

The Evening Herald
OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

Dr. A. Salisbury has the exclusive right to use Dr. Sisson's Local Anesthetic for the Painless Extraction of Teeth in this city. Office Rockwood Block.
Dr. Withers, Dentist, Union Block.

CITY CORDIALS.

—Weeping Water has let the contract for the digging of a town well to be 15x14 feet and 21 feet deep.

—Cash will be paid for clean cotton rags at the HERALD office, in any quantity at the rate of 5 cents per pound.

—Louisville is agitating the question of boring for natural gas. A company has been organized and has got to that point where most companies fail—to putting up the money.

—House-cleaning is generally in its height about town now, which doubtless accounts for the scarcity of tramps at the back doors and married men that "don't go home to dinner."

—The enterprises now on foot, in this town, backed by capital and good management, are enough to give the confidence the city deserves to all foreign capital seeking investment.

—The gray team of Walter White's, being used in grading on Pearl and Fourth streets, got into the ditch being filled this morning, but were rescued without any serious harm coming to them.

—The HERALD is in receipt of a copy of "Our Dumb Animals," a monthly journal published in Boston, as compliments of Geo. T. Angell. It is published by the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, and contains many beautiful pen pictures of love and regard due the dumb world from the human. It is also illustrated.

Tecumseh Journal:—The twenty-second annual convention of the Nebraska Sunday School Association is called to meet in Tecumseh, Nebraska, Tuesday afternoon, June 11th, to continue in session until Thursday evening, June 13th, 1889. The usual railway courtesies may be expected by the delegates. The Tecumseh people proffer hospitality to pastors, superintendents and delegates.

—The colored Baptists gave their festival as announced last night in the Waterman opera house building. Ice cream, fruits, candies, strawberries and supper were served to the patrons. The festival will be continued at the same place this evening, and all are cordially invited to come and take supper there, and the young men to bring their best girls and take ice cream and strawberries.

—It is said that a Portland (Me.) shoe manufacturer being asked to assist in providing bread for the suffering poor said he would contribute to the extent of one hundred sacks of flour and one hundred bushels of meal to each man who might be found in Portland who neither kept a dog, drank rum, nor used tobacco, who was in need of bread—and the person has not appeared yet to claim the gracious gift.

—In a recent issue of the Kearney Enterprise the following notice occurs, "Mr. T. C. Brainard received a telegram recently, announcing that his mother was dying at Sacramento, Cal. He started for that city, but at Denver was intercepted by another telegram announcing her death. Mr. Brainard's mother was about seventy years of age and went to California from Ohio." The deceased, spoken of in this notice, was a sister of our worthy and esteemed citizen, C. S. Twiss.

—An interesting and new method of pulling teeth, which is actually painless, was thoroughly tested at the office of Dr. Salisbury yesterday. Dr. A. S. Billings, of Omaha, and Dr. Jas. Seinau, of San Francisco, were conducting the operations, pulling teeth free of charge, and thoroughly proving the merits claimed for this method. The pain is killed by injecting a local anesthetic into the gum at the roots of the teeth and then extracting it. Many citizens were at the office during the day, both young and old, small and great, rich and poor, and had "old timers" taken out, and all were affected alike—without pain. Dr. Salisbury has secured the right to extract teeth by this painless method, which will afford a great inducement to those with jumping achers to have them pulled.

—The new rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association were open last night for the first time. Though arrangements are not yet completed in the hall, the rooms present a very cheerful and inviting appearance, and will make very pleasant headquarters for the association. A couple of beautiful handpainted pictures have been placed on the walls by Mrs. Ida Wagner, which kindness on the part of Mrs. Wagner is highly appreciated. But the walls are large enough to accommodate a number more such decorations, provided the talented young ladies of the city are disposed to use their accomplishment for so good a purpose. The first Sunday meeting will be in the new hall Sunday, the 12th, at 4 p. m., and will be led by Rev. Blainy, president of Bellevue college.

MACHINERY ORDERED

For the Oppermann Electric Lamp Manufacturing Company's Use.

A BUILDING SITE SELECTED

A Suitable Building, Complete in All Departments, to be Erected for the Factory.

The New Electric Plant.

Yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the board of directors of the Oppermann Electric Lamp Manufacturing Company, held at the offices of Ballou & Browne, after the election of officer, as announced in last night's HERALD, the question of engines and boilers was considered, the Pond Engineering Company of St. Louis and the Taylor Manufacturing Co., of Chambersburg, Pa., being represented. Taylor Bros. were successful and the directors let the contract to them for two boilers and two Beck automatic engines, one an 85 and the other a 75 horse power; to be ready to ship in two weeks.

To furnish electric power to test and manufacture the incandescent lamps, five or six powerful dynamos will be made to order, specially adapted to this kind of use, and just as quick as money can make things go, the electric lamp factory will be in operation.

THE BUILDING AND LOCATION.

The building will be a fine brick structure and the location selected is a choice one. An offer of O. H. Ballou to donate the company two lots in the west part of town just across the street from the old fair ground gate, was accepted. The building will be 44x65 feet, two stories high, and the roof will be made of iron.

The citizens generally are enthusiastic over the enterprise. Messrs. Ballou and Oppermann who have carried the scheme through to a successful organization and have it so quickly on the way to the supplying of the mechanical department, have worked energetically and continually and displayed the business make-up that does not know the word "impossible" when enterprise is so plainly practicable as they see this one to be.

The M. E. Seminary.

