CITY CORDIALS.

—Last night a party of five couples called on Miss May Patterson to have a surprise party. Refreshments were on hand in abundance and a very enjoyable evening was the result.

—In the case of Ray vs. the C. B. & Q., tried at Glenwood this week, the court decided in favor of the railroad. The first case decided for the road in that court for about two years.

—The colored man, known as Ned, evidently believes in not having anything unless you use it. He placed two stiff hats on his head this morning, and wore them both.

—D. J. Kimball, of Mt. Pleasant precinct was in town today and claimed and got the bounty on six wolf scalps, five young and one old. Since January 1, 1889, $222 have been paid out for wolves and 74 wolves have been killed. Several wild cats have also been killed, on which the bounty is $1.

—Matrimony makes old people happy, as well as the young, evidently, regardless of size, also. The HERALD scribe today, met a little old man, about forty inches high, with a broad grin on his face and a large white envelope in his hand, coming out of the county judge's office. The judge had just recorded a marriage license for Mr. Simon Smith and Mrs. Barbara Price, ages 54 and 46, respectively, of Cedar Creek.

—THE HERALD has today had a score of favorable remarks passed upon the communication published last night on the high school, but the sentiment of all was expressed by one when he said, "It is a matter of regret that this question has not been agitated for the last three years. As it is, the high school has been let go by default, and when more than half the people of the town plainly say it is time for a change, it ought to be made."

—The Russian method of stopping a run-away horse is said to be very effective and is not particularly cruel. They place a cord with a running knot around the horse's neck near the neck strap. To this slip-noose attach a pair of reins, which may be thrown over the dashboard ready to be seized at once. When the horse starts take up the extra reins and tighten the cord around the horse's neck. The most furious horse thus choked stops instantly and will not kick or fall.

—The fact that people like to go away from home for something, when they could scrape up just as good or better material at home, was demonstrated in our city this morning. J. B. Strode came down from Lincoln this morning, and he had hardly got in town before he was called to the telephone office by Lincoln. The commander of the G. A. R. Post at Lincoln, was at the other end of the line and was desirous of engaging him for a memorial speech on Decoration day. Mr. Strode is a Lincoln man and the commander, knowing he couldn't get better material, evidently felt as though it might be a little foreign to invite him while away from home.

—The great state fairs which have long been noted for the agricultural states, and are grand enterprises, seem to be giving way to "Palaces." The HERALD has received an invitation to the Texas Spring Palace or Karporama of Texas—(a view of Texas by her products and fruits)—to open at Fort Worth, May 29, and close June 20. Beautiful lithographed invitations have been sent to every part of the Union. This will, without a doubt, be one of the grandest schemes ever planned and held in this country and would pay any one to attend. Special commissions, with most elegant invitations have been sent to President Diaz of Mexico and President Harrison of the United States and it is expected that they will meet at the palace. The palace is built entirely of Texas products and will at a glance, as it were, show a visitor what that great state is. Its twelve towers and magnificent exterior will be dressed with cotton, wheat, corn, oats, sugar-cane, varieties of grasses, vegetables, fruits and flowers, all grown in Texas. The coal, iron ores and iron products, lead, copper, platinum, mica, granite, marble, sandstone and limestone will be erected into temples. In huge aquariums will be the fishes found in Texas rivers, lakes and in the gulf bordering the state. Wool, leather, salt, sugar and gypsum will be made into houses, and, in fact, every product of Texas will be put into the construction of the palace and displayed in the interior. The entire state will be interested and represented.

BOARD OF TRADE.

Water Power, Masons' Home and Pontoon Bridge Discussed.

Board of trade had a called meeting at their hall last at which there was medium attendance. After reading minutes the president announced the principle object of the meeting was to hear the report of the committee appointed to visit Kearney and investigate her water power.

R. B. Windham, as chairman of the committee, read the report which was in substance principally as follows: The canal is the principle element on which Kearney bases her future. It is 16 miles long, 20 feet wide and 2 feet deep; the canal is now being deepened to 4 feet by dredging. The only use now to which power from the fall in the canal is put is to turn turbine wheels to furnish power for working electric dynamos to produce electricity, which is now used for lighting and power purposes. The committee believes any amount power can be produced by means of a canal, by the construction of one near our city, because water can be had in never failing quantities; and the power will also greatly be useful because of the great railroad distributing point and its nearness to Omaha. Kearney owes its prosperity more to the push and energy of its people than the water power.

