The house yesterdy passed the Oklaho ma bill, which makes the torritorial boomers happy.

A GROUNDHOG that would go back into his hole today is "a bigger fool than Thompsons colt.."

THE "might have beens" is the only solace the anti-submissionist of the House has to fall back on these days.

GEN. HARRISON'S cabinet takes shape slowly, but it is evident that the delay in the matter is due to the president, that he proposes to surround himself with those advisors whose fitness will leave no room for criticism.

SUBMISSION is a fixed fact and now the bucolic liquor press of Omaha will have almost two years in which it will be its duty to convince the public that submis sion has'nt hurt OMAHA a dar-d bit Mr. Rosewater will take the stand first.

IF BISMARCK does not change his Samon tactics, the first thing he knows he will be in the soup, for the 4th of March is close at hand, when James G. Blaine becomes secretary of state, and he is intensely American in all international disputes.

THE German inspector of the military strength of the United States has been appointed. Bismarck is at present delib erating as to the most available man to appoint as president of this country. Bayard, as secretary of state, seems to meet the entire approbation of the great prince and will probably be reinstated.—Beatrice Express.

THE 4th of March, 1893, will strike an even balance between the democratic party and the various political organizations that have in the history of the coun try opposed it. At the end of Cleveland's term the democrats have held the presi dency just fifty-two years beginning, with Jefferson, and at the end of Harrison's term the democrats will have viewed the loaves and fishes from the outside just an equal number of years. Democracy can console herself with the Irishman's thought when rolling down hill with the log, "be jabers I'm on top half the time ony way .- Blair Pilot.

THE spectacle of the young man in charge of the Omaha World denouncing the supreme court of Nebraska on account of its very recent decision, touching the attorney general, is seriously funny; however, the article in yesterday evening's World is but a plagerism from the Omaha Republican of the day before, and in all human probability was dictated by some $2,500 judge in Omaha. A newspaper that will indulge itself in a blackguard attack upon a court of acknowledged ability is only to be pitied. The ani mus of the attack is so transparant that these journals cannot hide their disappointment. Omaha does not like the attorney general, hence its press is put out because the decision is in his favor. This class of newspapers, if we recollect correctly, have been howling about our present constitution and its hide-bound provisions; yet the moment a court places a liberal construction upon one of its provisions, which fayors a state official against whom they have a personal spite, their mud bateries are at once opened. The attack is as silly as it is weak. If the young blood of the World was to be asked to apply his argument to the district bench of the Third Districh, he would be in a pretty pickle! Such men as Judges Wakely, Doan and Goff must come within the range of his criticism because they accept office under this constitution at precisely the same salary as that paid Justices Reese, Maxwell and Cobb. The HERALD is of the opinion that, in order to get a supreme court of culture and tone that the World can appreciate, a few men like VanAtten and Judge Cooley will have to be advanced to the supreme bench.

GERMANY ATTACKS THE UNITED STATES.

If the dispatch from New Zealand Le which announces that an American ship has been stopped and searched | panion.

while entering a Samoun port by a German war vessel, a serious violation of internal law has been committed by the German officers. The right to search a neutral merchant vessel not suspected of attempting to defraud the revenues is permissible only when the nation owning the searching vessel is engaged in war with another Power. There has been no formal doctaration of war by Germany against Samoa, nor has Germany, if it seeks to place the Samoan ports under blockade, given the notification of this purpose to other nations which the laws and usages in such cases prescribe.

In the early history of the United States the right of search was resisted by this country. It was the persistence of Great Britain in searching American ships against the protests of our government which was a leading cause of the war of 1812. Although there was nothing said about this question in the treaty of peace between the two countries after the war had closed, the practice was never resumed by England. Indeed England, in the Trent affair, which occurred in the first year of the rebellion, committed itself against the principle which it had formerly practiced, and thus indorsed the position which the United States had hitherto occupied on

The course of Germany throughout this whole Samoan controvery bas been characterized by a brutal and arbitrary disregard for the rights of the people of the islands as well as for the privileges and prerogatives of the other treaty powers. The compacts which it had made with Samon on the one hand and with the United States and Great Britain on the other have been coolly and contemptuously set aside as unworthy of consideration. It has conducted itself as if no such obligations had ever been entered into. In the entire matter it has displayed the insolent, arrogant spirit which has gained it enemies in every government of Europe, and which has made its attempts at colonizing the African continent such a compelte and conspicuous failure. Toward the United States in particular it has been especially offensive. Its sailors have wantonly attacked American citizens in Samoa, torn down American flags, destroyed American property and placed American lives in peril. In the face of all these enormities our government has shown a weakness and timidity which is as undignified and disgraceful as it is injurious to American interests and discreditable to American courage and public spirit. This latest outrage, however, carries the matter beyond the limit of forbearbearance. The United States will now be compelled to demand a prompt and complete apology from Germany, and a failure to give it must be accepted as quivalent to a declaration of war .-Globe Democrat.

Effects of Climate.

We hear a great deal said about the beneficial effect upon invalids of the climate of Colorado and other western localities, but when a man changes his place of residence in the hope of improving his health without first trying Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, he makes a great mistake. In nine cases out of ten he might save his time and money. This great remedy owes its power over all affections of the throat and lungs, bronchitis, asthma, catarrh and even consumption, which is lung scrofula, to the simple fact it purifies and enriches the blood and invigorates the debilitated system.

About Horses' Feet. Perhaps the weakest point in our grand breed of cart horses is their feet. particularly if we include their coronets, which are apt to be afflicted with side oones and ring bones, says The Saturday Review. In paved cities and over stony roads good feet are of the most importance, yet there are men of no little experience who are of opinion that the feet of a thoroughbred horse will generally bear more battering upon hard and rough surfaces than those of a draught horse. With regard to their heels and legs it may not be generally known that, while Englishmen like to see them well covered with long, wavy hair, the contrary taste prevails in many parts of America, where the sudden and severe frosts are apt to freeze a superabundance of wet hair into a solid mass. It may be worth mentioning that the monks at the Hospice of St. Bernard prefer the smooth coated dogs to the rough for prerisely the same reason, although English log funciers are fondest of the rough coated St. Bernards.

A Vote of Thanks.

A village in New England came into possession of a next and much needed town hall, the gift of public spirited citizens. When completed a meeting was held to dedicate the new building. Speeches were made by prominent citizens, and special reference was naturally made to the chief benefactor and to those who had been most active in forwarding

One speaker mentioned the names of five or six of these citizens, and sug-gested that a vote of thanks be tendered them. This was done. A moment later a little wizen faced old man arose in the back part of the hall, and, in a sharp, penetrating voice, Mr. Cheerman! Mr. Cheerman!" The speaker being recognized, he pro-
