Died. Last night the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Warren. The funeral services will take place today at half past three o'clock from the residence.

Ed Wait is good natured today over the arrival of an heir.

PERSONAL.

Geo. Mattison, of South Bend, is in the city today.

Ed Parrot is enjoying a visit from his father who resides at Peru.

Dr. J. M. Waterman left for his home at Hay Springs this morning.

Frank Fetzer, of Louisville, is looking after business matters in the county seat today.

Mrs. J. P. Taylor of Central City went home this morning after a brief sojourn with old time neighbors in this city.

Harrison Smith, one of the Cass county pioneers, was sorry to note, is dangerously ill at his home near Rock Bluffs.

Mrs. Maggie Jackson came in from McCook and will visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Streight for a few days.

Miss Grace Vandervort and Miss Hunt of Omaha, are the guests of their friend, Miss Jennie Copeland, of this city.

Gov. Thayer and wife have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Palmer for a few days. They returned home this morning.

Mrs. Addie L. Brown, wife of the editor of the Hastings Independent, went home this morning after a pleasant visit with friends here while attending the W. R. C. convention as a delegate.

For funny fun as is fun, Pat Rooney can't be beat.

They are going to have a grand royal wolf hunt over at Wabash today.

Did you ever hear Pat Rooney? No. Then go and hear him. I will.

The Herald's punch at John Mendenhall has grown to be quite an institution.

The Billings property on Main street is about to change hands, which will ensure the erection of two more store rooms in the spring.

Reserved seats tickets are now on sale at J. P. Young's for the entertainment of the prince of comedians Pat Rooney at the opera house Monday night.

A team hauling sand went through the ice yesterday evening but by active efforts of workmen the horses were saved and the wagon was afterwards pulled out it only having broken through under the front wheels.

C. E. Wescott accompanied by his niece Mrs. Judson Bruise, left on the flyer last evening for Chicago and Cincinnati. Mr. Wescott will lay in a full line of spring goods for the "Bess" Clothing House during his absence.

Hon. J. M. Patterson returned yesterday from his tour of the Pacific coast, looking as though the trip had agreed with him. He reports the Cass county delegation as being in good health and enjoying prosperity.

Mr. Ed. Patton is stepping high today on account of the advent of an important addition to the Patton family. Dr. Humphrey was in attendance and thinks every body is getting along first-rate except Ed, and he believes he can bring him through all night.

The Herald is glad to note that Mr. Baxter Smith has realized there is no better town than Plattsmouth. He has therefore purchased the neat residence of J. P. Taylor in the First ward, near the Perkins house and will move from the suburbs to his new quarters soon.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lohnes died yesterday at her home in Peoria. Mr. Lohnes is a brother of Jacob and John Lohnes residing west of the city. George Weidman received a telegram asking about Adam Lohnes, a brother of the deceased but his whereabouts cannot be ascertained.

Professor Noble has quite a crowd of young ladies at the clerk's office being examined today for certificates, which will allow them to teach school in this county. Among those present we noticed Miss Eva Campbell, of Union, Maggie Morrill, of Nebraska City, the Misses Bertha Porter, Jennie Bailey, Annie O'Reilly and Cassie Rupp, of Plattsmouth; Ida Sayles, of Cedar Creek, Myrtle Robertson, of Wabash, Leonora Case, of Weeping Water, and Ole Norris, of Avoca.

The Prince of the Orient

The orientals had a pleasant meeting last night after the A. O. U. W. lodge adjourned and initiated into their sacred precincts Colonels Frank Boyd, H. N. Devey, David Stockwell, W. Davis and two other gentlemen whose names we did not learn. The conclave of princes will take place at their place in the Rockwood Hall next Friday night when several plebeians will be raised by mystic term to the rank of princes of the realm.

The lady minstrels furnished better than the average entertainment at the opera house last night. The gallery was packed to standing room only and the general admission seats were well filled while the reserved seats were only about half taken. There was no ladies in the audience, yet there was nothing in the show that could have offended the most fastidious. In fairness we must acknowledge our indebtedness to the Journal force for the above information, they having chartered and occupied an entire row of chairs immediately back of the orchestra seats. We are assured that the ladies looked very pretty and sang very sweetly. The lonely young man in the box was nearly carried away with the voluptuous music. The young married men who were out "attending lodge," numbered about two hundred and crowded all the bald headed men off the front seats back into the audience. Col. J. A. C., J. M., D. S., M. D. P., J. K., and several who were entitled to front seats we understand were several rows back.

Pat Rooney

Pat Rooney and his charming little daughter who has grown to a household favorite, appeared last evening supported by Rooney's Comedy Company, in "Pats New Wardrobe." Every member of the large cast is well chosen, and the fun was too funny for any description. The houses will be crowded all the week.—New York Press.

At the Waterman Monday night.

A Pungent Pun.

We wonder who told the Plattsmouth Herald that it's the best paper in the country! It's seldom that Graves rejuvenates subjects entrusted to their keeping. This may be a paradox, we sincerely hope so, but a paradox is not needed.—Weeping Water Republican.

