of the policy of the new administratration which it is her duty to determine. She has authorized the following brief, but interesting, statement in all European countries are putting similar questions in regard to the vast standing armies they are obliged to support. We believe this kind of questioning will play a part in bringing about the unbroken peace that General Sheridan predicted would be the result of war being made too destructive to be waged by any nation, no matter how populous it might be .- Irish World,

The Burdens of Womanhood.

Thousands of women are silently suffering untold misery, simply because they shrink from consulting a physician in those numerous complaints arising from functional irregularities and disorders. Many a modest girl and woman prefers to bear her heavy burden in silence rather than to go to the family physician for advice. All sufferers from this class of dirorders can, however, find prompt and sure relief in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a specific in such cases, and has brightened the lives of countless women by restoring them to perfect health.

The Music of Mozart.

The neglect of Mozart in these days is a circumstance to be deeply regretted, as the works of that composer are calcu-lated, above all others, to promote a healthy development of the musical in-THE cost of the state legislature is stinct. But the present rage for sensa-tionalism, which may be designated as the triamph of matter over mind, has exercised such a mischievous influence that it has now become the fashion to decry Mozart as altogether too trivial and plain spoken for modern taste. The pianist who who prepares for his task as though he were a pugilist about to enter in a fistic encounter, and commits an aggravated assault on the unfortunate pinno, thereby appealing chiefly to the lower instincts of his auditors—who pre-fer to be astonished rather than edified is now in favor

The result is that the true standard of art has been lowered, and the exquisite grace and inspired charm of the author of "Don Giovanni" have been superseded by the noisy and too often incoherent ravings of modern composers of the so called advanced school. Of course every real artist must be thoroughly equipped and equal to every mechanical difficulty to be met with in the works of composers f all schools, but his executive powers must be governed by a becoming reticence when dealing with classical works, which are not written for the mere purpose of displaying the performer's digital above all things, calculated to check the effusive personality which is so unpleasant a feature in the case of a large number of modern players, both public and private.-Boston Musical Herald.

A Woman's Peculiarities.

The manners of women in public conveyances vary, but they all get off a street car in the same way. Watch any particular one. She motions to the conand slides to the ed on which she sits perfectly still until the car c mes to a full stop. Then she walks ibely to the platform. On the lower tep the hesitates, leans forward, looks ip the street. looks down the street, looks eros the street, gathers up her skirts, u no down and back to see that they are of the high for propriety, glances shyly trive, takes another look around the tories, takes another look around the tories a and departs. The conductor ter's the bell simp with permitions of y s, glares at the woman until she a the sidewalk and then has ie faces of the men on the p orra. He is looking for sympath lat be get uone. Every all the bary and at the fair creature who he is conglated. -New York Tribute. V Alfred at 27 will least 2 mills Strate the a flag Lind og dom Lovi og so the marting of the Log has pres the first the Anteor is a present to re-trict the case, of Chinara, with this Every once in a while we heard a whick as though something was hitting or out: "The Annabarkans form an ar a which is democrate to the later to or our loss innection is, no by the nt ili erree, industry, endurance an ru ntay, competition of new forcign is an evolution while very with theirs for pre-cented." It is proposed to key a cupi then and meetine tax of all thinks and force is in hus, has territory, and to adnit A intics to the privilege of Russian an' jects only if they become naturalized Rue dens. - Kanons City Journal.

WOLVES AND HORSES.

MORTAL COMBAT DETWEEN WILD STEEDS AND, CRAY PROWLERS.

Experience of Three Hunters in the Pinenut Mountaia Range of Nevada-A Thrilling Fight to the Death-Beautiful Specimens of the Equine Erecd.

"One of the queerest things about Nevada, and one that has kept me won-dering," said Tom D. Sellers, of Carson, to an Examiner reporter at the Baldwin. "are those wild horses. I have lived in Nevada twenty-six years. A good deal of that time I have been in the Comstock range, but when not there mining I have been off in the hills of Douglas, Nye, Churchill and Lander counties.

"It is in these that many bands of wild horses roam at their pleasure, both winter and summer. In winter the wild horses usually seek shelter in the Pinenut range of Douglas county.

"This Pinenut range extends for seventy-five or a hundred miles out toward | Utah, and is covered with a thick growth of shrublike pines, which bear a nutritious nut and which give ample shelter, while affording the seclusion which the wild bands seek. The Indians used to live on this nut, and they do yet to some extent, but in the valleys below the pines, and growing at intervals among them, is a very nutritious grass. It is on this that distance of their own inside of the the wild horses live.

