CITY CORDIALS.

The Y. P. S. C. E. will hold a meeting tonight in the Presbyterian church.

If this wind does not blow up a rain, it is because there is none in the clouds.

The young people's society of Christian Endeavor will meet in the Presbyterian church this evening at 7:30 sharp.

A good many people are of the belief that Eva is dead, but she will die again at the opera house Saturday night. Her life must compare favorably to that of a cat's.

Judge Russell issued marriage licenses this morning to Mr. James Locker and Miss Anna Thompson also to Mr. Gus Rood and Miss Lennie Larson, all of Cass county.

Services will be continued at the Christian church during the week, and over Sunday. The theme for this (Monday) evening will be, "The Great Salvation; Tuesday evening, "How to become sons of God."

The members of the M. E. church are requested to meet at the church tomorrow (Tuesday) evening, for the purpose of arranging for a more thorough organization of classes with reference to more effective work in the future.

D. W. Shinn, who has for years been an employe in the hardware store of U. V. Mathews, severed his connection with that business on the first, and he intends to leave for Cincinnati the first of next month where he will visit his old home and relatives.

A regular drunk named Harrison Graves, was arrested last night and lodged in jail for being drunk and using indecent language on the streets. He was arraigned before Judge Clifford this morning. His fine and costs amounted to $9.75, which he will board out in jail.

Sutton's Double Mammoth Uncle Tom's Cabin Company will give a grand family matinee for ladies and children, price, 10 and 25c, reserved seats on sale now at J. P. Young's for both the matinee and night performances. Don't fail to see the grand street parade worth the price of admission to show alone.

"A Dark Secret" is to be produced at the New Grand opera house in Omaha every night this week with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. In the production of this play the stage is fitted up so that it can be flooded with water making a lake of real water with boats, canoes, steam launches, etc. Seventy tons of water are required to fill the artificial lake upon the stage and has to be heated so that a girl can be thrown from a boat and not be chilled. Everything in connection with the play is produced just as it would occur naturally.

Mr. J. W. Clark who was thought to be so near death's door several times, left for Omaha this morning accompanied by his wife, for treatment. He was able to walk to the train by the assistance of friends. His appearance on the street was a great surprise to many, as no one ever expected to see him leave his bed again. Although physicians state that there is no possible chance for a man to live who is in the last stages of Bright's disease, (and such is his case,) Mr. Clark still has hopes for recovery, and believes there is a chance. All possible aid has been secured.

There is some talk among the musical people of this city regarding the organization of a musical union. The union would consist of what musical talent would be available and regular meetings would be held at the homes of the respective members. Recitals would be given each meeting and new music would also be introduced so that the meetings would be very instructive as well as entertaining. Such an organization would advance the members to a creditable stand when classed with musicians of other cities, and their recitals would surely be very pleasing and afford much amusement for spare time.

The constant demand for a means of crossing the Platte directly north of this city provides an excellent opportunity for our representatives from this county to render good service. Nearly every day people drive to Omaha, but they are obliged to cross the Missouri here by ferry, drive to Council Bluffs and cross the river again, which makes considerable expense in connection with the trip. Why are we not entitled to a bridge across the Platte north of this city? If the men who represent this county do not notice our interests, a petition would probably stir them to a sense of their duty. It is the wish of all that this work should be done. Farmers who live on the other side of the river would give us the benefit of their trade if they were provided with some means for crossing. It must be clear to all that this would benefit Plattsouth and all the country on this side of the Platte.

Mr. S. D. Mayer of this city, and brother, Chas. Mayer, of Lincoln, leave by the flyer this afternoon for New York City to purchase a large stock of clothing for their clothing houses at Lincoln and Plattsouth. They will select the latest styles on the market. They will not return for several weeks as they combine business with pleasure, and will visit their old home.

Brown, Lincoln; J. W. Wilkinson, Hamburg, Ia. Monday—D. L. Felley, Omaha; J. E. Addy, New York; E. J. Hart, Chicago; M. A. Warren, M. H. Filton, Lincoln; Chas. S. Morse, Council Bluffs; J. S. Wertz, Boston; Fred Engel, Omaha; M. H. Hall, Donald Roboston, John Robertson, Aug Meyer, Omaha; David Moore, Ashland, Wis.; R. J. Dinning, Omaha; W. H. Roth, Omaha.