The effervescent editor of the Republican is fast budding into a punster, as the above will bear witness. The gist of the pun though in the case is so far fetched the ordinary reader will scarcely "Catch on," and we'd kindly suggest to Bro. Keithly that he might have completed his labored effort by mailing out to each of his few subscribers a magnifying glass to use as a developer of his obscurities. "We wonder" what's the color of the man's hair that ever accused the Republican of rejuvenation.

"Kaffee Klatch."

Mrs. Waugh entertained the members of the "Kaffee Klatch" at her pleasant home on North Fifth street yesterday afternoon in a most delightful manner, the particular occasion being in honor of Mrs. C. M. Wead, who leaves next Thursday for her future home at Paducah, Kentucky. An elaborate collation was spread in the dining room and in accordance with German custom the table was occupied by the guests as they felt disposed to indulge in refreshments from 2:30 until 6 o'clock. Those present were Mrs. C. M. Wead, Mrs. J. M. Thayer of Lincoln, Mrs. Guild of Omaha, Mrs. R. R. Livingston, Mrs. Sam Atwood, Mrs. F. E. White, Mrs. W. W. Drummond, Mrs. H. E. Palmer, and Mrs. D. A. Campbell of Lincoln.

Willie Carr son of C. S. Twiss came down from Omaha last evening to take supper at home on account of the day being his natal anniversary. His young friends heard of his coming home and arranged for a surprise. They met at Frank Boyd's and about nine o'clock all marched in on the young man and fairly overwhelmed him. A nice supper was served by Mrs. Twiss and a pleasant evening was spent. Those present were Nellie Morrison, Eugene Smith, Tilla Venard, Minnie Bates, Anna Critchfield, Weeping Water; Bell Vermilyea, S. G. Riggins, U. L. Fraday, Ollie Boyd, Mable Hayes, Lizzie Leach Hart Shipman, Lizzie Krohler, Mary Kroehler, John D. Robbins, Guy Wingate.

An insurance man from Des Moines was in the city today and insured the fine horse owned by Phil Tristach and Walter Propst for $1,000.

By a careful computation it is found that the wall paper received today at Wildman & Fuller's, if stretched out, would make an unbroken line seventeen and one-half miles long.

Chaplain Diefenbacher returned yesterday morning on the 3:30 A. M. flyer for his post at Lincoln. Mrs. Diefenbacher will visit for some days in the city.

Charley Morrison seems to continue in bad luck. He had scarcely recovered completely from his southern wreck when he is again laid up, this time with a broken arm caused by his being knocked off the tender of his engine while taking water.

Little Nellie Bates invited a number of her young schoolmates to her home in South Fourth ward last evening to celebrate her ninth birthday. Mrs. Bates looked after the comforts of the little people and after a delightful time in childhood sports they partook of a delicious repast which had been prepared by Nellie's kind mother. Those present: Minnie Herold, Bessie Lake, Mamie Graves, Laura Lake, Fannie Mener, Alma Piz, Addie Graves, Mary O'Neil, Florence Conkling, Eva Conkling, Jimmie O'Neil, Frank Lake and Ethel Worth.

Umbrellas in England.

How many umbrellas are manufactured in this country annually? There are no official returns giving the number in this country, though in the United States it is calculated that one umbrella is made annually for every six persons. If we apply this proportion to the population of the United Kingdom—now calculated, in round numbers, at 38,000,000—over 6,000,000 umbrellas are made annually. Upward of 2,500,000 umbrellas were imported by sea into Calcutta in the year 1888-89, and the yearly exports of umbrellas from this country are valued at $581,000. In France, in 1890, umbrellas were manufactured by 160 makers to the value of $280,000; in 1917, 240,000 worth by 303 makers; in 1922 their value was $1,180,000, and 890 manufacturers. Price averaged four francs each. There were thus made in France in 1892 7,500,000 umbrellas, or nearly one for each inhabited house.—London Tit-Bits.

How Old Spiders Live.

Old spiders, which have neither web nor the materials to make one, often hunt about to find out the webs of other spiders, younger and weaker than themselves, with whom they venture battle. The invader generally succeeds, and the younger spider is driven out to make a new web, and the old spider remains in possession until a stronger spider invades the web and drives it out. When thus dispossessed the spider seldom ventures another attack, but tries to subsist upon the few insects that may fall accidentally into its clutches, and eventually dies of hunger.—London Standard.

It is a mistake to suppose that the knots or warts which are very common on some species of forest trees are due to insects, fungus, or accident, or are in any way unnatural growths. They develop as results neither of the health nor disease of the tree, nor of such conditions as special kinds of soil or situations.

The Attorney's Dog.

A Boston lawyer who resides in the suburbs is the owner of a dog that certainly possesses the instincts of an attorney. The other day he saw another dog carrying off a tempting looking bone. A second dog followed at a short distance. The lawyer's dog quickly conceived a plan of action worthy of an eminent legal mind. He immediately brought action against the dog with the bone. The third dog at once quickened his pace, and lost no time in instituting supplementary proceedings in his own behalf. This assistance proved equivalent to a decree for the plaintiff, for the lawyer's dog left the third dog to bear the brunt of the litigation, and seizing the bone fled to his own kennel, where possession was truly nine points of the law.—Boston Traveller.
