ACCIDENT TO JOSHUA GAPIN.

That Aged Gentleman Loses the Sight of an Eye by a Cow

A Fearful Hurt.

Mr. Joshua Gapin, an old and highly esteemed farmer of Cass county, living five miles southwest of Plattsmouth has been seriously unfortunate with his health recently, and last night lost the sight of his right eye. The circumstances of the case are these: Last evening Mr. Gapin went, as is his custom, to chore about the stable and do the feeding. Among his cattle is a thorough bred belonging to S. Waugh which he has the care of at present. Passing in the feed stall by the side of the animal she threw her head around suddenly in such a manner that her horn struck Mr. Gapin in the right. The horn penetrated the eye and burst the eyeball, instantly destroying the sight of that organ. The cow was not a vicious animal and the hurt, fearful as it was, was accidental. The injured man was helped to the house and Dr. Schildknecht immediately summoned. The wound was dressed and cared for and this morning the was badly swollen, and the left eye, which has been weak, could not be opened.

Mr. Gapin is sixty-two years of age and suffers extreme pain in his head from the hurt. He was also unfortunate last fall; he was unloading grain for S. A. Davis at the elevator, and was struck on the head by a timber, from which cause his head still pains him. The whole community will be shocked to learn of Mr. Gapin's condition. He has generally enjoyed good health, and was active about his farm management. The doctor is yet unable to tell what amount of trouble may result to the aged patient, but there is apprehension of serious results.

Misrepresentations Corrected.

EDITOR HERALD: I would like to say in reply to the Newell, Murphy and Dutton fling in the Journal, that I am sorry that Mr. Dutton was defeated and I believe a great many regards of party who have the city's interests at heart feel the same way, as we never had a better officer. But the Journal, and if I am not mistaken, the men who give him so much valuable information, who claim to be republicans, have no use for him or any other man they can't use; and any man that says I traded Mr. Smith to get votes for Mr. Patterson tells what is untrue, and so far as I am concerned, I ask no favors from the Journal or the class of men who have to be bought at every election. W. H. NEWELL.

J. P. Young has secured Prof. West for one of his "Dramatic Mirages" or around the world in mid air, to appear at the opera house next Friday night, April 12th. This will be a rare treat to lovers of fine scenery, produced by two large "Drummond Lights," making size of views about forty feet square. This will be an entertainment of a refined and moral nature, as well as instructive, and lots of fun for the little folks. Don't confuse this with a panorama or magic lantern show, for it is just what it is represented to be, the like of which has never been seen in Plattsmouth. Battle of Gettysburg, with artillery moving to the front, the water mill in motion, a snow storm and many other American and foreign views. Everybody that goes will be well pleased. Prices, 15, 25, 35 and 50 cents. Manager Young will give 10 per cent to any Sunday school that will take hold of the entertainment and sell tickets. They will not have any of the expenses to bear.

The Hotel Deal Settled.

Today the final dealings in the Riley Hotel project were completed. The deeds were signed and the payments made. Mr. Riley also filed a bond agreeing to construct a hotel to cost not less than $25,000.00, exclusive of furnishings.

Public Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the board of health will make a public inspection of all streets and alleys in the city on Thursday, April 11th. Persons who have any complaint to make may file the same with the city clerk, city marshal or any member of the Board. W. K. FOX, F. E. WHITE, Clerk, Chairman.

Good authority reports that the ferry boat "Belle of Brownsville" has made application for a government license to ply on the Missouri at Nebraska City. The pontoon bridge "moved" when the river raised last week and is said to be resting quietly on a sandbar seven miles below Nebraska City.

The job rooms of the HERALD are at present rushed with a demand for work. A force of four competent job printers were at work today and very acceptable work is being rapidly turned out.

"THE SWELLING SEA."

The birds of the north flew onward,
The lichen its color shed;
The crescent moon was pale
As a water lily—dead—
Torn from its parent stem and floating
For weeks on its watery bed.

The northern light burned brightly,
The circle was broad and low;
The rays were like whirling pillars of fire,
With green and crimson glow.

The dying man lay in his hut—
"Oh, where shall we bury thee?
Shall we bury thee on the mountain
Or under the swelling sea?"

"Shall we bury thee on the mountain,
In the eternal snow,
Where the spirits of the mists shall dance
While thou liest still below?"

