

CITY CORDIALS.

Remember the republican caucuses tonight.

I. W. Lansing, an attorney from Lincoln, and C. A. Woosley, of Greenwood, were in the city today.

The meeting appointed for this evening at the Presbyterian church has been postponed till Monday evening; by order of officers of church.

In the District court this afternoon evidence was being submitted in case of J. W. Clark et al vs. John S. Townsend, a petition to quiet title. This case involves the title to a good number of lots in Duke's addition.

The Herald force acknowledge the receipt of a basket of delicious cake from the Bowen-Sage wedding. Recently we have been treated to such a varied assortment of pastries that boarding house hash is losing its fascinating powers.

It is much to be desired that every republican voter who wants to have a good clean city record and see the city move along prosperously, under good municipal management shall be at the republican primary tonight determined to see placed in nomination men of good business ability.

Many people of Plattsmouth are already impatiently awaiting the arrival of April 30, when the grand Washington Inaugural anniversary is to be given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church. Men of ability and esteem are being secured to reply to toasts on the occasion, and Rev. Dr. Thain of the Plymouth Congregational church of Omaha, is among those who have recently accepted an invitation to be present.

Mr. O. K. Bly was in the city today delivering the portrait and biographical albums of Otoe and Cass counties, and of the presidents of the United States, published by Chapman Bros., of Chicago. The delivering of the books has been completed in Otoe county and Mr. Bly expects to finish up Cass county today. It is a book complete in all departments, and as a book, is printed in a neat style on first class paper, bound with heavy board backs in leather, and has given good satisfaction to all subscribers. It contains 1,307 pages, 150 on the presidents of the United States, from Washington to Harrison; 600 on Otoe county and 550 on Cass county.

The Fire Alarm.

Just after six o'clock last night the fire bell sounded an alarm of fire for the second ward. The streets were full of men returning from their labor at the shops and elsewhere, and ready hands soon had the second and third ward hose carts on the way. The fire was at the residence of Tommy Julian, a shop hand living on Vine and Twelfth street. The building was a two story frame house with an L for a kitchen, owned by Mrs. Ameia Swift. The fire caught outside the house, under the porch in the corner of the L facing the southeast and burned through the weather boarding and tar paper. Two men plowing in an adjoining lot discovered the flames and were soon on the scene. It had been wash day at the house, and the siding was broken through near the roof of the kitchen and the fire extinguished with a few buckets of handy washwater. The second ward hose cart was attached to the hydrant corner Main and eleventh street within seven minutes of the alarm, which was good time, to pull the cart over high school hill and go four blocks. But no water services was required.

A GRAND ENTERTAINMENT.

The Public well Pleased with the Evening Afforded at the Anniversary of the Y. M. C. A.

The Ladies a Leading Factor.

From noon till sunset yesterday there was a constant arrival of tempting cakes and delicacies at Fitzgerald's hall. Several of the leading ladies of the city were there to direct, manage and do the work necessary to have all things arranged and in order for the evening. Plates, cups and saucers, spoons, etc., came in by the bushel basket full; cakes, cakes, cakes and cakes came till it seemed there would be no room for them, and sandwiches, coffee and sugar was there in abundance. A monster milk can, full to the brim, arrived, and it began to look like there was going to be an inaugural ball, but it was all to make out the success of the First Anniversary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Plattsmouth.

The hall chairs were arranged in three columns, with wide aisles and plenty of room, and at 6 o'clock all was in readiness. From about 7:45 to 8:15 a perfect stream of visitors poured in and the ushers were kept on a lively move, and the hall was crowded till there was no standing room. Besides the chairs of the hall about 100 more were brought from the Y. M. C. A. rooms. The entertainment opened with all standing to sing "Coronation." Rev. J. T. Baird, of the Presbyterian church lead in prayer, and Rev. W. B. Alexander of the Methodist church read an appropriate chapter from the bible. President J. H. Waterman, of the Y. M. C. A. then made an address or report, which was attentively heard, and was as follows:

One year ago the 6th of this month a handful of young men gathered in the M. E. church and organized a Y. M. C. A. Little did they think at that time what great things would grow out of that small gathering. For nearly six months we struggled along with very little to encourage us. Some time in August our state secretary, Mr. Nash, came in our midst and gave us a text—Gen. 18:14: "Is anything too hard for the Lord?" August 26—28 we held a district conference and raised something over $800 to carry on the work till March 1, '89. We then called a general secretary and rented our present quarters; at that time the ladies of the Y. L. R. R. A. came forward and very kindly helped us by assuming the rent of one room for five months—amount $50—and donated free of charge everything of value that had been gathered together by them after three years of hard labor. Also the mothers and sisters came to our aid and furnished the rooms with carpets, the window blinds and the parlor with a very nice center table, and from that time our work seemed to prosper, and now we can realize that God has led us along through the past year, and let us trust him to lead us in the future.

Plattsmouth is now making more rapid strides toward development than it ever has in the past. Something demands our immediate attention, or the result will be painful to many. In our present rooms we cannot accommodate all the men who attend our meetings, and the boys are clamoring for a place among us. Shall we heed their claim on us, or put it off till they are away from our influence, when our efforts may then be in vain?

There must be 2,000 or more young men in our city, and more coming every day. What has been done to provide for the moral and spiritual welfare of these young men? In my opinion we should look around and find a site where we could erect a suitable building and make a permanent home for the young men. We have already outgrown our present quarters and it will be necessary for us to move. Is there not someone here tonight that would be willing to build a $25,000 or $30,000 building for the young men of our city, if they could secure a lot? Or, what would be better, is there not some one that would do it for the Lord? Young men, in all we do or plan, if we trust Him who has led us thus far, He will lead us right, and he will fully perform His part, if we faithfully do ours. See John 15:16. "Ye have not chosen me but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain, that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, He may give it to you."

The Y. M. C. A. choir sang a beautiful anthem, and the chairmen of the various committees of the association gave their reports as follows: Clayton Barber, committee on religious work; E. J. Streight, committee on reception; Cliff Westcott, committee on invitation; J. M. Bothwell, committee on finance, and report of general secretary. All these reports were brief and to the point. Another beautiful anthem was sung, and President Waterman made a short speech and wound up by stating that the ladies would then give their report.

THE LADIES' REPORT.

Although the singing by the Y. M. C. A. choir had been a rich treat, and heartily enjoyed, and the reports were not uninteresting, the report from the ladies was the chief and grand procedure of the evening, and was just the size for the crowd. Immediately after the announcement, young men with arms heaped with plates passed through the audience and gave to all a dish in which to receive the good things to follow. Coffee and milk—milk that was milk right from the farm—were served as beverages, with sugar and cream for the coffee, accompanied by pickles, sandwiches, doughnuts and cake till there was no end to it. For a full half hour the aisles were full of waiters administering to the appetites of the hungry hundreds and elbowed their way through the crowd where standing room was at a premium in the back of the hall and attended to the wants of all. Everything was free, no collection, no admission, no nothing but sit there and eat, and hear music and see pleasant surroundings. There was no dimalia, but everybody went as they pleased after refreshments and the choir furnished plenty of good vocal music to entertain those who tarried.

The anniversary was a complete success, and nothing but words of highest pleasure at the entertainment they had been given were heard from the hundreds of visitors. The ladies who furnished the refreshments deserve great credit for their successful management and the sufficiency of the provisions for the hungry people, while the entertainment in general was an emblem of the successful work of the Young Men's Christian association—welcoming and entertaining young men and delivering to them the sweetest promises in the word of God with all heartiness. May the association prosper and continue in appreciation by the people of the city.