LARGE MUSTANGS. "The real mountain wild horse is a mustang of large size. His shoulders are unfitted for the collar, not being so heavy as those of the American horse. and he is a mountain climber, scarcely excelled by the wild goat

"Every color, from bright bay to iron ray, white and black, can be found. For steady running nothing of the equine breed can equal him. The racers which run on our tracks would outrun him for a couple of miles, perhaps, but they have not the staying qualities of the wild

"I am just in from the Pinenut range. I went over there hunting deer in company with William McKendree and John" Thurston, of Pioche. We fell afoul of a band of about twenty wild horses that dashed into our camp and liked to have made us walk more than 100 miles. It was about 10 o'clock, and we had just turned in.

"Our camp fire was yet brightly blazing, and I heard a roar off to the northwest like the trend of an advancing army. We were on the northwest side of the range, and there was a steady incline right down to us for a couple of miles. I gazed out into the dim light, but could see nothing, as the fire into which I had previously been looking and thinking blurred my eyes.

"The roar continued and I called to Thurston and McKendree to get up, and that something was going to happen. One said it was a storm brewing away off in the hills and the other thought it was an earthquake, "All three of us peered forth into the darkness. Our four horses graw uneasy and dashed around and pulled at their

"In a minute we saw the band emerge no means backward in his studies. ettends the nobles' school and he is the m a stretch of pines and come on to

THE MIKADO'S WOMEN.

They Are the Empress and Twelve Concabines-The Young Heir.

"Tell me something of the daily life of the empress," said I. "She has," replied the court chamber-lain, "an establishment of her own, and it is quite a large one. She has her maids of honor, her private secretaries and the ladies of the court to deal with. Her morning is occupied by the reading and writing of letters. She attends to the supervision of her various charities through others chiefly, and in the afternoon she devotes herself to social duties. She receives at this time the wives of the ministers and the princesses who may call upon her, and if they come at the proper time they sometimes take tea with her. She sometimes invites these ladies to meetings to discuss matters relating to the charity hospital, and she has a grand marshal and a chamberlain.

"She is, you know, the first empress of the new order of things, even as the em-peror is the first emperor. She wears but little jewelry, though she has some fine line of diamond rings and bracelets. She is a tine horseback rider, and often takes a turn on one of the horses of the imperial stables. She wears a European riding habit and sits her horse well." The emperor, the empress and the crown prince make up the royal family, or at least the three most important members of it. Each of these three have, as I said, an estab palace grounds. The crown prince is heir apparent to the throne. He is the on of the emperor by Mme. Yanagiwara, and not by the Empress Haruko. The nile do of Japan has the right to twelve seed the failure of issue by the empress so the right to the throne. They are te juinate and noble, and it is to these addings in times past that the nobles

Ethe court families of today date their icin. Very E. is is the work about then outside the react planar. These royal infarresses do not react that the court cer-entonics, and then react the court has her Promain

They are a part of the constitution of the royal family, and in the directory of input for this car i that that the em-prior has had by them nine children the da all with the acception of three of these have died at hildren thus torn have ligg to do with their mothers, and many prince was brought up apart and the could chamberlain about this partment of the paince. He would say him, and and it was not proper for a to discuss such a private matter e CONTRACTOR OF ST foolinity denits freely, however, abor. he crown publice. "Prince Harn," sai o, "is new 5 years old and the was prolained heir to the throne about a year go. Ho to a tright, brave boy, and ver fond of middary alloirs. He dresses i Suropean clothes and his costume is the

of a delilier. The emperor was very max plensed the other day by having him givhim a military salute when he met him and Japan expects great things of his e walks very streight, and, though Gi ed, is a thorough boy. He is found boat racing and goes out every e onawhere. He likes fishing end is

For suitable Holiday Presents we are showing a

Silk and Cashmere Mufflers

and Silk Handkerchiefs at very reasonable prices.

Fancy Linen Table Sets and some pretty designs and the children of these, in in Stamped Goods and Tinsel Tidies. On our

CLOAKS[®]PLUSH SACQUES

we have placed specially low prices, low enough to interest the purchaser. For

HANGING LAMPS, FANCY CUPS AND SAUCERS

and Fancy Glassware see through our Queen-ware Department.

1887.

of her purposes: "As to low-necked and short-sleeved dresses, personally, no; as to bustles, yes; as to wine, no.

