It is estimated that the cotton crop in the south this year will exceed that of the best year before the war. This is very gratifying news, and it ought to moderate the doleful rhetoric of the southern politicians with regard to the alleged poverty of that section. The probability is, however, that they will go on with their mock lamentations, the same as if the war had only ended yesterday.

GIRLS' BIRTHDAYS.

An old astrological prediction gives the character of a girl according to the month she is born in, as follows:

If a girl is born in January, she will be a prudent housewife, given to melancholy, but good-tempered, and fond of fine clothes.

If in February, an affectionate wife and tender mother, and devoted to dress.

If in March, a frivolous chatterbox, somewhat given to quarreling, and a connoisseur in gowns and bonnets.

If in April, inconsistent, not very intelligent, but likely to be good-looking and studious of fashion plates.

If in May, handsome, amiable, and given to style in dress.

If in June, impetuous, will marry early, be frivolous, and like dressy clothes.

If in July, possibly handsome, but with a sulky temper and a penchant for gay attire.

If in August, amiable and practical, likely to marry rich and to dress strikingly.

If in September, discreet, affable, much liked, and a fashionable dresser.

If in October, pretty and coquette, and devoted to attractive furniture.

If in November, liberal, kind, of a mild disposition, and an admirer of stylish dress.

If in December, well-proportioned, fond of novelty, and extravagant, and a student of dressy effects.—W. H. SIVETER, in EDITOR'S DRAWER, Harper's Magazine for July.

A PARRALLEL WITH A DIFFERENCE.

Reports from Washington indicate that extensive alterations are making in the machinery of the cruiser Charleston. New cross-head guides have been fitted; the propeller's blades have been remodelled; iron has been substituted for steel in the guides, and the material of the slides has been changed to brass with white metal. The explanation is offered that similar alterations were required in the Naniwa Kau before she succeeded in developing her full horse power, and that the same structural errors were repeated in the English designs purchased by Mr. Whitney when he was in charge of the navy department. When the alterations have been made it is expected that the Charleston will be able to fulfil the requirements of the contract respecting horse-power and speed.

About four years ago Mr. Whitney was discrediting the Dolphin, whose acceptance had been recommended by the Advisory Board after satisfactory trial trips. He was unwilling to take the judgment of the naval experts whom his predecessors had appointed. He found fault with the substitution of iron for steel shafting and other changes in the machinery ordered by them which had delayed the completion of the vessel. He organized a new board under Captain Belknap, and receiving an official dispatch stating that during a new trial the forward crankpin became so hot that it was necessary to take off the brasses. Every one knows what a hubbub was caused by that hot crank-pin and the rattling of glasses in the cabin locker. Charges of defective workmanship, structural weakness and worthless construction were freely made against the vessel and her builder. Even after a markedly successful trial of six hours, when an average speed of 15 1/2 knots was reported, Mr. Whitney refused to be convinced that the Dolphin answered the contract requirements. The partisan warfare on Mr. Roach was fierce and relentless. He was hounded into bankruptcy and into his grave. In the case of the Charleston neither the speed nor the horse-power developed during the first trial trip approached the limits of the contract. The machinery broke down, and when the vessel reached port extensive alterations were made in consequence of the original mistakes of the English designers. This is a much more serious matter than the delay over the Dolphin's shafting, or than the heated crank-pin and the jingling glasses. If Mr. Whitney's own tactics were to be reproduced there would be great uproar over these alterations and defaults. But there is no partisan criticism; the contractor is not dealt with unfairly by the department; the repairs, miscalculations and early failures are taken as a matter of course, and no attempt is made by Secretary Tracy to make capital at his predecessor's expense. Partisanship in the conduct of the Navy is emphatically played out.—New York Tribune.

IMPORTANT TO THE CITIZENS.

A Traveling Man Creates Great Excitement in the Empire House.

INDEPENDENCE, IOWA, Oct. 14, 1888. Rheumatic Syrup Co., Jackson, Mich. GENTS:—Your Mr. Brooks came here tonight and registered as agent for Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup, and as he did so it awakened in me an interest never before realized in a guest at my house. You will not wonder at it when I tell you the story. For years I have been greatly afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism, the pain and soreness of the joints at times being almost unbearable; could move about only with the aid of crutches. In addition to this my stomach became badly diseased, and neuralgia set in, which threatened to end my day. A traveling man stopping with me gave quite a history of your Syrup, and the peculiarities of its combination, which induced me to try it. I have taken six bottles and no act in my life affords me greater satisfaction than in writing you I am a well man.

It will be a pleasure for me to answer any communications, for I believe it to be the best remedy ever formulated.

A. S. BOWLEY, Proprietor, Empire House, Independence, Iowa. Sold by F. G. FRICKE & Co.

could scarcely have played such fantastic pranks had they been subject to the many ills so common among the women of today. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition, and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. It cures all those weaknesses and ailments peculiar to women, and it is the only medicine for women sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Origin of Lynch Law.

It is not generally known that the term "lynch law" originated in Campbell county, Va., before the revolutionary war. At that period the country was thinly settled and was infested with Tories and desperadoes—too many of them, apparently, for the local authorities to adequately punish. Col. Charles Lynch, a distinguished officer of the revolutionary army, undertook to rid his country of the outlaws. He organized a force, arrested the outlaws, and having satisfied himself and comrades of the guilt of the accused, executed them without reference to the constituted authorities. While not altogether approving of the desperate remedy for a desperate cause, the beneficial effect of Col. Lynch's action was recognized, and has since been known as "Lynch's law" or "Lynch law."

Lynch's process of meting out speedy justice extended to other parts of the country, and is a well recognized form of redress of grievances today, particularly for that class of offenses that are popularly believed not to be adequately punished by the statutes and courts of the state. Col. Lynch's brother gave his name to Lynchburg, and left a son who was subsequently governor of Louisiana.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

An Early Mill.

The want of mills is everywhere a great deprivation in a new country; varied have been the devices for overcoming it. A substitute for a mill used in the early settling of western New York and probably to some extent in Ohio, it consists of a stump hollowed out by fire as a mortar, with a log attached to the end of a young sapling bent over to act as a pestle. The process was slow and tedious, it being a day's work to convert a bushel of corn into soup. The early settlers in western New York when they owned a few slaves, which some of them did, employed them in this drudgery, hence the process was vulgarly termed "niggering corn." People of humanity in our time would not be guilty of using such an expression as this. No one thing shows the general moral advance of the American people more strongly than their treatment of and increased consideration for the humbler classes among them.—Howe's Historical Recollections of Ohio.
