PERSONAL.

A. B. Taylor is transacting business in Glenwood today.

Fred Egenberger and Wm. Webber are taking in Omaha today.

Walter Palling, a prominent merchant of Greenwood is in the city today.

Colonel Price, the lumber king of the Black Hills, came down from Custer on Saturday and spent Sunday with his old friend, Dr. Higgins.

Walter White is today moving the safe from the old treasurer's office to the new quarters under the Bank of Cass County.

Mr. H. Boyd, brother of Frank Boyd, of this city, made a short visit with his brother yesterday, returning home to Sioux City this morning.

Mrs. J. P. Taylor, of Central City, and daughter Nellie, who have been visiting with the family of Mrs. Oliver, departed this morning on No. 5. Mrs. Taylor returns home and Miss Taylor to her studies at the conservatory of music at Lincoln.

Agent Latham today ticketed one passenger to Kansas City, one to Chicago and one to Atchison.

On account of the warm weather the river has been steadily rising, but the cold wave this morning has checked its progress.

The proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a sure remedy for catarrh, colds in head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, but is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once.

John Becker went up to Omaha today to look after transferring some cars from the B. & M. to the Elkhorn road for Mr. Philip Weyrick and Bals Volk, who are moving to Pierce, this state.

Last night a monster revolving snow plow, weighing fifty-two tons, passed through the city from Patterson, N. J., enroute to the Denyer & Rio Grande road. It is probably the first of these plows ever brought west.

Why continue the use of irritating powders, snuffs or liquids. Ely's Cream Balm, pleasant of application and a sure cure for catarrh and cold in head, can be used for 50c. It is easily applied into the nostrils, is safe and pleasant, and is curing the most obstinate cases. It gives relief at once.

D. R. Churchill says a hen stole her nest out in a strawstack near the barn at his place south of town, in January, and came in a few days ago with a flock of young chickens. For mild winters Nebraska heads the list this year, with Florida only a close second.

The bar docket for the March term of the district court came out yesterday and was distributed among the attorneys. It is in good form, neatly gotten up, and does credit to the Republican force who did the work. It shows 61 jury cases, 85 equity cases and 7 criminal cases, a total of 153 cases, which, if all are disposed of will mean a long term.

Major Russell and Captain Steen returned from the funeral of General Sherman Sunday evening, passing through this city on the K. C. for Omaha. While the train stopped they very kindly got off and presented the editor of the Herald with a neat bunch of evergreen that had been used to decorate the grave of the deceased general. They spoke of the impressiveness of the funeral and the immense crowd of people in attendance.

The Secret of Success.
F. G. Fricke & Co., druggists, believe that the secret of success lies in perseverance. Therefore they persist in keeping the finest line of perfumeries, toilet articles, cosmetics, drugs and chemicals on the market. They especially invite all persons who have palpitation, short breath, weak or hungry spells, pain in side or shoulder, oppression, night mare, dry cough, smothering, dropsy or heart disease to try Dr. Miles' unequalled New Heart Cure, before it is too late. It has the largest sale of any similar remedy. Fine book of testimonials free. Dr. Miles Restorative Nervine is unsurpassed for sleeplessness, headache, fits, etc., and it contains no opiates.

A fine worsted men's suit, former price $18, now at $12.50 at JOE'S.

A Fleeting Terror

A fair looking specimen of the genus tramp fired a gun at A. J. Carruth at Carruth's several days ago and nothing more was heard of him or the gun either until Friday when Marshall Archer was notified by telephone from South Omaha that a man had given himself up there to the officers and claimed he had pawned a gun at Family Junction belonging to Mr. Carruth of Plattsmouth. While the matter was being investigated Saturday his trampship gave the South Omaha officers the slip and appeared in Plattsmouth, hunted up the marshal and gave the whereabouts of the lost gun. Mr. Carruth went over to the Junction and found that the gun had been pawned for $2 and had been sold so he concluded to go to bother with an effort to recover his property, and when they found the tramp wanted 30 days by the fire at the county's expense, he was first out of town at a lively rate. He was too anxious to be arrested and convicted. The marshal says, he went away disgusted.

Council Proceedings.

The council met in regular session last night. Present, the mayor and full council except Larsen and McCallan. There was little routine business to be transacted except the allowance of a small claim to the street commissioner and the salary of the city attorney for the quarter just closed.

The councilmen were not wholly unoccupied, however, as the claim of Mr. Sullivan for attorney's fees had not been finally disposed of. At the last meeting a motion was made allowing the full amount of the claim, but this motion did not receive the necessary majority, having received only five votes out of the ten votes in the council; the mayor thereupon took the matter under advisement until last evening, when he had his vote recorded in the affirmative and declared the motion carried. This started a running discussion among the councilmen, which resulted in a motion to reconsider the vote allowing the claim, on the ground that there might be other claims for services in the same case and it was thought best to consider them all together. Since the supreme court has decided that it is unlawful for the commissioners to employ assistance for the county attorney, there seems to be a disposition to shoulder the whole burden upon the city. In view of the above facts the motion to reconsider was carried. A motion was then made that the claim be rejected, but the motion was lost.

