

The Evening Herald. OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY. A. Salisbury, Dentist, Rockwood Building, Telephone No. 35. Dr. Withers, Dentist, Union Block.

CITY CORDIALS.

Man may come and man may go, but the gas meters go on forever.—Lincoln Journal. Mrs. C. M. Wead entertained a small party of friends at her home, on Third street, last night. Mr. Allen Beeson has moved his family to the home he recently purchased in Hazeldell, from Mr. Baumeister. The young people of the Methodist church will meet in their church tonight to organize as a class and select a leader. There is nothing wrong with our weather service. It's as good as a fortune teller who can tell us the past. The revival services at the Christian church will continue the remainder of this week and probably the whole of next. Why don't the authorities enforce the law which allows them to shoot all curs which run at large unprovided with a tag? The gas is still burning at our expense, in Plattsmouth, but our baby sister town Glenwood can have her electric light. A number of expert whist players are talking of organizing a whist club for their entertainment during some of the long would-be winter nights. The loads of wood on the streets today outnumber the buyers by a large majority. Some of the farmers will probably accept little or nothing before they return home. E. S. Barstow and wife went up to Omaha this morning to pay a short visit to Mr. Barstow's sister, who is a singer in the Conried opera company, which is playing in Omaha this week. The M. E. church attendants of Cullum, are making great preparations for a necktie sociable to be given in the Cullum school house on the evening of the 16th. A very enjoyable evening is anticipated. Messrs. J. V. Weckbach and J. V. Egenberger took their departure for Bartlett, Ia., this morning to purchase land. Mr. Weckbach intends going out of business in the near future, on account of poor health. Mr. G. W. Turner who has been confined to his bed for the past three weeks with a serious attack of lung fever, is able to attend to his duties again. He went up to Omaha this morning for a little recreation. Last winter there were progressive euchre parties too numerous to mention, but this season they are too scarce to mention. Why society has become so dead within the past few months, no one is prepared to state. Double-doubled-doubled-doubled I've n Mdoubleore, the florist, was in Omaha today.—Journal, Feb. 7. We believe the florist will decorate Mr. Sherman's visage and double him up worse than he has doubled his name. The Missouri river commission held a secret session at St. Louis yesterday. Among the sums to be expended at places along the river, Plattsmouth is allowed $50,000. It is considered an unnecessary expense by many here. Mr. D. M. Jones went to Lincoln by the flyer this morning to attend a sale of horses which occurs there today. Mr. Jones left with the intention of purchasing the best horse on the market, and we trust that he may not change his mind. The most interesting and profitable resort for young men which Plattsmouth affords is the Y. M. C. A. rooms. They are open from 8:30 a. m. to 10 p. m., and everything there is free to all who have time to attend the rooms. The northwest corner of the brick building located on the corner of Main and Third streets should be looked into a little by the police. Rooms over Speck's saloon are said to be a lodging place for a couple of loose women and their attendants. The Knights of Labor will give their much talked of masquerade ball on Monday evening next at the Waterman opera house. There will no doubt be a large attendance, as the members of that order are putting forth every effort to make it a success. The Bee representative at Lincoln still writes a very interesting Lincoln letter and we are under the impression that the Journal is very appreciative of his efforts occasionally, as it frequently confers an honor by paying his letters its undivided attention. We would be pleased to hear from the committee appointed at the last board of trade meeting for the purpose of canvassing the city for subscriptions to aid in the purchase of the Presbyterian property. The future prosperity of the town, to a certain extent, depends upon their success.

MORRISSEY AND FENNO. Omaha's Star Representatives get in Hot Water at Lincoln—Some Dark Secrets Disclosed. Douglas County Election Fraud. LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 7, 1889.

EDITOR HERALD:—Last week was submission week, this one is contested election week. The peculiar people drawn from different quarters of the state to Lincoln by the agitation of Submission have departed to relate how much they did at critical periods to brace up this member or that senator. Local history will tell us the exploits of those delegations, even Cass county will prove no exception to the rule. In the senate but little remains to indicate the tension of a few days ago, unless it be the vigorous antagonism of Ransom to many of the measures agitated by Church Howe. There is an advantage to Howe in such opposition, it compels him to get his bills, or see that his friends get their bills up in proper shape. Ransom may not be right in all matters, but he has a very good head for law and the state constitution. Today the house has been agitated over Douglas county and her candidates for seats in the house of representatives. The majority report of the committee on privileges and elections was finally adopted just before adjournment, which would seem to indicate that Morrissey and Fenno must give way to Specht and O'Brien. On the final vote on the committee's report several republicans voted with the democrats on the ground that so much fraud and corruption was evident in the elections in Douglas county last fall that they could not come to any satisfactory conclusion as to who was elected. Morrissey made a savage assault on the committee claiming they broke open the ballot boxes, and did not attempt to get the keys to unlock them, which keys were in the hands of the democratic county clerk for Douglas county. In reply Cady said he had written several times to the Douglas county clerk, signing as the chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, requesting him to send or bring the keys; that finally the county clerk was subpoenaed, but when before the committee was so drunk nothing intelligible could be gotten from him either in the shape of keys or language, and that the Douglas county delegation were compelled to put the man to bed, adding that all parties had refrained from making the matter public out of respect to Douglas county, her officials, and those representing her in the present legislature. Morrissey admitted all, and in addition, that it would have been better for him and his fellow representatives had they left the county clerk alone altogether. Portions of the testimony read in the house today disclose the most glaring and public-sounding fraud on the part of the democrats in the last fall elections. In one precinct alone the clerk testified they added 145 votes to Mesbane's tally. The entire proceeding from the time the ballot boxes were stuffed down to the time their elected county clerk appeared before the committee maintain drunk seemed quite "democratic don't you know." One member from Douglas arose and shrieked that he had been a republican most of his life and that he was still one as far as "a free ballot and a fair count" was concerned. What a pity he could not have run a mission school for the benefit of democratic district election officers a few months preceding last election. Seeing the inevitable stating them in this manner. MORRISSEY AND FENNO agreed to consent and urge a measure sending them back for re-election or defeat. It is hardly probable with such evidence as the house has in its possession they will put the county of Douglas to the expense of an extra election, when a few hours' voting will settle the question quite as effectually and as justly as in any other manner. TRANSIENT. Joe will have all the novelties in his line in the market. He will be able to suit the most fastidious. 5-1w. There are a number of vacant lots on Main street, owned by the wealthiest men in the state, that are a disgrace to the city. They cannot be purchased at any price, and still the owners will leave them vacant because they entertain some wild ideas, we are told, that the property will improve and appreciate in value much more rapidly as it is. There should be a law prohibiting such people owning a foot of land in the city, when they will not sell at any price nor make any improvements which would be to their own interests and the interests of the city. They are aliens in the same degree that the lords of foreign lands are who still live in their country and possess vast tracts of land in America, but we are glad to know that the government will soon frame a law which will cut them off.