Messrs. of this city have informed us that many of their debtors visit Omaha occasionally and give the foreign merchants the benefit of their cash while they are obliged to wait for months, and probably forever for a settlement. During the holidays we are told, ladies purchased goods at Omaha in great abundance, while the home merchants who had laid in a large stock expecting a large holiday sale to Plattsouth customers, were shoved aside by their customers who had been buying goods on credit for months past. Merchants who are treated in this way are expected to sell goods as cheap if not cheaper than Omaha merchants. If they receive cash for their goods they would undoubtedly sell cheaper. Even if we are obliged to pay ten per cent more for our goods here we save more money than buying goods in Omaha when there is the railroad fare streetcar fare, hotel bills, etc., to pay. Notwithstanding all this, if the citizens of Plattsouth give the merchants of their own city the benefit of their trade they themselves will eventually realize much benefit should they remain in the city, go into business and invest in real estate. Because a man might be born in a stable that will not make a horse of him, and because you pay the same money for the same goods in Omaha, that does not make them a better quality, but some people believe all in all in a name.

Mr. S. D. Mayer of this city, and brother, Chas. Mayer, of Lincoln, leave by the flyer this afternoon for New York City to purchase a large stock of clothing for their clothing houses at Lincoln and Plattsouth. They will select the latest styles on the market. They will not return for several weeks as they combine business with pleasure, and will visit their old home.

Let us Have It.

A proposition was received by the president of the board of trade from a capitalist, which will be presented to the board meeting tomorrow night. The proposition is considered a rare one as it offers a splendid opportunity to the interests of the city. The man who wrote the president of the board, offers to erect a large paper mill in this city, provided the land and a suitable location to build on is donated. The industry will employ many hands in the manufacture of wrapping paper and strawboard. The manufactory will consume all the straw which farmers in the surrounding country can supply, and would surely be worth securing at any price.

Board of Trade Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Board of Trade occurs tomorrow evening when a board of directors will be elected and other business of importance transacted. Let every member be present.

R. B. WINDHAM, Pres.

F. HERRMANN, Sec'y.

Henry Allen, who died on Saturday morning last at the home of Mr. Smawley, was buried yesterday afternoon. The funeral occurred about 2 o'clock. A short service conducted by Rev. J. T. Baird of the Presbyterian church, was held at the house in the presence of a large assemblage of friends whom the deceased had won during his short stay in Plattsouth. Mr. Baird preached a very affective sermon, and although unacquainted with the young man, gained enough information from the expressions of his friends to justify him in speaking of the deceased in the most creditable terms as a straightforward and upright man. Among the large number gathered to hear the last tributes of respect, were many railroad employes with whom the deceased was a great favorite. Mr. Allen had been employed as brakeman on the B. & M. and had a run between Pacific Junction and Hastings, under conductor Baron. The home of the deceased is in Westville, Ind.

Robt. Downing, the great gladiator, and his company, passed through the city this morning enroute from Omaha to St. Joe.

Eight Mile Grove.

Mr. Ed.—Dear sir, As it has been some time since I have written to your valuable paper, I would send you a few items and I now find myself engaged in the pleasant but tedious pastime of gathering a few incidents of the past week, and if I find myself successful enough to gather such items as will escape the waste basket I will consider myself lucky.

We miss our neighbors, Mr. Vallery's, who have moved to your city, very much, and especially their two little girls whom we could see every morning and evening on their way to and from school.

We learn that Cottonwood school is not going on right smoothly, but that is stale news, if the parents would work with the teacher, instead of upholding their children in everything they do (good or bad) I wager they would meet with better success. Their children would learn more; the teacher would have some satisfaction, and in a short time their school would rank among the first as being the most desirable for a teacher to obtain.

Mr. Rusterholtz, a well known farmer has procured the right of Mr. Jenkins, our merchant, to get ice from his mill pond. The ice is of the best quality and about thirteen inches in thickness. Mr. R. has been very busy the past week in cutting, hauling and packing the same. We learn further that different parties will get ice of Mr. J. for packing purposes. Mr. J. will also pack a quantity.

Boys, you may begin to save your nickles for ice cream, strawberries and lemonade treats. Summer will soon be here and then the girls will be hungry and thirsty, and I have got but "fifty cents."

Mr. John Hall has returned to the western part of the state.

Miss Mollie Snyder has just returned from a three months' visit in Kansas. She reports an excellent time during her visit.

Major Hall has returned from University with the intention of remaining. The teacher at Turkey Point school is doing good work and is liked by all her students; she will probably teach them another term.

A very fine four-year-old black filly belonging to Mr. George Hall got in the barbed wire last week and cut a fearful gash in his left fore ankle. It will probably cripple it for life.

Mr. M. Cathey, from Ohio, is visiting relatives and friends here. He was the guest of Mr. Jenkins the first evening of his arrival, but is now visiting at his brother's, Mr. James Cathey. Mr. C. will probably remain with us a while if he is successful enough to get into business that will justify him in doing so. He is a wide-awake man and ready to put his shoulder to the wheel at any time that an opportunity may permit. If he does not find employment here in the near future he will probably take his departure for some point in the west. He reports a mild winter and plenty of rain in Ohio.
