CITY CORDIALS.

—Cleveland takes a tumble to himself in a few days.

—We have just received a lot of new type, so bring in your job work.

—We have just received some of the latest styles of job type, give us your orders.

—The new chief of police showed his authority early yesterday morning by hoisting the weather flags.

—Miss Hattie Sheffer will entertain a party of friends at progressive whist, tonight, at her home, Main street.

—Mr. Jerry O'Rourke, brother of Mr. Morris O'Rourke, sr., is confined to his bed with a severe attack of kidney disease.

—Mr. W. A. Boeck, shoe dealer, advertises his stock of boots and shoes for sale at cost, stating that it is his intention to open up a shoe store at Pueblo, Col.

—Mrs. Lessie Hunt will entertain a small party of friends tomorrow night in honor of the Misses Gering, her neighbors, who will soon take up their abode in another portion of the city.

—A citizen standing on the streets this morning was heard to remark: "I don't know what the Journal will do for news now since Poissal has resigned and another city marshal has been appointed."

—One year ago today the Brotherhood engineers employed on the "Q" went out on strike. If they had known then what the year has brought forth—numberless scabs—there would have been no strike.

—There are many citizens who have been guessing a good many ways as to what success the committee which was appointed by the board of trade to raise a subscription to aid in the purchase of ground for a new hotel, has had.

—The Turner's Society of this city will give a mask ball on Monday next at Fitzgerald's hall. The event is looked forward to with great anticipations, and will undoubtedly be a grand success—no pains will be spared by the committee in charge, to make the event the most enjoyable for those who attend.

—The funeral of the late Mrs. Hannah Buttery, who died yesterday, took place this afternoon from the residence of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. W. Buttery. A short service was conducted at her late home by Rev. H. B. Burgess, of the Episcopal church, before the removal of the remains. There was a large attendance of friends who paid their last tributes of respect.

—Early this morning Father Carney was called upon to tie the holy knot at the Catholic church, the contracting parties being Mr. Patrick Tighe, of Wabash, and Miss Ella Blessington, of Manly, Miss Della Blessington, sister of the bride, performed the duties of bridesmaid, and Mr. Jas. Tighe, brother of the groom, assisted as groomsmen. The party came to the city last night and put up at the Riddle house, so that their contracts might be fulfilled early this morning.

—All merchants complain of the credit system of doing business which they have been led into by the laboring class here. Waiting for pay day, has formed a very foolish habit for all who depend upon their monthly compensation, and it seems evident that all other people of Plattsmouth have followed their example. It is occasionally said that no place in the state is known to do as much credit business as Plattsmouth, and many merchants suffer heavy losses by the loss of business is always known to be much more brisk where the cash system rules.

—The trial docket for the March term of District court of Cass county, which opens on March 11, has just been published by the Weeping Water Eagle. The following names have been chosen for the March term: Thomas Hill, O. E. Chandler, William Ballance, Curtis Moore, J. T. Mills, J. M. Compton, Joseph A. Connor, S. R. Carrigan, Frank Boyd, Jessie Livingston, William Wintersteen, Jacob Schlanker, C. E. Pierce, M. M. Shipman, H. J. Miller, A. A. Barden, C. W. Sherman, W. R. Baldwin, Olan Cole, J. H. Lloyd, Thomas Holmes, August Thinghan, David O'Brien, W. J. Monroe.

—Although Dr. Cook was not waylaid as was first reported, he is of the opinion that he would have escaped with slighter injuries if he had been. His right limb, below the knee, is completely discolored, and he sustained other bruises on his arms and body which present an alarming condition. The bruises were caused by a fall he received in stepping from a porch in front of a house where he had been attending a patient, and as the night was extremely dark, he had no chance to save himself. Mr. Donnelly, who was in company with the doctor at the time he fell, received much slighter injuries. He is now on exhibition in Smith & Co's drug store or Mayer's clothing store.

—Mr. C. H. Parmele has purchased a fine large safe of the Deebold Safe Company, for his bank at Nehawka.

