CITY CORDIALS.

"Blest be the tie that binds" our special poet to his country school.

Three carloads of blood horses passed through the city this morning en route from California to New York.

The family of Mr. Gering will move from the house they now occupy on Locust street to the Schildknecht house which is located on 9th street, next Monday.

The report came to us today that Mrs. John Minor is seriously ill. She has only been confined to her bed the past two days, but since, her condition has rapidly grown worse and at present, it is said, she lies in a critical condition.

Mrs. Allen Coleman, of Weeping Water, was taken to the asylum at Lincoln yesterday, by Sheriff Eikenbary. It is said that this is the fifth time she has become insane. She was sent to the asylum before but as it was believed she had fully recovered, she was again released.

The masquerade ball given in Fitzgerald's hall last night under the auspices of the St. Luke's Guild was reported as being a grand success. The finest display of costumes ever witnessed at any event of that character in the city, were seen last night. There was an unusually large attendance.

As the HERALD was misinformed regarding the statement which was afloat that the ex-secretary had appropriated about $40 of the gun club's money, an apology is due the man on whom the blame fell since he has cleared himself of the charge. On account of the loose manner in which the books of the club were kept, the mistake occurred.

The most welcome sound which has reached the reporters ears for many a day was the report of a revolver followed by the kye-yi-kye-yi of a canine which had been howling for about an hour before trying to knock on the head all his efforts to sleep. The man who fired the gun deserves rich compensation for the thoughtfulness he exhibited in behalf of many friends who live within about a mile of his home.

W. M. Wilkinson, representing Robert Downing and the Gladiator Company, is in the city today arranging for the appearance of the company on the 6th of March. The guarantee Manager Young desired to raise has not yet been secured, but he feels safe in running a little chance, as many who have not signed are desirous of seeing the company, and the majority of them will attend when the time arrives.

We learn that the street commissioners have at last been instructed to fill the numerous cesspools within the limits of our city. Better late than never. The board of health should have taken the matter in hand many weeks ago, as the cause of the numerous cases of diphtheria in the city is attributed to the stench which arises from such pools. It is well that the heat of the summer will not be allowed to raise filthy fumes from such poisonous water. Now since the city has been provided with every advantage in way of drainage, there is no excuse for filthy quarters.

The first progressive whist party ever given in the city, was a decided success and the hostess, Miss Hattie Sheffer, received much praise from her guests for the able manner in which she conducted the affair. The entire company arrived at her home about 8 o'clock last night and immediately after the game was commenced. Much more interest was manifested than in the progressive euchre. The party did not break up until after 12 o'clock, shortly before which time the most inviting refreshments were served. The king prizes were a tie on both sides. The gentlemen securing the first prizes were Messrs. J. A. Davies and C. Morgan, and the ladies Misses Olive Jones and Annie Murphy. After the cut was made to decide the tie, Mr. C. Morgan and Miss Jones carried off the honors.

The friends of W. A. Derrick have volunteered their services to aid in giving him a benefit concert before he takes his departure from the city. Some of the most prominent citizens have not only suggested the idea, but have made known their intention of making it a grand success. The Glee Club have often been requested to come before the public with a concert, and the members have decided to do so now. Mr. C. F. Whitney, of Omaha, formerly a member of the club, will be present on that occasion. Other Omaha talent will also be engaged for the occasion. Messrs. Neville, Connor and Murphy, whose ability as humorists is unquestionable, have promised their valuable assistance by rendering a trio. Mr. P. McCallen, whose services have been engaged at a great expense, will accompany the three vocalists by the violin, on which he exhibits much ability. It is expected that the concert will be the most humorous ever given in the city, and the best local talent will assist.

PERSONALS.

Mr. A. W. Martin and Miss Pratt are spending the day in Omaha.

Mr. S. F. Thomas, attorney, leaves for Washington by the flyer this afternoon to attend the inauguration.

Mrs. John Ballenger arrived from Schuyler this morning to pay a short visit to friends in this city.

Mr. Julius Engleke, clerk in the store of C. E. Wescott, left this morning for his home at Sidney, Ia., to spend the day.

Mr. M. Newman, of Greenwood, is in the city today attending to business in connection with the N. Estaque assignment case.

