CAN'T MONKEY WITH STEWART.

Sioux City Men Build a Pontoon, and then "Divy" with the Colonel.

He Claims the Right of Inventor Over Them.

Parties in Sioux City have constructed a pontoon bridge on their own hook, but used Col. S. N. Stewart's pattern in building. The result is stated in the following, clipped from Thursday's Sioux City Journal:

Col. S. W. Stewart, of Philadelphia, known by the Austrians as "The River King," arrived in Sioux City Monday. The colonel claims several inventions in connection with pontoon bridges, among them the V-shaped draw, which is not on the Sioux City bridge. After looking the bridge over the colonel found E. C. Palmer, secretary of the Sioux City and Nebraska Pontoon Bridge company, and remarked to him:

"I heard you had built one of my bridges, and I thought I would come and see you. I hope you have plenty of funds on hand, for my bill is large, and I would like a settlement within twenty-four hours."

The colonel and the members of the bridge company wrestled with the question of infringement and settlement until yesterday, when an amicable adjustment was reached. How much the doctory inventor was paid has not transpired, but his eyes twinkled when he informed the reporter that he had brought the company to terms.

Mr. Palmer was not very communicative as to the sum paid. He admitted that a settlement had been made, and said without any appearance of enthusiasm: "I suppose it is all right that the inventor should have reward. We have no liking for a lawsuit, with its expense and uncertainty." Speaking of another projected pontoon further up the stream, for which no arrangement has been made with Col. Stewart for the use of his inventions, the colonel said:

"Wait till they finish and I'll make them wish that they had never been born. Messrs. Palmer and Mohr are nice men and I let them off easy, but the next infringer I find I am going to crucify."

A NEW BRIDGE COMPANY.

Yesterday the Northwestern Pontoon Bridge Co. was formed in Sioux City. It is composed of S. N. Stewart, of Philadelphia, and E. C. Palmer and J. M. Moan, of Sioux City. Its object is to build pontoon bridges on the Mississippi and Missouri rivers and their tributaries. It will contain all the late patents and new inventions relating to pontoon bridges known in the United States.

Eight Mile Grove.

"Are you going to vote bonds?" is the question asked by almost every individual in this vicinity, and "I don't hardly know" will almost invariably be the answer. They don't seem to consider the question from a business stand-point, but think how much nicer and more convenient our county buildings would be near the center of the county than on the border. They haven't yet considered the natural advantages and superior qualities Plattsmouth has over the interior cities and we want our county buildings in a place that has some prospect for improvement.

Corn looks well but we fear some of it looks better now than it will the 4th of July if our boys do not mend their way of cultivating it. We have found with what little experience we have had in corn raising that it will not pay to only split the middle as we see some of our cornfields. It is highly necessary that we work close to the corn row and throw the dirt away from the tender plant the first plowing and then throw it back the second. I am only speaking of corn that is put in with the planter.

Mr. Krager lost a fine brood mare Saturday. It is supposed that she had the colic. This makes the third horse for Mr. Krager within past few months one being a fine three year old which he had just broke to work. The third was a sucking colt.

Strawberry season is with us again but we fear the cool evenings will check the ripening of the delicious fruit.

We have two very accommodating dentists here, they come right to your own door and extract your teeth for you, thereby you will save the expense of traveling to some stationed dentist.

ONSERVER

"Mixed Pickles."—J. B. Polk, than whom a better or more popular comedian does not tread the boards, opens at the Walnut street theatre for Thanksgiving week, in his comical creation of Jos Pickle, the merry practical joker, in the whimsical and satirical comedy, "Mixed Pickles," a play which may rightfully claim to be a perennial favorite. Happily it bears no resemblance to the acrobatic and variety absurdities which have for some time passed current as comedies.

Mr. Polk rattles through his part with rare abandon, spirit, dash and humor, giving as he goes along, some highly artistic touches, notably that of changing from the harem-scurun Joseph to the sedate Arthur, his facial expression being such as only a well-trained actor, one of decided ability, could satisfactorily accomplish. Polk has a company of reputation and experience, and Miss Julia A. Polk, the leading lady, sings exquisitely.

"The Philadelphia Herald." Secure your tickets now, for it will be the last theatrical performance at the opera house until about September 1st, so don't fail to go to the opera house next Saturday night.

Elmwood Notes.

Mr. Wm. Smith and Mr. H. G. Beardsley are happy fathers, sons having arrived at their homes on the 18th; and Mr. G. E. Surface is the happy father of a girl baby, born the 23rd.

Elmwood is building a new two-story school house.

Archibald Buster, of Otoe county, was visiting his son Wm. here this week. He is 87, and says he is good for twenty more years.

Uncle J. L. Jones celebrated his eightieth birthday on the 20th. His first vote was cast for Andrew Jackson.

The Elmwood schools have just received a $60 set of the International Cyclopaedia XV volumes. This is a work which should be in every good school. The proceeds of the school entertainment of last term were used in its purchase.

The effect of using Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup is unlike all medicines containing opiates or poisons, it being entirely free from them. It cures rheumatism by purifying the blood. Sold by F. G. Fricke & Co.

DECORATION DAY.

The Nature of the W. R. C. Entertainment at the Opera House.

The prospects for a beautiful day tomorrow to observe the sacred custom of honoring the country's noblest dead are very good. Business will be generally suspended and the program of the day carried out as published elsewhere in the HERALD. The W. R. C. have planned to close the day with an appropriate entertainment in the opera house at 8 o'clock in the evening. The Woman's Relief Corps invariably prepares a program for their entertainments which can be highly appreciated and is worthy large attendance.

It will be interesting to many citizens to know the design of this organization of ladies and to what purpose the earnings of their efforts. The organization raises funds for the supporting of widows and nurses, and to-morrow's entertainment is to raise money to distribute locally by the W. R. C., to be sent to the headquarters to forward the building of the home. Money cannot be spent to a more charitable purpose, or where it will bring better returns of thanks from grateful hearts. The W. R. C. invariably gives splendid entertainments, which merit all the admission fee charged. At to-morrow's entertainment the Episcopal choir will sing, there will be some fine declamations and forty pretty little children will decorate and dedicate a monument to the unknown dead. The admission will be 25 and 15 cents, and children 10 cents.

Non-Partisan Convention Rates.

All persons purchasing tickets at all points on the B. & M., Union Pacific, Missouri Pacific, and F., E. & M. V. railroads, to attend the non-partisan prohibition convention to be held at Lincoln on June 5th, will be entitled to return tickets at one-third of the regular fare, by taking receipts of the local agents for full fares paid to Lincoln, and presenting the same to the convention authorities. Persons attending the convention from points on other lines, should also demand receipts for full fares paid to Lincoln, as all lines are expected to make the above rate.

Indications point to a great convention. Notable speakers will be present. All electors should attend who desire the adoption of the prohibitory constitutional amendment. The convention is NOT to be held to organize a new party, or to nominate candidates for office, but solely to insure the adoption of prohibition.

C. A. ROBBINS,
J. M. STEWART,
C. A. ATKINSON.

—All who are to take part in the W. R. C. entertainment to-morrow night are requested to meet to-night at the opera house for rehearsal.

Rheumatism is cured by Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup striking at the seat of the disease and restoring the kidneys and liver to healthy action. If taken a sufficient time to thoroughly eradicate such poison, it never fails. Sold by F. G. Fricke & Co.

—The south trench for the foundation of the Riley hotel is being dug. It will be of sixteen inches of concrete and that followed by foot foundation—heavy stones.