PERSONALS.

H. E. Whiting is in Omaha today. Judge Newell is in Omaha today on business. Mr. Shumaker was a passenger to Omaha this morning. J. H. Halderman, of Weeping Water, is in the city today. Mr. C. L. Creamer, of Cullum, paid the Herald a pleasant call today. Mrs. J. I. Unruh and children left for Omaha this morning to visit with her sister for a few days. Mrs. Judge Russell, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. A. B. Knotts, left for Weeping Water last night to visit with friends for a few days. Joe the One Price Clothier is connected with four of the largest retail clothing houses in Illinois and Missouri, which enables him to buy cheaper than any of his competitors. J. M. Roth, of this city, walked into the Riddle house last night in company with his paramour whom he told the clerk was his wife, and secured a room. The clerk, not knowing the man or his companion, believed him and gave him a room. When Mr. Riddle returned to the house he was informed that the couple had secured a room in his house. He went immediately to the room and rapped on the door, but without response. When he threatened to break the door in the man opened it. Mr. Riddle entered and found the man partially undressed, and the "cat" behind the door. He soon made the pair scarce about those quarters by roughly firing both of them from the house. Clothing Almost Given Away at the Bankrupt Sale; Riddle House block, corner Third and Main streets. Valentines of all descriptions at O. P. Smith & Co's. The material to be used in supplying the thriving city of Glenwood with water arrived there this morning, and as soon as possible will be placed in working order so that their town will be provided with a little protection from fire. They are investing in an electric light plant, and with this modern improvement will leave Plattsmouth in the shade and keep her "gassing" how much she holds the lead. It is hoped that where she leads, we will follow if we are not to surpass her. Joe's line of white, toney, silk and flannel shirts will be the grandest and finest ever brought to Plattsmouth. The finest line of Valentines in the city at O. P. Smith & Co's.

Many are disappointed to learn that Plattsmouth will not be supplied with the fresh morning news as early as we have been for several weeks. After Sunday next the Bee special will be suspended, robbing the city of this accommodation of the morning papers with which it has been treated. Mr. W. Edwards, who had control of the Riddle House barber shop for some time, took his departure for Glenwood last night where he has purchased the best barber shop of that town, on which he expended about $300. Mr. Frank Lockwood, who at one time was employed in Mr. Morley's shop here, and who has since been working at his trade in Glenwood, arrived in the city this morning to take charge of the shop until Monday, and probably permanently. Quite a number of young men of this city are planning to go to Pawnee City Friday the 15th inst. The first annual conference of the Second District of the Nebraska Y. M. C. A., (including Cass, Otoe, Nemaha, Gage, Richardson, Johnson and Pawnee counties) will be held there Feb. 14-17. This conference will be a source of rich benefit to all who can attend, and a strong delegation from Plattsmouth is desired. "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company last night played to a full house at Glenwood, and earned many away as there was not standing room. Two gentlemen who saw the play there last night say it was the best Uncle Tom's Cabin show they have seen, and that all were perfectly satisfied. Their band, orchestra and the whole show was exceptionally good. The members of the A. O. U. W. entertained a good number of their friends and relatives last night at their lodge room in the K. of P. hall. A very inviting supper was served, and the entire party apparently thoroughly enjoyed the evening, if bright and cheerful faces are an indication of enjoyment. The party did not disperse until a late hour. If you consult your own interests you will buy your foot-wear of Merges. Don't forget the matinee tomorrow afternoon. Remember you can reserve your seats for yourself and children together at 10c and 25c. Don't miss seeing the street parade tomorrow at 11:30. Secure your seats now for tomorrow night, only 50c to see "Uncle Tom's". Joe's boys' and children's clothing department will be the most in the state of Nebraska. Look out for his Grand Spring Opening. Be wise and buy your overshoes of Merges.