Mrs. C. McPherson, who lately removed with her husband from this city to Greely Centre, arrived in the city this morning to visit a few days with friends.

Mrs. D. A. Hawksworth and daughter, Miss Mary, leave by the flyer this afternoon for Burlington, Ia. They will remain at that city for about a week.

Mrs. Maralan, wife of Thos. Marslan, general baggage agent on the B. & M., arrived this morning from Lincoln in company with Captain Palmer. She will visit at the home of Mr. Palmer for a short time.

Mr. Geo. Pease, who has been visiting at his home in New York for some time, is in the city for a few days visit. He has been employed on the New Road being built in Michigan by Mr. Fitzgerald, as surveyor. It is his intention to go to the Black Hills shortly, in the interests of the B. & M.

A GRAND PRODUCTION.

Robert Downing in the Gladiator. What will prove the most important tragic engagement yet known in Plattsmouth, will be the appearance at the opera house on next Wednesday of the great tragedian, Robert Downing under the management of Mr. J. H. Mack. Mr. Downing will appear in the grand and realistic production of Dr. Bindsublime tragedy, Spartacus the Gladiator, which will be produced here in all its magnitude, as when seen at the Star Theatre and Grand opera house New York, the Boston theatre Boston, and all the principal legitimate theatres of this country. Over a car load of magnificent scenery will be brought here together with all the original gorgeous costumes, armor, properties and implements of Roman warfare. Downing is this week playing to the capacity of the opera house, Kansas City, and is enroute East for other extended engagements in the largest cities.

The reporter had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Thos. F. Boyd, manager of Boyds opera house, Omaha, yesterday. This was his first visit to our city. He was in company with Manager Young who showed him around our city during the short stay he had here. He showed him our opera house and he informed the reporter that the opera house was an ornament to our city, although it seemed to him that the proprietor of the house did not cater to the comforts and taste of the patrons. During his many years of management, his experience has been that people who patronize opera houses expect to see a change of scenery and other comforts at least every two years as well as good attractions, for which they are willing to pay their money, and he is satisfied that the house would have a much better patronage if the proprietor, Mr. Waterman, would put in some new scenery, new decorations, take out the platform floor, and fit it up as a regular opera house with good chairs, as he had heard managers of companies playing here say that the Plattsmouth opera house has not had any improvements since it was built. So far as manager Young is concerned, he is doing his best to give the patrons good attractions, and is succeeding, as many companies coming here play at his house and was astonished to hear that we had secured Robt. L. Downing for a date and assures the Plattsmouth people that it will be the finest performance ever seen here and would advise everyone to go and hear this great tragedian and his powerful company.

J. E. Riley, of Omaha, was in the city yesterday for the purpose of learning what success he would meet at the hands of the citizens, before whom he had placed the proposition and project of erecting a twenty five thousand dollar hotel. It is stated that he received little or no encouragement, and the whole scheme has dropped through. It was his intention to carry out his plans should he receive the encouragement desired, but as the people seemed to take no interest in the matter he was well satisfied to abandon the idea. He thought when property owners could not see their way for assisting in such a matter, that business would not maintain it, and he was evidently as well satisfied to "let it out" as anyone, and accept a much more favorable opportunity at his option in a much more business like town.

Judge Newbury was a little on his muscle today and had a fistic encounter with one of the fraternity this afternoon. For further particulars inquire of the judge.

Abducted Children.

It will be remembered that Calvin Hubbell, who once made his home in this city, deserted his wife and several children about three years ago. His wife was a daughter of W. H. Shepherd, who lives about three miles west of this city. Only a short time ago Mr. Hubbell died, and since, the young children have been adopted by people in this vicinity. Mr. Ed. Foid took a girl about eleven years, Mr. Shepherd a boy about four years old, and Mr. C. M. Holmes a girl. One of the family, a boy about 20 years of age, was dangerously sick with fever for some time at the home of Mr. Shepherd, but he was carefully nursed and brought through. He induced the little children to start with him for Iowa yesterday. Mr. Holmes followed the party to the ferry landing and captured the little girl, but the young man took the other two children across the river, and it is supposed to meet the father, Sheriff Eikenbary and Deputy Sheriff Miller took the K. C. this morning for Iowa, and it is supposed the young man will be captured.