Weeping Water Eagle:—The initial movement for this new educational institution in our midst was inaugurated Monday evening. Bishop Newman, the famous divine was here to give the matter an impetus, which he did to a large audience in City Hall. The Ladies' band opened the meeting with music, after which Mayor Gibson introduced Bishop Newman to the audience in a few well chosen and eloquent words. During the afternoon he visited the principal business houses, the manufacturing establishments, the quarries, and the railroad offices, gathering information as to the resources of our city, to see if it was of such a nature and character to justify the establishment of another institution that would be lasting and improve as time advanced. His conclusions were expressed in words on the stage, where he unfolded his views, his conclusions and his firm belief, that no better place in Nebraska could be selected for the advancement of the cause. The plan adopted to raise the means for this school was explained, a plat of the lands and lots to be sold was exhibited and explained by S. D. Fitchie, when seekers after Weeping Water real estate were invited to name the number each one would take. Altogether about fifty lots was disposed of that evening. The managers feel that the scheme is now an assured success and will now go on to a finish with the work so well begun.

House Cleaning.

"What's the news," asked the scribe, as he stepped up to a man the other day who stood gazing out into the dark Missouri waters with his hands in his pockets, while an expression rested on his countenance that showed he was pondering great problem in his heart. Turning around and placing his arm upon the scribe's shoulder, as if to rest his burden there, he replied in a peculiar manner, but with an assurance in his voice that showed he was in earnest and knew what he was talking about: "Young man, you now look cheerfully into a bright future, with the hope of a glorious hereafter, (if there is any such thing, and I suppose of course, there is), but you little dream of that time when you shall cry 'ah! woe is me!' and when your wife shall call you up early in the morning and have you pull up the carpets, with hardly a bite to eat, and you will beat carpets and get your mouth full of dust and your stomach full of dirt; she will have you take down the stove pipe and trundle the heavy furniture. At dinner you will not eat at the table because it is not, and the back door step will do for a sitting place for supper. And as it comes night, and you wearily long to retire, you take a lantern and find your way up stairs, across trunks and sofas and boxes and chairs and books and tables till the place is reached where you can lie down and dream of fairer lands than this."

FIRST COURT HOUSE EPISODE.

And One That Will go Down to Prostrity in Memory of the Illustrious.

A telegram from Weeping Water received this morning tells of a pathetic and thrilling scene upon the return of Commissioners Foltz and Dickson at 11 a. m. Upon hearing of the approach of these worthy gentlemen, the brilliant and accomplished editor, Harry Race, with cane in hand, and his elegant form bestride a mule, met these members of the county board and spoke to them as follows:

"You were elected by our votes, and for our benefit only, but you act as if the obedience of the law was of more importance to you than the pleasure of myself and my friends, and you have acted the hog in elegant shape."

PERSONALS.

Mr. Burke Osborn, formerly editor of the Red Oak Independent was a passenger through the city this morning.

H. T. Porter, who was in the city yesterday, representing the Taylor Manufacturing Co., of Chambersburg, Pa., returned to Omaha last night, having made a successful deal with the Oppermann Electric Lamp Manufacturing Co.

A Hard Rain.

This morning the threatenings of a storm broke out at 11 o'clock with torrents of water from the clouds, accompanied by a number of sharp electric flashes and loud thunderings and for a half hour water flowed freely. The sewer catch basins in many places were clogged with the clay which washed so easily and it was found necessary to dig them out during the rain, enough to let the water pass, on Main street as well as elsewhere.

—A meeting of the Sunday school workers of the M. E. church was held last night to consider how Children's day—the second Sunday in June—should be observed. It was decided to hold a missionary programme.

Honor Thy Father and Mother.

Young men who come from the country to the town, and who get on in the world, are often ashamed of their parents, of the rustic dress they once wore, and of the simple but honest and kindly ways of their childhood. And to often when they assume the fashionable ways of their new friends they leave behind them the religion of their childhood and forget the piety which they learned at a mother's knee. They have outgrown the priestly dress in which their mothers dedicated them to God, and think her religion old-fashioned and worn out. This is false shame. It is a sin against the dearest and most sacred instincts of our nature. So far from being manly, it is mean and dastardly. Depend upon it, the man who will have most of the esteem of his fellow creatures and of the favor of heaven will be he who keeps unchanged all through life the mantle of heavenly devotion with which his mother clothed him. He who makes the religion of his youth the habit of his life—his garment and way of acting all through—will come to honor and will enjoy the proud blessings of consistency. His life will be a gracious verity, like that of Samuel; it will have one steadfast purpose running through it all. The outer life will be one piece with the inner; one part will not reproach the other; and what he seems, that he ever is.—Good Words.

Spirits Scared the Editor.

We don't believe in spirits—in any way, manner, shape or form—but Wednesday evening quite a party assembled at the residence of Mr. J. R. Forrester to have a table rapping, and the results of that meeting were wonderful. The table used was an ordinary wooden one and the circle was formed by some of the party seating themselves around it and placing their hands in such a manner as to form a circuit. For some time the table remained unmoved, but after a little more time it began to bob about and move from one end of the room to the other. Then the medium said that the spirits were at work.

Of course we didn't believe in that, but as the table raised up from the floor cold chills passed up and down our back and a fit of trembling seized hold upon us. We didn't have any confidence in the spirit part of the performance, understand, but we trembled all the same. At one time the table was raised a considerable distance from the floor, falling with such force as to break it to pieces. Some of the names given by the spirits were only known by one of the party in the room; at other times the names were unrecognized. The messages delivered were, some of them, quite startling, and were enough to make a believer of the most incredulous. Verily, some strange things happen at these meetings, and they are things which we can't explain at all.—Albany (Ga.) News and Advertiser.