THE year 1889 will probably be better for general trade than 1888 was. Tariff agitation and the excitement and uncertainty attending a big presidential canvrss disturbed many important branches of business last year. The presidential question is settled now, however, for another four years, and the republican victory assures the country that no dangerous assaults on its industries will be made. -Globe Democrat.

AFTER the people of Idaho had succeeded in getting four Mormon elders into quod for too much marying at the endowment house, it was a wet blanket to have them immediately pardoned out by President Cleveland. Hence they are very much stirred up about it and may be impelled to take what is left of the Edmunds law into their own hands hereafter. Many of the inhabitants of Idaho feel towards the Mormon elders very much as the average Californian does when a "heathen Chinee" takes his place on a job at a lower figure.-Lincoln Journal.

MAKING WAR IMPOSSIBLE.

It was the opinion of General Sheridan that in the course of time war would become so destructive that it would finally cease on account of its destructiveness. When improvements in the implements of war will make it possible to destroy whole regiments for the one soldier now killed in battle nations will be placed under bonds to keep the peace, in that way arbitration will finally be substituted for war.

The recent invention of a new explosive by German chemists has done something to prepare the way for the fulfillment of General Sheridan's prediction. Experts are convinced that this new explosive can destroy the strongest forts within a few hours. It is said that it will revolutionize the whole fortress system, rending useless great closed fortworks and necessitating movable defensive works enclosed in iron clad bulwarks.

The use of this new explosive will be another step in the direction of making lowed by other improvements in the as milk, and easily digested. The rapid-In the meantime, while the German gov- with its use is wonderful. Use it and try ernment 's bending all its energies to the your weight. As a remedy for Consumpwork of getting ready for the day wh n it will undertake to slaughter some thousands of Frenc'smen, a great number eight months old with good results. He of Germans are asking themselves why gained four pounds in a very short they should stagger under a load of tax- time."-THO. PREM, M. D., Alabama. ation to supply - the means of Willing man 65 years old, troubled with Coronse Frenchmen with whom they have no Bronchitis,, with the excellent results."personal quarrel. The wealth producers J. C. CARSON, Broken Arrow, Ala, Ezampie and Precept.

Anyry Father-See here, George, your mother tells me you have been smoking cie: reites.

I dightened Boy-I smoked just one, sir.

A. F.-Just one! I've a great mind to take you out into the woodshed and give you a flogging.

 1.1.-1 won't do it again, father.
A. F.-Well, I'll let you off this time, seeing that you promise not to do it again. But mind you keep your promise. Now go and bring me my pipe and tobacco pouch. Smoking cigarettes! The idea!-Boston Courier.

Cut off the top of an old leg boot, or top boot, cut out a piece of the right size, line it with woolen, and you will have the best kind of holder for flatirons and slove ware-better and safer than all eleth holders.

Jee Tremper, of Stockton, Cal., a consumptive, called upon an undertaker and offered to shake dice with him for a coffin. The undertaker accepted the offer, and lost.

Jones MeNeil, of Cambridge, carries in his leg a piece of money which, when an 0-year-old boy in Frince Edward island, he swallowed while ruaning.

How to Cal Flesh and Strength, Use after each meal Scott's Emulsion war impossible. It is bound to be fol- with Hypodhosphites. It is as palatable civilized art of destroying human life, ity with which delicate people improve tion, Throat affections, and Bronchitis, it is un qualled. Please read

"I used Scott's Emulsion in a child of "I gave Scott s Emulsion to a gentle-ward us. They were running at a fearful rate; their nostrils were dilated, and their long manes and tails flying in the wind. Their eyes flashed fire, and none of us could understand the reason of their flight. On they came, seemingly seeking protection, and dashed right up to us.

"We saw we were to be ground under their heels unless we did something, and we began to shout and halloo for all " were worth.

"Our horses were meantime dash and charging, and it looked as if ev instant they would break away. W. grasped our guns and fired over t' hends of the horses, for they were pretty that we didn't want to kill them. "Finally, just at the last second of time, when we thought we were to be Lorne down by the wild throng, they turned and dashed down the hill into the darkness "By this time we began to hear weird howls and neighing and stamping. whick, as though something was hitting something else with terrific force, combined with louder howls. The noise was just behind the spur of pinenut trees, a quarter of a mile away. It continued louder than ever, and two of us concluded to push on out and see what the rumpus was.

Judge of our surprise when we see three old stallions surrounded by a pack of big mountain wolves and kicking and biting for all they were worth. Three or four of the wolves had been sent to which do not at any time show the gum. grass, their ribs broken and disabled in other ways.

A FIERCE COMBAT.