"Or wilt thou be sunk in the sea—
The blue and swelling sea?
The birds of the tempest shall whirl above,
And the seals play merrily."

He mournfully smiled and whispered low
"In the sea, the swelling sea."

Never Saw a Railroad Train.

"Do you see that long, lank girl with the pink calico dress and blue hat, standing over there?" said a station agent in a country town not far from Pittsburg the other day.

"Pretty tall? Yes, she's about 23, and this is the first time she ever saw a train of cars. Talk about enlightenment; how's that?"

"I know the whole family. They live over here in the country, about seven miles. I went over there to get some butter the other day, and I swear I thought I had been transferred back to colonial times. Bare floors, rafters all bare, home made linen on the table, home made towels, home made dresses on the girls, home made cheese and ham and eggs for dinner; everything home made; even the old gentleman wore a vest of homespun.

"One of the girls, nearly 23, has never seen the cars nearer than a mile, and never was in a city. And yet they are intelligent and contented to live within their gates, utterly oblivious to the great world outside, and eat, work and sleep in the same way that their father and father's father had before them. Great world, isn't it?"—Pittsburg Dispatch.

How a King Used to Go to Bed.

First, a page took a torch and went to the wardrobe where the bedding was kept. The articles were brought out by the keeper to four yeomen, who made the bed, while the page held the torch at the foot. One of the yeomen searched the straw with his dagger, and when he found there was no evil thing hidden there he laid a bed of down on the straw and threw himself upon it. Then the bed of down was well beaten and a bolster laid in its proper place. Then the sheets were spread in due order, and over these was laid a fustian. Then came a "pane sheet," which we now call a counterpane. Finally the sheets were turned down and some pillows laid on the bolster, after which the yeomen made a cross and kissed the bed where their hands were. And then an angel carved in wood was placed beside the bed, and the curtains let down. After this a gentleman usher brought the king's sword and placed it at the bed's head, and the whole was then delivered into the custody of a groom or page, who watched it with a light burning until the king retired to rest.—Cleveland American Union.

He Was Not Even the Devil.

The small boy is a terror when he has an inquiring mind. Such a boy strolled into an editor's room the other day, and at once proceeded to down the patient man at the desk.
"Are you on the paper?" asked the boy.
"Yes."
"What do you do?"
"Write for it."
"Write all the time?"
"Yes."
"Don't do anything else?"
"No."
"Just wait for somebody else to do something, and then write about it?"
"Yes."
"Um!" ejaculated the small boy, with a look of deep disgust, as he walked off. The toiler at the desk did not laugh. Never before had he felt so small and mean. He had been made to see himself from a new and original point of view.—Atlanta Constitution.

From Russia it is reported that a meteoric stone which recently dropped from the heavens contained a number of diamonds.

To make tough steak tender, take a teaspoonful of salad oil, two teaspoonfuls vinegar, a little cayenne pepper. Lay the steak upon it and let it remain one hour, then turn over and let it lie an hour.

WALL PAPER.

This season we show a much larger stock of WALL PAPER than ever before. We have every thing from cheap Brown blank to the EMBOSSSED GILTS INGRAINS & FLUTTERS.

You cannot find a larger or more complete stock outside the larger cities. And our prices are lower. We would call special attention to our BORDERS AND DECORATIONS, We buy of the four leading manufacturers and by selecting the best from each, believe we are better prepared to please you than those whose trade will only justify their buying from one or two manufacturers. We will take pleasure in showing you our samples and request you to call and see our stock and prices before you buy Wall Paper or PAINTS!

We now have twenty-three very desirable shades of MIXED PAINTS manufactured by Billings Taylor & Co., of Cleveland and New York. These paints we have handled for four years and while other dealers are changing from year to year, we find it to our interest to handle the same goods as THEY ARE THE BEST and have given universal satisfaction. We guarantee that they will not crack, flake or chalk off, that they will wear as long, if not longer, will look as well if not better than any other paint, or lead and oil. We will forfeit the value of the paints and the cost of applying it, if these paints are not found to be as represented. Mixed Paint at our price, ($1.50 per gallon) is cheaper than lead and oil at present prices and we believe it much better, but to those that desire to use lead and oil we would say we have nothing but the very best, and our prices will always be found as low as first class goods can be sold for. Hoping to be favored with your orders, we are Yours Respectfully,
