CITY CORDIALS.

—The infant son of J. H. Waterman is very sick.
—W. J. Warrick was busy receiving a large stock of wall paper today.
—Thos. Walling, clerk in the law office of Byron Clark has been commissioned as a notary public.
—Those that fail to hear Downing tonight, will miss the finest entertainment in the history of Plattsmouth.
—The county commissioners hold a special meeting tomorrow. Matters of special nature will be under consideration.
—Rev. H. B. Burgess, will give a short address at the Episcopal church tonight on the subject of "Temptation." All are invited to attend.
—Phillip Horn, living four miles south of town, had a public sale today; it was largely attended, and things sold well under the hammer of Auctioneer W. D. Jones.
—Samuel Bryant, of Ashland, was on our streets today. Mr. Bryant is well known in this part of Nebraska, and served a few years on the Saunders county board.

—The remains of the late John Smalley were taken this morning to Central City, Iowa. Several relatives from here and a son, Devane Smalley, from Indiana, went to be present at the interment.

—Dr. Schillknecht this morning purchased a fine team of match grays, for road service, from Joseph Cook. The doctor has long felt the need of such a team in his practice, and has secured "just what he was looking for."

—Columbus has just had a great justification over the Hotel Thurston, a fine new hotel. It is much desired in Plattsmouth to have occasion for a justification over the opening of such an institution before summer goes by.

—All persons attending the Downing performance tonight, are most kindly requested by the opera house management, to please be in their seats by eight o'clock, on account of the play being a long one, the performance will begin at 8 o'clock sharp.

—Evangelist Miller is attracting very large congregations at the Methodist church every night and only those on time are successful in getting a good seat. Tonight's subject is "Temperance." Mr. Miller sings appropriate solos for the subjects and being a fine singer wins the attention all.

—The first cry of "Pool for Recorder" was heard last night. (In reference to the fall campaign). Mr. Pool says it's the finest boy he ever saw: he came to make his home at the county recorder's and will vote the republican ticket straight. The Herald extends congratulations to the father.

—The B. & M. railroad company has complied with the conditions of the city in filling in the old creek bed near the Plattsmouth cannery company's building, and has sent in the deed to forty-seven feet of ground east of the alley in blocks 27 and 42, for street room, in exchange for Second street. A proclamation from the mayor soon, will make that alley a street sixty feet wide. No name has been proposed. What's the matter with B. & M. street?

—Now that it is "President Harrison" a general cleaning out of public offices all over the country will be in order. The county officers here are in the lead in this matter and have waded in with both feet to turn the four years' accumulation out of the court house. "Brother Cal" has been called in to aid, and with a whitewash overhead and several tubs of water on the floor, things are going to shine. A raid of this kind was made on the clerk's office this morning, and the work will continue till the treasurer's office is reached.

—An accident with quite serious results happened at 4:30 last evening, on Fifth street, in front of K. Dressler's tailor shop. Mrs. Dawson, a lady from near Union, was sitting in her spring wagon, which stood endwise out into the street, with the horses tied to a post at the sidewalk. A heavy wagon came along, a wheel caught the rear of the wagon in which Mrs. Dawson sat, jerking it in such a manner as to throw her to the ground. She was able to rise to her feet and was helped into Mr. Dressler's shop and Dr. Hall was called. An examination showed a severe bruise on the left breast and the patient suffered much pain. Medicine was given and after about an hour's treatment the lady was able to start home. A son accompanied her, and they intended to go about four miles last evening to a friend's where the night would be spent.

Boards Wanted.—Good board and lodging, only $3.50 per week at Mr. Mary Peck's corner of Locust and 4th st.

THE HOTEL QUESTION
Understandings Reached and Fine Hotel Promised as a Sure Thing

The hotel problem which has agitated the citizens of Plattsmouth for some time seems to be about solved, and a $25,000 hotel will be erected the coming summer. Although the prospect for a satisfactory arrangement for the building seemed to darken and drop last week, the mist has now cleared away, and the matter has been brought to a condition that Mr. Riley can erect a hotel in the fulfillment of his last proposition.

The effort to secure the Presbyterian church lot and give it to Mr. Riley, of Omaha, provided he would erect the hotel, failed. Last week, it seems, he made the proposition to pay $2,500 for the lot, and put up the hotel as contemplated, if the citizens would pay the rest; and Monday night the Presbyterians decided to take $3,500 for the church lot—leaving $1,000 to be raised by the citizens. This amount had already been subscribed, and last night at the board of trade meeting, a committee, J. W. Johnson, was authorized to close the contract of the lot with Mr. Riley, according to his last proposition; so the hotel seems to be an insured benefit.

Other business of a miscellaneous nature was transacted at the board meeting, but the hotel was the principal movement of general interest.

Last Night's Meeting.

The M. E. church was again more than filled last night by those anxious to hear Mr. Miller talk about salvation. He spoke and sang more especially to young men, for whom the body of the church had been reserved. A time of about five minutes was taken in which christians were invited to tell where they were converted. The song "Behold the Saviour at the door," was most beautifully sung by a trio—Messrs. Miller, and Walter and Lou Dale, of Omaha. After the reading of the first Psalm, by Rev. Alexander, Mr. Miller sang a solo "I am that Wandering Boy," and then talked for about an hour to young men. There were quite a number of converts, and all will be glad to hear Mr. Miller again.

Robert Downing.

Robert L. Downing, who is starring under the management of Mr. Jos. H. Mack, is looked upon as the handsomest tragedian upon the stage. The photographers are after him and offering large sums for the rights. Although but thirty-two years of age, he has had much stage experience. He has supported Edwin Booth, Mary Anderson and Joseph Jefferson, reaping the highest encomiums of the press with the latter two.—N. Y. Herald.

Horning District.

Geo. Wiles lost a valuable colt on Saturday night of last week.

There will be an exhibition held at our school house on the evening of March 19.

Last fall W. L. Hull was married to Ida Beins and took their departure for the east on a wedding tour so unceremonious that the boys failed to get in a charivari. On Saturday night the boys got together to fulfil their pledge to W. L. and wife, although the wedding was many months in the past. They proceeded to the house into which Mr. Hull had moved that day and opened fire in good shape. After using considerably ammunition and long power etc. they found that they were not alone. Hull wife and W. F. Cole were among the boys with a bell each doing their "level best" at making a noise. The boys simply owned that they were beat and that Mr. Hull, and wife were entitled to the treat. However, Mr. Hull "set 'em up" and a very pleasant time was had.