Mr. A. Baxter Smith then tendered his resignation to the council, which was accepted. Mr. Smith has sold his property in the Fifth ward and is about to remove to the First and so would no longer be eligible to membership in the council. On motion of Gatsche council adjourned.

R. O. ATHERTON,
Local Agent.

It will be remembered that M. F. Lambert of Rock Bluffs was killed last summer by accident at Cattlesburgh, Kentucky. His son Charley, aged ten, was with him. The sister, it seems, wanted to get hold of the pension money which the boy would draw, so she had a guardian appointed for him and fixed the lad out as a permanent resident. In the mean time the boy's mother, who resides at Rock Bluffs, was using every effort at her command to get the guardianship annulled and have her boy returned to his Cass county home. J. S. Mathews was retained and after about three months he has succeeded in making the mother's heart glad by the return of her boy. He made the trip alone without any trouble, arriving home a few days ago.

"Dear God—The have you brought us to this situation and cause?"
But don't you forget his brother,
The poor little fellow can't eat!
That's why I'm writing this letter,
A promise to let you know
Please see me and my little baby,
That's all. From
"In the Flo."

Died.
At the residence of her husband, Mr. John McBrown, near Fort Union, N. M., on Friday, February 22, Mrs. John McBrown, aged 82 years, died of heart failure after a long illness, and all efforts of medical skill proved unavailing to save her. Her funeral will take place from the family residence on Saturday, February 23. Services at the house at 10:30 a. m., and burial at the Littleton cemetery—Littleton, Col., Gazette.

The husband of the deceased preceded her to the great beyond in the fifteenth of last month, notice of which was given in the Herald at the time. Mr. McBrown, as our readers will remember from a perusal of the former notice, was a brother of Mrs. J. H. Young. While neither the deceased or her late husband could be called aged, yet they were early settlers in Colorado, having stopped in Denver when it was a new but one house; they had seen much of the hardships of pioneer life together, and it seems singularly fitting that the widow was not long called to mourn the loss of the departed husband.

There certainly is something in store for Mr. T. A. Stewart, if justice is ever to be meted out. Mr. Stewart has been working for the company here, but a few days ago, took his time and pulled out for the west, leaving a widowed mother with no means of support and absolutely penniless. Friends brought the matter to the notice of the county commissioners, who this morning bought her a ticket to Turtle Lake, Wisconsin, where she has relatives who will take care of her.

The morning Omaha papers announce the death of Nathan C. Folsom, an employe of the B. & M. at that place. There is a mistake in the accounts given, as Mr. Folsom had made up a train of cars and started for Omaha and in some unknown way fell beneath the wheels. He was found by the construction train, of which Charley Bushnell was conductor. Mr. Folsom will be remembered as having formerly run on the road as brakeman for Conductor Ouster. He leaves a wife residing in Omaha.

The New Court House.
The bids for the contract for the erection of the court house were opened today. O. J. King, of Omaha, was the lowest bidder, and if he furnishes the required bond will probably get the contract.

Syrian Pets.
The author of the "Inner Life of Syria" gives an interesting account of the success with which wild beasts have been tamed in that country. The writer, being a lady, and having some singular pets of her own, was the better prepared to appreciate what the natives had accomplished in that direction.

On one time she visited the wife of a Hungarian officer. She was living quite contentedly in a neat hut, and her only companions were a hyena and a lynx, which slept on her bed like two dogs. The hyena received me at the gate, and though I was not prepared for it, I innocently did the right thing, as she afterward informed me.

The animal came and sniffed at my hands, and then jumped up and put its forepaws on my shoulders and smelt my face.

"Oh," I thought, "if it takes a bit out of my cheek, what shall I do?"

That I did as still as a statue, and tried not to breathe, looking it steadily in the eyes all the while. At last it made up its mind to berriend me, jumped down and ran before me like a dog into the house, where I found the lynx on the divan.

Pet No. 2 sprang at me, mewed and lashed his tail till his mistress came in. She told me that when people began to scream or to drive the hyena away, it took a pleasure in worrying and frightening them.

I went afterward to the husband's reception room. He had gone out for a short while. The hyena had got in, and I found my husband, the Russian consul and a French gentleman all sitting on the divan, with their legs well tucked up under them, and looking absurdly uncomfortable at the frightful beast, as the count called it. I had a good laugh at them, as the hyena and I were already on friendly terms.

The Cap and Hat Riots.

These civil disturbances were in Sweden from 1738 to 1771. The Caps were the Russians and their sympathizers; the Hats were the French. For a time the kingdom was reduced almost to a state of anarchy by the two contending factions, but order was restored by Gustavus III in 1771, who, desirous of excluding all foreign intervention in the affairs of Sweden, forbade the use of the names, and sternly repressed all disorders growing out of the political dissension between the factions.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
