A UNION SIMPLETON

Leads a Little Cirl From Home but Without Harm

The following account of a recen scare at the Cass' county town of Union, if taken from the Ledger of that place: "George Becker is the name of a poor, weak minded, harmless fellow who lives with his mother, a widow woman, about four miles north of town on the telephone line. Becker is a young man and is pronounced perfectly harmless excepting when his temper becomes aroused by something or somebody, at which time he will bear close watching.

Last Srturday Becker went to the farm house of Mr. Dean where he spied a beautiful little girl aged between three and four years which he induced, by his kind acts, to go with him for a walk. The little one was not missed for a considerable length of time, but when search was made for her by the mother the little one was no where to be found. Search after search resulted in the disappoint--The term "Pigs in the clover," which | ment of the now anxious mother. The parents were by this time almost frantic with fright and summoned their neighbors who all turned out and an extensive and dilligent search was made but with the same result as that of the mother. Late in the evening, while the country was yet being skermished, George returned with the 'lost child' and then returned to his home perfectly contented."

Just a Plain Comedian.

"Willard Simms of the Clair Patee company is what the boys term 'a bird.' This is an illusion to his clever work as comedian. He has 'a heart like a Romeo and a face like a comic singer.' All his roles were elegantly carried but his crowning success was in 'Widow Bedott' which was presented Friday evening. This play is as full of fun as an egg is of meat. Although not new to St. Joseph theatre-goers it did not differ from former presentations except in the leading role, the 'widow' being represented as a lean instead of a fat woman, which probhowling success. The versatility of Mr. Simms, is simply remarkable. As the verbose widow he is fully the equal and in some respects the superior of Neil Burgess. His-or her-appearance at any time was sufficient to cause a roar. Vivian Patee made an excellent Sallie Sniffles and in the song 'Marguerite' she demonstrated ability as a singer of no mean order."-St. Joe, Sunday Star. Will appear at the opera house tonight.