"Around the stallions were the able bodied wolves, snapping and growling and showing their long, white, vicious teeth. Their eyes gleamed wickedly in the darkness. The side of one of the horses was bitten and bleeding.

"The horses stood almost head to head and planted terrific blows on the heads and bodies of the wolves.

"Every once in a while a wolf described a parabola in the air. It was a scene long to be remembered. Out there in the keen, crisp night air of the mountains the three wild horses were fighting not only for their lives, but for the lives of the younger and weaker members of the band, who were being defended from a bargain. The man with hay to sell the wolves, who, hungry, had stolen in

"We fired on the wolves, and for a minute there was as interesting a fusillade as you could wish to see. We shot right into the pack, to the right and left of the horses, and several of the big gray woives bit the dust. They did not give up right off, though.

They still eyed and snapped violently at the horses, and even when we had disrupted the band by our firing and the horses turned to run away some of the wolves followed them. A shot from Thurston's gun, however, fixed the old | hay.-Pendleton (Ore.) Tribune. lead wolf, and another ball crippled the next, and the wild horses fied far away to join the band which they had so valor-ously defended. "In a moment there was nothing but the distant resounding of hoofs, as the horses fled far down the edge of the little stream in the distance. The wolves took back track to the trees far back on the Pinenut range, and we saw no more of sure that one or the other of us was cisco Examiner.

"It says in the paper," quote Mrs. Spriggins, "that they are pushing the Poughkeepsie bridge very hard. I suppose they want to see if it is real good and strong."-Harper's Bazar.

a the same footing as are the others. It vexes him very much when t aher boys learn their lessons better the e does his, and he works so hard the stands well up to the head of h and. He was sent to this school i ader that this rivairy might make hir ndy the harder, and he is neguiring a avoigh education. He is now begin ing to study English, and he knows on r two words of French and German tich heights off when he meets the wight ministers. These are such word. boh jour and guten tag, and they ar iways applanded and appreciated.-

Character by the Teeth.

The shape and placing of the teeth ar int without significance in the character, even by the mouth. When the upper jum shows above the teeth directly the s are opened, it is a din of a cold an blegamtic nature, thort, small teet re-hold by the physicgnomists to denot realizes and short life, while rathang teeth, if evenly set in the head, de note long life. The more the teeth, i point, size, shape and arrangement a; reach to those of carnivorous animal he more violent are the animal instinct in a persons white the more human eith in shape and position approach to hear of the graminivorous animals, th sore placid is the character. White nedium sized and evenly set teeth, which are seen as seen as the mouth is open but which are entirely exposed-that is -are a sign of good and honest natures

Projecting teeth show rapacity: small, retreating teeth, which are rarely seen except in laughing, show weakness and want of physical and moral courage. The lower teeth projecting and closing over the upper range, are indicative of a harsh nature.-Manchester Guardian.

Didn't Know His fiwn Brother.

Yesterday morning J. H. Gulliford, of the Elephant Feed yard, was sent for port haste with the message that there was a man at the yard that wanted to sell him some hay. "That's the man I'm looking for," said John H.; "if there is any man on top of the earth whom I would like to see it is a man with hay to sell." He found the stranger and struck wanted $10 to bind the bargain. This was refused, but a compromise was effected and $5 was paid on account. The man was about to walk off, telling Mr. Guiliford that he could whistle for his hay. Then the boys laughed, as boys will, and John thought he was sold and felt like he had let a bird go. Then a good look at the stranger revealed the fact that he was a brother who had come over from Prineville on a visit. They had not seen each other for fourteen years. Mr. Gulliford, of Cook, will remain a few days, but will not sell any

A Water Park.

Buffalo is inaugurating a striking novelty in the way of a water park; that is, is is to be a park composed mostly of water. It can be reached from the heart of the city by water, and will be mostly a lake, with islands. The largest island will be connected with the shore by a bridge, but boats will be the chief means them that night, though you may be of converance. Instead, then, of driving sure that one or the other of us was awake until broad daylight.—San Fran-cisco Examiner. and redues, the posting. In the win-ter, of course, it will be a scating park. The idea is a good one for all cities that have swennyy and wet neighborhoods. Instead of Knying them as hopeless and pairs treading nul stars turn them into this pielog peris. -St. Louis Clobe-within a radius of ten miles of the New York city hall about seventy of these cooperative concerns, most of them having been organized within the past three years. It is estimated that about 30,000 people are interested, either as investors or home builders.

Determine .

Building Associations.

