

The Evening Herald. OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY. A. Nallsbury, Dentist, Rockwood Building, Telephone No. 35. Dr. Withers, Dentist, Union Block.

CITY CORDIALS.

Today was pay-day and the boys are once more happy. The W. A. Derrick benefit tomorrow night at the opera house. Union is talking of displaying her enterprise by erecting a school building. There will be no meeting of the Christian Endeavor this evening on account of the revival meetings. Rev. Hirt, Pastor of the German M. E. church in this city, left this morning for Hamburg, Iowa, where he intends to hold protracted meetings this week. The richest musical treat a man could think of enjoying will be given at the opera house tomorrow evening for him to gratify his musical thirst. It is the W. A. Derrick musical benefit. The appearance of the street sprinkler on Main street this afternoon was a source of great comfort and consolation to the weary pedestrian. The people of Plattsburgh have sand enough to do most anything now. A young man come to town last week seeking employment, giving his name as Charley Lee. Saturday he got drunk and became disorderly, whereupon he was arrested and this morning was tried and fined and committed to jail. Janauschek, the great tragic actress is to be at the Grand Opera House in Omaha the first three nights this week. Monday and Tuesday she appears in "Meg Merriles" and Wednesday evening in "Mackbeth." This is said to be her farewell appearance in Omaha. It is possible that Plattsburgh could build a nice city hall this spring if she would, and that without abusing her credit at all. One who has good ideas on the subject, and who is interested in only what is to this city's best advantage, has made valuable suggestions in today's HERALD. Of all the newspaper enterprise display by large Journals, there are none which display more pluck and energy than the Wabash News did last week. Thursday night every piece of material belonging to that little country paper was licked up clean by the flames, and yet, Friday the News was out in full edition as though nothing had happened and stated the circumstances with the light words, that nevertheless the News would continue to "come on." As far as the News is concerned Wabash ought to boom. The 4 o'clock gospel meetings held Sundays by the Young Men's Christian Association have become an interesting place for many men of Plattsburgh to spend an hour Sunday afternoons. Yesterday afternoon the rooms were crowded to their fullest capacity, with all standing room occupied. Rev. H. B. Burgess of the Episcopal church gave the young men a plain and interesting address on "Eternity, and Where will you spend it?" Mr. Miller sang several beautiful solos. There were a number of requests for prayer, an aftermeeting with an attendance of 94 was held. There were five young men converted. August Bach has been very unfortunate in his family this winter. Only two weeks ago his daughter Mary Bach was deceased from an attack of diphtheria and last week his little boy Johnnie, aged two years, was taken with croup and died Saturday afternoon. The funeral occurred yesterday. Much sympathy is extended to Mr. Bach and his family by the neighbors and friends.

The Sick List.

The little boy of J. H. Waterman, seems to be recovering. Chas. Parmele is experiencing an attack of throat trouble. Mrs. Maggie Campbell has been real bad with diphtheric sore throat for several days, but a lancing was performed this morning which seemed to relieve the patient. Secretary J. M. Bothwell, of the Y. M. C. A., is recovering. Two children of Jos. J. McVey, who have been sick with diphtheria since the death of his other child are reported to have black diphtheria. Miss Mamie McCoy was thought to be very low last night, but seemed to rally this morning. W. McCaulley, Lincoln avenue; Kennard, Vine street and Ida Conn, Rock street, are sick with diphtheria.

District Court.

This morning the March term of the District Court for Cass county opened in Rockwood hall, with Judge Chapman presiding. The morning trains brought in jurymen and attorneys who are interested in this court. Among the arrivals were Court Reporter Myron Wheeler, Attorneys G. W. Covell, of Omaha; J. B. Strode, of Lincoln; Keller, Auburn; Woolley, Gibson and Travis, of Weeping Water; Wooley, of Greenwood, and Rockwell, of Louisville. Nothing of importance transpired today. The docket was reviewed and some cases set, the jury called, and the general preparations for court gone through with.

A GOOD PLAN. One Acceptable, Feasible and Substantial, Whoreby Plattsburgh Can Secure a Good City Hall.

