

The Evening Herald.
OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.
A. Salsbury, Dentist, Rockwood Building,
Telephone No. 35.
Dr. Withers, Dentist, Union Block.

CITY CORDIALS.

—Sol. Osborn is putting a few finishing touches on his residence, corner Locust and Ninth streets.
—“Catch ball” has already become a pastime with the boys, and the bat will soon be brought into use.
—Some first-class Omaha talent has been secured for next Tuesday night's concert. A programme will appear soon.
—Mrs. Niles found a lady's gold breastpin Sunday morning. The owner can have the same by calling at her house.
—The property of Mrs. Wayman, corner of Seventh street and Washington avenue, occupied by Dr. Emmons, is being generally improved.
—Those who have not yet been able to hear the singing evangelist, Mr. E. F. Miller, at the M. E. church, will have the remainder for this week to her him.
—The fishermen of the Iowa bottoms have introduced some fine specimens of Missouri river fish to the market here, and have a “tub stand” on lower main street.
—The city council of Neligh, Neb., yesterday revoked the licenses of the saloon keepers in the city, by order of Judge Powers, in the late mandamus proceedings.
—A hunting party of, W. D. Jones, A. W. White, J. P. Antill, W. H. Baker, J. M. Johns and Tom Parmele went out to Platte bottom this afternoon to try their luck on the geese.
—A young man from Weeping Water who has been in the city for several days, today remarked, “Plattsmouth booms, she is progressing steadily.” Yes, she is, and a good building boom is generating.
—Many of the business men wear a cheerful prosperous look, which seems to come from a lively spring trade. Plattsmouth is getting ready for a spread this summer. Much building and improvement will be done.
—Five members of the Plattsmouth dramatic club have volunteered their services to produce a light comedy in connection with Mr. Derrick's concert. The entertainment will be given at the opera house next Tuesday night.
—The play of “Spartacus” was last night presented to a large audience. Much appreciation of the play actors has been expressed today. Considerable comment is also made on the scenery as being first-class, and plenty of it.
—Judge Russell, being concerned in the welfare of all social communities, and with a desire to see all men happy, today issued marriage licenses to James D. Durlin and Maud Nichols, of Elmwood, and Mr. T. J. Ferguson and Mrs. Lutitia Rush, of Wabash.
—Those brown bugs which made their presence previously general until a late day last fall, are appearing on the sunny side of some of the buildings as thick as ever. It seemed they crowded into cracks and remained dormant during the winter, which was not severe enough to kill them.
—Little Leo Pepperburg was a caller at the HERALD this morning, and a very cheerful countenance it was he wore, too. He carried a fine toy engine in his arms and remarked, “We're going to run our house by steam—the lightening express, we call it.” We were then treated to an exhibition of parlor railroading. Leo said he was six years old today and the “lightening express” was a present.
—Sheriff Eikenbary had on a new deputy yesterday, Mrs. Eikenbary. They went up to Lincoln in the morning and returned on the flyer with two women from the asylum there, Mrs. Ward and Mrs. English. One was sent to the asylum in 1879, the other in 1884, from this county. Being crowded for room at Lincoln, and these not being serious cases, they were returned to Cass county and will be kept at the poor farm.

—The HERALD readers will remember the case mentioned about two weeks ago about the abduction of children named Hubble from the homes of Mr. C. M. Holmes, and Mr. Joshua Gopin. The children were placed there by their grandfather, Mr. Shepherd, after the death of their mother, and were induced to leave and go to Iowa to their father by an elder brother, but were brought back by Mr. Holmes. Mr. Hubble, yesterday had a writ of habeas corpus served on Mr. Shepherd to secure the custody of his children. The trial was held this afternoon before Judge Russell. Mathew Gering for plaintiff and Byron Clark for defendant.

OBITUARY.

DIED: This morning at 8 o'clock, Honora McVey, aged 7 years, 3 months, daughter of Joseph J. McVey. Cause of decease was croup.
The funeral will occur from the home of Mr. McVey on North Sixth street, tomorrow at 11 a. m. There will be no service at the house. Friends of the family will attend without any further notice.

A CITY BUILDING.
Would it not be a Good Investment for Plattsmouth to Erect a Good City Hall?
Now is the Time.

For several years, at times, the erection of a good city building has been talked of, and during the last few months the question has frequently been asked in our hearing, “Why don't Plattsmouth build a city building?” It seems the matter has never been taken up and pushed through, but among the leading citizens, as far as it has been discussed, there seems to be a hearty desire to see such a building erected.

The benefit of a properly arranged city building would come from these sources: To furnish offices with vaults, for the use of city officials, wherein all city records and property can be safely kept and be accessible to, at any time; to supply a convenient and properly arranged meeting room for the city council; to afford a city hall, in which to hold meetings of public interest, fire companies etc.; have a city jail, secure and safe, and thus all the city property, offices, jail, hall, etc., could be brought into one building, and city officials could have a headquarters, and there would be some system about the manipulating of municipal affairs.