In England the co-operative savings and building movement has made wonderful progress. The registrar's report ordered by the house of commons, which is published in The Building Societies' Gazette, of London, contains a careful analysis of the work done by the building associations in the British Isles during the year 1887. Considerable pro gress is shown to have been made in the operations during that year, and the number of societies has been increased from 2,207 to 2,318, having 605,421 members as against 581,681 in 1886. The income was £21,141,077, or nearly a half million more than during the preceding year. To show the real progress that these societies have made in the United Kingdom the comparisons are made between the returns of 1878 and 1887, covering a period of nine years.

The figures are: 1878.

Number of societies..... 2,318 Number of members 224,427 Due to shareholders.....£16,255,125 605,421 £26,318,515 Due to depositors...... 8,837,269 15,606,403 Mortgage assets 24,628,983 50,302,684 In cash, etc..... 1,132,288 8,497,039 The increased receipts are shown in

It is confidently expected that the building associations of the United States, including the building society quette died. -Gentleman's Magazine, land companies, where houses and lots are being paid for on the installment monthly plan, number over 4,000, with assets averaging not less than $80,000, or a grand total of $320,000,000, exceeding that of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales at least $70,000,000. During the past twenty-four years it is quite possishares and canceled mortgages, at least $500,000,000.-New York Daily News.

The Wooillands Decreased.

Fifty years ago every farm in the eastern, middle and southern states had places for birds and served them as safe no remunerative or entry shelter during the heat of the day. These primitive forests were the home of many species of birds. The writer well remembers the delight experienced in go-ing to the woods in the spring of the year and listening to the songs of the native warblers as they returned from their winter quarters at the south. The shrill whistle of the quail was as familiar to ing pars of the farmers as household words." The scream of the blue jay rang through the forest clear and loud. The many species of woodpecker were watched with intense interest as home?" watched with intense interest as they glided up and down the trunks of the trees, ever and anon rapping, with irresistible force, with their powerful beaks, and frequent the documents, and 1 an awaiting its a secred tenner nice a fi There are at present doing business gome other bright bird, would flit by, happy and beautiful. How is it many The woodman's ax and the put hand us gun can tell the sad story. The Lirds have gone-no home, no resting place, no safety anywhere!

The birds that were so common fifty years ago were mostly insect enting birds, and destroyed millions of nonlous insects, and were of inestimable value to the farmer and tiller of the soil. Even the grain eating birds communed a large number of larva. The humming birds. supposed by many to subsist wholly upon honey, consume many small beetles and thrips, and thereby confer a benefit to the florist.-Vick's Magazine.

A Victim of Elliquette.

The ridiculous rigidity of Spanish court etiquette was answerable for tha death of Philip III. He was busily engaged with his dispatches and state papers, and, the day being cold, a great brazier of burning coals was brought into the room and set down so close to his majesty that soon his royal face was bathed in perspiration. It was not in his nature, however, to find fault or complain, and so he sat in patience, enduring the excessive heat, until the Marquis of Pobar, one of the gentlemen of his chamber, perceiving how seriously he was inconvenienced, told the Dake of Alba, another of the royal holly guard, to remove the brazier. No, and the date, that some the daty of the king's chirf steward, the England, Wales and Scotland, while the Duke of Usseda, who was accordingly Irish societies show a falling off of £19,- sent for. Unfortunately he was not it 402 only, as against £47,224 in the year preceding. Mr. Michael J. Brown, in The Philadelphia Ledger, says: naturally fervid constitution, target to erysipelas, and then the victim of cui-

The Women of Great Mittala.

There are 3,060,660 mere women in Great Britain than men. Thirty-see a per cent. of all the women of maintinges able age in England are unservice. Fully one-half of the warming of the solar United States have turned over to mem-bers in cash, for withdrawn and matured abroad. British fortune 1. Ways and means of continue. diture are every day to provide the lines. papers. Estates will include a charges upon them involved in the rest tenatice of such a herde of mail ters. Women unspot pell from five to twenty acres of woodland. for themselves are being the second These lands not only served many other good purposes, but were natural resting sources. They have been no business experience. The laws go business ideas. They derive with ful sensitiveness from condict such a rough and tumble worth. There are

Mexican Dellegers

Mexicans have a nice, deliente way of saying even unpleasant things. A yoning Mexican lady, talking with a prisane r in the penitentiary, politely realistic thew long do you expect to be nwity from iv drawing forth some huge grub, that had been sapping the life of some monarch of the forest. While watching these ever industrious and useful birds.