A Seasonable Communication. Mr. Editor:—That Cass county needs a new court house no one can deny. That such a building will be soon erected by the county is extremely improbable. Plattsburgh needs a city hall, and I am much pleased that our citizens should express themselves so plainly upon the subject. But it is evident that the city is not in a condition to make the necessary outlay now. Must we then abandon all hope of a suitable building, and shall we for several years to come apologise to every visitor for the want of proper public buildings? I think not! If our public spirited men will take hold and push matters, we can erect during the coming summer a building that will house commodiously all of our public officers, not excepting the postmaster. Do you ask how this may be done? Let the men who are benefited by the location of these offices in Plattsburgh donate a sufficient amount of money to pay for a suitable lot or lots on which to place the building. I believe that the requisite amount can be easily obtained. Then place upon this building costing $20,000 a first mortgage of half this amount which can be negotiated at low rates, and the remainder should be held here in town. At present the county is paying $600 per year for the use of Rockwood hall. The U. S. government is paying as much or more for the room in the Anheuser-Busch building, and the city pays rent for the council chamber and for the office of its board of public works; and I believe there are other items of the same kind. All of these combined would pay the interest on the debt and would allow of a small payment on the principal. Our council could provide for a small additional payment each year, and in very few years the building would be free of all incumbrance. This plan, I believe, is practicable. All the details as outlined above may not be the best, but there are plenty of men capable of working out a solution to the problem, and of providing us with the building we need. Yours,

World Enough in One Week.

Friday night an intelligent and well appearing young lad of thirteen years' experience in this world was landed in Plattsburgh by a westbound freight train. He was broke, away from home and without friends. Marshal Dunn placed him in the Cottage house to repose for the night. The boy's story was something like this: His name was Tommy Ford (or Haverly by his step father) his home was Chicago, he loved his mother and they got along together but he and his step-father could not enjoy each other's company, and he concluded he could do better by leaving home, and all he wanted was a chance and a little encouragement to face the world alone. Early last week in company with some other boys and a "big man" (some tramp) he left Chicago for the west, the man promising to secure him work at Omaha. They got along together till Friday afternoon when they arrived at Pacific Junction. Here the man, having secured his confidence, or by force, obtained all the money the boy had, deserted him, and he crossed the river on the freight train which left him here.

Master Ford was brought before the commissioners and the county clerk Saturday and at first tried to be bold and asked for work, but became homesick finally and asked to be sent home. A telegram was sent to his mother, Mrs. Haverly, and this answer came: CHICAGO, Ill., Mar. 8, '19. Please send Tommy home, inform me when and what road. MRS. HAVERLY. No reply was immediately sent and in a few hours this telegram came. "Why don't you answer my message of this morning? Am waiting for answer, a troubled."

A reply was sent by Clerk Critchfield that her son would be started home on No. 2, the flyer; and then this message was received. UNION STOCK YARDS, CHICAGO. What is Tommy Ford (or Haverly) held there for? If you will send him home, will pay all charges. S. A. DANFORTH, Supt. of Police.

A half fare ticket was purchased for the boy and he was placed on No. 2 Saturday afternoon in charge of the conductor, for Chicago. It was not much of a dose that was necessary to supply Tommy Ford's thirst after the world and the west, but he was exceedingly fortunate in escaping with such an early return home as he got, and if he had enough of "roughing it" probably both himself and parents can appreciate home better.

MILLER ANOTHER WEEK.

The Singing Evangelist will hold Revival Services this week at the M. E. Church.

Saturday and Sunday's Meetings.

Saturday evening Evangelist Miller devoted his attention to the young converts. The house was well filled and many converts were there to enjoy a scripture reading and talk from Mr. Miller, especially to them; and afterward many glad testimonies were given by them. Yesterday morning the church was crowded as it was each meeting during the week. Mr. Miller took for his subject "Heaven" and for a text read the 21st chapter of Revelation. It was a beautiful talk he made, and was richly received by the christians present. One very touching incident occurred, when the call for those seeking salvation was made an old gentleman, who was a backslider in the rear of the church, was invited forward, but he returned a cold reply and did not seem the least concerned. Hardly had he been left to himself, however, till he walked straight to the altar, knelt down before the congregation and wept bitterly, for his backslidings. Last night Mr. Miller took for a subject "Hell" and for a text the 25th chapter of Mathew was read, commencing with the 31st verse. Long before opening services the church was filled, and every available corner in the back of the church was occupied for standing room, while many were unable to get in at all. In response to a request the evangelist again sang the song "My Mother's Beautiful Hands" and afterward sang a solo on "Eternity."