—Mr. Geo. Rowe, a striking engineer, has recently gone into the express business. He has provided himself with a fine dray team, and he is now ready to be called upon.

—Dr. Emmons, who has occupied the Schildknecht property on 9th street for a short time, lately moved his family to the house on the corner of Washington avenue and Seventh street, owned by Mrs. Wayman.

—Mr. John R. Cox, who had a disastrous wrestle with a pump the other day, has a very badly discolored eye, from the effects. Had he been struck a little lower, he would surely have lost the use of one of his eyes.

—Mr. W. H. Rogan and Miss Mary Nockon will be married at the Catholic church tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, by Father Carney. They will make their home in South Park in one of Mr. J. V. Weckbach's houses.

—Mr. Adam Kurtz, who has been living about two miles and a half northwest of this city, on the Goodwin place, has moved his family to the city within the last few days. They will make their home on the corner of Seventh and Hickory streets.

—A number of icemen are now engaged in harvesting ice from the Missouri. The ice which was salted down the fore part of the cold snap is not of the best quality, and the icemen who are now putting away good ice, will control the market next summer.

—Preparations are being made by two young ladies from What Cheer, Ia., to open a millinery store in the room adjoining "Joe's" clothing store. The names of the ladies are: Misses Moore and Studebaker. The HERALD wishes them success in their undertakings, and welcomes them to Plattsmouth that they may enjoy a harvest in its business.

—A happy event occurred yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the Louisville church, in the marriage of Mr. John O'Leary to Miss Bridget Burk. Father Carney, of this city, performed the ceremony in a manner which pleased very much all parties who were interested. Mr. O'Leary lives near Weeping Water, and is well known in this city.

—There are some rising young vocalists in this city who are thinking seriously of going east for the purpose of having their voices cultivated, we would advise to take a course in some agricultural colleges where plows, harrows and cultivators are plentiful, and have the stumps which are so prominent, plowed out before taking a more advanced course in a musical school.

Rock Bluffs.

Oscar Hagood is sick in bed with bilious fever.

Mr. James Walston who moved down to Mr. Chalfants farm last fall moved back to his own residence last Monday.

A wedding took place about two miles south of here last week. Mrs. Schways, a woman of about sixty years of age, was married to Mr. James Ringle.

League Brown, who was so unfortunate as to nearly cut the toes off of one of his feet a short time ago while chopping in the timber, is getting along as well as could be expected.

Mr. John Farthing, who has been sick nearly all winter with a lung trouble, is getting better, we hear. We also hear that he has sold out his interest in the town property south of Main street, to Calvin Graves, of Iowa.

We have had hard time to get far this winter and a few have not got all they want yet. Ten years ago only one farmer in this locality put up ice and now there are about twenty who put it up to enjoy the cold comfort of it next summer.

Mr. Thomas Holmes and Miss Nellie Holmes started Saturday night on the flyer for a six weeks' visit to Delaware county, New York. They are expected in the meantime to attend the wedding of a cousin, and to learn how to make and eat maple sugar.

The most of the annual moves will take place this spring. Thomas McKay has moved into W. H. Smith's house. Fay Miner moves on to the Noah Clemmons farm, Joseph Ellington moves on the Silas Clemmons farm and George Churchill moves into the Charles Tracy house, which he has bought. Uncle James McCulloch, breaks up keeping house and goes to live with his son-in-law, Mr. Ira Bosworth; M. M. Alden moves into the house vacated by Mr. McCulloch.

S. G. Latta, of Murray, receives more benefit when the wind blows than any man we know of. He has a large windmill with sufficient power to run a two-belt corn sheller, and also runs two sets of steel burrs for grinding corn and oats for feed. He also belts on and runs a circle saw for sawing up cord wood, and another belt turns a grindstone for tools, and last, but not least in importance, a small web belt runs the revolving churn. This is a great convenience, and some families would save many a quarrel among the children, as to which had churned the longest five minutes, if such a helper were had.