And again, a respectable city building in Plattsmouth would be a mark of thrift and public enterprise, which would be quickly observed and put down to the credit of this city, by men of enterprise visiting here; whereas, the loose and inconvenient manner in which it is now necessary to conduct city business is nothing to be proud of, and is constantly a matter of unfavorable regard to a visitor who loves public push and good municipal arrangement. A good city building would, we believe, be a source of much benefit to this city.

The spring is now rapidly advancing and it is so, that such a building shall be erected in Plattsmouth within one year, now is the time to begin to plan, for invariably the executing of public work is slow to get in shape.

PERSONALS.

C. L. Coleman was in the city last night.
Chas. and T. J. Ferguson, of Wabash, were in town today.
H. F. Taylor, represented Liberty precinct in town today.
Nebraska's supreme judge, Mr. Maxwell, was in town yesterday.
Mrs. Hewitt and child are visiting at her father's, Mr. Ben Hemple.
R. B. Windham and wife were passengers to Glenwood, Ia., this morning.
Wm. Cushing, of the Citizens Bank, was a west-bound passenger last night.
Miss Viola Nahrung, who has been visiting in this city, returned to Culbertson this morning.
Miss Exa B. Critchfield departed this morning for Weeping Water, which will be her future home.
Mrs. W. J. Hesser was called to Lincoln this morning on account of the illness of a grandchild.
Louis Poltz, of Weeping Water, and A. B. Dickson, of Elmwood, are in town attending commissioner's meeting.
J. Murray, from Eight Mile Grove, started this morning for Smith county, Kansas, being called there by the severe illness of his mother.
Plattsmouth's delegation to Omaha this morning was made up of Dr. J. H. Hall, Jerry Farthing, J. D. Tudd, Sam Barker, Ed. Levan, Mrs. Geo. Houseworth, Mrs. H. E. Palmer, F. S. White and wife, M. O'Craig, Phillip Krause, John Marshall, W. L. Browne, Stephen Buzzell, Mrs. and Anna Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Patteron, and Mr. and Mrs. S. Waugh.

A Growing Revival.
The attendance and interest in Evangelist Miller's revival meetings at the Methodist church still keeps up, and last night one of the best meetings was had. The church was crowded, and the meeting opened with a song and testimonial service. The evangelist sang a beautiful temperance solo, and then gave a talk of about an hour's duration. Plain and earnest were his remarks and many crowded around the mourners' bench seeking their Savior.
The afternoon meetings, from 3:30 to 4:30 are also well attended, and yesterday several confessed conversion. Mr. Miller is well experienced in this work of Salvation, and much good is resulting from the meetings.

An Affidavit.
This morning, while the commissioners were busy, some one dropped the following on their table:

HERRMANN'S.

A MAN THAT THINKS
He is a Man and Knows Other Men's Business Better Than His Own.

Mr. Sherwood, I am sorry I gave you any worry, but hope you have not lost any sleep over it. In the first place, I think you are a little too personal in your advertising, when you do not know anything about my affairs and intentions. If you do not want to take my word and believe me when I say I am going to Pueblo, you can write to Mr. A. H. Canthron, traveling agent for J. Faust & Son, boot and shoe manufacturers of Baltimore, and he will inform you in a very few words what my intentions are and what he has done for me in regard to my locating at Pueblo; also you may write to W. J. Austin, agent for American Hand-sewed Shoe Co., Boston, Mass. And in regard to receiving my spring goods at the back door secretly, it is a falsehood, for it was broad day light and my store opened in front.
I wonder if Mr. Sherwood thinks all the merchants that receive goods at their back doors do it secretly.
Well, Mr. Sherwood, don't you trouble yourself where I receive my goods, for I shall have them put where it is most convenient for me. You stated that you do not need to close to mark your goods, perhaps it is because you have not had the rush of trade that we have had, in the last few days. Our prices tells the story. You may try to make the public think that, because I am getting in my spring goods it is not my intention to go away—but any business man knows that any intelligent boot and shoe dealer, always places their orders six months ahead, and as in my case I did not make up my mind to move away until five months after I had ordered my spring stock.
Of course a man of your principle might countermand them after the fact, but you made them to the order, but I will not do it, I think it is far more wise to take them as I ordered them and sell the goods at cost. Every man has a right to do as he thinks best. You can give your goods away for all I care, I will not tell you out in public that you are deceiving the people when you are not.
Time will tell you that my intentions are not fraud and that you made a great mistake by stating to the public that I intended to deceive them. I feel flattered to think you would pattern after me in regard to putting reduced cards in your window same as I have in my window. The trouble is, Mr. Sherwood, you want the earth with a fence around it and try to trample a young man that is striving to make an honorable living.
Yours Respectfully,
W. A. BOECK.