The report also showed that the electric power at Kearney now run 25 arc lights, 12,000 incandescents, and most of the machinery in the town was run by it. That the committee owed gratitude to Dr. O. S. Marden, president of the board of trade, and N. J. Switz. Mr. Windham also called attention to the fact that very little of the power attainable was in use. Wm. Neville moved that the report of the committee be accepted and the committee also instructed to look into the feasibility of utilizing the power in the Missouri river.

The motion was dropped for a time. C. W. Sherman presented figures to the board from B. & M. track surveys as follows: "The elevation of the track at Orepolis is 926 feet above the sea level. At Cedar Creek the track is 975 feet and at Louisville 992. The fall from Cedar Creek to Orepolis is 49 feet." Showing that the fall would make good power.

More discussions continued when Mr. Neville renewed his motion which was seconded and passed.

F. E. White stated the Masons' of the state proposed the building of a home for widows and orphans. Intention at present to build about $20,000 of buildings and send the children to the public schools. The Masons are receiving bids at Omaha which will be opened May 26. On motion a committee of R. B. Windham, J. G. Richey and J. H. Waterman was appointed to work up an offer. In the continued discussion of the canal question, the general opinion seemed to be that it was hardly a practicable enterprise, on account of the lay of the ground and water ways to be crossed. The question of a pontoon bridge with Mr. Stewart's last proposition was enthusiastically discussed and on motion a committee of Wm. Neville, W. S. Wise and H. C. Ritchie were appointed to solicit stock holders.

Board adjourned.

PERSONALS.

J. B. Strode, of Lincoln, was in the city today.

J. R. Cox and wife, were Omaha visitors today.

Mr. A. C. Loder, of Salt Creek precinct was in town today.

Mrs. H. D. Lenhoff, left this morning for Superior, to visit her son.

Mrs. L. Backus, of Lincoln, who has been visiting at the home of F. Carruth, returned home this morning.

Mrs. Belle Campbell, of Omaha, who has been visiting at the home of D. A. Campbell, returned home last night.

Rev. H. H. O'Neil and wife, of Des Moines, Iowa, arrived this morning to visit at the home of R. B. Windham.

A few nights ago a gentleman who had undressed and prepared for bed blew out the lamp on the table and was grouping his way across the room, feeling for the bed, when his toe struck something pliant. The thing seemed to open its mouth as he put the weight of his foot upon it, and he jerked up his foot in double quick time, while the thing held on and dangled from his toe. There was a lively dancing around the room and the man made a lively racket with his mouth until he succeeded in slinging the thing across the room. Then he jumped on the table and stood there until he could secure a light. Over where the thing struck the wall he saw his wife's bustle lying on the floor; He kicked himself a few times and went to bed, but his wife kept him awake an hour laughing at him.—Red Cloud Chief.

The Electric Enterprises.

The plans to manipulate Plattsouth's electric enterprises are now being pushed into active operations. It is expected the first work by the Oppermann Electric Lamp Mfg Co., will be done in July. The factory building is now being built. The boilers and engines ordered from the Taylor Manufacturing Co., of Chambersburg will be shipped Monday, May 27, and by the time they arrive here their foundations at the factory will be ready to receive them, also the bases for the dynamos. To supply the machinery and essential material to begin the manufacture of lamps, E. L. Oppermann and O. H. Ballou are now in Chicago ordering the entire outfit which it will be necessary to have.

The Electric Motor Railway company have given the contract for cars, and all road supplies, to the Western Engineering company who will put in the Spague overhead system. In this system the current will pass from the dynamo over the wire suspended over the track, and will return along an underground wire which is called the underground return current. The track when changed to run the motor cars will lay as follows: The line from the north shop gate to Main street on Third will be the branch line; the main line will begin at Richey street, on Main, west on Main to Sixth, north on Sixth to Elm, west on Elm to Spring, south on Spring to Oak, west on Oak to Mercer avenue, north on Mercer avenue to terminus. The contract for the changing and laying of the track according to this route will probably be let today. Cars are to be running on August 1st, or before.

For establishing the electric light plant enough incandescent and arc lamps have been subscribed for, to warrant putting it in, and O. H. Ballou and J. J. Eyringham are now in Chicago ordering wires, insulators and the necessary materials for establishing a complete electric system. Dynamos of a capacity of 600 incandescents and 50 arc lamps are to be bought to start with, and when this beautiful light is established the patronage ought to increase rapidly.

At a special meeting of the council Tuesday night ten arc lamps were ordered for the use of the city, to be afterward located. By September 1st electric lights will be doing service.

The push and enterprise manifested by the men who have carried these plans thus far with such success, and will see them executed to perfection, is the kind that always succeeds and is the life blood of Plattsouth or any other progressing city.
